WESTERN STATES TAXED TO SUPPORT THE EASTERN.—The people are not really aware that almost every department of industry in the West, is implicitly taxed to support the manufacturing interest at the East.

THE FIRST PRAYER IN CONGRESS.—The following is the first prayer made in the old Continental Congress, in 1777, by the Rev. Jacob Duchet, then Rector of Christ Church, Philadelphia:

MAKE THEM HAPPY.—The great art in child-culture is to keep the little ones happy, having all things as pleasant and bright about them as possible.

FACTS FOR THE CURIOUS.—The grayhound runs by eyesight only, and this we observe as a fact. The carrier pigeon flies his two hundred and fifty miles homeward by eyesight—namely, from point to point of objects which he has marked; but this is only our conjecture.

THE OLD MAN.—Bow low thy head, boy; do reverence to the old man, once like you. The vicissitudes of life have silvered his hair and changed the round merry face to the worn visage before you.

NOT SPELLED RIGHT.—A young member thought he would adopt a motto for himself, and after much reflection, wrote in large letters and posted up against the wall the following: 'Suam Cuique,' which may be translated, 'Let every one have his own.'

CURE FOR CHAPPED HANDS.—Take some prepared chalk, scrape it fine; have some fresh lard, blend both together to the consistency of salve. Rub the hand with it before going to bed, and sleep in old kid gloves with the palms cut out. This preparation will whiten the hands considerably, and is a certain cure for eruptions of long standing.

A MODEL MERCHANT.—A merchant of New York, during the late war, made a contract with a merchant to supply him with a quantity of tin cans.

James Parton is engaged on the life of Voltaire. Oysters in London are sold at sixty cents a dozen—five cents a piece. Silver mines have been discovered on Eel river, in Mendocino county, Cal.

The passenger cars on the railway from St. Petersburg to Moscow are two stories high, the upper story being used for sleeping at night. A carriage factory with $150,000 capital has been started in Bridgeport, Conn., to make carriages with India rubber bodies, for which the company have a patent.

Miss Nancy Ann Snyder, a young woman of New Bethlehem, Clarion county, Pa., lately ran two miles and a half in seventeen minutes, winning a bet. She now challenges any lady in Clarion county to run a race—distance from one to five miles—for twenty dollars a side.

A Presbyterian church in Ohio, having suspended a member for joining the Masonic order, an appeal was taken to the Presbytery. This body, by a vote of fifteen to ten, sustained the appeal, and restored the party appealing to the communion of the church.

Some Pennsylvanians are reported to be buying farms in Tennessee, generally in the neighborhood of Chattanooga. A good deal of Northern capital appears at present to be seeking investment in the South.

There is something pleasantly significant in the fact that when man meets man, the first impulse excited is one of good will. All forms of greeting—some of them it must be owned, a little grotesque—are overtures, or at any rate professions to be, of kindly regard.

PROSPECTS FOR THE NEXT SEASON.

The prospects for the next season look unusually flattering so far as business matters are concerned. We speak now only in reference to this valley and of the surrounding country. Accounts from the mines, in every direction, agree that the coming mining season will bring with it an increased demand for labor and a certainty of remuneration to employers and employes.

FROM PORTLAND DATES UP TO THE 25TH.

We can glean no news of special interest. Portland seems to be in a worse condition so far as mail communication is concerned than was of this section here. What mail they get by way of the lower Columbia, is carried by hand over a hard road to travel, from Astoria to the emporium.

BROOKS—THE PEOPLE OF WALLA WALLA AND VICINITY, are greatly perplexed about the mail arrangements made between Portland and this upper country, by Postal Agent Brooks. Not a day passes now that one does not hear more or less remarks made not at all complimentary to the aforementioned personage.

FROM GRAND RONDE—FROM MR. R. JACOBS, who has just returned from a short visit to Grand Ronde Valley, we learn that although the times are somewhat dull in that section, the people are getting along moderately well, and are buoyant with the hope that the coming Spring will usher in prosperity to the settlers.

THE NEW MINES—A gentleman who has obtained considerable information in regard to the new mines on Willow Creek, gives it as his opinion that these mines, as far as developed, will support for the next mining season a population of about fifteen hundred. Of course, it is expected that a much larger number will go into the mines, but unless there are further discoveries made the surplus population will float off to other and more favorable localities.

EXECUTED—We learn from the Boise papers that Anthony McBride, who murdered a Chinaman last August, in the Owyhee country, and who received the sentence of death, was hung at Boise City, Jan. 24th. McBride declared with his last words that he was innocent of the crime of murder, and claimed that when he shot the Chinaman he mistook him for a hostile Indian.

From Philby Ritz.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 7, 1868.

EDITOR STATESMAN.—I reached here safely last night and concluded to lay over a day and rest. To-day I have taken a stroll around the city and into the Tabernacle which is now nearly completed. The building is enclosed and plastered inside; the workmen are putting up the seats, the altar and the organ. The building is an immense oblong dome, 150 feet wide, 250 feet long and 65 feet high to the ceiling, plastered and finished with a hard glazed finish, so that it constitutes one immense whispering gallery, combining all of the acoustic principles of concentrating sounds that were ever employed in the celebrated whispering galleries of antiquity. The building will accommodate 10,000 persons; the stand and altar alone will seat 2,000.

Of course mining and prospecting is the chief occupation of the Owyhees, and the prospects look very flattering indeed.

Nine mills, having a capacity of one hundred and twenty stamps, are engaged day and night crushing quartz from the different lodes. The Morning Star Mill, the pioneer of this camp, has 10 stamps; Mineor mill, 5; Webfoot, 5; New York and Owyhee, 20; Lincoln, 20; Cosmos, 20; Schoubar, 10; Ainsworth, 10; Greenback, 20. It is a remarkable fact that the great commercial city of the coast, has not as yet invested one dollar in this promising camp, whereas Portland—the much abused Portland—has nearly as much capital invested, as the great East. It certainly has the appearance that our neighbors down at the Bay like to grasp every dollar they can get hold of from the northern country, but prefer to lock them up in their fire proofs, rather than to aid in developing the hidden resources of the country.

Notwithstanding the above, business is not very brisk. The merchants have all large stocks of goods on hand, and the competition is carried on extensively.

Old Owyhees assure us that never since their arrival in this camp has dame nature bestowed such a fine winter season upon us as the present.

Notwithstanding the above, Mr. Beachy keeps up his "lick."

NEW PAPER.—We learn from a circular forwarded from Cheyenne by Mr. Ritz, that a new paper is to be published at South Pass City, in the Sweetwater mines, the first number of which will be issued this month.

Notice to Steve Sharr.—A wooden post stands in the following:

Hi-diddle diddle, Boys stop to whistle— Making boots and clogs, Forks, knives and wooden shoes; And the kindling is hard to keep, So here I will stop, Your knives and wood you'll drop And stop your whistle whistle, Hi-diddle diddle, Take warning on the above, Or I will put you in the stove And burn you all to cinders; Boots, Clogs and all your splinters. On the 5th of Feb. these lines were written, When all hands round the stove were sitting.

An Iowa paper says that out of 143 newspapers published in that State, there is not one religious journal among them all. Bring on your Missionaries.

There were only fifty-three divorces granted in New York city last year. Chicago has 338.

Owyhee Correspondence.

SILVER CITY, OYHEE, Jan. 23, 1868.

This town is situated between high mountains, and appears to astonish herself how she came to attain her growth! Having succeeded in outwitting her unfortunate rival—who possesses the superior advantages—by removing the county seat, post and express offices, and established the fact beyond a doubt that she is the place, she now knows not what direction to pursue for the purpose of accommodating the building of houses and stores; and in the end she will be forced to extend her limits towards her sister Ruby. Silver City lays claim to a population of five hundred. She possesses something like 21 dry goods and general mercantile houses; four hotels; six restaurants; two drug shops; four Lillard saloons; three butcher shops; three banking houses; three assay offices, several barber shops, and a number of drinking saloons. She is divided into two principal business streets, Washington and Jordan. Crossing Jordan Creek—where at one time considerable mining was carried on—there is quite a sprinkling of private residences, and within a short distance of the Court House, which, by the by, is a handsome structure, and speaks well for the enterprise of the people of Owyhee county. Although the county is heavily indebted, it is supposed that by the aid of wise and honest officers, with the rapid increase of the population, the county will be out of debt in less than four years. Society is in an excellent state, and will contrast fairly with any town of her size on the coast. The cities of New York, San Francisco, Portland and Dallas have contributed liberally to our sex. It has never been my good fortune to reside in a town where lovers of tripping the "light fantastic toe" were so plentiful as at Silver City. The present season has been ushered in with balls, parties, and as yet there is no show of getting weary.

Of course mining and prospecting is the chief occupation of the Owyhees, and the prospects look very flattering indeed.

Nine mills, having a capacity of one hundred and twenty stamps, are engaged day and night crushing quartz from the different lodes. It certainly has the appearance that our neighbors down at the Bay like to grasp every dollar they can get hold of from the northern country, but prefer to lock them up in their fire proofs, rather than to aid in developing the hidden resources of the country.

The most prominent ledges in this district are the Poorman, Ida Binore, Golden Chariot, Oro Fino, Morning Star, Woodstork, Allison, and a number of others, the names of which I have not as yet learned.

Notwithstanding the above, business is not very brisk. The merchants have all large stocks of goods on hand, and the competition is carried on extensively.

Old Owyhees assure us that never since their arrival in this camp has dame nature bestowed such a fine winter season upon us as the present.

How to Keep Warm

ED. STATESMAN:—My neighbor says that the best way to keep warm is to build a rousing fire and sit before it. All very good. But in this country wood is dear, and besides we cannot always all of us stay in the house, so that it is necessary to discover some other means by which we may keep comfortable. Partly, at least, we can overcome the effects of this silent monster, Jack Frost, by a due attention to the laws of Physiology. Let us then consider what are these laws, and whence are some of the sources of animal heat.

First, Respiration is closely connected with this subject.

Chemistry teaches that fire cannot be produced without a certain amount of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. Wood, tallow or oil furnishes the carbon and hydrogen, while the oxygen is obtained from the air, and when by any means one of these elements is wanting, combustion ceases; as when the air is shut off from the fire in an air-tight stove the fire goes out. The same principle holds true in the production of animal heat. The food furnishes the carbon and hydrogen, which by means of the digestive organs is converted into blood, while the air furnishes the oxygen. These are brought together in the lungs, and carried by the blood vessels throughout the system. Hence we see that our food should be of such a character as circumstances indicate. During the cold weather it should be stimulating, that is, it should contain considerable carbon and hydrogen. Meat and fatty substances contain these ingredients and consequently are healthy. Thus we find that the Greenlanders eat his meat and even blubber and oil, while the inhabitants of the torrid zone live almost exclusively on a vegetable diet, which is less stimulating. The air, too, which we breathe, should be pure, and the lungs should be expanded so as to receive a large quantity into the system. Thus fishes, as they breathe water, obtain but little oxygen, and are cold blooded, while whales which live in the same element but come to the surface and breathe air, have a temperature equal to that of man; and birds, which of all animals have the largest lungs in proportion to their size, have the highest temperature.

Second, Exercise is closely joined to the subject, since by means of the increased action of the muscles, the blood is sent coursing through the veins at a greater speed; more air is inhaled, and a greater amount of heat is produced.

Third, The brain and nerves affect the temperature of the body, for when a part of the body becomes paralyzed and the nerves cease to act, the part affected becomes sensibly colder. So when the mind is depressed by sorrow, or affected by great fear, the breathing becomes slow and chilliness ensues; but on the other hand when joyous and agreeable emotions pervade the mind, the breathing becomes quicker, and the body warmer. When asleep too, the nervous system ceases partially to act, and consequently more clothing is required.

Fourth, Good health increases the warmth of the system. In a healthy person the changes among the particles of the body are produced much quicker, and more heat is generated; hence a due observance of the general laws of health, and especially of a clear skin, is obvious.

Fifth, But if a person cannot keep warm in any other way, use the more clothing. Cold feet, cold hands and cold bodies are not only uncomfortable, but actually unhealthy, and unless prevented in some way will lead to disease and permanent suffering.

Thus to sum up, we find these things are essential to comfort in cold weather: Proper food, pure air, sufficient exercise, a sound brain, good health and a clean skin, accompanied with enough clothes and a blazing fire if you can get it.

Lewiston Correspondence.

LEWISTON, Jan. 20, 1868.

ED. STATESMAN:—Again I resume the pen for the purpose of saying that we still live. And now that we have had some time to look around this City, I will endeavor to express my opinion of this part of our Sister Territory. It does not require much time to see Lewiston, but to form any correct idea of its natural advantages and resources one must look beyond the streets of the village. The extravagant ideas of the early settlers of Lewiston caused the place to grow for a year or so beyond its permanent resources, and as a consequence the place now wears a very deserted appearance, and hence everybody says "Lewiston is dead" and so the superficial observer might conclude from the many empty houses and deserted streets. But I find there is much business going on, and many are making money while others are making fine homes and good livings, and all seem thriving and prosperous. And how is it? Where does this trade and business come from? Lewiston imports a large stock of goods during the season of navigation on Snake river, and now as the season is far advanced many small traics are down from Oro Fino, Florence, Elk City, and Warrens for a late supply, who find it safer to load here than to go to Walla Walla. We have traveled the last two weeks over the country adjacent and find in addition to this mining trade there is quite an agricultural interest to sustain business here. And I will here remark that the Captain was again surprised to see so much arable land still vacant. Along the foot of the mountains back from Lewiston are many small streams or open flats containing springs in which could be located a large number of farms, and as the treaties with the Indians have been ratified we suppose much of this land will soon be taken up and improved, and with a little energy on the part of the Lewiston folks the place may again see the life and business of 1862 and '63. So may it be, for what is lost for these people is bread and butter for Walla Walla.

Many old and esteemed friends met us here and I must say I am glad to find them enjoying so much health and prosperity.

"Long may they wave." Hoping you still survive, I will "douse my glem."

Yours, respectfully, OBSERVER.

NASTARAN NEWS.

VIA SALT LAKE CITY.

New York, Jan. 19.—Honduras advices, via Havana, say that a revolution is apprehended in the interior.

Forty cases of cholera occurred at Truxillo.

The Herald's special says the defeat of the Supreme Court bill in the Senate appears to be a foregone conclusion. The Reconstruction bill seems more likely to pass.

The committee on foreign affairs in the House will report about Thursday a bill concerning the rights of naturalized citizens.

It is expected that the Senate will soon take up the bill for the admission of Colorado. The friends of the measure are sanguine of success.

Gov. Evans has arrived from Denver. He says the Indian Peace Commissioners have been deceived in regard to his course towards the Indians, while governor. He earnestly strove to avoid Indian hostilities.

Strong efforts are being made to continue the Freedmen's Bureau in Tennessee, Kentucky and Maryland.

The Limerick police have seized the guns and ammunition found in the shops of that city, to keep them from the Fenians.

Copenhagen, Jan. 19.—The government has received the official vote of the people of St. Thomas on the question of the U. S. transfer—for the transfer, 1244; against it, 22.

Vienna.—The obsequies in honor of Maximilian were celebrated to day with great pomp. The Emperor, arch dukes, courtly cabinet, generals of the army, and diplomatic corps assembled at the church of the Capuchins to a tender requiem mass. The Emperor has written an autograph letter to Admiral Tegethoff, thanking him in the name of the Imperial family for his services in securing his remains.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The Republican's special says, to ascertain the President's intentions respecting Stanton, a resolution will be passed to-day, requiring the President to give certain information, only obtainable through the War Office. The President will be compelled to recognize Stanton, or else send the resolution directly to Grant.

The Democracy of New Hampshire are organizing for a stiff fight. A large fund is being raised for campaign purposes and desperate efforts will be made to secure the State for the Democrats.

Rutland, Vt.—The Compton Block was destroyed by fire to-day. Loss $10,000.

San Francisco, Jan. 20.—Legal tenders, 724.

London, Jan. 20.—The Fenians are reported to have attacked the Martello tower at Duncannon, Waterford county, on Friday.

In the Senate Wilson presented petitions relative to the rights of American citizens abroad. Referred.

Howard, from committee, reported a bill relating to the central branch of the Union Pacific Road. Tabled and ordered printed.

Other bills extending the boundaries of the city of Washington by annexing Georgetown; prohibiting the payment of bounties to deserters, granting a million acres of public lands for the benefit of the public schools in the District of Columbia, were approved and appropriately referred.

In the House several bills and resolutions were introduced and referred, among them one instructing the President to demand an explanation of the British Government for the execution of Michael O'Brien, claiming him to be an American citizen; declaring that the United States will acknowledge no right of interference by other States with naturalized citizens; and that any infringement of such right will be held as cause of war. The resolution also declares it to be the duty of the President to recall Minister Adams. Referred to committee on foreign affairs.

The London Press correspondent at Paris says there is a feeling of uneasiness in political circles, owing to the great activity in the arsenals and dock yards. This activity, together with the pressure brought to bear on the corps Legislatif for the passage of the bill for the reorganization of the army impairs confidence in the stability of peace.

Big Horn, Dakota, Jan. 21.—A man who came over from Dale city yesterday, reports that the Vigilance committee from Cheyenne, numbering about 100, came to Dale city, caught three men, named Jack Hays, 'Shorty', and Keith, and hung them. They said they had come after five, but only caught three. The three men got into a fuss just before the committee came over, and one of them shot a man, breaking his arm, and another ball grazed a man's breast.

Tallahassee, Jan. 21.—The reconstruction convention met yesterday. The President and Secretary are both whites. The assistant Secretary and most of the subordinate officers are negroes.

Washington, Jan. 21.—A bill to facilitate the payment of bounties was discussed and postponed until to-morrow.

The House took up the reconstruction bill. The pending question was Butler's motion to reconsider the vote ordering the main question, which was agreed to, yeas 83, nays 75.

Butler offered his amendment, which was equivalent to a substitute for the bill, giving the appointment of State officers to the Constitutional Convention. He then moved the previous question. Butler, Stevens, and Kelly advocated the amendment, which was rejected, yeas 53, nays 112. The bill then passed, 123 to 45.

The conference committee on the anti-contract bill reported that the "enate recedes from the amendment and agree to the House bill, with an amendment relative to replacing cancelled or mutilated notes with new bills. Agreed to.

A very lengthy ordinance relating to elections and qualifications of officers was introduced and referred.

panies have consolidated, and will hereafter be known as the California and Oregon Railroad Company.

A bill has passed appropriating fifteen thousand for the relief of destitute people in the District of Columbia.

In the Worcester Convention the New England attendance is very large.

During the debate a personal altercation occurred between Chandler and Julian, the former calling the latter a coward.

Julian said Chandler could test that question whenever he pleased.

The President has appointed Solomon P. McCurdy Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah, in place of John Titus. Hon. D. Hoge has been appointed Associate Justice.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT IT.—Late papers from the States speak of the late proceedings of Congress with unmeasured censures.

The following from the Norwich Experiment, an Ohio paper, is a sample of the tone of the press upon the subject:

The late infamous attempt of the Congress to destroy the last vestige of civil government in the States of the Union, cannot but turn the heads of all parties away with loathing and disgust at the impudently and unstatesmanlike course of the self styled Congress. Not satisfied with inciting bloody riots and disfranchising whitemen to aid their political schemes, they propose the business interests of all communities, both North and South, by a gigantic financial war against the labor and producing classes of the country, and then, to add insult to injury, they intend to place the entire control of these States under the dictatorship of a General. They go still further—after stripping the President of his powers conferred upon him by the Constitution, in dread and fear, like a culprit waiting the decision of the law in his case, are to reconstruct the highest tribunal of the land, the Supreme Court of the United States, to thwart a decision being made by the people against these high handed unconstitutional usurpations. Such is the wisdom and radical statesmanship.

TENDER OF THANKS.—The Trustees of the M. E. Church take this method of tendering their sincere thanks to Mrs. J. F. Wood, and Messrs. Wood and Porter, for the generous donation of the proceeds of the Concert on Thursday evening to be applied toward meeting expenses of Church repairs. They would also express their grateful acknowledgements to the public generally, for their liberal responses to calls made for the same purpose.

BROKE JAIL.—A man named Samuel Burdett was committed to jail on Monday last for stealing a pistol and a pair of blankets.

"How to keep warm," is scientifically explained in another place in this paper. With due difference to the opinions advanced by 'M' upon the subject, we will give our own brief idea about the matter which we guarantee will keep anybody perfectly warm and comfortable who will take the trouble to act in accordance with the idea.

A FALSE PREDICTION.—Mr. W., who resides at the foot of the mountains, essayed to make a prediction about the weather, on Tuesday of this week, that we were to have warm weather "right along now."

The people of Cheyenne City are having some trouble with the bad characters who appear to be making that place a general rendezvous of late.

The danger lies, not altogether in the fact that persons may be wrongfully and maliciously accused by one or a number of those who are to sit in judgment on the case, but a greater danger lies in the fact that a feeling of personal hatred may predominate in certain unlawful assemblies, and that the dictates of conscience and disinterested judgment may be carried away by hot blood and animosity.

Vigilance Committees may have effected some good, but it is equally certain that they have many wrongs to answer for.

A Most Strange Chapter
The La Crosse Democrat is responsible for the following marvellous and probably "over true story."

"A correspondent writes me from Waterloo, Iowa, asking if we know of one Edgar Burnham, and of his history."
We do. And as it is a strange, true one, known to hundreds, we give it in the Democrat, as it is, that we may correct some errors those who speak of him have fallen into. Eight years since, when we were engaged as city editor of a Milwaukee paper, there lived in this State an editor named Powell, now connected with a Chicago paper, who think He is unless he has quit it lately.

In 1862 Powell was married to a Miss Ellen Burnham, of Brodhead, Wisconsin, after a courtship of some months. Miss Burnham's parents were old residents of Brodhead, and of high respectability. The daughter taught music, had a large number of pupils, and was very attractive. Powell lived with her as husband two years, she being all that time a good wife in all respects, presenting him with but one child. At the expiration of two years, when about twenty years of age, Mrs. Powell's voice changed, she grew light whiskers, and gradually changed her sex, developing into a man, in all respects as if nature, anxious for a freak, had turned a portion of herself wrong side out!

The husband and wife separated when the wife became a man, and Mrs. Ellen Powell took the name of Edgar Burnham, donned male attire, sought and obtained employment as a clerk in Chicago and lived a single young man for one year.

During this time he fell in love with a niece of Senator Morgan, of New York, but did not marry her, for reasons not pertinent to this article. But about the end of the year he did marry a young lady of Brodhead Wis., a Miss Gertrude Everett, who was a music pupil of his when he was Miss Ellen Burnham, over three years previous to the marriage. This second marriage was about two years ago. Soon after this marriage Edgar Burnham and wife removed to Waterloo, Iowa, where they now reside, or did not long since.

The former girl is now a man—the former girl is now a man—the former wife is now a husband—the former mother is now a father—the former young lady teacher of a young lady is now that young lady's husband. Truth is stranger than fiction, and the above simple statement of facts borders so upon the marvellous we could not believe it we did not personally know nearly all the parties.

Any one can be convinced, by writing to parties in either of the places we have named, of the full and entire truth of this most wonderful transformation, which puzzles not only the medical but the entire scientific world, and which fact appears now for the first time in print, though the particulars have long been known to us and to many other newspaper men and prominent citizens of this State, as to nearly all the citizens of Brodhead, where the parties so long resided."

A DELICATE SUBJECT—THE BENEFITS OF IRISH POTATOES WHEN PROPERLY TRANSPORTED.—It is all about a lady Middleton, who contrary to her most anxious wish, was blessed with many children. After an absence of several years with her leige lord in England, she returned with him to reside for a time on one of their Irish estates. As she noticed several fine looking children about the gate, and having learned that their mother was the wife of the gate porter, she determined to interrogate her relative to her fecundity, she therefore, the next day, made her way down to the porter's lodge, and commenced her inquiries.

"Whose children are these, my good woman?"
"All my own, my good lady."
"What! three infants of the same age?"
"Yes, my lady, I had three the last time."
"And how many children have you?"
"Seven, my lady."

At this came the question of questions—how she came to have the number of children.

The poor woman not knowing what this catechism meant, and not knowing how to wrap up in delicate words her ideas of cause and effect, blushed and became confused, and at last replied:

"I think it must be the potatoes, my lady." This unfolded a new theory of population quite new to Lady Middleton, who eagerly demanded:

"The potatoes—do you eat many of them?"
"Oh yes, my lady. Very seldom we have bread, and so we take potatoes the year round."

Greatly agitated with her new information, the lady further asked:
"And where do you get the potatoes?"
"We grow them in our little garden, sure, Pat tells it."
"Well," said Lady Middleton, "send me up a cart load of the potatoes, and the steward will pay for them."

Shortly after, her ladyship rose to leave the house, and, indeed, had left it, when the woman ran after her, and blushing, and with some hesitation, asked her:

"And sure, my lady, is it to have children that ye want potatoes?"
It was now the lady's turn to blush, replying in the affirmative.
"Because," added the woman, "I am thinking if it is, Pat had better fetch them to you himself!"
The lady laughed, and returned home in a thoughtful manner.

Love is the purification of the heart from self, it strengthens and enables the character, gives a higher motive and a nobler aim to every action of life, and makes both man and woman strong, noble, and courageous; and the power to love truly and devotedly is the noblest gift which a human being can be endowed; but it is a sacred fire that must not be burnt to idles.

OUTRAGED HIS FEELINGS.—As a young German was passing along a street in New Orleans, he was invited by a woman at a window to walk in. The youth looked around astonished and indignant, and then dashing headlong down the street, he cried lustily for the police. One of the city guardians making his appearance, breathlessly inquired what was the matter.

"I been insulted—Gut for dam, I been insulted. I wants law. I wants that woman took up mit de station house!" and the excited man pointed wildly towards the unoffending female.

"What the devil did she do?" asked the officer starting briskly for the scene of action.

"She asked me to come in mit der window, just like I bees a tief, ven I bees so more tief den I bees von dam fool!"

Just at this instant the female shouted from the window—
"Officer, he needn't come in!"
"Oh, veil den," said the mollified Teuton, "dat bees all right!" and he left the scene of his adventures satisfied and at peace.

PERRY DAVIS
Vegetable Pain Killer,
The Great Family Medicine of the Age.

Taken Internally, Cures Sudden Colds, coughs, &c., weak stomach, general debility, nursing sore mouth, neuralgia, heart complaints, dyspepsia or indigestion, cramp or pain in the stomach, bowel complaint, painter's colic, Asiatic cholera, diarrhoea and dysentery.

Taken Externally, Cures Felons, Boils and all sorts of sores, burns and scalds, cuts, bruises and sprains, swelling of the joints, ringworm and tetter, broken breasts, frost-bite and chilblains, toothache, pain in the face, neuralgia and rheumatism.

THE PAIN KILLER is by universal consent allowed to have won for itself a reputation unsurpassed in the history of medicinal preparations. Its instantaneous effect in the entire eradication and extinction of PAIN in all its various forms incidental to the human family, and the unimpeached written and verbal testimony of the masses in its favor, are its own best advertisements.

The Ingredients which enter into the PAIN KILLER, being purely vegetable render it a perfectly safe and efficacious remedy, especially as well as for external application, when used according to directions. The slight stain upon linen from its use in external applications, is readily removed by washing in a little alcohol.

This Medicine, justly celebrated for the cure of so many of the afflictions incidental to the human family, has now been before the public over twenty years, and has found its way into almost every corner of the world; and whenever it is used, the same opinion is expressed of its real medical properties.

In any attack where prompt action upon the system is required the PAIN KILLER is invaluable. It is almost instantaneous in relieving pain, is truly wonderful; and when used according to directions, is true to its name.

A PAIN KILLER it is, in truth, a Family Medicine, and should be kept in every family for immediate use. Persons traveling should always have a bottle of this remedy with them. It is not infrequently the case that persons are attacked with disease and before medical aid can be procured the patient is beyond the hope of recovery. Captains of vessels should always supply themselves with a few bottles of this remedy, before leaving port, as by doing so they will be in possession of an invaluable remedy to resort to in case of accident or sudden attacks of sickness. It has been used in SEVERE CASES OF CHOLERA and when it failed in a single case, where it was thoroughly applied on the first appearance of the symptoms.

To those who have so long used and proved the merits of our article, we will say that we will continue to prepare our PAIN KILLER of the best and purest materials, and that it shall be in every way worthy of their approbation as a family medicine.
