

THE PUGET SOUND HERALD. Published every THURSDAY EVENING, at $1 per annum, in advance; if paid within six months, $4; after the expiration of six months, $5; for six months, in advance; single copies, 15¢ cents. Advertisements, to insure insertion without delay, should be handed in on or before Wednesday of each week.

We shall be pleased to furnish masters of vessels and others, outward bound, with files of the Herald, on application at this office. L. P. FISHER, 625 Washington st., San Francisco.

The columns of the Puget Sound Herald are open to communications on all questions of public policy and interest, and the advocacy of all sides of every question shall be freely heard; but such communications are not of a general public nature, or are intended for the furtherance of individual ends, will be charged as advertisements. This rule will in no case be departed from.

PUGET SOUND HERALD. STEILACOOM, W. T., Thursday Morning, Oct. 31, 1861.

NEW DEBATING SOCIETY.—On Monday evening last, a meeting was called in the M. E. Church in Steilacoom, for the purpose of forming a new debating society. Not until the day of the meeting was the subject broached, and consequently the attendance was very limited; but we are assured that the society was organized under favorable auspices, and cannot fail in its design. The name chosen for it is "The Buncombe Legislature of Washington Territory;" the object, the discussion of all public questions of a local character. Debaters will designate each other by the counties which they represent, and the rules regulating legislative bodies will be in force in the society. The capital question, being one of the most interesting to the Territory at large, will be one of the first introduced for discussion in the Buncombe Legislature. The society will meet on Thursday evening of each week, and the meetings will be public. We think we may look to this body for the display of quite as much wisdom as has been exhibited by the Legislature at Olympia in times past.

A Green Pass.—Having one of the largest orchards in the Territory, half the trees in which, this year, bore some six or seven hundred bushels of apples, Mr. P. Keach felt the want of a cider press, and accordingly had one made by a capable mechanic. This is by no means the least sensible act of his life, for by means of his press he will put to profitable use all unmarketable apples, while his patrons may indulge the luxury of a draught of the pure juice instead of the poisonous compound so extensively used on this coast, and made up of deleterious drugs. With proper care, he need not lose a bushel of his apples by rot; all, whether bruised or of undesirable flavor, may be turned to good account. It is to be commended as a matter of economy, and we hope Mr. Keach will prove it so in the fullest sense.

POSSESSION OF CAPT. FLEMING.—We are still indebted, from week to week, to the courtesy of Capt. Fleming for files of Victoria papers. Politicians attend to the press he seems to regard as a duty as much as the attention to passengers and shippers; and to him, more than to any other gentleman on the coast, have we been under obligations for such favors as are usually shown to the press everywhere. We do not suppose, however, he has been more attentive to those of our profession than to others; and to his invariably urbanity we attribute the popularity which the Elton Anderson has acquired under his command. That his success in life may not be short of his merits, is our sincere wish.

ALL RIGHT.—Friend Damon, of the Northwest, called on us last week, and requested that we set him right before the public in regard to his washerwoman, to whom he says he owes nothing. Rather than be guilty of swindling a washerwoman, he would deny himself the luxury of linen, either clean or dirty, in toto, as many an unhappy martyr of his profession before him has been compelled to do. We are glad to chronicle this fact, and hope his credit may always be good at the washboard. His reinstatement in his former position of inspector of customs affords a pleasure, and we congratulate him upon it. Collector Smith will hold in vain for a better man for the office than John F. Damon.

ADAM NUMBER.—We did not receive the Washington Standard on Monday last, as we should have done. This is the second time we have failed to get that paper when due, since the new steamer commenced carrying the mail. On the first occasion, Mr. Light, our postmaster, informed us that Purser Finch took it down the second with him, and he has probably done so again. If so, he would oblige us, as well as the subscribers of the paper in this place, by leaving it on his way down, instead of on his way up.

HIGH CHARGES.—We have heard much complaint, during the past fortnight, of the high charges of the new steamer for freight. It is nearly all across the coast has been more than double that of the Elton Anderson, and in one instance more than triple. Thus the reduction in the price of passage is more than made up in the increased charge for freight.

THE STEAMER ARRIVAL.—In the case of Ferguson's steamer, damaged with killing Capt. Staples, the hull was released to $2000, which Peterson obtained on the 23d inst., and was forthwith released from custody. The excitement relative to the affair has widely subsided.

PRISONER OF WAR.—According to the Advertiser, some unknown person left on the porch of the Mayor of Portland, and presented to His Honor, Mr. Thayer, a fine boy a few hours old. This little stranger was properly cared for.

CELEBRATED COURTESY.—According to the official gazette of California, just published, the distinguished guest are Messrs. Phelps, Barnwell and Lov.

A WORD TO FARMERS.

The prospect ahead is very encouraging for our agricultural friends, as the next year promises to be one of unusual activity in all business enterprises. If the farmer will but read the future aright, he will not fail to take advantage of every opportunity to be prepared to realize his share of the golden results of an enlarged and profitable traffic. To be ready to obtain, if not command, the legitimate benefits arising from an increased activity in commercial operations, he should have an abundance of crops of all kinds, to be able to furnish a supply adequate to the magnitude of the anticipated demand. Oregon should be able to answer, during the next year, all the increasing wants of the augmenting mining population that will crowd her eastern and northern borders in another season. Especially in breadstuffs and provisions she can readily do so, if her producers are up to the work they should and are expected to perform. By the fair price and abundance of our own commodities we must keep those from other quarters out of the market which nature has so bountifully placed even, as it were, at our very door.

Let the plow run steadily with every favorable turn of the weather, till every farmer has at least doubled the length of the lands which he formerly had sowed to wheat. The same amount that it cost him last year for seed will furnish him double the quantity now. Let every grain of it be sowed. The yield will all be wanted, and more, too. Do not doubt it for a moment, but plow and sow in order that the wheat harvest of another year may greatly exceed that of any previous one.

There ought to be considerable attention paid to sowing. Any investment in that direction must surely be profitable. Let the plow be made into bacon; there is always a demand for that article at any price. The mining portion of the community must have the article, no matter what it may cost. In short, our farmers must be alive to their own interests just now, and not suffer the golden opportunity to pass without tending to their own pecuniary advantage, as well as the general prosperity of the State.

From the above remarks, which we copy from the Portland Daily Advertiser, it will be seen that our Oregon neighbors are fully alive to the importance of being prepared for the gold excitement of the coming year. The advice above, which we earnestly endorse, is just as applicable to the farmers of Puget Sound as it is to those of Oregon. Every farmer in Washington and Oregon may reap literally a golden harvest upon his own farm, next season, if he will apply himself with industry to the cultivation of the soil. It is not necessary for the farmer to go to the mines to get gold; if he will stay at home and faithfully perform his legitimate labor, it will flow into his lap in larger quantities than fall to the lot of miners; and that, too, without the trials and privations which the latter are subjected to.

FOR THE EAST.—Gen. E. V. Sumner sailed from San Francisco for the East on the 21st inst. He took with him ten thousand stand of arms. On the same steamer went Col. Merchant, Senator Nesmith, Captains Judd, Stewart, Hendrickson, Beames, Briggs and Greene, and Lieuts. Upham, Gillie, Williston, Sinclair, Warner, Hardin, Livingston, Dandy and Kip. Col. Wright had arrived from Lower California, and superseded Sumner in the command of this Department.

RECAPTURE.—Two of the convicts (Gardner and Simmons) who escaped from our jail a few weeks since have been recaptured in Victoria, and will soon again be restored to their old quarters. They were caught by the Victoria police, who immediately notified the Sheriff of this county of the fact. As soon as a regulation could be obtained from Gov. Tourney, the Sheriff dispatched Mr. A. B. Rabbeon to Victoria to bring them up, and they are expected here on Saturday morning.

FINE APPLES.—From Messrs. Philip Keach and Wm. H. Wood we have received some of the finest specimens of apples as we ever saw any of this coast; those from Mr. Wood were of a kind unknown to us, but equal in appearance and quality to any we ever ate. Both of these gentlemen have been fortunate this season in the yield of their trees, which have been very prolific.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN SAN FRANCISCO.—In the afternoon of the 19th inst., one of the walls of Deuel's new and large building, corner of Bush and Montgomery streets, fell, seriously injuring several persons. Six men have been rescued and carried off more or less badly hurt. One of them had his left arm broken and his face cut; three were so much damaged that it was doubtful whether they could survive.

PAPER FOR WALLS WALLS.—We understand, says the Portland Daily Advertiser of Monday last, that no less than three printing presses and material are now destined for Walls Walls, and all to be managed by able hands, yet we think it is rather crowding things. The proprietors, of course, are all sanguine of success.

OUR WIZARD.—The question of this distinguished officer's position in the Department of the Pacific is finally settled by his being left in command, as the successor of Gen. Sumner, who has departed for the seat of war. Col. Carlisle has taken Col. Wright's place as commander of the Southern Division.

MILITARY.—Lieutenant Colonel Alben Barkley, formerly of the Sixth, now of the Seventh U. S. Infantry, has been assigned to the command of this Military District, in place of Col. Beall, who is ordered East. Col. Cary arrived at Vancouver on the last steamer from San Francisco.

THE WEATHER.—Winter weather has prevailed much of the time for the past fortnight; clouds and rain, with occasional winds, having taken the place of our sunny summer.

CAVILS SUBMITTED.—The scholar Flying Fish, Capt. Thompson, took from Keach's wharf, yesterday, one hundred head of cattle, with which she sailed last evening for Victoria.

JOHN F. DAMON, Esq., lectured before the Masonic Lodge of Steilacoom three consecutive nights, last week. He left on Monday for Port Townsend.

THE CARIBOO MINES.

An increasing interest is manifested in regard to these mines, which are here considered decidedly the richest yet discovered in any part of the world. The mines of California and Australia, in their best days, are thrown entirely in the shade by those of Cariboo. We have yet to hear of a single miner who has come away from these mines empty-handed or disappointed. The following, from the British Colonist of the 25th inst., contains the latest intelligence from the new gold field:—

If anybody here had entertained doubts as to the truth of the stories told concerning the enormous yield of the mines of our sister Colony during the recent past, such doubts would have been entirely dispelled had he stood on the Hudson Bay Company's wharf last evening and saw the Otter come in with seventy passengers from Cariboo, and heard them narrate their glowing tales of the mineral wealth of the Far North, or saw the packs of precious metal which several of their number lugged up to the Express Office.

The total amount of dust brought down last evening will reach $250,000! The Abbott company, of whom so much has been published in the Colonist, came by this arrival. They are three in number, and have, it is said, $80,000. The dust was carried in canvas bags, on the backs of the fortunate possessors, from the steamer to Wells, Fargo & Co.'s, where it was placed in the care of the agent. The company were followed from the wharf to the Express Office by a large and curious crowd of citizens, who fastened their eyes upon the bags, and even after the "piles" had been securely hidden from view and locked within the large safe, many remained gazing wistfully at the receptacle, or stooping at the novel sight of men who had made their fortunes in six weeks. Few of those who were on the wharf last evening but mentally or otherwise resolved to try their luck at Cariboo next spring. The Abbott company retain their interest in the claim, and have a large fortune before them, it is thought, in return for their summer's work.

Several miners with from $5,000 to $12,000 also arrived last evening. The utmost confidence is expressed and felt in the diggings. Major Downie was one of the passengers from Cariboo. Mining there has ceased for this year. A nugget of gold weighing seven pounds ($1400) has lately been picked up near Fort Kamahon and sold at the Hudson Bay Company's Store.

Texas, the old Cariboo explorer, came on the Otter. He exhibited to us specimens of gold and gold bearing quartz which he obtained 200 miles from Antler Creek. He thinks there are richer diggings across the Fraser in a Northwestward direction than have yet been struck. J. R. Adams & Co., on Williams' Creek, were making $200 a day to the hand. Other claims are paying equally well.

NEW GOVERNMENT GUN-BOATS.—From a Boston correspondent of the Sacramento Union we learn that the gun-boat Sagamore, the first of the twenty-three gun-boats being constructed for the government, has been recently launched. She was shoved off the stocks five days in advance of the time demanded by the builder's contract. Her machinery was nearly constructed, and she was expected to be ready for steam in the course of two or three weeks after launching. There are several others in an advanced state of forwardness in different New England yards, and by the middle of October or the first of November, the whole number will be ready for service. The speed of the Sagamore is estimated at fourteen or fifteen knots an hour; her tonnage is 550 tons, and her armament will consist of twelve 32-pounders and two rifled pivot guns. Her sailing complement is about 175 men. All the rest are building upon substantially the same model and of like capacity.

THE MURDER OF LIZZIE GRAHAM.—A correspondent of the Alta California, writing from Elensburg, Southern Oregon, the place where Lizzie Graham was ravished and murdered some time since, says that a man named George Brown lately attempted to commit a rape on the person of Mrs. Gwin, of that place, and, on being arrested, confessed his complicity in the murder of Lizzie Graham. He made the confession a second time before a committee, who immediately caused him to be hung on the same gallows upon which his partner in crime expiated his offenses.

IMPRESSING SAILORS FOR PRIVATEERS.—A late number of the Charleston (S. C.) Mercury contains an account of a conspiracy on board the privateer Jeff Davis, arising from the impressment of sailors for privateers. A Confederate Marshal had arrested four men for conspiring to kill the captain and officers of the Jeff Davis, with the design of taking her to New York. It is thought that the conspiracy had some agency in the recent stranding of that vessel on the St. Augustine bar.

MURDER.—A Mexican named Hypolite was recently murdered near Walls Walls, says the Portland Daily Advertiser, by other Mexicans in his employ. He had some eight thousand dollars in money with him at the time of his death. It is supposed his remains were burnt, from the evidences that were discovered at the place where the deed was committed. The murderers had escaped.

A FAILURE.—It seems to be well settled in the minds of the Oregon people that that State will not be able to raise a single company to be mustered into the service of the United States. If an army of officer-holders was required, says the Dallas Mountaineer, "our Republican friends would furnish their full quota; but when fighting is to be done, they prefer to let others take the lead."

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Always Ready.—In every household where order reigns the right thing is found in the right place; and for those inestimable remedies the surgery is the fittest place, where they may be at hand for instant application in case of accidents or illness. For every ailment to which the human frame is subject, Holloway's preparations are admirably adapted; they have the special merit of never being given wrongly or in vain. What comfort to every one superintending childhood! or ascending mature years from threatening ailments. Holloway's preparations have been so judiciously introduced that they are easily and universally procurable by all, while their cheapness and harmless qualities enable the poorest to be always ready with them.

THE UNIVERSITY.

We intended before this time to have given a more minute description than has yet appeared of this fine structure, based on information derived from mechanics employed upon it, but we have as yet been unable to do so, from various causes. However, we publish a brief description furnished by Mr. A. P. Delin, (late of Steilacoom, but now of Seattle) which will probably prove quite as interesting as a more lengthy account. The letter from which we gather the subjoined facts is dated Seattle, Sept. 29th:—

The work on the University is progressing very fast. The building is now enclosed, and all the outside work is done with the exception of the columns. This building will, without any doubt, be the most substantial and finest in structure of any in the Territory. On approaching Seattle, it is the first object that attracts attention; standing, as it does, on a high eminence, and commanding a magnificent view of the Sound, with its four massive columns supporting the portico, and with its towering dome. The columns will be after the Ionic order, 25 feet high and 3 feet in diameter. The dome is an ellipsoidal, and 14 feet in diameter, in which a steel ball will be suspended. The lower story has a hall 12 feet in the centre, one school room on each side 14 by 36 feet, and a recitation room to each of 14 by 20 feet. The upper story is divided into three rooms, one lecture room 80 by 36 feet, and will be divided by a sliding partition, so that at pleasure it can be made into one or two rooms. The other two rooms will be for recitation rooms.

The school rooms will be furnished with stationary desks and seats of the most approved modern style. The probable cost of the building will be from $10,000 to $20,000. Back of the University is a dwelling house 24 by 40 feet, with an L 24 by 20 feet, one-and-a-half stories high. This is calculated for the principal; the cost will be about $2000. This building is now finished. In addition to these, there will also be a boarding-house built, two stories high.

Too much credit cannot be given to Mr. Ragley for his energy in carrying out the work. I don't think that the Legislature in their wisdom could have elected a better man to fill that office. You will be surprised to learn that he has sold 15,000 acres of land and located 7,000 more, and that he has realized the sum of $42,500 for the 15,000 acres sold. Much credit is also due to the contractors, Messrs. Pike & Russell, for the faithful performance of their contract. They spare no pains in doing the work well.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT IN A PHILADELPHIA THEATRE.—Philadelphia papers of Sept. 15th contain accounts of a terrible accident which happened at the Continental Theatre in Walnut street. Shakespeare's "Tempest" was being played. The Misses Gale, dancers, were dressing themselves for the ballet for Act 3d. Miss Zelia Gale, one of the sisters, stood upon a settee to reach a dress, and when in the act of handing it down, the flame of gas from an adjacent tube set it on fire; the flame communicated to her clothes, and she was all ablaze in an instant. Her sisters rushed up to extinguish the fire, and they, too, were ignited. The fire mounted to their arms and breasts, inflicting terrible burns, and, panic-stricken, they ran from the room through a narrow passage-way into the next dressing-room, filled with ballet ladies. The gauze dresses of these blazed up directly, and screaming, struggling, wrestling, the poor creatures turned and leaped from the windows into Sansone street, or ran lithier and thither calling for assistance. Six of these burned women had died, and four more were not expected to survive the next twenty-four hours.

A CITY OF ITSELF.—Fortress Monroe boasts of two markets, two suiters's stores, one book and news store, one photographer's establishment, besides the shops of a tailor, barber and a shoemaker, and numerous booths for the sale of fruit and cakes. In and around the fortress and seminary, we have some sixteen hundred "contrabands" of all ages, hues and sizes. These make variety, and are at times very hilarious and noisy. They live in old houses and in tents, and seem perfectly contented and happy. The Quartermaster's department feeds them, and sets to work all the able-bodied men.

EMIGRANTS FROM TEXAS.—The Los Angeles Star, of the 29th ult., announces the arrival at that place of several families of emigrants from Texas. These are but the advance portion of emigrants from that State. Western Texas will be almost depopulated during the present year; the loyal citizens having determined to remove to new and happier homes on the Pacific coast.

ARRIVAL OF VOLUNTEERS.—Volunteers to the number of 235, (five companies) exclusive of officers, arrived at Vancouver last week, on the steamer Pacific. Several companies are hourly expected at this place.

THANKS.—Tom Hare, pilot of the new steamer, has our thanks for late Victoria papers.

Special Notices.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as its proprietor, far above the usual level of any professional school. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy with others an equally lofty position in the profession. Recent in an illustrious career, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapka has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the University of Padua conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Medicine, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Padua, and the late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors. Dr. L. J. Czapka has had his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and protracted diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the leader in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as a matter of interest to their readers in the most extensive journals. The Doctor's offices are at No. 103 Market and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Lombard street, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company.
