THE SIDEWALK on Fourth street, adjoining the Sims House, has been repaired and is no longer a trap to catch unwary pedestrians.

DIPHTHERIA.—Some four or five children who have been attending the lower district school are down with the diphtheria. Owing to the prevalence of this disease the attendance at the various district schools is seriously diminished.

CHANGE OF FIRM.—It will be noticed that the firm of Four & Healey, fashionable boot and shoe makers, has been dissolved, Mr. Four retiring from the firm. The business will be continued by Messrs. Healey & Schuler at the old stand.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.—The first boat of the season reached the landing at an early hour on Wednesday morning. The passengers came through by railroad, reaching Walla Walla about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Navigation is now fully resumed, and we may at once expect a renewal of business activity.

PLOWING.—Hon. A. G. Lloyd informs us that the farmers in the neighborhood of Waiilatpu have commenced plowing. The ground is rather damp, and in some places is frozen, but the determination is to break up as much land as possible and raise big crops. There is a reasonable promise that good prices for produce will rule the coming season, and hence the farmers are putting in a larger acreage than usual.

CHURCH BELL.—Some time since the vestry of St. Paul's church ordered a bell from Troy, New York. The bell, as we learn, is now at Portland, and may be expected to arrive here in a very short time. It weighs 815 pounds, and in point of size as well as tone, it is expected to be the leading bell at Walla Walla. The money to buy the bell was made up by the children attending the Sunday school, and shows what the little ones can accomplish by persistent effort.

WHEAT MARKET.—It is understood that several thousand tons of wheat still remains in the hands of our valley farmers. The high price that now prevails, and the opportunity that offers for shipment will soon bring this wheat forward. As we understand, the boats of the O. S. N. Company will be prepared this season to take wheat away, at the rate of 1000 tons a week, and after harvest this capacity will be increased. If the crops are moved at this rate, our farmers will have nothing to complain of on the score of transportation.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE.—Among the passengers by Wednesday's cars were Mr. H. P. Isaacs, his wife and interesting family, all bound for San Francisco, where they intend to take up their residence. Mr. Isaacs is about to establish a flour and commission house in San Francisco, and hence the change of residence. An early pioneer, and one who was always ready to take hold of any project that promised to advance the general welfare, Mr. Isaacs has been a useful citizen and one whom we can only spare. In his new home we wish him health and high fortune.

HOME-MADE WINES.—Mr. J. M. Abadie has left at this office one dozen bottles of wine, manufactured from grapes grown on his ranch, a short distance below town. The lot was equally divided between pure white and red wines, and on trial by experts both varieties were pronounced excellent. Mr. Abadie is a native of the South of France, the great wine producing district, and hence is well acquainted with the manner of preparing wines. His experiment in the cultivation of the grape and manufacture of wine is thus far encouraging, and Mr. Abadie is confident that in a few years Walla Walla wines will hold a high place in public estimation.

AN OLD PATRIARCH.—We have just learned of the death of Mr. John Lloyd, a citizen of Whitman county, who was fairly entitled to be designated as an old patriarch. Deceased immigrated from Missouri, coming through with the immigration of 1845, and in that year settled in Benton county, Oregon, where he remained down to 1872. He then removed to Walla Walla valley, and after remaining here for a brief period, finally settled in Whitman county, where he remained down to the period of his death. He was a native of North Carolina, and was in his 81st year. He was the father of eleven children, but three of whom survive him. Messrs. A. G. and J. C. Lloyd, two highly respectable citizens, living on the Touchet, are his sons. His death occurred on the 6th of January last, and was not unexpected, he having been afflicted with the disease incident to old age. For a period of 55 years he had been a consistent member of the Baptist church, and died in the comforting assurance of that faith.

BRICK BUILDINGS.—We hear of quite a number of persons who are arranging to put up brick buildings the coming season. Messrs. Kirkman & Dooley, of the "Pioneer Market," will replace their present structure by a substantial brick building. Messrs. Ronan Brothers, on the north side of Main street, will put up a brick store, that will be highly finished and an ornament to that immediate locality. Mr. Joe Bauer has all his arrangements complete, and will put up a fire-proof building to take the place of the frame he now occupies. Messrs. Paine Bros. & Moore contemplate the erection of a three-story brick building at the corner of Main and Second streets, that is designed to be an imposing and massive structure. And last but not least, Messrs. Dusenbery Bros. will replace their present very fine building by a new brick that will front over fifty feet on Main street, and in other respects mammoth in its proportions. Their purpose is to remove the building next door to them, now occupied as a cigar store, and cover both lots by a mammoth brick structure that will overshadow all the other buildings in that part of Main street. Messrs. Dusenbery Bros. find this improvement necessary in order to meet the wants of their large and constantly increasing trade, which has altogether outgrown the capacity of their present fire-proof store. All these improvements will be the means of employing a large number of mechanics and workmen, and will also "put money where it will do the most good."

HIGH SCHOOL MEETING.—Several weeks since a call was issued for a meeting of the directors of the various school districts in Walla Walla county, to take into consideration the practicability of establishing a public high school. The meeting was held at the Court House, Monday afternoon, the representation of the various districts being very full. Frank Kimberly, of district 34, called the meeting to order. On motion, A. W. Sweeney, school superintendent, was called to the chair, and H. M. Vanyokle acted as secretary. The general expression of the directors was adverse to the proposition; and so for the present Walla Walla must forgo the advantages of a public high school. A resolution was passed asking the legislature to enact a law authorizing the districts to impose a special tax of 5 mills for the support of schools, upon a two third vote of the people living in the district. Messrs. Stewart, Barnes, Gregory, Newland and Vanyokle, members elect to the legislature, were present, and gave their views as to legislation in reference to public schools.

PROBATE COURT.—The following were the proceedings in the Probate Court during the week: In the matter of the estate of Edwin Evans, deceased; F. G. Procter, O. C. Gallaher and Isaac Lile were appointed appraisers. In the matter of the estate of Reuben P. Olds, deceased; annual account heard and continued. In the matter of the estate of Wm. C. Gallaher, deceased; O. C. Gallaher appointed administrator upon filing a bond in the sum of $20,000. In the matter of the estate of John C. Hamilton, deceased; sale of personal property confirmed. In the matter of the estate of Joseph Hellmuth, deceased; annual account filed, and hearing set for Monday, February 19th, at 10 o'clock, A. M. In the matter of the estate of Adelia Hellmuth, deceased; same order, at one o'clock, P. M. In the matter of the guardianship of Alice Morrison, a minor; report of guardian heard and approved.

AN IMPOSITION.—The Sound papers are continually harping upon the inducements that part of the territory offers to immigrants. To lumbermen or young men who are willing to work in the coal mines for moderate wages, that is the country to go to, but for small farmers—men who wish to take up their quarter section of land and make themselves homes, it is the last country in the world. To induce this latter class to go to the Sound is a gross imposition, and is only calculated to bring odium upon the country. Paget Sound has its advantages, but it is not a farming country, and has never yet raised the bread to feed its own inhabitants. Let the people of the west coast stick to their lumber and coal interests, and they will come out ahead; but whenever they undertake to attract small farmers they practice an imposition.

UNREASONABLE.—A writer in the Albany Democrat complains that the town with a yearly revenue of $5000 is less than $1000 in debt. He thinks that this indebtedness indicates gross extravagance, and calls the city fathers to account. The writer in the Albany paper is evidently behind the age. Walla Walla with an income of from $12,000 to $15,000 was able to run up an indebtedness of $10,000, and this with scarcely an effort. Like Albany, Walla Walla has a steam fire engine. But here the similarity ends. A boy has a debt that is computed by hundreds, and the people growl about it. Walla Walla has a debt that runs up in the thousands, and our people think it is all right. What a new thing it is to cultivate a contented disposition.

"STICK TO THE COUNTRY," is the advice given by a San Francisco paper to persons who find themselves out of employment, and thereupon immediately, rush for the cities. It says the cities are already overcrowded with idle men, whilst there is but little destitution in the country, and rarely if ever an instance in which a worthy man suffers for want of shelter and food. In the cities it is different. The benevolent institutions are all overtaxed with demands for relief, and the man without money who is denied their benefits, is in a sad plight, indeed. The frequent suicides bear attestation to this; and therefore, in all earnestness, we repeat the injunction, "stick to the country." You who are poor have comforts there which you can not hope to find in the cities.

VENTILATION.—Now that diphtheria and other contagious diseases are prevalent, great attention should be given to ventilation. Pure air washes away foul smells just as water washes away dirt. One removes solid filth, the other gaseous filth. Persons having charge of school rooms or places where large numbers of persons congregate, should keep these facts in mind, and always see that the rooms in their charge are properly ventilated.

H. G. STRUVE is removed from the office of territorial secretary, and a man named Owens appointed to the place. Struve has our sympathy. He got out of the army in a disgraceful way, and now he is kicked out of the civil service. Struve's only recourse now is to join the naval service in the character of a marine. At sea the opportunities to desert are limited.

NEW CHURCH.—The settlers living at the foot of the mountains are arranging to build a new church in the grove adjoining Maxon's school house. A fund of between $500 and $400 is already on hand, and it is thought that with proper effort the remainder can be secured. The church will be under the control of the Methodists, and is estimated to cost $1200.

WHO IS HE?—A Mr. Swan of Walla Walla, figures quite extensively in the Seattle Intelligencer, where he is described as a highly successful farmer. We have personal knowledge of about all the large farmers in this valley, but Mr. Swan is a strange bird to us. It is the old story, "Go away from home for news."

THE COUNTY BOARD has been in session all this week, and up to this writing remains in session. The record of the Board not being made up, we are unable to give a transcript of the proceedings, but will have a full report in our issue of next week.

THE LADIES of St. Paul's Church give an entertainment on Monday evening, at the City Hall. See advertisement.

FINE BEEF.—A few years since the people of Walla Walla all thought the summer, fall and early winter enjoyed the luxury of fine beef, but when it came too late in the winter and early spring the beef was poor and in very many instances had the appearance of having died of starvation. This was owing to the neglect of feeding, and when the winter was at all hard, the cattle as a matter of course were on the verge of starvation. Of late years there has been a material improvement in this respect, and now the beef in our market looks as well in mid-winter as at any other period in the year. This change was brought about by Messrs. Dooley & Kirkman, of the "Pioneer Market," who from the very first adopted the plan of feeding their cattle all through the winter, and in that way keep them in good condition. During this winter these gentlemen have fed at the rate of two tons of hay a day, and as a result the cattle killed by them are in good condition, and they are at all times prepared to supply customers with fine, juicy steaks and the very best roasts. In this regard Messrs. Dooley & Kirkman have brought about an improvement for which they are entitled to the thanks of all lovers of good living.

A PARDON.—A petition was being circulated yesterday, asking the pardon of William McAllister, convicted at the May term of the District Court, 1872, of the crime of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to 17 years imprisonment. In a drunken brawl he killed a man named Charles Ward, with whom he had a previous difficulty about a horse trade. The circumstances were rather in favor of McAllister, but a previous bad character operated against him and led to his conviction. At the date of the murder McAllister was estimated as worth $15,000 in money and stock. The possession of this wealth seemed to have crazed the man, and made him overbearing in an intolerable degree. All this wealth has now been swept away, and if released at all he will come out of prison an old and impoverished man. Under all the circumstances, the public seem to regard his punishment as sufficiently great, and hence the petition for his pardon is being very generally signed.

CITY PROPERTY can be had at lower figures now than at any period within the past ten years. We allude more particularly to property on the line of Main street. In view of the fact that the town is prosperous this may seem strange, but it is none the less true. The reason for this is readily explained. Business has gradually been consolidated into fewer hands. Four stores now do the business that a few years ago was divided up among twenty or thirty establishments. In this way the demand for stores has been lessened, and in a proportionate degree property has depreciated. Business is steadily improving, but it is in fewer hands, and hence we have the anomaly of a prosperous town and real estate declining in value.

ANOTHER BELL.—The Episcopal church at Pendleton has secured a bell, and will soon have it in position to call the faithful to the house of prayer.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS (new board) are in session this week.

Equipped with this Machine, the family washing may be disposed of in half the time required by the old-fashioned method, and a great saving of labor to overworked women and daughters.
