TO THE VOTERS OF CLARKE COUNTY.

CASCADES, May 14, 1866.
FELLOW CITIZENS:—
Being honored with a position among the standard bearers of the Union party during the present political campaign in Clarke county; and being by the nature of my private duties at this particular time prevented from personally visiting the different sections of the county, I am constrained to communicate with you through the medium of the press.

In the beginning, I wish to have some talk with you about the Union County Convention. I learn that there are some few persons who express dissatisfaction with the nominations for auditor and sheriff; not that they can urge any objections to the men, but because they had other particular friends whom they desired should have those offices. I am told that some of the aspirants threatened in advance, that if the coveted place were not assigned them, they would bolt the party track. Now, this is all wrong. One of the cardinal principles of our national compact is, that the majority must govern. But not less than thirty years since was begun the attempt to supplant it and engraft instead the assumption of the divine right of kings or privileged classes. The people resisted it peacefully while they could, and when their opponents appealed to the highest human tribunal, the force, they did not hesitate to accept the wages of battle, wherein they have triumphantly and irrevocably sealed this sacred principle with the best blood of the nation. It is not limited in its application solely to the statutory enactments of the Federal Government. It necessarily extends through all the ramifications of our political system, down to the most insignificant primary meeting; and any party organization, whether national or local, that neglects to enforce it, will soon lose its efficiency. Whenever particular individuals come to entertain a feeling of soreness from some personal disappointment, it becomes the duty of the other members of the party to kindly argue with them, and try to conciliate, and not by harsh measures or language drive them from the ranks; but whenever a party is afflicted with a set of chronic bolters, the sooner they are entirely discarded the better. A nominal success won by concessions to such is far worse than a temporary defeat resulting from a strict adherence to the right principle of organization.

The will of the majority clearly and fairly expressed must govern. There can be neither safety nor final success under any other rule. My opportunities for observing what may aptly be termed the inside machinery of the Union County Convention, were probably equal to those of any other person; and I am sure there was no system of "bargain and sale" practiced therein; that the proceedings were fairly conducted throughout; that, considering the prevailing excitement and lively interest centered in the nominations, the entire action of the convention was exceedingly harmonious.

Consider this subject well, ye Union men of Clarke county! and I doubt not but that you will give no heed to propositions from any quarter for the splitting of tickets, but vote the Union ticket straight without a single erasure or interpolation. Do so, and render complete success inevitable.

In the position to which I am assigned on the Union ticket, it is proper that you should have an exposition of my personal convictions concerning prominent questions likely to become subjects of legislation during the next session. I apprehend that any expression of my opinions relating to local legislation which might affect Clarke county, under existing circumstances, would be merely a waste of words, I will therefore speak now only of national topics.

There are now only two parties, viz: the Union party composed of an assimilation of the old Republican and real Democratic parties, opposed by one party wrongfully claiming the title of Democratic. If the latter still retained the explanatory prefix to their name which they once proudly wore, distinguishing themselves as Breckenridge Democrats, it would still be an eminently appropriate one. There is now but one issue of magnitude between these parties, and that is not whether the emancipated negroes shall have universal suffrage, nor is it whether President Johnson is a patriot or panderer. For! The real difference is in the contrary views which the members of either party take of the rightfulness of the great war of the rebellion. Although the leaders of the self-styled Democratic party avowedly endeavor to raise false issues, and ostensibly ignore their real sentiments, with the hope of thereby deluding honest-minded, patriotic men into adherence, their deeds unequivocally commit them now, as plainly as did their open declarations at the commencement of the war, to the justification of Jeff. Davis and his co-conspirators. They have thus far succeeded in shielding them from that retributive justice which should have swiftly consigned them to an ignominious punishment. The neglect or failure to try, convict, and punish the prime movers of the rebellion for the high crime of treason will weaken the faith and dampen the ardor of the apostles of Liberty, not only in our own country, but throughout all Christendom. It would be a tacit acknowledgment before the Christian world that the war was nothing holier than a barbarous struggle for power, unhallowed by a single principle of justice on either side. But we know that this imputation or inference is false. To aver that a people of such signal virtue and intelligence as those of the United States, voluntarily went forth from their pleasant firesides by the million, with the parting blessings of their aged fathers, and the encouragement and prayers of their mothers, and sisters, and wives; taking their lives in their hands and offering them as a willing sacrifice upon the field of carnage wherever they went, uninfluenced by any better motives than those ascribed to them by the justifiers of the rebellion, is outrageous blasphemy of the memory of the honored dead, and unpardonable insult to the living heroes of the Union army. Quoting the words of President Johnson himself, I affirm that "Treason must be made odious, and traitors punished."

JUSTIN CHENOWETH.

Reconstruction and Democracy.

Copperheads seem very anxious about their friends of the South, are howling in sympathy in behalf of their Southern brethren—are in exceeding great haste to reveal with them in a reunion of heart and hand, which is very natural for throughout all nature "like seeks its like," and "birds of a feather will flock together." The sublime impudence of southern traitors and their northern allies reminds one of the conduct of that murderous prince, King Richard the Third. After having slaughtered the heirs to the throne, including Queen Elizabeth's sons, he sought a union with her daughter. The Queen in her indignation asks, "How can'st thou woo her?" "That I would learn of you, being best acquainted with her humor." "Then send to her by the man that slew her brothers a pair of bleeding hearts, thereon engrave Edward and York, then haply will she weep, then present to her a kerchief, which, say to her, did drain the purple sap from her sweet brother's body. If these inducements move her not to love thee, send her a letter of thy noble deeds, tell her thou mad'st away with her Uncle Clarence, her Uncle Rivers, ah, and for her sake made quick conveyance with her good Aunt Anne."
"You mock me madam! This is not the way to win your daughter." "There is no other way, unless thou could'st put on some other shape and not be Richard that hath done all this."

So if the South desire reconstruction, peace, and union, they must bear themselves up loftily. They had better not send to the capital the men that slew our brothers, bearing in their bloody hands a thousand bleeding hearts, engraved thereon the names of a Baer, a Sedgwick, a Stevens, a McPherson, and other heroes fallen in the cause of human liberty, and insult us by giving back the rag that did drain their blood from their gory wounds and hid us wipe our eyes withal, and as this has failed to excite our love, they are now sending us a letter of their noble deeds, telling us how heroically they murdered our disarmed soldiers at Fort Pillow, with what refinement of torture and suffering they treated and starved our men at Liby, Castle Thunder, and Andersonville, how out of compassion and a feeling of high toned chivalry to a waning cause, they surrendered Vicksburg, gave up Atlanta, allowed Sherman to pass unharmed to the sea, and how the same disinterested spirit of chivalry caused the great Johnston and Lee to succumb. Ah! for the good of Hell and Traitors, brag they made quick conveyance with the great—the good—the immortal Lincoln.

It is true this is not the language to excite our love, but they have no other way unless they could put on some other shape, and not be the traitors that hath done all this.

Democracy as it is in Clarke County.

From evidence they dare not deny, it is a fact that leading Democrats have but little fear of punishment for any crime they may commit in this county. It is known that charges were presented before the grand jury of the terms of October, 1865, and March, 1866, against some of them for most infamous crimes, and it is known that the testimony against them was so clear and positive that conviction would most likely follow the finding of a bill. Yet both grand juries failed to find a bill. Mr. Gallatin Kinder, a Democrat, stated on oath before the grand jury of March 1st, that one of the men charged told him, "he was not afraid of being indicted as long as there were Democrats enough on the grand jury to prevent it."

This is a terrible state of society, if it be true that Democrats sworn as grand jurors are ready to perjure themselves to screen from just punishment their political confederates. If so, it evidently arises from a secret and villainous organization, such as existed in the Northwest, and was ferreted out by the Government, and reported in full by Hon. Joseph Holt two years since—a branch of which infamous organization doubtless extends to Clarke county.
If these statements be denied, all the facts will be exposed.

Centenary Convention.

A Centenary Convention held pursuant to a call from the Conference Centenary Committee of the Oregon Annual Conference of the M. E. Church was held at Salem, May 16th, and organized by the election of Rev. David Leslie, President; Rev. H. C. Benson, D. D., Rev. J. L. Parrish, Rev. N. A. Starr, Hon. A. C. Gibbs, Mr. S. D. Francis, and Mr. G. Graham, Vice Presidents; Rev. H. K. Hines, Secretary, and Rev. B. C. Lippincott, Corresponding Secretary. After an interesting session of two days, the convention adjourned, having adopted the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, The General Conference of the M. E. Church, in 1864, provided that "the Centenary of Methodism in America shall be celebrated by all our churches and people with devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, by special religious services, and liberal thank-offerings," therefore—

Resolved, 1st. That while we rejoice in the success of Methodism in general, and feel a common interest in the connectional bond that unites us in one body with our brethren in older States, our peculiar position and the requirements of Christian civilization, as well as every principle of Methodist history and economy, render it an imperative duty to devote our Centenary offerings chiefly to the endowment and permanence of our own educational interests.

2d. That it is the judgment of this convention that the cause of Christian education can be better served among us at present, by concentrating our efforts to build up an institution of learning which shall compare favorably and permanently with our older colleges, rather than by dividing our efforts among various objects, however praiseworthy and deserving.

3d. That the Centenary contributions, the objects of which shall be unspecified by the donors, be placed under the control of the Committee of the Oregon Conference to be appointed according to the plan proposed by the 7th resolution of the General Conference, and that said committee, under direction of the Annual Conference, shall designate the proportion to be sent to the connectional fund.

4th. That we recommend special and specified Centenary contributions to be appropriated—

1st. To the permanent endowment of the Wallamet University.

2d. To the establishment and endowment of a Theological Department in the Wallamet University.

3d. To furnishing the Wallamet University with apparatus and appliances of education.

5th. That we recommend the formation of Ladies' Centenary Associations in each circuit and station for the purpose of aiding any or all of the above specified objects.

6th. That we respectfully request the Sunday Schools under our care to take collections and contributions for the above objects.

7th. That we will carefully enter in books prepared for the purpose, the names of contributors and amounts subscribed and the specific objects to which the sums shall be appropriated; that said books shall be placed in the hands of the Conference Committee, and that finally they shall be deposited with the archives of the Wallamet University.

8th. That in the judgment of this convention, not less than $50,000 should be raised during the year for purposes specified by the convention.

9th. That we will not forget that "the primary object of the celebration shall be the spiritual improvement of our members," and we recommend special prayers and efforts for a general outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon our own hearts, and upon the community, such as shall signalize our Centenary Memorial Year, no less than the origin of Methodism.

10th. That the president of this convention, Rev. David Leslie, be respectfully and affectionately requested to preach a Centenary sermon at some suitable time during the next session of our Conference.

11th. That the secretaries be instructed to furnish copies of the proceedings of the convention to the several papers of Oregon and Washington, and respectfully request their publication.

HOMI INFLUENCE.—We shall never know, until we are ushered into eternity, writes a living author, how great has been the influence which one gentle, loving spirit has exercised in a household, shedding the mild radiance of its light over all the common events of daily life, and checking the inroads of discord and sin by the simple setting forth of that love which "seeketh not her own," but which "suffereth long and is kind."

THAT a man should be just and respectful toward all mankind, he must first begin with himself. A man, so to speak, who is not able to make a bow to his conscience every morning, is hardly in a condition to salute the rest of the world respectfully at any other time of the day.
A SLEEPY fellow reproved for lying in bed so late in the morning, replied that he was obliged to do it to invent excuses for not getting up.

Incident of Oregon History.

In the month of May, 1845, Mr. J. C. Fremont, then a Captain of Engineers, entered upon his third expedition of exploration to the great West. He passed through the desert, chief afterward the inhabited parts of lower California, and leaving his command, proceeded alone to Monterey to procure from the Governor of the province permission to join the winter in the uninhabited parts of the valley of the San Joaquin. Permission was at first given, afterwards revoked, and troops were raised and marched to attack him. Notified of their approach, he took position, raised the flag of the United States, and with his sixty men resolved to die rather than surrender. Waiting for five days the threatened attack, and no enemy appearing, he descended from his mountain fort and set out for Oregon—his special object being to explore a new route to the Willamette settlements.

In the first week in May, 1846, he was at the northern extremity of Klamath Lake, which is almost entirely in Oregon. On the 8th of that month he was met by two of his old voyagers, the advance guard a party of six, conducting a United States officer, with dispatches from Washington to Mr. Fremont. With ten picked men he immediately returned along his own trail to meet the officer, and after riding sixty miles without a halt, encamped where he supposed the party must be that night, if they had not been killed. They came. The officer proved Lieutenant Gillespie, of the Marines, who had been sent from Washington the November previous, with dispatches to the United States Consul at Monterey, and was directed then to find Mr. Fremont wherever he should be. And he had found him here. To follow them further is not the object of this reference, but to sketch the events of the next few hours—a thrilling part of the history of Oregon.

The night after these two parties met presented one of those scenes, nowhere discovered but on the frontier and among brave men. The encampment was near the shore of the lake, and the fourteen men slept by three at different fires. Mr. Fremont sat up by a large fire, his feelings joyfully elated, reading his letters and papers from home, and watching himself over the safety of the camp. Toward midnight the horses and mules became restive, awakening the suspicion of the watcher that all was not right. Armed with a six-shooting pistol, he went among the disturbed animals. Encouraged by his presence they became quiet, and discovering nothing, he soon returned to the camp fire. Without calling a watch he lay down to sleep, to be speedily aroused by a cry from Carson. A groan from Basil Lejeune, a favorite of Mr. Fremont in all his previous expeditions, whose brain was just then cleft by the murderous tomahawk, had aroused him. The treacherous Klamath were in the camp, and depending only on the hatchet and the bow, had nobly put to their last slumber four of the party already. But the camp was saved. Bravery and skill saved the wounded from massacre and the dead from mutilation. The assaulting chief and several of his warriors were killed. It was the 9th of May—the very day that American valor won feeble laurels on the field of Resaca de la Palma, that this fierce work was done.

Mourful duties awaited the morning. The wounded to be carried—the dead to be buried so as to be secured from discovery and violation. This done, the party returned to the camp at the north end of the lake; and soon after, in conformity to instructions received by Lieutenant Gillespie, turned back from Oregon, and entered on a splendid field of operations in California.

RENDEREST.—The Bulletin learns that Gen. Miller, Collector of the Port of San Francisco, has already taken measures to stop the transportation of cattle by way of the Isthmus of California, and that he has notified the Inspectors and other officers of the customs along the coast to prevent the landing of both cattle and hides from Europe or other foreign places. And in order to make the quarantine more perfect, the Collector is taking measures to have the military at the various posts along the Mexican boundary, second his efforts to keep infected cattle out of the country. The Stockton Independent, in an article on this fatal cattle disease, says it first appeared in England, in 1744, running for three consecutive years. It re-appeared in 1757; again in 1856, and again in 1866—each time coming from Southern Russia. On the continent rinderpest has often spread among cattle than in England. From 1793 to 1795 it killed four millions of cattle in Italy, and ten millions in France from 1713 to 1796; and during the past century it is estimated to have destroyed 200,000,000 cattle in Europe. It is almost as alarming to the farmer as cholera is to the denizens of cities. The climate of California is very favorable to the development of the disease if once the fatal germ reaches us from abroad; and it therefore stands our people in hand to do all that can be done to prevent its introduction; and yet if they have it at Panama it is difficult to see how we can escape it.

THE first part of married life is the child of the honeymoon, the rest, too often, common moonshine.

Fourth Plain School House, Tuesday, May 29th. Clark's School House, Wednesday, May 30th. Sutes' School House, Washougal, Thursday, May 31st. Mill Plain School House, Friday, June 1st. Mill Plain School House, at 2 o'clock p. m.

To the Union Voters of Clarke County.

That "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," has been fully reaffirmed and ineffaceably written in letters of blood during the past five years of our country's history.

You need not be told that the Democratic party is strongly and effectively in sympathy with slavery and the rebellion, and that the party in Clarke County is in no degree entitled to exemption from this charge.

It is said, and we have no doubt truly, that a Democratic order in Portland, the other day, in a public speech proclaimed the sentiment "that slavery is not abolished—the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery was unconstitutional and therefore void." The Democrats in the crowd cheered the remark.

There may be individual exceptions, but we believe the above incident affords a truthful illustration of the general feeling and spirit of the Democratic party.

Whatever their pretensions may be the fact stands boldly out and may be seen and read by all men that they are not the friends of popular rights and universal freedom.

Their triumphs are hailed with extreme delight by those who have always practiced and held that the poor and common people were nothing better than the mud sills of society, and who now believe that domestic slavery should be made the chief corner stone of our social fabric, and would make it so to-morrow if it was in their power.

The success of the Democratic party in Clarke County at the ensuing election would be a step backwards, while the success of the Union party will be in harmony with the times and a step forward and onward toward the nobler destiny with which the events of the nineteenth century are crowning our national existence.

The importance of our success at the present time cannot be too highly estimated, therefore let every Union voter go to the polls and be sure that he casts his vote for the Union Ticket. Do not allow yourselves to be deceived by the pretense that there are just as good Union men on the other ticket as on your own.

There may be, but men must be judged by the company they keep, and it is not safe to trust them; besides their influence is with, and goes to strengthen the party to which they belong.

That party is united and desperate in their opposition to you, and the principles of the Union party, and shall we not unite against them? They are opposed in theory and practice to the doctrine of "equal and exact justice to all men," and would roll back to day, if they had the power, the wheels of progress, and fasten again upon the nation the curse of human bondage, for deliverance from which such a terrible price has just been paid in blood.

You will not be gulled by the cry that it is an abolition war. You know and they know that the war was forced by slavery and wrong Whom will you sustain?

It has been understood for years by the citizens of this county that all the influence and power of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company has been and will be used against the prosperity of the county.

All parties have understood this fact alike. Union men and Democrats, in our Territorial Legislature, have felt and acted alike in regard to it.

But the time has come when the leaders of the Democratic party in this county have assumed to sell out the people of the county to that monopoly for the very low and disgraceful object of securing its influence in the coming election.

Their county convention put in nomination for representative John W. Brasse, the superintendent and business agent of that company at the Cascades.

Of course they expect to induce the rank and file of the party to vote for his election.

We ask our citizens to pause and think before they cast their votes to sustain a bargain by which the material interests of this county will be so fatally injured as they are sure to be if that party could carry the election.

Let us consider some facts. We are looking to our mines as the great source of our future wealth.

Every man in that county uses all possible influence to turn attention of everybody away from them.

Every miner that steps within the limits of Clarke county takes so much away from them.

They see this influence all over Oregon and California. They denounce the mines as a robbery.

The same persistent opposition to this county which has so long ground us down with the power of an iron heel is still against us.

And every voter of Clarke county who votes for John W. Brasse, or the men who have thus attempted to sell the county to that monopoly, votes against himself and for the enemy of his county.

Again, J. W. Brasse was a contestant for a seat in the House of Representatives last winter.

He was beaten in that contest, but remained at Olympia with a pocket full of bills all in favor of the O. S. N. Company, urging them with pertinacity, and when beaten in one house besieging the other for their passage.

Before going to Olympia, and while there, he claimed to be "an unconditional Union man."

If that was true he is now trying to sell Democracy politically, if it was not true he is trying to deceive everybody generally.

In either case he is not entitled to the political confidence and support of the voters of Clarke county.

It ought to condemn the entire ticket with which his name is associated, and unless the people of the county are ready to give everything into the hands of a grasping, money power, they are not ready to sustain that ticket in whole or in part.

To Voters: It is believed that there is now no establishment in Oregon or Washington Territory, at which potter's (or stone) ware is made.

There was an attempt made in Oregon some time since to manufacture stone ware, but the clay used was not being suited to the purpose, the attempt was a failure.

The little stone ware now used in Oregon and Washington is brought from California, and is sold here at what we regard as high prices—too high to justify its extensive use.

If stone ware could be procured in the markets on this portion of the Pacific coast, at prices even double in amount of those paid on the Atlantic coast, a very large amount would soon come into use.

In our territory we are not aware that any examinations of our clays have been made for the purpose of ascertaining their adaptability as an article for making stone ware.

We have, as a believed, various kinds of clay in our territory; and it would be strange, indeed, if the kind desired would not be found even in the neighborhood of Vancouver.

Manufactories, at least of articles of the first necessity, are required to make our country prosperous.

Even a match manufactory is an advantage to the town and country. A manufactory of carriages, buggies, and wagons, benefits us.

Every manufacturing establishment, little or great, that tends to consume the productions of the country, and keep money at home, helps to build up and stake prosperity a community.

We call upon farmers of our county to furnish us with specimens from clay beds within convenient reach of our city.

If the right clay for making stone ware can be found, it will not be long before a pottery will be established in our city.

We have an abundance of fuel near the city; we have a most healthy town; probably the most pleasant site for a city on the whole of this coast; living is cheap here; buildings for dwellings and other purposes can be erected for a moderate cost; our place is accessible at all times to steamers, and goods can be readily sent from here to any portion of an extensive market to us; we have a country fast being settled with the right sort of farmers, who are plowing, right and left, the light timber of our rich swales; our city is feeling the healthful influence of this state of things—and what will be the future when the rich mines within three hours ride, on her northern border, unlimited almost in extent, are developed, as they soon will be?

We have digressed somewhat from our subject—but naturally. We invite the attention of any person who would like to engage in the pottery business, to the proposition for establishing a pottery at Vancouver.

The editors will give their personal attention to any letters they may receive on the subject.

THE RIVER.—The Columbia has been remarkably high for the time of year.

It reached a point only three inches below the highest of last year. It seldom reaches its extreme height before the middle of June.

Though now receding, it may be expected to rise again when the snows from the main Columbia come down.

John W. Brasse.

We are informed on reliable authority that John W. Brasse, one of the Democratic nominees of this county for the Legislature, with in a few months past, made the following not very classic, but expressive declaration: "I will be d—d if I'll stay in the Territory, and the O. S. N. Company will remove their road to the other side of the river if the Supreme Court sustain the act of the Legislature by which the land occupied by their road became a part of Clarke county," or words to that effect.

Now we have no objection to the O. S. N. Company removing their road to the other side of the river, and we have nothing against Mr. Brasse personally.

We have been well treated by him, and so far as our acquaintance extends, we like him quite as well as we do most men; but our personal likes or dislikes are not the question.

And we do not allow ourselves to be governed or our actions controlled by them when a question of principle is involved.

We have the information in such a way that we verily believe Mr. Brasse made the statement, and we think the people of Clarke county ought to know it.

It shows the animus of the man as relates to his fitness to represent the interests of our people in the Legislature.

And in all seriousness and candor we ask the voters of Clarke county, will you sacrifice your own interests by committing them to the care of one who has no interest in common with you, and no known or recognized motives of citizenship higher than the service of a company whose opposition to the interests of Clarke county, have been avowed and are undoubted?

A free land carriage across the Cascade portage, and a participation, at least, with Oregon, in the benefits of the travel and commerce which pass that point are essential to the prosperity of Washington Territory, and especially of Clarke county.

The O. S. N. Company has prevented the construction of a wagon road across the portage by which emigrants, with their stock and other effects, could reach our county, and forced emigrants, who desired to stop here, to land in Oregon.

They have obtained possession and control of this important passage and point in our Territory, and holding it with an iron grasp, make it the base of actual operations against us.

It is the settled policy of the company to prevent, by the use of their immense power and influence, the construction of any road across the portage of any kind but the r. o. w. and to crush all attempts at competition, and thus to control and direct, for all all time to come, the entire travel and business of the Columbia river, carrying them past us and from us so far as they have the power.

Mr. Brasse is the servant and candidate of this company, and as a member of our Legislature would no doubt serve them and do their bidding as far as he could.

If you vote for him, you vote to sustain them and in opposition to the interests of Clarke county. Will you do it?

AN IMPIOUS AND HORRIBLE PRAYER.—The Richmond Examiner, the paper best representing the date of the South, winding up its complaints against the loyal States and a loyal Congress, says: "Policy the President may have—policy we can have none. We have simply to endure, and pray that the cholera may divide between our adversaries and ourselves."

The impiety of this prayer is only equalled by its fiend-like cruelty. Still it discloses the feeling entertained towards us by the men who are clamoring loudly for the privilege of controlling the Government, and the men to whom the Democratic party, as to-day organized, propose to give that power.

The leaders of the Democracy of Clarke county have all ways been in sympathy with the Richmond Examiner, and they are to-day.

Johnson Democracy. "TREASON MUST BE MADE OBVIOUS. TRAITORS MUST BE PUNISHED AND IMPROVERISHED; THEY MUST NOT ONLY BE PUNISHED, BUT THEIR SOCIAL POWER MUST BE DESTROYED; AND AFTER MAKING TREASON OBVIOUS, EVERY UNION MAN AND THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD BE REIMBURSED OUT OF THE POCKETS OF THOSE WHO HAVE INFLICTED THIS GREAT SUFFERING UPON THE COUNTRY."—Andrew Johnson, April 21, 1865.

"The time has come when the rebellion is an element of aristocracy must be punished. THE TIME HAS COME WHEN THEIR LANDS MUST BE CONFISCATED!"—Andrew Johnson, in the State House of Nashville, Oct. 24, 1864.

There is Democracy for you. How do you like it, Messrs. candidates for places on the Democratic ticket of Clarke county? Do you endorse it?

Miners' Organization. At a meeting of the Stockholders of Rising Sun and Morning Star Gold and Silver Quartz Lodes, held in the city of Vancouver, May 21st, 1866, the meeting was organized by electing Louis S. Jones, Chairman, and C. H. Houser, Secretary.

It was then moved and carried that the stockholders of the Rising Sun and Morning Star Lodes, organize in one Company.

The shareholders of the two named Lodes there present signed their respective names to a list for that purpose.

The following Committees were then appointed: A Committee of six to draft By-Laws for a permanent organization, consisting of D. A. Conish, Louis Myers, James Turnbull, Sumner Barker, O. Sovey, and John J. Haker.

A Committee of four on permanent organization consisting of James Turnbull, Sumner Barker, Louis Myers and Antoine Young.

A Committee of two for the purpose of obtaining the signatures of the balance of the shareholders of the respective Lodes consisting of O. S. Sovey and Jacob Bratt.

The meeting then adjourned until Saturday, May 26th, 1866, at 7 o'clock, p. m.

EASTERN NEWS.—The Eastern news during the past week has been very meagre, and not specially interesting or important.

A press of other matter has obliged us to omit our usual compilation.

What are the Facts?

VANCOUVER, May 24, 1866.

Editors REGISTER: It is reported that Mr. A'Hern, the present auditor of this county and Democratic candidate for re election, not long since ante dated the filing and recording of a deed in his office, in a case where such filing and recording was calculated to affect the question of title between adverse claimants.

This is a grave charge—if it is true; and if such things are to be practiced, none are safe in the possession and ownership of their property, but are liable at any time to be defrauded out of it by some trumped up deed, filed and put on record by and through the connivance of the auditor, under date prior to the purchase or possession thereof by the occupant and rightful owner.

If this report is true, it is only right that the people at whose hands Mr. A'Hern asks a re-election should know it. If false, it is only just to him that he should be vindicated.

I understand that one of the editors is personally acquainted with the facts in the case. I therefore ask him, on behalf of myself and others, to state these things through the REGISTER, and oblige.

A VOTER AND PROPERTY HOLDER.

In reply to the above, I have simply to state that on the twenty-sixth day of April last, the question of ownership or title to a certain piece of ground came up between a citizen of this place and myself, he claiming such ownership or title by and through a deed executed to him or his wife in 1859.

My claim was based on several years actual possession and on a deed executed to me the 20th day of October, 1863. Neither deed had been recorded, and both, by the respective parties, were handed to Mr. A'Hern for record on the aforesaid twenty-sixth day of April, 1866.

Mine was filed and recorded under that date, as I desired and expected it would be; the other was filed and recorded under date of November fourteenth eighteen hundred and sixty-three, thus antedating the filing and recording nearly two years and a half.

The above is the simplest statement of the facts that I can find language to express, and so true, and I think will not be, denied by Mr. A'Hern.

But of course no man having any claims to sanity would do an official act like this without some excuse. Mr. A'Hern's excuse is that the deed had been in his office and withdrawn, that there had been an endorsement made on an envelope containing the deed, corresponding in date and character with the one now made by him on the deed itself.

When the deed was first presented to me, and just before it was carried to the office and handed to Mr. A'Hern for record, I saw no envelope with it. I was present when it was handed to Mr. A'Hern for record, and had a favorable opportunity of seeing the envelope with its endorsement, it had been present. I did not see it. No envelope thus marked or endorsed, so far as I know, has been shown in evidence of the declaration, and evidence so shallow would hardly be employed, as such an endorsement could be made upon any envelope at any time.

I do not say that the declaration is untrue, and admitting it to be true, I will not say how far such an endorsement would justify the auditor's certified statement that the deed was actually recorded on the fourteenth day of November, 1863, when in fact it was not recorded until the twenty-sixth day of April, 1866, and during all the period between these dates was lying unrecorded in the owner's drawer at home.

These are the facts, presented with an entire willingness that others may form their own conclusions. S. W. BROWN.

Olympia Correspondence. OLYMPIA, May 19th, 1866.

Editors REGISTER: The following is an article clipped from the W. Standard, semi-weekly edition of Saturday morning, May 10th:

A son of Gun has written a letter to the Vancouver Register, which for wit almost equals some of our contemporary's attempts. It closes with a falsehood as do all the Bolters' statements of the County Convention held on the 6th inst. He says "three-fourths the Convention" succeeded after the temporary adjournment. If twelve is three-fourths of forty-two, then he is correct. Three-fourths remained and one-fourth scolded. Was "Lokal Item's" letter written "per order?"

This "very pithy" (?) little article is all misrepresentation. That letter to the REGISTER did not close with a falsehood, neither did it say "three-fourths of the Convention with drew," but two-thirds. In the above little article he, Mr. Standard man, J. M. "Spuds"—as Mr. P. Tribune man calls him—admits that twelve withdrew from the Convention, now add to that the seventeen from Olympia who were anti-temts and it will make twenty-nine; is it not two-thirds of forty-two?

Where is the great falsehood the letter closes with? Mr. Standard man, look well to your own articles, which are little else than a "stream of falsehoods," before you accuse others of falsehood.

The Revenue cutter, Lincoln, arrived at this place last night, just in time, for judging from the manner in which Mr. Secretary Ell Pease shook his digits in the would-be-celentration last Saturday he is getting decidedly belligerent; and it may be necessary to call on the armed steamer, lest he should surround the Capital.

The Union men of Thurston County, assembled to day at the Court House in this place and made the following nominations: For Representatives, James Wood, G. W. French, and M. H. Hitchcock. For Sheriff, J. H. Kellet. Auditor, E. T. Gunn. Treasurer, J. H. Munson. County Commissioner, H. G. Parsons. A set of Resolutions and adjourned.

Yours Effectively, LUKIL I. TEMA.

THANKS.—We are again indebted to our friend Jones for late Eastern papers. By the way; he keeps a good supply of periodical reading. Call upon him.

AFTERNOON SESSION.—Convention met pursuant adjournment.

The Committee on permanent organization presented their report, and Henry M. Knapp was recommended as Chairman, and J. W. Brasse as Secretary.

On motion of A. J. Lawrence, the report was received and adopted.

The Chairman, on taking his seat, thanked the Convention for the honor conferred upon him, in a few well timed, pertinent remarks which were received with applause.

On motion, the committee on resolutions reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That we affirm, as the creed of our political faith and practice, our steadfast devotion to the following principles, viz: Equal and exact justice to all men of whatever State or sect; the support of the State Governments in all their rights, and of the Federal Government in all its vigor; and a jealous care of the elective franchise; the supremacy of the civil over the military authority; opposition to the centralization of power; economy in all public expenditures; the general diffusion of education; the encouragement of morality, and the highest civilization; the right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience; freedom of speech; freedom of the press; and freedom of the person, under the protection of the habeas corpus.

2. Resolved, That we do, and will sustain, President Johnson in his determination and efforts for the complete restoration of all the Constitutional rights of all the States, and we unreservedly approve his veto of the Freedmen's Bureau and Civil Rights bills, and all his Constitutional efforts to prevent the fanatical majority in Congress from changing or destroying our cherished form of Government, and we also sustain his position in reference to the admission of representatives from the Southern States.

3. Resolved, That the assumption of the opposition that the Democratic party is in favor of repudiating the public debt, and that it is in favor of nullification and secession, are absurd and false.

4. Resolved, That we believe this to be a white man's Government, made by white men for the use and benefit of white men, and none others.

5. Resolved, That the miners should be encouraged and protected in the free use of the mines.

6. Resolved, That we will support the nominees of this Convention.

On motion, the Convention proceeded to ballot circa voce, when the following ticket was nominated:

For Representatives, John Pollock, John W. Brasse, and H. M. Knapp; County Commissioner, Geo. W. Hart; Sheriff, H. C. Morse; Treasurer, C. H. Houser; Auditor, P. A'Hern; Assessor, A. Coffey; Probate Judge, Joseph Petrain; Prosecuting Attorney, H. L. Caples.

On motion, the chairman appointed the Democratic County Committee for the ensuing year, as follows:

J. D. Potter, (chairman) Vancouver; T. J. Thornton, Lockamas; C. L. Davids, Preston; Geo. W. Hart, Washougal; J. W. Brasse, Cascade; D. W. Picketts, Patterson; J. Pollock, Pollock; Solomon Strong, Laurel; A. J. Lawrence, Fern Prairie.

On motion, minutes were read and approved.

On motion, the Secretary was authorized to furnish a copy of these proceedings to the Vancouver Register and Oregon Herald.

On motion, adjourned until 10 o'clock.

H. M. KNAPP, Chairman; J. W. BRASSE, Secretary.

A BARGE ACROSS SALMON CREEK. We learn that the settlers north of Vancouver, in response to a call made by the Bridge Commission appointed by the board of County Commissioners at their last session, met a few days since at the house of Mr. Wilson, and determined to build a good and substantial bridge across Salmon creek forthwith, near the place of the present ford, on Brinn's farm, eight miles north of Vancouver. This bridge has been needed for the last five years. It has been communicated, at all seasons of the year, between our town and the rich swale lands north of us.

1200 pounds, bright shaggy mahogany bay, not a white hair from his nostril to the heel, hind disposition, any body can drive him in a buggy with perfect safety.

Was bred at Springfield, Missouri, from a full blooded Vermont Morgan horse and a Morgan at Sampson dam, and was taken to the state Fair of Missouri in the fall of 1861, and took the premium for the best three year old colt, and traded a mile in three minutes. The next spring he was purchased by Mr. Rusk and brought across the plains the same year, and purchased by myself in 1863.
MORGAN has stood some of the finest colts in the Territory, and if stock raisers want a horse for all work they need not look further; and for the saddle or buggy he is unsurpassed in this colt.

For a description and recommendation of Morgan stock, see Patent Office Report of 1861, pages 226, 230, 238, and 242, and 244. The Americans give the Morgan horse the preference over all others for roadsters and farm horses.
