

Weekly Statesman.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

MRS. W. H. NEWELL, PROPRIETOR.

OFFICE: STATESMAN BUILDING, THIRD STREET, NEAR MAIN.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION: One year, $4.00; Six months, $2.50; Three months, $1.50.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS. DR. J. M. BOYD, Physician and Surgeon.

PEOPLE WILL TALK.

You may get through the world, but 'twill be very slow.

If you listen to all that is said as you go; You'll be worried and fretted and kept in a stew.

For meddlesome tongues will have something to do.

For people will talk. If quiet and modest you'll have it presumed; That your humble position is only assumed;

You're a wolf in sheep's clothing or else you're a fool.

But don't get excited; keep perfectly cool.

If upright, honest and fair as the day.

They'll call you a piece in a sly, sneaking way.

For people will talk. And then if you show the least boldness of heart.

Or a slight inclination to take your own part.

They'll call you an upstart, conceited and vain.

But keep straight ahead, don't stop to explain.

For people will talk. If you dress in the fashions don't think to escape.

For they criticize them in a different shape;

You're a fool of your means, or your tailor is unskillful;

But mind your own business; there's naught to be made.

For people will talk. Now the best way to do is to do as you please.

For your mind, if you have one, will then be at ease.

Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse.

But don't think to stop them; it ain't any use.

For people will talk.

THE KING OF THE BURMESE.

A Description of His Royal Nibs and the Land He Governs.

His great and glorious and most excellent majesty over land and water, lord of the celestial elephant, master of many white elephants, possessor of many descriptions of arms and the fifth founder of religion—otherwise Thee Baw, king of Burmah, has, as the cable informs, been getting into trouble by hounding all the royal princes and their families, turning out the new ministers to effect reforms, and reverting generally to the despotic ways of his great, glorious and most excellent predecessors.

His father died on the 11th of September last, though the fact of his death was kept secret for some time until Thee Baw could establish himself at the capital, Mandalay. The situation was by no means assuring, so many pretenders were there to the crown, among them the ex-king, overthrown in 1853, the elder sons of the dead monarch his nephews, children of his brother and heir, who was assassinated in 1867, and two royal princes who fled to India, but awaited occasion to return and renew their rebellion. Two of Thee Baw's brothers, dreading assassination, fled to the British residency at Mandalay, thence made their way to Rangoon, and finally with their suite were taken to Calcutta, where they are now living, pensioners in a modest way on the India government. The other royal princes, less fortunate, to the number of twenty-five, were heavily ironed hand and foot and placed in prison, being only released only for a few hours, under a strong guard, when they were taken to the palace where the dead king lay in state, to make obeisance to the corpse and furnish each with a lock of hair with which before burial its hands and legs were to be tied.

The new king's accession was regarded with pleasure and hope by the foreigners. He had for some years been the pupil of an English missionary; he selected as his premier a Burmese noble who had visited Paris and London; he signaled his assumption of power by abolishing the custom which compelled all, even European representatives, to remove their shoes on entering the royal presence, and it was reported that he intended visiting Europe to see for himself the wonders of Occidental civilization. Though Thee Baw conformed to custom in marrying his own half-sister, rumor credited him with the intention of doing away, once for all, with the connection between the crown and the priesthood—although a Rangoon paper attributed this unexpected zeal or disestablishment not to the teachings of Mr. Gladstone but to rage at the discovery that for a long time past the priests had been stealing two fat pigs a day from the royal sty.

Burmese history is rather dull reading, though its people have not therefore been peculiarly happy. There are plenty of books on palm-leaf writing in the temples, but they throw only a dim light on the real history of the nation, being mostly annals of the temple, its revenues and priests. The real history is about a century old, beginning with Alopma, a general, administrator, and law-giver who failed to reduce rebellious Siam and Pega. His successors, with hardly an exception, have been men of enterprise, ability, and force of character. In 1824 England and Burmah went to war, and the English annexed the whole available seaboard of the Burmese Kingdom, acquiring the wealthy maritime provinces of Arracan, Pegu and Tenasserim. Since 1832 both powers have been at peace. Burmah has established close commercial relations with England, and popular opinion, except perhaps among the priestly class, is decidedly favorable to the British, who sooner or later may be expected to complete the work of absorption. The Burmese are a people of few vices and many virtues, and as quick to catch new ideas and as apt to assimilate as the Japanese. Their civilization, though imperfect, is in many respects high. In boldness and breadth of design, perfection of structure and magnificence of decoration, some of their temples, and palaces need hardly fear comparison with European ones. Their carving is exquisite, and shows a vein of humor almost Gothic in its grotesqueness. A recent writer says: "A war canoe built for a hundred paddles will be covered from stem to stern with carving as minute as that on an ordinary Chinese workbox, but far more delicate in design and minute in finish. They work admirably in gold and silver and their heaped goods are equal to those of Japan, while they are wonderful founders of bells of bell up to eighty tons weight and sixteen feet across. Of porcelain making they know nothing, however, nor do they use paper. For money they use lumps of gold, silver and lead, weighed and assayed whenever they change hands at a cost of 5 per cent., surely a sufficient tax on commerce, even leaving out the interest rate, which is twenty-five per cent. on mortgage and 60 on personal security, the exports are almost entirely raw, consisting chiefly of rice, swallows' nests, ivory, rhinoceros and deer, sappires, rubies, amber, rice and present one of the finest special enterprises in the capitalist might soon discover. The climate is year moist and at India.

Diversities.

The Providence Journal says that Tall-mage is a fact. So is hydrophobia.

Spring fever and white vests will soon be ripe.—Philadelphia Chronicle-Herald.

When a man begins to flatter you hold on to your pocketbook, for that is his objective point.

Of Leary was alcoholized, the World says, before he began to walk. The result was that he was alcoholized off.

There is no time when it is so insensitive to read the human book as when the contribution box is being passed.

The great moral question of the hour is whether the wife of a man who is divorced ought to be called a spare rib.

Music hath charms to soothe the savage This is why we occasionally see a cross dog with a brass band around his neck.

If you do not want to have a wrong deed known there is one rule, and only one, which leads to perfect success. Don't do it.

The reason why a lady has never become famous as a paragraphist is that a two line paragraph with a ten line postscript is a failure.

The man who blows his nose at the theater in the middle of a pathetic passage may have a beautiful bugle, but he has no soul for the nannies.

There are some men in the world so mean that they skim the milk at the top and then sign it because they can't turn it over and skim it on the bottom.

If you want to spoil your child give him a kerosene lamp to play with. The chances are that after the explosion he will be spoiled pretty completely.

De Loaf made de chaffin man; He made him in de night; He made him in a hurry.

An' forgot to make him white. A typo went a-asking; And slipped into the drink; They advertised and found him quick—So much for printer's ink.

"Do you," said Fanny, lother day, "In earnest love me as you say? Or are those tender words applied Alike to fifty girls beside?"

"Dear, eruel girl," cried I, "forbear; For by those eyes, those lips I swear, I love no one as the odds I bear, And eruel, 'You've sworn, my dear, to love me."

A son of one of the Siamese Twins is achieving high honors in an Eastern college, which leads a funny man to ask, "Why shouldn't he rise in the world? His father was well connected."

A Pennsylvania cow disposes of nineteen buckets of water at one drinking, and she doesn't live near a river either.—N. Y. Com. Adc. She probably drinks one and kicks over the eighteen.

Mr. Conking, we learn, pares his nails in the Senate chamber. We blush, we deeply blush, for Mr. Conking's manners. But perhaps he pares them merely to keep himself from scratching somebody.

He stood at his window one Sunday, Thinking to see something funny. He saw a girl in a car, And there was a funeral on Monday.

No man can be suspicious of others without making others suspicious of him, and no man can spend his time in talking against the honesty of others without exciting the feeling that he himself will bear watching.

The mule is a disappointing animal. One fell down a shaft in Maryland eighty-five feet deep. Every one said, "That mule's dead," but it was buried up unharmed, and walked away, and just as every one said, "That mule's not hurt," it laid down and died.

The Austrian Parliament House is to be provided with a new machine for voting. It is warranted to refuse all $5,000 bribes, it is not likely to be introduced into this country. What the American wants is a machine that will not vote itself thousands of dollars worth of back pay, nor prolong the session by doing so week after the first three months.

Johnny Gaus, a republican member of the Legislature from Livingston county, is reported as saying before the senatorial election: "If I vote for Cameron, I hope God Almighty will strike me dead!" As he did vote for Cameron and is still living, we infer that the Almighty has delegated the Devil to attend to Johnnie's case.

Bishop Gilbert Haven comes to the front again with a proposition to hang most of the Southern people. He wants the Government to exercise the wise and merciful policy of Pennsylvania in the "Mollie Maguire" business. Bishop Haven is a-a-bishop! We were going to say "christian," but on second thought find that it won't fit him.

If Carlin, the miserable South Carolina carpet-bagger, had got Butler's seat in the Senate, as the republicans desired, he would have had only one week to serve but would have drawn his salary the same as if he had served the whole session. It is sort of reviving to think that Dun Cameron helped it to sit down on the pretensions wretch.

The great difficulty with some young men who fall distractedly in love is that their affection is too deep. They even love the ground the lady walks on, but if she had no ground to walk on they wouldn't love her so much. Human nature can exhibit a fearful amount of devoted affection, provided the young lady has real estate enough to make it an object.

"Commissioner of the Liquor Business" is the title of a new officer to be created under Foster's bill to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. This officer is to have a big salary, of course—only $3,500 per annum—and he is to be a sort of general Paul Pry and stick-in-the nose into other people's business, sort of a fellow. Mr. Foster ought to have a leather medal.

A violent anti-tobacco lecturer recently made the astounding statement that there were 1,852,143,000 cigars made in this country last year, and if they were all laid end to end, they would encircle the globe five times. Well, laid alive, what if they would? That's no argument against smoking. There are twenty times as many leaves of bread baked in this country last year, and they would stick out of the other side of the globe five times, but that's no argument against eating bread.

Blind out on the Okanagan.

A blind outfit on a blind trail, in a blinding snow storm, is what I call, "going it blind." No body straddled the blind, but we all straddled our cayuses, and started for the Okanagan pass. That is we passed the blind. We then "raised" across the mountains. Mr. Swash "saw us" and we "called" in the celebrated Okanagan Smith, of quartz fame. Our friend Smith is a character of some pretensions at the Assoy-oos lake; he controls its waters; he drains fish from it, and I am credibly informed he has actually been known to lave in it. A picnic to the lake in January, or February, is very enjoyable. It is only 130 miles from the "city" of Colville, and one has to try it to appreciate it. You leave Colville at any hour you please, day or night, taking an outside passage on the "United States" and British Columbia Royal Mail" Cayuse, or snow shoes, suit yourself. Arriving at the Columbia, you cross—if you can, but don't get cross if you can't. Many Indian canoes and a very fine ferry boat, somewhat larger than a wheel-barrow, are at your service, at a slight expense of a few "daddies." After you "cou-nika-inati-hyas-chuck" you put up at the Sitwah hotel, or put up your tent and sleep on the pure virgin snow. Truly a luxurious couch for the most fastidious. The fare is good, hard tack and pork; done up brown; starting next morning tooting as jovial as "a boiled owl." How do boiled owls feel? You approach by gentle ascents, the beautiful pot river—Kettle river I should have said, and by careful and steady observations, you keep this in sight for several hundred miles—more or less. You cross it perhaps, a many times—if you like, but several times if you like. If the ice is strong which it usually is at this season, you can cross on it, if you have not eaten too hearty a breakfast, then your avoidings may interfere, and leave you in the river, as Paddy did with the dirty recruit. Yes, we crossed on the ice and didn't leave anybody either. Why sir, Napoleon crossing the Delaware or Emperor Napoleon crossing the Alps was not a comparison to the feat performed by that devoted little band going it blind, across that confounded Te Keale. It was a grand, magnificent sight, a spectacle only equaled by Sherman's march to the sea! When we approached its icy banks, how we wished we were on the other side, and when we were half-way across, how we wished we were back behind our m-m-m's kettle, or anybody else's kettle but that one particular, icy, treacherous kettle we were investigating, and didn't want to, the beautiful camps along its snowy banks, the delightful feathery for our bed curled from neighboring trees and the exhilarating breeze that a fellow would get in the cool of the evening, was only surpassed by the charming fall of snow next morning, while the gentle zephyrs blew to cool your icy brow. An occasional drizzle—the long-cared species—would go sliding down from some mountain ledge pack, and the cold river would take a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to lay full length in some grassy side hill, and then roll down. So it was in this case with those four-legged half-breed, or better horses, that snow and ice made them a drink, I suppose, but he stood not in the manner of his going. It reminded me so much of boyhood days, when we used to

TO THE PATRONS OF THE STATESMAN. Being desirous to pay the debts against the estate of Wm. H. Newell, deceased, I respectfully ask an early settlement.

Mrs. Wm. H. Newell.

THE STATESMAN.

It is gratifying to us to announce the success of the STATESMAN since it was placed under our charge. We entered the journalistic field timidly; like a boy in a new school, we knew not how we would be received, but for all that determined to hold our ground and do the best we could. In this we were encouraged by the kind expressions of wishes of our success from multitudes of old friends, and still more kindly and generous notices from the press outside of Walla Walla. All this encouraged us and the consequence is that this newspaper is now on a firmer basis than ever before, and we shall have no effort to place it in the highest notch of journalism. As we promised to speak for itself, that we have done so our largely increased subscription list and a glance at the names of the live business men in our advertising columns will speak louder for us than our own words. We have had a great deal to contend against; the death of the late able proprietor left everything in confusion, much to the detriment of business, but we have brought order out of chaos and now everything is straightened. This has been more trouble to us than the puny efforts of the secret enemy and slanders circulated by interested parties concerning the STATESMAN; it was slyly whispered when we commenced that the paper would soon cease publication, that it could be purchased for a mere trifle, and much more trash calculated to injure us in the opinion of business men; many refrained from subscribing and advertising solely on that account. We said nothing, content to do well until we could do better; "our answer was our deeds" and to-day we can not only hold our own but can branch out into "fresh woods and pastures new." As an advertising medium we are second to none in the whole northwest. We thank our numerous friends from tide water to the Rocky mountains for the generous support in deeds and words and the interest they take in our welfare; they can rest assured that in future as in the past we will prove steadfast and true to our friends wherever they may be. We are a firm believer in the future of this great interior.

"The rudiments of empire here, Are plastic yet and ware; The chaos of a mighty world Is rounding into form."

While this paper henceforth will be outspoken and uncompromisingly democratic, we shall ever work for the interest and advancement of the whole community, and from a residence and close observation extending over a period of fourteen years, we flatter ourselves that we know just what it requires.

HOT WORK.—A Washington dispatch dated April 1st says: The debate in the house of representatives to-day was not only of remarkable interest and power, but one which in its outbursts of sectional feeling and mutual denunciations of the north and south, have had no parallel since the days before the war. The excitement at times was intense, and throughout the speeches of Chamberlain, Frye and Hurd, and during the pungent colloquies with which they were interspersed, the presiding officer was kept busy making futile efforts to repress the applause, the laughter or the jeers, that from one side or the other greeted every telling point of argument, each eloquent flight of oratory, and all numerous palpable hits of repartee. The general results of to-day's speech making, seems to be that the democrats gained the advantage in point of argument concerning the merits of the proposed repeal; but that the republicans have made decided gains of party capital by improving the opportunity to sound the alarm against the solid south and to provoke their opponents, especially the hot-headed Mississippi representative, into indiscreet and damaging utterances. Thus, even so able a man as Hurd, of Ohio, was carried by the excitement of the occasion so far beyond the limits which he had evidently marked out for himself, in his really logical and eloquent speech, as to assert that president Hayes' tenure of office is yet uncertain, a declaration which with equal injudiciousness, his party friends immediately applauded to the echo, and which course the republicans will hereafter make as fresh proof that democratic ascendancy threatens danger to the peace and quiet of the country.

THE LOON CREEK MASSACRE.—The following description of the bodies found in the ruins of the town at Loon Creek, destroyed by the Sheep Eaters, was condensed from the Salt Lake Tribune: "Moving on through the ruins they found the body of an old man whom the savages had beaten to death. The body was placed on all fours and frozen in that position. Into his back a ten-pronged slince-fork had been thrust and a cross-cut saw pushed in between the prongs and left there. Another body was found partly outside the door of the burning building, and the legs burned to a cinder. The charred bones of the others were found in a pile in one of the burned houses. The friends who committed this horrible deed are a tribe, or the remnant of one, called the Sheep Eaters. There are only ten Indians in the band—eight big bucks and two young ones."

It may be that the Indian agent is an honest and much persecuted man; but so long as he continues to lay up eight to ten thousand dollars a year on a salary of $1,500, the wicked world will suspect that his piety is a fraud. This suspicion may be cruelly unjust. His riches may come from the rentals of his castles in Spain, or from some other equally productive real estate, but the world is uncharitable and is getting to be very incredulous.

SUPERBON SAYS: "We ought to have room for enthusiasts, even if they violate every rule of grammar. A grand, blundering, hammering, thundering, whole-hearted Boanerges is worth a dozen prim, reverend gentlemen, meek as milk and water, and soft as boiled oysters."

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, March 19, 1879. EDITOR STATESMAN:—Yesterday saw the opening of a democratic congress, the first in more than half a generation. Boys who were learning their A. B. C's, when we last had a congress of democrats, are now old enough to take seats in such a body. Since then we have had the bloodiest and costliest of modern wars, unparalleled depression of business, and changes in legislation which amount almost to an overthrow of our former government. The congress which now comes into power will have no duty to perform except to restore the country, as far as possible, to the condition in which it was when democracy was before in power. To do this will require the surrender of many individual and sectional interests and prejudices, but doubt not the surrender will be cheerfully made. Everything so far indicates it.

The organizing of the house yesterday was an exceedingly quiet affair. Just enough men voted for Mr. Randall, to give him a majority of the elected members. Every man who entered the democratic caucus voted for him. It may not have needed Mr. Blackburn's eloquent words or example to have insured this, but his highly honorable course, after being beaten in the contest for the nomination is not the less to be commended. Mr. Blackburn is in every respect a capitalist man. He would be popular in Maine or Ohio or Minnesota, as he is in Kentucky; he has no enemy in the house; I do not think his defeat this time has injured him; by and by we shall hear from him in a wider field than he now occupies; of Mr. Randall it is hardly necessary to say anything; he is an admirable speaker, and perhaps, next to Senator Blaine, the best informed man in the country in general politics.

The first question in all minds is that raised by Senator Beck, whether or not congress shall proceed with general legislation or only pass the two defeated appropriation bills, and the reform measure attached to them. It is noticed that the two propositions so far, formally made among democratic members to thus restrict legislation have not been acted on. The republicans, on the contrary, unanimously, and enthusiastically voted, at their house caucus, against going into general legislation. Evidently it will gratify that party if rigid inquiry into the past, and thorough reformation can be put off for a season. Speaker Randall was serenaded last night by a large number of his partisan friends, and he made a speech in which he claimed that the repeal of the federal election laws was in the interest of national peace. He was greeted with enthusiasm. I should not fail to mention that his triumph has given a new impetus to the Tilden presidential stock, and to presidential speculation in particular.

The case of breach of promise of marriage, the "Widow Oliver," against Simon Cameron, has been on trial for several days, and is the sensation. General Butler represents Mr. Cameron, and he cross-examined the plaintiff yesterday in a way which would have made a modest woman wish to withdraw from the suit. The case is developing, some fish, and probably a good deal of untruth. Mr. Oliver the "late" husband of the "Widow" appeared in court to astonish his wife yesterday, and she was made to identify him. "This was rather a damper and it is said the "Widow" would be willing to settle the case now for a small consideration.

It is worthy of note that the immigration to this country is on the increase very largely. The figures at the bureau of Statistics show that 128,440 persons landed in New York alone during February, as against 96,000 for the same month a year ago. Those who are posted say that the figures for the spring months will show a still greater increase. The hard times in England, and the social discontent in Germany are having their effect upon the volume of inflow to this country.

SUICIDE AT LEWISTON.

LEWISTON, I. T., March 28, 1879. EDITOR STATESMAN:—Charles F. Brown, a man well known in this section of the country, and for many years a resident of Pierce city, Oro Fino district, was found dead in his bed at the City Hotel this morning. He was trying last night to buy poison, and it is said that he procured 4 morphine powders. Then it is no doubt that it is a case of suicide. Brown was under three thousand dollar bonds for his appearance at the next term of court in Shoshone county for the killing of Streeter last fall, and has told parties that he would never go back to stand his trial.

A dispatch from Frankfort, Ky., dated March 26th says: Judge J. M. Elliott, of the court of appeals, was assaulted and instantly killed on the street in front of the Capital Hotel at 1 o'clock to-day by Thos. Buford, of Henry County. Elliott had rendered an adverse opinion in a case Buford had in court for some time. Buford loaded a double barreled shotgun, waited for Elliott to come to dinner, walked up and shot him through the heart without warning. Buford was arrested and is now in jail. There is great excitement here. Buford after his arrest acknowledged that the other barrel of his gun was loaded for Judge Pryor and would have killed him also had not some children been in the way.

Special cablegrams from London assert that Germany, taking advantage of England's preoccupation in Africa and Afghanistan, is renewing her movement for the annexation of Holland. France, it is stated, has already advanced a considerable force to the frontier, with the intention of seizing Belgium upon the first demonstration of Germany against Holland. It is also again reported that the Russians are marching on Merv, an important position on the Afghan frontier, and there is a suspicion that they are pushing a column in the direction of Herat, with the intention of seizing that stronghold before the English can reach it.

With a brow trosted by the snows of eighty winters old Simon's arterial circulation is yet excellent, and he seems to rather enjoy the notoriety which the widow Oliver's breach-of-promise suit is now giving him. It is a delicate compliment to exceptional virility which an octogenarian might relish. When Aaron Burr was of Simon's age he was delighted when women of whose existence he had no knowledge would swear their fondness for him. He vowed he believed they were right, and chuckled as he demurely denounced himself a sad dog that should leave off his trick.

News of the Week.

Amnesty has been granted 100 more communists. At Queenstown the strike of seamen against Chinamen continues. Australian advices of February 29th state that the harvest prospects are excellent.

The coal exchange of Pittsburg has decided to grant to striking miners their demand. It is said that Hayes will stand firm against the proposed modifications of the electoral law.

There is not a single boat at Doyasahya, and great loss of life is certain if the flood increases. More space has been applied for in the New South Wales exposition building than can be given.

Mukhtar Pasha has asked for 40,000 men and 100 cannon, for the fortification of various frontier towns. The deficiency in the wool crop will not be so great as anticipated. It is now estimated at 50,000 bales.

Tennessee is trying to pay off her state indebtedness with 50 cents on the dollar and her creditors cannot see it. "The Grant movement is booming" our exchanges say. The whiskey business will boom also when he returns home.

Upwards of one hundred arrests have been made in Moscow in consequence of the assassination of a government spy. Grover has re-introduced the bill of last session to reimburse the state of Oregon for expenditures during the Modoc war.

Senate voted "urgency" for the proposal of the chambers to meet in congress to revise the constitution relative to removal to Paris. Renewed floods in Hungary have covered 14,000 acres of land which had already been sown, and the lives of 12,000 people are endangered.

The Richmond, Va., State, a democratic paper, has this: Advise gratis to California: Don't go! Be warned by several who have been there, and don't.

A Seattle dispatch of March 10 says: The Daily Evening Tribune and Morning Intelligence have consolidated, retaining the name of The Intelligencer.

Emperor William, in his replies to congratulations at the reception held on his birthday, laid special stress on his desire to continue a pacific policy.

The Portuguese explorer Pinto has arrived at Pretoria South Africa, with eight followers—all that remain of four hundred with whom he set out on his expedition.

The recent fire at Akyah, Farther India, which was accidental, destroyed the native portion of the town. Loss 500,000. Thousands of people are rendered homeless.

All persons who have been rendered totally blind while in the military or naval service of the national government, will hereafter receive $72 per month.

A Roman & Co., publishers and book-sellers of San Francisco, have made an assignment to their creditors. A statement of their affairs is not yet made public.

The following message was intercepted by the Washington Post: "To R. B. Hayes: You damn good man to John Chittiman, but make him keep his mouth shut. How stop."

Farmers of Idaho expect a good fruit season; and as the mining population has lately greatly increased, the demand for all kinds of produce will be great, and prices high and profitable.

Dispatches from Rome state that on March 20th King Humbert signed a decree commutating the death sentence of Francesco, the man who tried to assassinate him, to penal servitude for life.

A Washington dispatch of March 29th says: The debate on the army appropriation bill will probably run until near the close of next week, when the bill will undoubtedly be passed and sent to the senate.

Gladstone was not invited to the duke of Connaught's wedding. This omission excited much comment in political circles, as Lords Granville and Hartington received invitations.

Famine in Upper Egypt causes terrible suffering. In some villages people are eaten like wild beasts, and dig for roots. In one town women and children fought over scraps of bread. Inland villages are said to be starving like dogs.

Between the Chinese and the 75,000 candidates for republican offices are going to California to meet Grant, the Californians prefer the former. But it is a terrible disaster to have both even for a short time. Golden state we pity thee!

Rev. De Witt Talmage says there has been an atrocious crime committed against him as a minister of the Lord Jesus Christ, and now he wants the Presbytery to try him or he will next Sunday try the Presbytery. It looks as if there were fun ahead.

War has broken out between Bolivia and Chili. The merits of the quarrel are not clearly understood, but the Chilians appear to be the aggressors. The Bolivians have the sympathy of Peru, and if the disturbance goes on, will have material assistance from her.

Gov. Tilden will be the candidate of the democratic party in 1880, the Omaha Herald declares, if he lives and so wills. He will beat Grant, or any other man who runs against him. The little man of Granmeyer Park will carry New York in 1880 as he carried it in 1876, if he shall run in the race.

Emperor Joseph visited the flooded city of Szegedin on the 17th and was visibly affected. Fully 2,000 people have been drowned. Diphtheria has broken out and accouncements take place on railroads and boats. Sixteen thousand horses and cattle and 90,000 sheep have been drowned.

New Zealand news to March 4th state that in a fire damp explosion in the Kaitangia coal mine, near Atago, on February 21st, thirty-two men were killed, all who were in the mine at the time. Subscriptions are being raised for the widows and orphans all over the colony.

Horatio Seymour, in spite of his repeated refusal to accept office, is to-day the most prominent candidate for governor of the state of New York. Circumstances have conspired recently to bring his name before the people, and when that name is mentioned it awakes enthusiasm which no other arouses.

On Monday, the 10th ult., Captain Eads received from the treasury $750,000 the cash payment voted him in the sundry civil appropriation bill, for his improvement of the southwestern pass of the Mississippi. This is the largest requisition ever passed through any of the governmental departments to any one individual.

Adjournment until Tuesday was carried by an overwhelming majority, partly by a view of preventing the introduction of bills under the regular call of states, but mainly to preclude motions for the passage of financial measures and the adoption of any political resolutions under suspension of the rules which are not in order on Monday.

A bill introduced by Senator Slater directs the secretary of the interior to negotiate with the Unmilla, Warm Spring, Klathath and Siletz reservation Indians for their removal to some other lands outside of the boundaries of Oregon; provides that immediately upon their removal all lands now occupied by them shall be opened for settlement and purchase under the general land laws. It is provided, however, that any Indian desiring to abandon his tribal relations shall then be entitled to select and obtain a title to 160 acres under the homestead or pre-emption law.

A London dispatch of March 29th says: A box containing small fragments of human remains, each piece wrapped in coarse brown paper, was fished up to-day from the Thames. The mutilated remains have been recognized as those of Mrs. Thomas, who lived alone near Richmond. The supposed murderer is Catherine Webb, alias Lawler, who was Mrs. Thomas' servant. It is believed she threw away with the identifiable parts and then threw the rest into the Thames, and then sold the contents of the house at leisure, and went home to Ireland, where she was arrested.

On the 11th of March there was a shocking tragedy at Atlanta, Ga. Robert A. Alston was murdered by Edward Cox in the state house. The tragedy has attracted much attention from the peculiar circumstances. The murderer was a contractor for the labor of prison convicts, and a partner of Senator Gordon in that peculiar business. The latter wanted to get out of it, and instructed Alston to dispose of his interest. Because he would not obey Cox's imperious demands, the latter murdered him.

James R. Keene, of New York, like Mr. Tilden was the victim of a fraud last week. Some one forged a dispatch in his name ordering three million bushels of wheat belonging to him to be sold in Chicago. As a consequence the price of wheat went down from 95 to 92 cents a bushel.

New Advertisements.

LIVERY, Feed and Sale Stables, MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA.

THIS FIRST CLASS STABLE HAS been stocked with the finest Stock, Hares and Y-holes of every description. The best Turn Outs in town always ready for use. Horses led by day.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of an order of sale made by the Probate Court of Walla Walla County, W. T., in the matter of the estate of FRANCIS E. RICHARDS, deceased, I will, on at the hour of 2 o'clock, P. M., sell, for cash, at Public Auction, on the premises of said deceased, situated on the Fonduek River, in said county, 2 plots, 1 Set of Old Harness, 1 Grind Stone and about 80 cords of Wood.

JAMES E. BERRYMAN, Administrator, Walla Walla, April 3d, 1879.

DISTRICT COURT SESSIONS. TERRITORY OF WASHINGTON, } SS. County of Walla Walla, }

In the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory, JOHN L. SHARPESTEIN, Plaintiff, vs. A. B. REEVES AYRES, Defendant.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA: B. L. SHARPESTEIN, Plaintiff: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by JOHN L. SHARPESTEIN, Plaintiff, in the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory, holding terms at the City of Walla Walla, in and for the County of Walla Walla, to answer the complaint of Plaintiff, filed in Walla Walla County within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, if served in said County. If not served in said County but in said District, in thirty days. If served in any other Judicial District in the Territory, in sixty days. If served by publication, within sixty days after the date of this summons, or the said Plaintiff will take judgment against you by default, according to the prayer of his complaint.

Said action is brought by Plaintiff to recover of Defendant the sum of One Hundred and Thirty Dollars, in Gold Coin, due on a Promissory Note made by Defendant to R. M. Smith & Co. and to J. A. Smith & Co., endorsed and delivered to the Plaintiff, and interest on that sum at the rate of one per cent, per month from April 1st, 1879, and thirty dollars as attorney's fees in this action, together with the costs of this action.

Witness the Hon. S. C. WINGARD, Judge of the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory, and the Seal of said Court affixed, this 24th day of April, A. D. 1879.

A. REEVES AYRES, Clerk, Plaintiff's Attorney, 14-4

DISTRICT COURT SESSIONS. TERRITORY OF WASHINGTON, } SS. County of Walla Walla, }

In the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory, SAMUEL J. HANSEY, Plaintiff, vs. ANN HANSEY, Defendant.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA: To ANN HANSEY, Defendant: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by SAMUEL J. HANSEY, Plaintiff, in the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory, holding terms at the City of Walla Walla, in and for the County of Walla Walla, to answer the complaint of Plaintiff, filed in Walla Walla County within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, if served in said County. If not served in said County but in said District, in thirty days. If served in any other Judicial District in the Territory, in forty days. If served by publication, within sixty days after the date of this summons, or the said Plaintiff will take judgment against you by default, according to the prayer of his complaint.

Said action is brought to obtain a divorce from the bonds of matrimony existing between Plaintiff and Defendant, on the grounds of abandonment of Plaintiff by Defendant for over one year.

Witness the Hon. S. C. WINGARD, Judge of the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory, and the Seal of said Court affixed, this 24th day of April, A. D. 1879.

A. REEVES AYRES, Clerk, Plaintiff's Attorney, 14-6

NOTICE OF DISTRIBUTION. TERRITORY OF WASH. County of Walla W

IN PROBATE. PA

New Advertisements.

STAR HOTEL! MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA. (Opposite the Post Office.) R. R. ROUNDS, - Proprietor.

THIS HOTEL HAVING BEEN EXTENSIVELY FURNISHED NEW, I am prepared to designate it as the Popular Stopping Place of the Traveling Public, and as such I shall make it second to none in the city.

Meals, only 25 Cents; Beds 25 and 50 Cents; Board and Lodging per day, $1; Board and Lodging per week, $6 and $8, according to room.

The table shall at all times be First Class, and under the supervision of Neal Hogoboom, who will always be found in waiting to attend to the guests. W. D. Fitten having the management of the kitchen insures success in this department. Having started a

LABOR EXCHANGE

In connection with the house, we are prepared to furnish labor to those desiring it on short notice. This is the place to get hands.

STAR SALOON. In connection with the hotel, is a first class Saloon, where the very best brands of Wines, Liquors and Cigars can be found, under charge of Harry Ashworth, who always has a smiling countenance.

NO CHINAMEN EMPLOYED. Remember the place, opposite the Post Office, Main Street, W. T. 14-4

WHITE & GILTNER, Stock, Money and Exchange BROKERS,

130 First Street, Portland, Ogn. MINING STOCKS BOUGHT AND sold on Commission and carried on Margins. Having increased our facilities for the purchase and sale of Mining Stocks, we offer advantages to operators not to be elsewhere.

Perfect Security. Guaranteed Buyers against loss of stock. GENERAL AGENCY. Business transacted for parties living at a distance in the Commission of which we guarantee satisfaction and charges reasonable.

Insurance, Fire & Marine. Effected in the best and most reliable companies, at regular rates.

EGENE D. WHITE, Commissioner of Deeds for a large number of the States and Territories, including Washington. Notary Public and General Conveyancer. Authorizer of O-f-ficial Notary despatches Consuls, 14-4

GRAND MILITARY BALL! TO BE GIVEN THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 1st, 1879. BY THE WALLA WALLA HOME GUARDS! AT THE CITY HALL!

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS: ED. DUGGAR, JOHN SNODGRASS, E. SANDBERSON, ISAAC WELCH, ADAM RUTHERFORD.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE: CHAS. BEESSEGER, CAPT. SMITH, C. T. THOMPSON, A. RUTHERFORD, H. E. HOLMES.

REGULATORS: HARRY REESE, E. SANDBERSON, HARRY WINTLER, J. SNODGRASS, ED. DUGGAR.

TICKETS, (Exclusive of Supper), - $2 50. Music by Prof. Hanson's String Band. 14-4

ESTABLISHED 1870.

WM. O'DONNELL, MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA. BEING CONSTANTLY ON HAND BUILDING MATERIAL!

SUCH AS LOCKS, BUTTS, SCREWS, AND NAILS! ALSO, HOUSE SHIMS, IRON AND STEEL!

I manufacture and keep in stock a full line of TAWEE, COPPERWARE, LEATH TIPS, COOK STOVES, IRON PIPES, RUBBER HOSE, GALVANIZED SPRINGS.

Tin Roofing, Cornice and Spouting made to order, and prices to suit the times. 14-4

CHANGE OF BASE MARK F. COLT, Having concluded to satisfy himself exclusively to

ONE BRANCH OF BUSINESS: Is now selling his stock of DRY GOODS & CLOTHING AT COST FOR CASH!

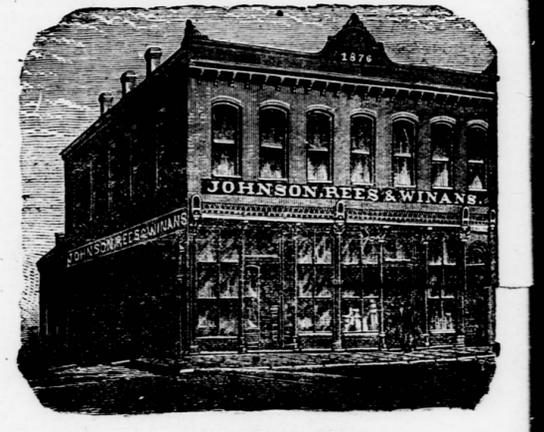

In order to make room for a large stock of GROCERIES, Which he will hereafter make a SPECIALTY. Now is your chance to get good clothing cheap. 14-4 MARK F. COLT.

INTERNATIONAL HOTEL! MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA. (Two Story Brick.) GEORGE SHAILS, Proprietor.

I BEG LEAVE TO I friends and the public ge. INTERNATIONAL! Is now in my charge, and a manner which will insure I trust my friends will be change and favor me with

ADAMS BROTHERS WILL OFFER SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS! DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, GROCERIES, CROCKERY. FOR THE NEXT THIRTY DAYS! TO MAKE ROOM FOR SPRING IMPORTATIONS!

ADAMS BROTHERS. CALL AT JOHNSON, REES & WINANS. GRAND MILITARY BALL! THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 1st, 1879. WALLA WALLA HOME GUARDS! CITY HALL! COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS: ED. DUGGAR, JOHN SNODGRASS, E. SANDBERSON, ISAAC WELCH, ADAM RUTHERFORD.

DEALERS IN GENERAL MERCHANDISE REMOVAL! KIMBALL & SON'S MUSIC & BOOK STORE! HAS REMOVED FROM THE OLD RED STORE TO PAINE BROTHERS NEW building. We keep all kinds of Musical Merchandise. PIANOS & ORGANS On Sale or for Rent. We also keep a regular SEED STORE! Garden, Grass, Tree, Hedge and Flower Seeds in any quantity desired. All orders filled promptly by mail or otherwise. Depository of both the AMERICAN BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY BOOKS! A large Stock of INTERNATIONAL HOTEL! MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA. (Two Story Brick.) GEORGE SHAILS, Proprietor. I BEG LEAVE TO I friends and the public ge. INTERNATIONAL! Is now in my charge, and a manner which will insure I trust my friends will be change and favor me with

Mr. M. C. Saxe, an old pioneer of this section and eastern Oregon, is in town looking out for a good location to start business.

"Baby Mine" has improved so much since I commenced giving her the Oregon Blood Purifier. It is so nice for the little ones!

Game Fowls.—The Eureka gang fowls, are acknowledged to be the best, lightest, and sweetest. Paine Bros. have them on hand, and farmers would do well to inspect them.

Live Men.—For a list of the live wide-awake business men of Walla Walla, our advertising columns is the best directory we know of. The best men of our city are not to be found elsewhere.

Dr. Braden informs us that the man whose legs were amputated last week is getting along wonderfully well. This operation adds considerably to the Doctor's already skillful reputation.

Housekeepers.—John Burgess comes to the front with a new "ad." The boys have adopted this first class house for headquarters. John always has a pleasant smile and hearty welcome for his friends.

We Miss Them.—The recent fine warm weather has dried up the mud puddles in some of our side streets and their denizens, the mud holes, no longer make night hideous with their barbaric squawk.

Soda Water.—Jack Daniels and partner, are now bottling soda water for family use. They have capacity for supplying 500 cases daily. We have taken an assay of it and find that it chews without inhibiting.

See "Ad."—The new "ad." of Mark F. G. appears today in another column; he has a most varied stock of dry goods, which will be sold at the cheapest rates, and with excellent inspection. Give him a call and be satisfied in any thing you require.

The Cousins.—In its very short notice of the release of James Fagan, "The opinion of the bystanders was the same as that of the judge." We do not doubt it for a moment, especially when we consider who and what the majority of the "bystanders" were. There is a lamentable want of backbone or something else around our city.

Very Pleasant.—The horse of Mr. Wallace was crowded with their numerous friends on Thursday evening, the occasion being a social of the Presbyterian church. A very pleasant time was enjoyed, and the choruses, songs, cake and snuffing faces are mixed up to create confusion in our mind and each striving for the mastery as to which was best.

Railroad Matters.—The railroad is now again in good order, the damage done by the frost has been repaired, surveying parties are yet in the field looking out for the best route. One thing is certain; that is Walla Walla must have the terminus, and the sooner our citizens come to that conclusion the better it will be for all parties.

Hardware Store.—William O'Donnell's "new ad" appears in this issue, read what it says and then go to him and buy all you want in the hardware line. He keeps on hand the "cheap and nasty" order and sells cheaper than any other house in the city. You can procure anything in the line of tools and cutlery, stoves and other articles on the most favorable terms.

The New Market Trouble.—This celebrated troupe was billed for the Dalles on Monday last, but at the request of numerous citizens of the city, officers and soldiers at the Fort, they concluded to stay with us another week. They have played to crowds of horses, and have been eminently successful. On Thursday night they gave a benefit for the Washington Engine Co. No. 1, which filled the City Hall to its utmost capacity. Tonight is their last appearance and we predict a house full for them.

Wm. Dismeyer.—John W. Rellington has been commissioned by Gov. Thayer assistant adjutant general with rank of Lieutenant Col. Wm. Dismeyer. This honor is well deserved, we have known Johnnie under very hazardous circumstances, and can truly say that no braver or cheerier boy exists. He is to be deplored upon first, last, and all the time, we have worked together and would rather have him with us in an emergency than a dozen other men. He is a printer too in the office of the Statesman to the credit. In memory of all time we salute Lieut. Col. Rellington.

That Baby Wagon.—The boys have been having Uncle Jake Miller up lately on account of a promise he made Charley Knowles to give him a baby wagon, when, in the course of events he had a son and an heir. Uncle Jake never goes back on his word, but he is troubled in his mind at receiving a bill for a wagon bought by H. D. Stanson; he says that Sandra is welcome to the wagon on condition that the long expected boy has really arrived, but until he sees in the Portland paper the proper announcement under the head of "Births" he begs to be excused.

Whippers.—It is a source of satisfaction to record that there are so few idle men in this city. At this season of the year there is but a slight necessity for men to be out of work. The prospects were never brighter than at present. The farmers, on whom the prosperity depends are diligent, see the forthcoming.

THE WALLA WALLA DRIVING PARK.

During the week we paid this celebrated driving ground our long threatened visit; the grounds have a long and well merited reputation, which has been greatly increased since it came into the possession and under the management of its present wide-awake proprietor Mr. Tom Collins. We were very agreeably surprised at the state of neatness everything was in around the grounds. Mr. Collins was harrowing at the time of our visit the piece of ground inside the enclosure, it is excellent soil and will raise seven tons of mixed wheat and oat hay to the acre. He left his team and introduced us to his stable manager, Mr. Hogoboom, who showed us around and through the stables and their occupants. The horses are kept there by their owners under Mr. Hogoboom's care for training, and right well does he look after them. The first horse we saw was Snowstorm, a very pretty spotted stallion with a trotting reputation, owned by Mr. Glasford. Then Dr. Mack's Mark Twain a bright bay and a chestnut sorrel filly. Mr. Isaacs has a very promising three year old Bellfounder filly, entered for the three year old stakes. Lieut. Miller, a pretty Bellfounder stallion the same which looks like a victor already. Hogoboom is the happy owner of Blackbird a four year old gelding of a very promising appearance. There are others belonging to various citizens being trained and broken so we wound up our inspection with Conway's Robert E. Lee, and S. F. Patchen, a very fine, well made, sorrel colt, which is and has proved himself to be everything represented by his fortunate owner. The coming summer will prove to be very profitable to the city on account of the Walla Walla Derby races inaugurated by Mr. Collins for the first time. It is an institution that everyone ought to patronize, races are well conducted as these will have no demoralizing tendency. Every where else except in small towns races are attended by all the beauty and fashion of the place, and it is never thought for a moment that the chances for going to heaven are diminished thereby, but somehow on this coast some people think they are going headlong to destruction if they patronize races. It is true that in many instances, many are kept away by the bad, low characters of many of the professional habitués of the turf, but here the proprietor will guard against everything upon which even a misanthrope can be placed, and have the place high up in the notch of respectability. In this we hope our citizens will all work together, for by making the Walla Walla Derby well known and popular as the legitimate, honest proposition it is, will be the cause of much benefit to the city, and all interested in its welfare.

Personal.

Gen Forsythe returned from Kittitas valley yesterday. All quiet on the Yakima.

Rev. Mr. Knowles, of Boise City, accompanied by Mr. G. L. Deffenbaugh, of Lapwai, paid us a very pleasant visit. We hope their visit will be enjoyable.

Mr. Kellogg, of the Palouse Gazette, paid us a pleasant visit during the week. We are happy to hear of the prosperity of that paper. We hope they will realize a fortune for the pluck they display.

Lieut. Bonnis, of the 1st cavalry, honored our office with a call. He is one of the bravest officers in the service; he does not think we shall have any Indian excitement this summer over in the Columbia country, but is doubtful about our old friends the Banamacks.

Mr. J. P. Barkhart, of the Portland Standard, is in the city canvassing for his paper. The Standard is a fine, well established paper, keep up with the spirit of the 19th century newspaper in everything the name implies. It is rich, ray, always acceptable, and the leading organ of the democracy in the north west.

Mr. M. B. Dolan, the California boot and shoe man, arrived on yesterday's train. He will open out next week in the National Bank building with 20 tons of new goods. The Napa Register gives himself and wife a very nice complimentary send-off on the farewell party given them by their friends on the eve of their departure.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

COATHS FOR MEN.—Horse repairing and moving, also horse builder. Any carpenter work entrusted to me will be done with neatness and dispatch. Apply to ALEX. M. YOONIS, Residence on Oak Street, between 3rd and 4th. 14t.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Mr. W. R. Dolan, will shortly arrive in this city from San Francisco with the largest and best stock of boots and shoes ever brought to this upper country. He promises to sell the best and cheapest goods in his line ever offered to the public.

SPRING MILLINERY.—Mrs. S. E. Le Monte, has just imported from the east, all the very latest styles of ladies hats, bonnets, and fancy notions of every description. Her stock is well worth inspection. Give her a call, three doors east of the Stine House.

PIANOS ORGANS.—Persons who contemplate purchasing Pianos or Organs, will do well to call and see Stanley Bros., at the furniture store above the bridge, as they have a good stock of instruments, and sell at reasonable prices. They are agents for the Estey Organ and Mathushek Pianos.

TO THE WORKING CLASS.—We give the poor a chance as well as the rich. Poor people can wear good fitting, and well made pantaloons as well as the rich, simply because they can go to Brodeck & Bachman and get a pair of fine pants for $7.00 and a fine suit for $30.00. Call and examine our fine stock, and be convinced. 14t.

PHOTOGRAPHY.—For the very best photographs call on Brodeck & Co., Main street, above the Stine house, the only gallery in the territory producing first-class work. Pictures of children taken instantaneously. Old pictures copied and enlarged to any size. All work guaranteed satisfactory.

TEMPER, as usual, is in the front; he has this week received a large consignment of Feurer's Gambirina beer manufactured in Portland. It is the best beer ever imported to Walla Walla. Try it and be convinced.

THE MULLAN ROAD.

PALOUSE FERRY: THE SHORTEST AND BEST ROUTE TO COLVILLE, SPOKANE FALLS, CRAB CREEK, and the FOUR LAKE COUNTRY. This route is nearer to Colville by thirty miles than any other. Persons desiring to cross Snake River will find it greatly to their advantage to travel by way of The Mullan Road, and there is no scarcity of Wood, Water and Grass.

The Roads are in Excellent Repair, and there is no scarcity of Wood, Water and Grass. In the Crab Creek and Four Lake Country large bodies of excellent land are open to settlement, and well worthy the attention of immigrants.

Good Hotel Accommodations AND GOOD CORRALS On both sides of the River. FERRIAGE EXCEEDINGLY REASONABLE. LYONS & MARKLEY, Proprietors.

TO THE GREAT Palouse Country! The Best and Shortest Route. IS THE TERRITORIAL ROAD AND U. S. MAIL ROUTE.

CROSSING THE SNAKE RIVER AT PENAWARE. Walla Walla to Colfax, Palouse City, Moscow, Colville, Spokane Falls, and other points in the Palouse Country.

A Large Ferry Boat With a strong Wire Cable, capable of crossing the river at all seasons of the year. There is a GOOD HOTEL, AND FEED STABLE. Also, a store of General Merchandise, and a good Warehouse. Passenger conveyance daily, by stage or back to any part of the country.

MAGIC PUMPS! OVER FOUR HUNDRED OF THE Magic Pumps have stood the winter of 1878 and 1879, and seventy five of these have been in wells from twelve to sixteen months, and ninety nine out of each hundred is in good working order now, while 75 per cent. of all other Pumps have frozen up during the winter and many of them worthless and of no account.

WALLA WALLA, March 1st, 1879. We, the undersigned, have used the MAGIC PUMP over one year, and believe them to be superior to any pump we have ever seen or used and are satisfied that the water is made later in any well where the MAGIC PUMP is used.

L. RANDALL, J. D. MIX, A. E. ISHAM, W. S. GILLIAM, N. ALBRIGHT, GEORGE SMITHS, JOHN R. HOOD, P. R. JOHNSON, WM. COCH, T. J. SWEAZEA, A. CHURCH, W. H. MAGUIRE, D. M. JESSE.

WE sell the Rubber Expanding Bucket Chain Pump, and will give twenty-five dollars to see a well where it will not improve the water. H. B. MIDDAGH & CO., Proprietors.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF WALLA WALLA. Designated Depository and Financial Agent United States.

LEVI ANKENY, President. W. V. SPENCER, Cashier. DIRECTORS: A. H. REYNOLDS, S. SCHWABACHER, H. R. JOHNSON, DAVE THOMPSON, LEVI ANKENY.

DEPOSITS RECEIVED IN COIN OR CURRENCY subject to check at sight. Loans made on Approved Security. Special Attention paid to Collections. Exchange for sale in sums to suit on New York, San Francisco, Portland, Oregon, and also on all the principal cities of Europe.

NEW SADDLERY STORE. THE SUBSCRIBER informs his old customers that he has opened again with a large and well selected stock of SADDLERY AND HARNESS!

My wares are as good as could be bought in the market. All of which I offer to sell at Reduced Rates. All my Harness and saddles warranted, and made of California leather.

HARNESS AND LEATHER. For sale cheap to the trade. Repairing done with dispatch. JAMES WHEELAN, Upper end of Main Street, Walla Walla.

GARDEN SEEDS! WARRANTED FRESH AND PURE! GROWN AND FOR SALE AT THE WALLA WALLA SEED GARDENS.

FOREST TREE SEED For sale. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Catalogues free on application. Address, GEORGE STARRETT, 5-3m Walla Walla, W. T.

THOMAS QUINN, MANUFACTURER AND DEALER Saddles, Brides, Harness, Etc. HAS REMOVED TO THE brick building, corner of Main and Third streets, where he will at all times have on hand a very full stock of Team and Buggy Harness, Saddles, Whips, Spurs, Halters, Collars, Curry Combs, Brushes, &c.

And everything usually kept in a first class Harness Shop. REPAIRING promptly attended to. 4t-1t WASHINGTON RESTAURANT! 1ST WALLA WALLA. OPENED.

IF ECONOMY IS WEALTH

THEN PATRONIZE Schwabacher Brothers

WHO ARE SELLING AT GREAT REDUCTIONS.

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, BOOTS & SHOES, HATS & CAPS,

FURNISHING GOODS, CARPETS, OIL CLOTH, ETC., ETC.

We Call Special Attention to the IMMENSE REDUCTIONS!

IN OUR GROCERY & CROCKERY DEPARTMENT.

SCHWABACHER BROS.

THE GREAT FAILURES

IN

SAN FRANCISCO!

HAVE CAUSED A TERRIFIC TUMBLE IN PRICES!

OF

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, BOOTS & SHOES, GROCERIES, ETC.

AT Dusenbery Brothers!

Who having the great advantage of Cash Buyers, are now offering unprecedented BARGAINS TO PURCHASERS!

A LARGE STOCK ON HAND AND ON THE WAY.

DUSENBERY BROS.

CARIS, PAGE & GRAY,

Walla Walla and Wapburg, W. T., & Centerville, Ogn.

GENERAL DEALERS IN FARM IMPLEMENTS,

AGRICULTURAL AND MILL MACHINERY.

Black Hawk and Self

TROTTING STALLIONS!

SAN FRANCISCO PATCHEN!

AND ROBERT E. LEE!

THE HORSEMEN OF WALLA WALLA valley now have the opportunity to breed from the best of the Stallions in the Pacific coast.

These horses were brought from California last year, and are widely known among leading horsemen as animals of superior qualities in every particular.

SAN FRANCISCO PATCHEN is a beautiful dapple bay; stands sixteen hands high, and for bones and muscle we doubt whether he can be excelled by any horse in America. He was sired by Geo. M. Patchen, Jr.; he by the celebrated trotting stallion Geo. M. Patchen; dam by Top Bellfounder, a well known mare for speed and docility; g. d. by Messenger Eclipse; he by Messenger; g. d. dam by Old Eclipse. This horse comes of the best stock in the world, and is a worthy representative of his ancestry. His owner may be justly proud of so noble an animal. San Francisco Patchen is ten years old, and is therefore just in his prime.

GEN. R. E. LEE is a chestnut sorrel; four years old; stands fifteen hands two inches; and is a marvel of horse flesh. For style and action he cannot be excelled by any colt of his age. The owner refused twenty-five hundred dollars for this colt when he was in his three-year form. Gen. Lee was sired by San Francisco Patchen; dam by the thoroughbred mare Fleets; she by Belmont; dam by Lady Charter; she by Leviathan and Eclipse. No mare ranks higher in this country than Lady Charter.

The need of thoroughbred stock has been long felt in Walla Walla, and it is fortunate for those who desire to breed fine animals that they now have the best blood in America to breed from.

These horses are permanently located at the Walla Walla Driving Park, where they will both make the season. They can be seen every Saturday at the Tom Tierney's very stable, where horsemen are invited to call. Those who are breeding horses will do well to examine these horses and their colts. Patchen has proved himself a sure foot getter in this place. Several of his colts can be seen next month. Will commence their season on April 1st.

As it has been reported by enemies of these horses that they are going to leave Walla Walla at the close of the season, the owner wishes to contradict that statement, as it is his intention to make this the permanent home of Patchen and Lee.

For further particulars, apply to W. G. REYNOLDS, Agent and Groom.

BROOD MARES AND YEARLING COLTS!

FOR SALE.—Torence, I offer for sale from twenty to thirty choice BROOD MARES!

all of them carefully bred to "BELLFOUNDER CHIEF." Also, from nine to twelve YEARLING HORSE COLTS, of the blood of "OLD BELLFOUNDER." Several of these are eligible to be kept as Stallions. This is a rare opportunity to secure the blood of that noted horse.

C. H. MACK, Walla Walla, Sept. 5, 1878. 40-1t

The Thoroughbred Stallion SIDNEY BURBAGE

Will Serve a Limited Number of Mares the ensuing season, at the North Pacific Mills, Walla Walla.

BURBAGE was sired by Woodburn, he by Lexington, he by Boston. His dam, Esperanza, was sired by Ringold, he by Boston; this making BURBAGE an inbred Boston of the purest blood. His entire pedigree, in detail, can be found in the American Stud Book.

TERMS: Twenty-five Dollars for the Season, payable 1st of July, and Five Dollars to groom, payable at the time of service.

Good pastures for Mares from a distance, but no accountability for accidents. 11-1m H. P. ISAACS.

LIVERY, Feed and Sale Stable,

WALLA WALLA, W. T. JOHN DING, Proprietor.

HAVING FITTED UP A FIRST-CLASS Livery and Feed Stable, on Main Street, below Seventh. I will, at all times, be ready to supply my friends and the public with the finest rigs and best turn-outs.

BUGGIES AND CARRIAGES Always ready for use. Horses boarded by the day or week. Hay and Grain for sale. 30-1t

DOOLEY & KIRKMAN, PROPRIETORS OF THE PIONEER MARKET,

Main Street, Walla Walla, WILL KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND THE very choicest cuts of BEEF, MUTTON, PORK, VEAL, HAMS, BACON, SAUSAGE, LARD.

Being practical stock men, largely engaged in the business, we have very superior facilities for carrying on a Meat Market and supplying customers with the best in the country.

Give us your custom if you wish to be satisfied, as we are determined to spare no pains to satisfy the public. 4-1t

CHRIS ENNIS, PROPRIETOR OF THE EMPIRE MARKET.

Main Street, Walla Walla. DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRESH MEATS AND PACKER OF BEEF AND PORK.

HIGHEST PRICE PAID FOR FAT Stock. Extra quality of HAMS, BACON and LARD, sold in lots to suit customers. Give me a call. 37-1t

BEER BEER! BEER! CITY BREWERY

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES! Everybody Made Happy!

FROM AND AFTER THIS DATE, I propose to deliver within the city limits of Walla

