

B. F. Potts has been reappointed governor of Montana. In this territory and in some portions of Oregon a strange spectacle is presented in the fact that the Methodist church that divided on the great question of whether the war grew still keeps up the line of demarcation and still retains the distinguishing prefix "North" or "South." Identical in creed and system of church government, these disciples of the Prince of Peace keep up their separate organizations long after the practical unity of all other classes has been effected. It is strange and somewhat sad that unpleasant memories should thus divide churches that, like kindred drops, should mingle into one.

A MISTAKE.—We think Mr. Hayes is removing Gov. Brayman, of Idaho, has committed an error. The fight in that territory against the governor is a personal one, having its origin with a few office-holders who found it impossible to face the executive in their schemes for plunder. The telegraph appears to have been under their control, and, therefore, every opportunity was taken to misrepresent Gov. Brayman, who is a man of many sterling qualities, and as a soldier had but few superiors during the late Civil War. His experience, at this time, in Idaho, is of great moment, and the STATESMAN confidently believes that when Mr. Hayes is informed as to the true state of affairs he will reconsider his hasty and ill-timed action.

OREGON ELECTION.—The returns are all in, and a calculation shows that the entire republican vote ticket, with the exception of Hines, candidate for congress, is elected. The democrats will have a good working majority in both branches of the legislature. The election demonstrates, what our democratic friends ought to have known, that the people will vote down any individual who forces himself upon a ticket through corrupt means. Hines was not the choice of the majority of republicans, and obtained his nomination by trickery. Brown, democratic candidate for treasurer, was very unpopular, and managed to secure a place on the ticket by a combination that reflected no particular credit upon those who were active in bringing it about.

THE SAN FRANCISCO EXHIBITOR, speaking of the proposition to consolidate the Indians of this territory and those of Oregon upon five reservations, says: "The removal of the Indians from the Umatilla and Warm Springs reservations, and also from the Siletz, Alsea and Klaskan, is proper enough. These lands ought in fact long ago to have been thrown open to settlement. Nevertheless, there is now, undoubtedly, a great deal of corruption and robbery at the bottom of the scheme. The Indian land is being lightened 'ring' of official corruptionists, who mass fortunes from the opportunities the position gives them, and it is remarkable that while a large proportion of the Indian tribes and reservations are on this coast, and most of the Indians who profess any religious belief are Catholics, there is not on the board neither a citizen of the Pacific coast nor a Catholic."

QUACKS.—In Portland these pests are becoming quite numerous, having been driven out of California by a stringent law, which makes it a misdemeanor for any one to practice medicine without first obtaining a certificate from the state board of examiners. The chances are that some of these frauds may find their way to Walla Walla, in which event it behooves our people to be on their guard. A law similar to the one now in force in California has become necessary for this territory, and it is to be hoped that the next legislature, if it has sufficient brains to comprehend the situation, will enact a law for the suppression of these pests, who fatten upon the misfortunes of their fellow beings. By examining the advertising columns of the STATESMAN, and carefully noting the cards of the regular physicians found there, all danger of being taken in by quacks may be avoided; for we do not admit the advertisements of charlatans to our columns.

RASCALLY INDIAN AGENTS.—On the first page of the STATESMAN will be found a communication in which the writer convincingly proves that the agent in charge of the reservation used in part by the Hancock, has been guilty of systematic and wholesale stealing. So grasping was this man that the Indians were unable to obtain those articles actually necessary for their existence; and so intolerable was their situation that they, in self defense, were compelled to leave the reservation. Among the Indians now numbering and plundering the citizens of Idaho, a majority, no doubt, are the victims of this thieving agent. As long as the reservation system is continued, and as long as the department at Washington insists upon sending out thieves to manage the affairs of the agencies, just so long will there be Indian wars. The present idea, now so popular in some quarters, of dealing with the Indian as though he was a child, is simply ridiculous, and ought to be abolished as soon as it can be done. To away with the reservation entirely; turn the Indians loose, and force them to earn their livelihood as their less fortunate white brethren are compelled to do. If an Indian commits a crime, try him according to law, and let him be punished in the same way that bad white men who break the law are punished. But don't put him on a reservation to be starved and robbed by some pot-house politician who happens to be in charge of the agency.

A RUGREAL.—A writer, noted more for his proximity than his perspicacity, undertakes to prove, after a fashion, that the opposition to a state form of government for this territory from California and Oregon is the work of agents of that monopoly. Just what interest the O. S. N. company could have in defeating the constitution we are at a loss to know. The writer does attempt to show that a territorial legislature is more easily handled than that of a state. But, when it is apparent that our legislatures when we become a state will be composed of the same material that now constitutes our law-making power, that assertion falls to the ground from its own innate weakness. In California, the Central Pacific railroad company finds no difficulty in purchasing a legislature. Pennsylvania is owned body and soul by the company of which Tom Scott stands at the head. In New Jersey we find the same state of affairs, and so it is in most every state that is controlled by the presence of a monopoly. We are afraid that this continual cry about the O. S. N. company is being run into the ground. The STATESMAN has fought that organization for years, but it never thought it necessary to lay all our misfortunes—bad laws, sickness, failure of crops and the presence of crickets—at its door. The other assertion that the senators from California and Oregon are opposed to the admission of Washington, because, in that event, they would be compelled to relinquish their hold upon the patronage of this territory is equally untenable. There is not a single officer in this territory who owes his position to either of the senators named. Illinois, Michigan and Massachusetts are the states to whom we are indebted for the presence of these gentlemen. The senators from Oregon and California would prefer to see Washington a state; for it would increase the power of the Pacific coast in the senate. No, the opposition does not come from either of those quarters.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

All men who are gifted with the power of thinking intelligently are unanimous in the opinion that it is much more desirable to live under a state form of government than to exist under the flimsy structure of a territorial organization. To be dependent, to be compelled to supplicate for even the smallest boon is a situation that to most men is repulsive, and no man worthy to be called such would content himself with that condition any longer than would be necessary to throw off the yoke of dependency. In doing this, however, he would be governed by judgment, would carefully scan the field, and so husband his resources that when the opportune moment arrived his blows would be effective. The people of a territory, so far as their political organization is concerned, are vassals, depending upon others, who have nothing in common with them, for both their judiciary and executive officers. Worn out politicians who have, through trickery and fraudulent practices, become a stench in the nostrils of the older settled portions of the country, are sent out to territories to rule over and mark out the destinies of future empires. The same systems of corruption by which these men once flourished in other places are brought with them to their new fields of operations, and ere long we find them plotting to secure places in congress, or in attempting to shape legislation so that they can obtain seats in the senate of the United States. The whole political organization is polluted, and men of honest convictions are dragged into the performance of such acts that, prior to the advent of these harpies, they would have stood appalled at their slightest mention. The lust of power, coupled with a bigotry as to their own importance is the distinguishing mark of most of those who have carried this territory by their presence in executive offices. Through their machinations the politics of this community have been so corrupted that the young men now about entering upon the stage of life have come to believe that politicians and all men who are in public life are dishonest. Through their influence, corrupt and unprincipled men have been elevated to high positions—even to congress. And among the men thus honored have been those whose only qualification consisted in an oily tongue and an enormous capacity for intoxicating fluids. Yet so potent are these blood-suckers from abroad, and so powerful is their hold upon the destinies of the party to which they have selfishly attached themselves, that temperance men, and those whose sentiments of morality are so keen that they are unable to do justice to their neighbor who unfortunately is cursed with an appetite for strong drink, will come out and not only vote but actively support any drunken rascal who happens to receive the countenance of these foreign emissaries. In a word, the whole social structure is corrupted, good men fall by the way-side, and bad men become doubly vicious. Now to suppose that any people desire to live under such a condition of affairs is to suppose that men love iniquity rather than virtue, and that dishonesty is to be preferred to honesty. The question, therefore, as to the desirability of a state over that of a territorial form of government being settled, why, what opposition can there be to the change? Hold a moment, gentlemen. States are not born as Minerva was; they do not, at the caprice of gods, spring into existence fully armed and equipped. They are slow growth, and require their vitality from the soil of the people, and not from the insidious plottings of designing politicians. The vote at the recent election in this territory for the selection of delegates to the convention, now in session in this city, clearly demonstrated that the people had no confidence in the scheme; that the "dread of something after" was more potent than the utterances of wily politicians; and the fear that the class of men of which we have so freely spoken were the master spirits in bringing about the legislation looking to a state government, speeded them on to bear the title they have then by to others they know not of. Should the course of the convention prove that these alarms are groundless, why then the people may look at the project with a more favorable eye. As it is, it lacks that confidence necessary to make it a success. Among the gentlemen composing the convention there are a number, who in every way, both by education and association, are eminently qualified for the task of framing a constitution that will meet the approval of the people. But will they be permitted to take the lead? Upon this question accorded them depends the fate of the constitution, and with it, for the time being, all hope for a state government.

News Items. Congress adjourns Monday. "For this relief much thanks." Gov. Brayman, of Idaho, has been removed, and John Hoyt, of Michigan, appointed his successor. As compared with last year the customs and internal revenue receipts show a falling off of nearly eight million dollars. Cincinnati's board of trade is opposed to the reduction of the army because of the commode. It is the Indians, not the commode, they ought to fear. The number of murders and suicides in the United States is increasing at an enormous rate. Some attribute this directly to the influence of the hell controversy. Gen. Wither, who, after a brief sojourn in Boise, declined the office of Marshal for Idaho, has been appointed pension agent at Washington, worth $10,000 per annum. The New Orleans Democrat (dem.) does not like the attitude of Alex. H. Stephens. It accuses him of voting with the republicans while still pretending to be a democrat. Robert Bonner is reported to be worth $10,000,000. During his life time he has spent over a million dollars in advertising, and his present immense fortune is the direct cause of it. Advertisers should learn a lesson from this. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer (dem.) writes from Louisville that "there are influences at work to nominate Bristow for governor of Kentucky. He may then set up against Grant for president as an equally bold candidate."

THE IDIOT WAR. From the Idaho papers, of the 9th inst., we call the following additional particulars of the Indian disturbances in that territory: James Dunn, messenger, left Col. Bernard's command at Fort Robinson, on the Brunson, early yesterday morning, came down the Brunson to Jersey's ferry on Snake river, 43 miles to Monday's ferry and thence to this place, arriving here at 11 o'clock to-day. The reports of events on the Snake river, and the valley showed the Indians were in strong force at Juniper mountain and in considerable numbers along the hills, making it unsafe for families on the hills to leave in that direction. Col. Bernard, in consequence of these reports and the indications of the presence of Indians everywhere in the neighborhood of his command, decided to wait where he was until he could learn more definitely from Duck valley and other points. Col. Robbins, chief of scouts, was sent forward with twenty men towards Duck valley to learn the fate of the settlers and to escort them to the camp on Brunson if possible. The command will remain at Robinson for the night, and Col. Bernard will call the families to that point. The indications are that the Indians are gathering in large numbers at Juniper mountain, and in the Bettie creek country, where they will probably await the coming of reinforcements and take the issue of battle. The force in the field is 100 men, but very little can be done before the arrival of reinforcements. All that can be done is to hold the forces yet remaining on Snake river, protect the roads as far as possible, and guard against surprise. James Bascom, brother of John Bascom, who with two others was murdered by the Indians just below Glenn's ferry, on the 1st, upon learning of the murder started from Rock creek station, on the overland trail, with an escort of four men for the purpose of visiting the scene of the murder, and bringing in the bodies of the murdered men. When within seven miles of Glenn's ferry they saw some Indian scouts to whom they gave chase until they came in sight of a body of Indians numbering 20 or 30, who in turn pursued them. They were obliged to flee in the direction whence they came. They returned to Payne's ferry, leaving one of their number whose horse had become unmanageable. The unhorsed man remained hidden in the sage brush while the Indians passed him and afterwards traveled all night, reaching Payne's ferry in safety. Judging from this experience and reports of others that the route was unsafe from the presence of numerous bodies of Indians passing down the river on the south side, Mr. Bascom was obliged to abandon his design and come to this place, arriving here to-day. His brother, who was murdered on the 1st, remains at the command where he fell. From Big Camas prairie a few Indians are reported to be seen occasionally, but as there is no force operating in that direction nothing can be known of the condition of the lava beds.

A BLOODY FIGHT. The Indians, of the 9th inst., contains the following account of the fight between Harper's company of volunteers and the Indians. It says that on the 1st, Harper's company of volunteers, seven miles east of South Mountain, was attacked by a band of about 100 Indians, including 20 warriors, killing four white men and two patients and wounding Thomas Bates; also one man missing, and several horses killed and wounded. Harper's reinforcements this morning and they will return to the scene and recover the dead. Report to state that the hills are full of hostile Indians; that the Indians are in the neighborhood of the Brunson to-day. It is reported that the command will start for Monday's ferry to-morrow morning. At Monday's ferry is the company of volunteers, thirty in number, and a government baggage train and mail coach, which went from Fort Rose on Tuesday. A messenger has just arrived at Silver City from Capt. Harper's command with the news that O. H. Purdy and Chris Steiner were killed in the fight Saturday afternoon, and their bodies will arrive at Silver City on Monday. Four other men, one of the men who was reported killed, states that he has seen eight Indians were killed, but as the Indians had possession of the field no bodies were found. It is reported that the Indians had taken to the hills, and made for South Mountain. W. W. Hastings, who was reported missing, turned up all right this morning. He has secured the command and will start for Monday's ferry. On yesterday Captain Harper's company of 27 men (mentioned about 60 Indians were shot, and several were killed. Harper returned to Silver City, and the news that O. H. Purdy and Chris Steiner, also two other men, were killed. Remnants of Harper's company, he moved for the enemy, who appeared in numbers. On receiving this intelligence, the news of a mounted company from Idaho city to report here for dispatch to the front. A large quantity of arms, over one thousand, and ammunition is on the way from the Helena and Vancouver arsenals.

By overland stage which arrived at 4 p. m. to-day, we learn that a considerable body of Indians, who were near Cold Spring station, 65 miles out of this place, last night. All accounts agree that the Indians are continually passing across the stage road and crossing the river between Fort Camas, Neacoma and the scene of hostilities in Owyhee county. Gen. Howard is expected here on Tuesday, and the column of troops, including the mounted company from Idaho city, will probably make the first start in the Juniper mountain region, but it is expected that only a portion of their fighting force is there, and that they will also remain at the Camas prairie, in the lava beds, until disordered or forced to surrender. Col. Grover and Lieut. Hunter will arrive in the morning.

...the gymnast and musician, will perform at the City Hall this evening. His program for the night to be immense.

...those who have an eye for the beautiful should not miss J. J. Day & Co's advertisement in this issue of the STATESMAN.

...The young ladies of St. Paul's Guild will give a religious concert and festival, at City Hall, on next Thursday evening, at half past seven. Admission, 25 cents.

...The Fair... On yesterday a train of... loaded with old and young, male and female, heading from Stockton, California, passed through the city on their way to the Palouse country.

...The Statesman during the week has been honored by calls from Judge Demmon, Frank Henry, Col. Larabee and many other distinguished gentlemen.

...The sharpest revenge you can take is to do a good turn in exchange for the wrong that has been done to you. It is not an easy thing to do, but it is said to be sure in its results.

...Mrs. Dunaway, a woman of great ability and untiring energy, who, through the columns of the STATESMAN, has acquired a reputation as a brilliant writer, is registered at the Stine House.

...Col. Kelley, who is here on a visit to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Gen. Grover, paid the STATESMAN a visit on Monday last. The Col. will, in all probability, be the next senator from Oregon.

...Gen. Howard and staff arrived here on Sunday morning, and, after a short rest, during which the General received a number of calls from many of our prominent citizens, took their departure the same afternoon for Boise.

...Ralph Brown, a son of our former townsmen, L. Brown, but now one of the leading business men and capitalists of San Francisco, is on a visit to his many friends in this city.

...Capt. J. M. Gorman, for the past six years stage agent at this point, and a universal favorite with the traveling public, has leased the Dayton hotel for a term of years.

...The STATESMAN is indebted to a gentleman who has just returned from Colfax for the following: The district court at this place adjourned on Friday morning last after a short session of five days.

...A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—We find this in the last issue of the Astorian: "On our travels to the upper country we discovered one of the most expert delivery clerks that we ever saw behind a postoffice window.

...UNMATHIA COUNTY.—Following are the democratic majorities in Unmathia county: Whiteaker, 254; Thayer, 321; Reams, 307; Brown, 246; Neltner, 276; Stebbins, 316; Isom, for prosecuting attorney, 379; Pennington, 189; Evans, over Perry, 150; Evans, over Hallock, 239; White, over Bercy, 192; White, over Hallock, 231; Pierce, 316; Keeney, 49; Arnold, 319; Webb, 292.

...BREMER is expected in San Francisco in August. For ten lectures he receives $11,000. And yet there are men in Walla Walla, who can talk longer and say more in five minutes than Bremer can in two hours, who are started by the only difference, however, is that our men have an abundance of words, while Bremer is overflowing with ideas. It is not how you say it, but what you say that commands both attention and money.

...CITY CHARTER.—At the election on Friday last, the proposition to abandon the present charter, and incorporate under the general incorporation law of the territory, received a majority of 42. A very light vote was polled, and no general interest taken in the result.

...J. C. SMITH, one of the most enterprising men of this county, brought to town on Wednesday nearly nine thousand pounds of wool, which, though a large figure, is but a trifle of his woolclip for this year.

...THE FOURTH.—As will be seen upon reference to our advertising columns, the people of Walla Walla propose to celebrate in the good old-fashioned style.

...A SMALL lot of Grande Ronde flour was received this week, and sold for $3 50 per barrel. The venture was not a success.

...THOSE who contemplate making purchases should carefully scan the advertising columns of the STATESMAN.

...STRAW or Felt Hats cleaned and pressed in the latest styles. Satisfaction guaranteed. Mrs. Young's, next door to the engine house, 31 Street.

...OPPOSITION.—The steamer Great Republic will sail from San Francisco for Portland today.

...John C. Fremont has been appointed governor of Arizona.

...LIST OF LETTERS Remaining in the Postoffice, at Walla Walla, June 15th, 1878:

...DIED.—In this city, June 9th, 1878, B. F. Ream, aged 42 years, an old citizen of Walla Walla, and well known throughout this section.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

First Day. TUESDAY, June 11th, 1878. Pursuant to law the constitutional convention met in this city, in Science Hall, and called to order by W. A. George, of Walla Walla.

Second Day. WEDNESDAY, June 12th, 1878. Convention met pursuant to adjournment, with Mr. Abernethy in the chair.

Third Day. THURSDAY, June 13th, 1878. Mr. Odel, from the committee on rules, submitted a report, which, on motion, was laid on the table and ordered printed.

Colfax Items. The STATESMAN is indebted to a gentleman who has just returned from Colfax for the following: The district court at this place adjourned on Friday morning last after a short session of five days.

London Truth.—"Each mother who thinks of the matter at all, believes her own daughter absolutely safe and trustworthy, and we may be sure that the girl does not undervalue her. Whatever others may do, thinks the matron sitting quietly at home while her child is rambling alone across the park to college, or is inspecting her male classmates' drawings in the art school, she is to be trusted to take care of herself. But men could tell strange stories if they would, and in the next generation of mothers will be many women who, taking to heart the risky lesson of their own experience, will keep a sharper watch over their girls than will young men, and will distrust the youthful assurance of 'safety' which brings back these glowing cheeks and sparkling eyes."

Business Notices. BUREAU PATTERNS.—Latest styles, just received at Mrs. Young's, Third street, next door to the Engine House.

At Cost Prices. Miss O'Rourke offers her large stock of millinery goods for sale at cost prices, consisting of a large variety of ladies' dresses, undergarments, trilled outfits, old ladies' bonnets, caps, real hair, switches and curls. The sale to continue until the end of July, at the old stand, Main street, near the Stine house.

Relief for the Farmer. KILL THE SQUIBBLES.—H. E. Holmes, our druggist, has invented a Squirrel Poison that is perfect and which can be sold for one-half or one-third the price of any in the market.

Dr. J. M. Boyd, physician and surgeon, office in the old library rooms, opposite STATESMAN office. The doctor has had twelve years experience in the treatment of diseases prevalent in the valleys east of the Cascade mountains.

PRINTERS' STOCK.—We have just received from San Francisco full stocks of Paper and Card Board, such as will meet the wants of country printers. White and colored cards from number 8 up to 14. Flat Cap paper, Folio Post, Bill head Paper, Note Paper, Letter-headers, to all of which we invite the attention of the trade.

Maidens and Matrons.

A handsome thing in ladies' hats—a lady's head.

Beautiful women can always afford to dress simply.

Brown eyes denote an affectionate, faithful nature in the wearer.

An Iowa bride was rigid in a tresser given by a former rejected lover.

The Duke of Buckingham's daughters know how to cook an excellent dinner.

The quiet fellow in the corner who lets his rival do all the talking generally marries the girl.

There will always be more or less excitement in the household that possesses a cat and a back fence, or a poor piano and a good healthy girl.

Old deacon Dohsen always boasted that he was "prepared for the worst," and his neighbors thought he got it when he married his second wife.

Young ladies, if you must wear pins in the back of your dresses at a dance put them in with the points toward the left. No charge.—Pianos (City) National.

A Newark girl hastened the departure of a young gentleman caller one evening by remarking, as she looked out of the window: "I think we shall have a beautiful sunrise."

A foolish young man applied to his village paper for information on the important subject: "How to win a woman's love." The reporter replied: "Kiss the ladies, caress the cat, and pay strict attention to the girl's mother."

A lady says engagements are very mysterious affairs, for if you are not very polite and attentive the gentleman thinks you do not care for him, and you are afraid to be polite for fear the engagement might sound like a joke on his part, when you would be sorry to think you had wasted so much sweetness on some other woman's husband.

A lady with a fatal portrait came one to a fashionable artist for a portrait. He looked at her and she looked at him and both were embarrassed. He spoke first: "Would you care to have your portrait painted?" "I would like to have it done," she said, "but take the portrait in profile!" "There is a certain shyness about one of your ladyship's eyes which is as difficult in art as it is fascinating in nature."

An Indianapolis Arrived At.

About 10 o'clock this morning a tramp went into a "best" restaurant and devoured ten minutes in a very zenous manner to the lunch table. By the time he had masticated about a pound of corned beef the barkeeper stepped up and remarked:

"This table is for drinkers."

"Then why don't you bring on your drinks? I've been here ten minutes, and haven't seen a drop of any thing. If it's a drinkin' table, where's the fluid?"

"I mean it's for the patrons of the bar," said the barkeeper.

"Then why don't they here? I s'pose you mean that a man must spend money at the bar before he eats?"

"Exactly."

"That takes me in. I took a drink here last summer and didn't eat a mouthful, and if I ain't entitled to a lunch on that drink then this system must be a failure all round."

"But the place has changed hands since then," said the barkeeper, picking up a bang starter.

"Ah, indeed?" replied the urbane humorist, "that fact, as your posture would imply, raises a new and embarrassing question in our diplomatic relations. I will therefore propose, as it were, from my original position and await the ascertaining of the sense of congress."

He had been gradually backing towards the door as he spoke, and he dodged out just in time to evade the projectile hurled at him by the indignant barkeeper.—Vespertine (City) Chronicle.

Railroad Extension.—The following is from the Seattle Tribune: A meeting of the directors of the Walla Walla railroad directors met last night at the residence of Mr. Mackintosh, Garret and Main streets, and organized a committee to take steps to secure the subscription of $2,000,000 more stock; the company agreeing in consideration therefor to extend their road from Ranton 85 miles in an easterly direction, to Thorne's place in Yakima county—130 miles from Seattle. Fifty thousand of this it is thought can be secured in Yakima county, $200,000 in King county. The Walla Walla people will then be asked to furnish the road to their town, the modeling of which in their present excellent condition they are fully ready to do. The company will agree to finish the 85 miles by October 1st, 1880.

The Advertisement of Property.—The whole outcry against the accumulation of property is almost upon the face of it. The average of property in this country is $1,000 to $2,000, and the modeling of which in their present excellent condition they are fully ready to do. The company will agree to finish the 85 miles by October 1st, 1880.

In San Francisco, complaint has been filed in one of the district courts by John Parke against the members of the firm of F and G. O'Brien, trustees of the Consolidated Virginia Mining company, the Nevada bank, and the mill, flame and water companies under the control of the bona fide firm, for the recovery of $8,000,000, alleged to have been wrongfully diverted by the defendants to the shareholders of the Consolidated Virginia in their management of the mine.

PATENTS ISSUED.—The following patents to Pacific coast and territorial inventors were passed to issue at the patent office, Washington, May 14th: R. C. Brown, Portland, Oregon, construction of hulls of steam vessels; F. O. Bryan, Seattle, Washington territory, fire escapes; A. Rutherford, Walla Walla, Washington territory, adjustable trace fastening.

THE END BEANS NOISE.—Whenever a member of congress becomes afflicted with the idea that he is a statesman his days of usefulness are over. The valuable members of the one who faithfully discharges the onerous labors of the committee-room, keeps himself familiar with all the business that is transacted in the house, and makes his speeches when he gets home.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

DOUBTFUL.—We find this paragraph in the Washington Times; but, as we doubt its correctness, don't believe it founded upon fact: "A man recently wrote to Dr. Baker for a chance to run on the road. The doctor told him he would keep out of the way of the train."

She asked the clerk if he was positive—thoroughly convinced that the eggs were fresh. "Oh, yes," said the young philosopher. "I know they are, why, the farmer said none of his hens were more than a year old." She bought a basketful on the spot.

DOWN IN LOUISIANA last week they had a grand holiday. A negro was hanged, lemonade was sold, there was a horse race and a base ball match, and everything passed off pleasantly.

The following conversation took place recently in a hotel: "Water," "No, sir," "What is this?" "It's bean soup," "No, sir," "For what it has been," the question is, what is it now?"

LIBERALS.—This man appears in the Washington Times: Walla Walla has an immense ear for music, but her mouth for beer speaks for itself.

HARVEST OF 1878.

FARMERS OF WALLA WALLA VALLEY

Are unanimous in their expression that the Agricultural Implements

—SOLD BY—

PAINE BROS.,

ARE THE PERFECTION OF MECHANICAL SKILL, AND ARE, IN ALL respects, the only articles of farm machinery adapted to the wants of this locality. For the harvest of 1878, MESSRS. PAINE BROS. invite the attention of farmers to

THE HARVESTER KING!

This Harvester is recognized by all experienced persons as the only one yet invented free from serious defects. The Automatic Crane Binder Attachment, having been thoroughly tested, is admitted to be superior to all others in the market. A comparison will satisfy any one that the HARVESTER KING is the only one now in existence that has stood the test, and we caution farmers against purchasing any other.

The Champion Self-Raker!

Is the simplest, yet, at the same time, most durable and effective ever invented. Its merits are too well known to require any word of commendation from us. Every farmer who has used it is its friend; and to the hundreds to whom we have sold this implement, we refer, confidently believing that in every instance it will receive unqualified praise.

Buffalo Pitts "Challenger" Thresher!

This machine, combining many improvements, and manufactured expressly to meet the wants of this country, stands at the head of all other machines, and by long experience, in which its reliability has been thoroughly tested, has deservedly earned the title of

KING OF THRESHING MACHINES.

An intelligent farmer, one who has any knowledge of his calling, would not think of purchasing any other. Go anywhere in the Walla Walla Valley, and ask which machine has proved the most durable, the best adapted to the climate and the work to be done, and the universal answer will be the BUFFALO PITTS CHALLENGER. This machine can be relied upon. Can as much be said of others?

The new and valuable improvement added to the

Haines' Single Gear Header,

Makes it superior to any now in the market, and purchasers should see that no inferior article is forced upon them, as there are many machines offered, which, when tested, prove to be utterly worthless. An examination of this Header is earnestly requested.

STEELE'S PAIN ERADICATOR.

The Most Wonderful Discovery of the Age.

The World moves, and unless we Progress we must go backward. Nothing remains Stationary.

IN OFFERING THIS MEDICINE IT IS NOT intended to deceive the people as a cure for every complaint on earth; but a really scientific article of great merit, which will prove a boon to suffering humanity. Both in its adaptation to both man and beast, its readiness of application, and the price being within the reach of all. It will cure:—

Rheumatism, Contracted Cords, Gout, Sore Throat, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Croup, Hoarseness, Earache, Burns, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints, Contorted Muscles, Swellings, Lameness, Backache, Diarrhea, Colic, Catarrhs, Croup, Cuts, Sores, Inflammation of the Kidneys, And all Nervous and Indigestive Aches and Pains.

DR. STEELE, who has for years been in the Proprietary Medicine business, and who has traveled in various parts of the world in search of information, has great confidence in the ERADICATOR as a cure for all the above mentioned ailments, and has saved more valuable property of that kind than any other preparation. Take only STEELE'S PAIN ERADICATOR. We can produce thousands of testimonials as to its efficacy, but a trial will prove to the most skeptical that it is truly an Eradicator of Pains, Aches and Inflammations. It has been, and is now, constantly used by horsemen as a Liniment, and has saved more valuable property of that kind than any other preparation. Take pains to see that you get the genuine.

Put up in large bottles, and for sale by druggists and dealers. If you happen to be in a locality where STEELE'S PAIN ERADICATOR cannot be obtained, send to the nearest wholesale druggist, or to the Agents.

SUPPLEMENT.

WALLA WALLA, W. T., SATURDAY, JUNE 15, 1878.

Woman Suffrage.

EDITOR STATESMAN: While I deeply appreciate your courteous offer of valuable space for an article from my pen under the above caption, I realize my inability to do the subject justice in the limits necessarily prescribed for its consideration.

But to come to the point without further preliminary. I advocate the enfranchisement of woman: firstly, because I believe in the fundamental principles of a Republican Democracy, as set forth in the Declaration of Independence, and guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States; and, secondly, because it is a law of nature that everything must possess a dual existence, governments included, in order to at all approximate perfection, or perpetuity. We can no more rightfully or rationally expect a perfect government, composed of men alone, than we can expect a perfect home circle, school, social or religious circle, composed exclusively of either men or women.

I advocate the enfranchisement of women, also, because they, being individuals, must be either serfs or sovereigns. If serfs they are not, because of their subjective position, capable of endowing their sons or daughters with the true spirit of liberty. Children necessarily inherit their mental and moral status from their mothers, and mothers when deprived through successive generations of that financial independence, which is only to be secured through personal law making power, become necessarily progenitors of petty tyrants like unto themselves. As the maternal function is the most responsible and important of all natural functions of humanity, so the largest possible liberty and responsibility is necessary for women, that they may be capable of transmitting the best possible conditions, mental, moral and physical, to their children.

Mothers, whom nature has endowed with capable minds and strong wills, when hampered and repressed as many of them must be through constant toil without recompense, unconsciously stamp and influence acquiescence upon the brains of their sons. These, in turn, become law makers; and the petty, narrow lives their mothers led, under a compulsion of the nature of which they did not probably understand, brings forth fruit in the sons, sixty, a hundred and a thousand fold. And we reap the fruit, at last, in governmental high places in Credit Mobilier swindles, Pacific Mail contracts and back salary grabs.

The mother who slips a quarter of a dollar to get herself a paper of pins does not imagine that she is laying the foundation that will make her son a rascal; but it is in the truth, nevertheless; and the custom that sanctions the life of servitude without wages which is the heritage of most mothers, avenges itself fearfully upon the sons of women, who thus reap the whirlwind when men had only sown the wind. When women become voters, they will speedily become law makers; and when they are law makers, they will soon have equal property rights with men. Not until women are themselves free can they hope to be mothers of the highest types of freedom, whether men or women.

The leading minds among Washington Territory's women are hoping and looking for decided action in favor of their enfranchisement in the coming state constitution; and as a large number of them have commissioned me as their standard bearer for equal rights to present a memorial before the Convention, which memorial will appear in print after it has been submitted, I will not now trespass further upon your time or patience. Suffice it to say, we confidently look for success, and we believe and hope that Washington will be the first state in the Union to wheel into its proper orbit with all its people free.

Ms. A. J. DUNFAY.

THE discussion which has been going on all over the country respecting the talk about communism, illustrates the truthfulness of the remarks made by the London Times. That paper said: "The fabric of American society is so strong that it can sustain with little or no injury shocks which would be fatal to weaker or more effete constitutions. In the United States freedom of discussion is the safety-valve through which a great deal of superfluous political steam escapes. Americans have political sagacity enough to distinguish sharply between intemperate or even revolutionary speech and rebellious action. They have unbounded toleration for the one, but have never shown any great patience of the other. We do not doubt if they have to deal with any dangerous form of communism, they will deal with it effectively. The social fabric of the United States is as capable of successfully resisting such an attack as that of any state in the world." The toleration that is manifested in the discussion of the theory would give place to energy, if any attempt were made to put the doctrine in operation.

Speaking of Winnie Ream's marriage, the Chicago Tribune says: "She has honey-fugled congressmen until she has acquired fame, fortune, and a husband." The dictionary gives no enlightenment as to the meaning of "honey-fugled," but it is our impression that the word is libelous, decidedly libelous; and, besides, we do not believe it true.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, May 30th, 1878.

EDITOR STATESMAN:—A few words will give the present standing of the investigation resolution. The committee has resolved to meet with closed doors, against what seems to be a good policy, but some democrats and some republicans were favorable to such a course. Mr. Potter has written a very strong letter, justifying the investigation and plainly intimating that if it shall be found that Mr. Hayes received his office through fraud, it will be the duty of congress to provide means by which his title may be tried in the courts. On the other hand Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, Buckner and Harrison protest with great feeling that, whatever the investigation may show, the title of Mr. Hayes is perfect and must not be disturbed. P. M. Gen. Key, too, takes that view, and has written an open letter to the southern people on the subject. Messrs. Key, Stephens and the others mentioned, and many influential democratic senators, believe that Mr. Hayes was not elected, but that the action of the electoral commission in seating him settled the question finally. Beyond question this subject will be discussed thoroughly during the next few months.

On the question of adjournment the democratic house caucus yesterday took action indicating that the day heretofore fixed by the senate, June 10th, was too early. Consideration of the subject was postponed until June 8th. In the meantime the appropriation bills can be got out of the way, the houses can unite on the 10th. But there seems little prospect of that. The appropriation bills are now situated as follows: The Indian, naval, fortification and deficiency bills have passed both houses and been approved; the pension, military academy, and consular bills are in conference between the two houses, having been amended extravagantly by the senate; the army bill, the river and harbor seven million omnium, and the legislative, judicial and executive bills are before the senate, having passed the house; the regular deficiency bill and sundry civil bills have passed neither house. The postoffice bill has passed both houses and will go to conference committee. On every one of these bills the democratic house is pledged to a reduction of expenses, and the senate to a maintenance of the existing extravagant rates. In view of this it would seem that June 10th is too early a day for adjournment. It is in the haste of the last few days of a session that jobs and favors get undiscovered into legislation.

The senate yesterday passed the house bill prohibiting further contraction of the volume of legal tenders. This is thought to be the end of financial legislation for the session.

The bankrupt act is repealed. The house yesterday adopted all the senate amendments and on the first of September the United States will cease to hold control of the affairs of bankrupts. The act, as enforced, has been oppressive, wasteful and corrupting. It has robbed tens of thousands of debtors and creditors that a few officials might be made rich.

Many people think that newspapers are dear; that four cents a week for food for the brain is too extravagant; but a glass of whisky is manufactured from about seventeen grains of corn, the value of which is too small to be estimated. A glass of this mixture sells for a dime, and if a good brand, is considered worth the money. It is drunk in a minute or two. It fires the brain, deranges and weakens the system. On the same sideboards on which the deleterious beverage is served lies a newspaper. It is covered with a half a million of type—it brings intelligence from the four quarters of the globe. The papers cost less than the glass of grog, but it is not less true that there is a large number of people who think corn juice cheap and newspapers dear.—Ez.

A SENSATIONAL paragraph appears among the latest batch of telegrams from Washington to the effect that Ben Butler is devoting his evenings to the preparation of articles of impeachment against Hayes. While the STATESMAN does not believe the report has any foundation in fact, still it is of the opinion that Benjamin is, like Barkis, willing, and would jump at any chance to deal the "man from Ohio" a death blow. Old Ben may be wicked, but, in point of brains, is the peer of any man in congress.

PEACE CONGRESS assembled in Berlin on the 11th, and was presided over by Bismarck, who submitted his memorandum of points of the subjects to be treated directly by the congress. In the evening, a state banquet was given at the castle to the plenipotentiaries. It is thought that the congress will conclude its labors in about two weeks.

SOLDIERS DROWNED.—Says the Oregonian: J. A. Sladen, acting assistant adjutant general of this department, received a dispatch from Captain Throckmorton stating that while Company M, 4th Artillery, were coming up the Columbia Monday evening on board the tug boat Gen. Canby, three enlisted men fell overboard and were drowned.

Miscellaneous Items.

Gen. James Shields may go to the senate from Missouri.

A negro, who used to be a slave, edits the leading democratic organ in Galveston, Texas.

In the senate, the appropriation for the canal at the Cascades was increased from $75,000 to $200,000.

The latest Southern outrage comes from Washington. Two hundred colored men of that city have determined to go to Brazil to work on a railway.

Advertisement in a Washington paper: "A lady possessing youth, beauty, intelligence and refinement, desires to form the acquaintance of some senator or member with influence enough to restore her to office."

An aristocratic coachman of San Francisco was signalled by a policeman to turn out or halt for an old lady and little girl, but he brushed against the policeman, and was therefore arrested. The policeman was suspended and the case dismissed.

One of the marvels of this age of immigration and enterprise is the rapid settlement of the Yellowstone valley. At the point on Tongue river where Gen. Miles was encamped 1876 there is now a town with a population of nearly one thousand. The battle fields of Custer are occupied by farmers, and the country from which Sitting Bull was driven is in peaceful possession of the pioneers of civilization, against which such tremendous tragedies count as nothing.

Chicago fears trouble with her communists, who have established headquarters, purchased arms and are drilling. At any rate, the city authorities believe it is well to be prepared for the worst, and have provided a battery of six guns, organized four companies of cavalry, laid in a lot of small arms with ammunition, and established an armory in the exposition building, with a view to active military operations should the emergency so require.

A San Francisco paper has received a letter from a soldier in Idaho stating that he wishes to secure a wife. "My time," says this man, "is nearly out, and I intend to settle in this country. I intend starting a chicken ranch. I want a wife to take care of young chickens. I have got money. My wife will not have much to do—only milk nine cows, feed 600 young chickens, chop her firewood, cook three meals every day, and the rest of her time she can go out among the neighbors."

Says the Astorian: "Another batch of quacks from San Francisco are noted in the Telegram as having arrived at Portland. The Telegram gives them the benefit of a free advertisement, with head-lines as follows: "Quackery and deception;" "A Pesticiferous Class of Pretended Esculapeans which Infests this City;" "Egotism and Ignorance;" "Driven from San Francisco, they Seek Refuge in Oregon.—A Subject for the Legislature." These fellows are greatly surprised to find that the press of this Web-foot state cannot be bought up with long-winded advertisements, on "promises to pay," as is done in California."
