

PUGET SOUND HERALD.

STEILACOOM, W. T., FRIDAY, AUG. 10, 1860.

LATEST DOMESTIC NEWS.

By the Pacific, at Victoria, and the Oregon, at this port, we have advices from the Atlantic States, by Pony Express and telegraph, to the 15th ult. Below will be found a summary of the intelligence in part:

The Bell and Everett State Convention met at New York, and passed resolutions to take the best steps to secure the election of those gentlemen. It is understood that the programme now is to nominate no distinct [electoral] ticket, but to recommend Unson men to support one Democrat, so as to throw the election of President into the House, where exists the only chance for Bell and Everett. This last political move is of importance.

It is rumored that no Bell and Everett ticket will be run in Indiana. The Opposition will concentrate on Lincoln.

The Breckinridge National Committee have addressed circulars to leading Democrats in every State, advising an independent organization for an electoral ticket.

Breckinridge was re-named, at Barsum's, Baltimore, on the 14th inst.

Senator Latham addressed a Breckinridge meeting at Fayetteville, Arkansas, on the 14th.

An immense Blair ratification meeting was held at St. Louis, on the night of the 18th. Three thousand torches were in the procession.

The largest political meeting ever held in Louisville, Kentucky, took place on the 14th. It was called for the ratification of the nomination of Breckinridge. Mr. Preston, our Minister to Spain, and Senator Powell, spoke. A well attended Republican meeting was held at Louisville on the 13th; it was addressed by P. O. Hames.

A large Douglas meeting was held at Newport, Kentucky, on the 14th. Speeches were made by Flournoy, of Arkansas, and Ira Root.

An enthusiastic Bell and Everett meeting was held at Wheeling, Virginia, on the 14th. A meeting, numbering 7000, was held at Pittsburg on the 12th, for the ratification of the nomination of Lincoln and Hamlin. Robert McNight spoke.

Cassius M. Clay and others addressed an enthusiastic Republican meeting at Indianapolis on the 14th.

The Democrats of the First Congressional district of Iowa have nominated C. C. Cote.

A meeting was held at the house of Warts Sheeman, New York, on the night of the 13th, to arrange a fusion between Tammany and Meyer Democrats. Many leading persons were present, including Mayor Wood, Corning, Dix, Richmond and Sickles.

A meeting of Conservative and Fillmore men was held at Union Square, New York, on the night of the 16th. It was favorable to Lincoln. William Mitchell presided. Speeches were made by Greeley, (J.) Rufus Anderson and Daniel Ullman. Letters were read from Titus Smith and others.

The split in the Democratic party still continues. The war is fiercer between the two wings than between the D. mocrats and R. p. lican. The editors of Democratic papers are "on the fence," and don't know which side to get down on. Douglas and Breckinridge have each accepted the nomination of their respective wings. Lincoln looks up, and the Republicans have strong hopes of a easy victory. Senator Fitzpatrick has declined running for the Vice-Presidency on the same ticket with Douglas.

Lieut. Col. J. E. Johnston, 1st Cavalry, Bvt. Col. U. S. A., has been appointed and confirmed as Quartermaster General of the Army, with the rank of Brigadier General. He was Lieutenant Colonel of the Voltigeurs, in Mexico, says the Los Angeles Star, and commanded that regiment a portion of the time, with distinction. He served in the early part of the war as Captain of the Topographical Engineers, and was severely wounded in a reconnoissance, previous to the battle of Cerro Gordo. His present position is one of the most desirable in the gift of the Government.

It is rumored that General A. S. Johnston, who commanded in Utah, is to be ordered to the Pacific coast, to command the consolidated Departments of California and Oregon.

On Sunday night, July 23, John W. Matthews, produce dealer at Jefferson Market, and John Walton, residing at West Twenty-third street, New York, were murdered by Charles and Edward Joffe, sons of Mrs. Walton by a former husband. Mrs. Walton is suspected. Edward has been arrested. Walton was first murdered; and Matthews, attracted by the cry, was shot as he ran. The pistol was found and identified as Jeffe's.

The Ariel, for Aspinwall, left New York July 21, without any mail or newspapers by Express. Vanderbilt threatened to throw overboard the Express if it contained any letters or papers, and not permit Exchange papers to be carried. Great indignation was felt at New York on account of his course. Letters go by the Overland Mail. There is no provision made for carrying newspapers.

On the 28th June, G. W. Hardwicke, and W. H. Hardwicke, proprietors of the Republican newspaper, had a fight with C. W. Joilan, Robert and George Button, proprietors of the Virginia newspaper. Joilan Button was killed and Robert Button fatally wounded. The Hardwicke's escaped unhurt. The affair grew out of newspaper articles.

Hophart, who murdered Mrs. Willis and two children in Batavia, Ohio, was hung by a noose of over 300 men.

Harden was executed at Belvidere, N. J., on the 6th ult., his neck was not broken, and he died hard. He made a private confession.

Frederick Hoffman, defaulting Secretary of the Pacific Mail Company, was arrested on the ship at Trenton Falls, Oneida county, N. Y. He denies he is the man.

Mrs. Schomaker and infant, of 21st street, New York, had their throats cut on the 9th by Henry Hoffman, a man in the employ of the husband. He was the object of the murder.

The Dead Rabbits had a picnic on Staten Island on the 9th. One of the party, named John Phelan, was stabbed and killed.

The number of visitors to the Great Eastern are 5,300 daily.

The schooner Clotilda, with 134 Africans on board, arrived at Mobile Bay July 9th. A steamboat immediately took the negroes up the river.

Frederick Githers, Inspector of Water Works, John Donnell, feeder at the Tribune office, and John Welch Bowman, were killed by the bursting of a cannon, fired by Whitehall street, New York, while firing a salute.

Two trains on the Michigan Central Railroad, July 5th, came into collision, killing John Mann and wounding two others.

The Japanese are still enjoying themselves in New York city.

H. B. Nicholas, pastor of the Congregational Church, his wife, child and brother-in-law, and two daughters, near Cleveland, were drowned on the 9th inst., while bathing in the lake.

FOREIGN NEWS.

We have European files of papers to the 26th June. The news is very interesting.

Garibaldi is preparing for operations on the mainland. It is rumored that two thousand Garibaldians, under Medici, landed at Catania, in Calabria. Another rumor is that a revolution had commenced at Calabria, and the Government had sent forces to put it down. The French Government had declined any intervention. Two steamers were captured by the Neapolitans under Sardinian and American flags. They contained 82 cannons, 200,000 pounds of powder, and 800 armed passengers, and were conveyed to Gaeta. The Sardinian Ministry demanded restitution, supported by the English Minister. The Sicilian Parliament at about to assemble will discuss the future of the rights of the Bourbon, and the union of Sicily to Sardinia.

The French and Prussian Governments declare the peace of Europe consolidated.

The German provinces were unanimous on questions referring to foreign relations. Napoleon did not refer to German or Italian questions. The interview with the Prince Regent of Prussia was most cordial.

There has been another massacre of Christians at Constantinople. The Turkish soldiers were ordered to protect them but they did the reverse in the massacre. Twenty-six villages were burned.

The damage by the bombardment of Palermo is estimated at ten millions sterling.

A correspondent says a band of brigands has gone to Sicily to assassinate Garibaldi.

The King of Naples is ill.

The Government offers to restore the two American vessels captured, but the American Minister demanded reparation for insult to the American flag. One vessel is the Charles and Jane, of Baltimore.

The Neapolitan Council is resolved to grant a Constitution and a general amnesty, a total change in the Ministry, and a free press.

Commissioners in Sicily presented an address asking an extension to Piedmont.

It is reported that the Russian and Spanish Legations have attempted to withdraw if the English and Sardinians stopped the expeditions to Sicily. Jerome Bonaparte is dead.

The Prince of Wales sails July 11th.

French troops on the Rhine frontier are withdrawing.

Gladstone has determined to resign.

G. P. R. James, the novelist, is dead.

Vienna advises announce the Austrian Government as making preparations for war. Economic quantities of ammunition are daily passing through Trieste. Four corps d'armes are already completed—fourth shortly expected. Seventy thousand troops are entrenched in camp at Pochiera—forty thousand in position on the frontier of Romagna.

It was reported that the French commander at Rome had demanded reinforcements to prepare for active operations.

Explanations were given in both Houses of the outbreak in New Zealand, contradictory of the news, or accounts.

It was reported that the £12,000,000 recommended for fortification by the Defense Commissioners will be raised by annuities terminating in 25 years, and that the work will be forthwith commenced.

The news from Japan is meagre. San Francisco vessels had obtained cargoes without trouble; but prices of goods were said to have advanced very much. American half-dollars are represented to be useless for the purposes of trade. They are received at the discount of 5 per cent. Everything was quiet at Kanawa, but the interior of the country was in a disturbed state. It was the Prince Regent who was assassinated by the adherents of Prince Muto. The act was committed within the walls of the Emperor's palace. The assassin had all been captured. The Yvooon is represented to be very liberal toward foreigners, and for this reason he encountered the ill will of Meeco.

The steamship Vanderbilt, from Southampton, July 4th, and City of Baltimore, from Queenstown, July 5th, have arrived.

John C. Henson came passenger on the Vanderbilt, with Jack McDonald, his second and only son.

Cal. Cipriani is coming over in the Arago, to make arrangements for the reception of Prince Napoleon, who will shortly visit the United States in the steam yacht Yvooon.

The latest accounts from Sicily report a skirmish to have taken place on the 30th June, near Mesolima, between some detachments of Garibaldi's troops, and a portion of the royal forces.

Garibaldi is at present remaining quiet, but it is reported that the concessions by the King of Naples determined him to precipitate annexation to Sardinia. He had applied to his friends in London for two steamers and five Armstrong guns.

The names of the new Ministry are unannounced. It is said to be unobjectionable.

Some disturbances had taken place at Palermo, but they were promptly suppressed by Garibaldi.

It is reported that the King of Sardinia declines an alliance with Naples. But Napoleon urges a direct consideration of the Neapolitan interests.

The Neapolitan Minister at Paris has resigned since the Baden conference.

Fresh disturbances have taken place at Naples. The police stations were attacked, and forty or fifty agents were killed and wounded. The archives were burned amid cries of "Garibaldi" and "Annexion." A great panic was created on the 26th and previous days. The King had ordered the formation of a National Guard. An Ambassador for Naples was soon expected at Turin, with propositions for an alliance with Sardinia.

Prince Napoleon succeeds Jerome as President of the Council. The Prince Regent of Prussia is expected to visit the camp at Chalons.

Immense failures had taken place in England in the leather trade. One firm alone, Stratfield, Lawrence & Mortimer, failed for a million sterling.
