"Without Change of Hope."

Days when I lived a happy maid, When we three little sisters played, Bright days that knew no touch of shade Bright days that knew no touch of shade Come back, ye days, or ever I From out the rose grown balcony Had looked upon him passing by, And burned with unbidden flame, That made me shudder at his name, Flush at his praise; nor brook his blame I loved him all my girlhood through. Across my soul his presence grew; Through thought of him each though! Through thought of him each though! I do fhim I dreamed; my dreams were sweet in dreams we ever seemed in meat, waxing I listened for his feet.

At length he came, we worth the day! woded Margaret, and bore away, Pledged to be his own for aye.

All slowly now my hours crept,

All slowly now my hours crept, And yet I mourned not, neither wept; Within myself my grief I kept. I lived, my lot was very hard, From him I loved forever barred, Loving unloved my life was marred; I kept no count of that dull time; My beauty faded from its prime Aud then (O God forgive the crime),

Despairing evermore, I said,
"I would that Margaret were dead!"
She died; my prayer was answered.
He came, I saw him yet again,
I strove to win him, all in vain;
Edith be choose—it turned my brain. Edith is his; my blackest spell Can work them naught but what is well; For me, I live in present bell. There is what time I would repent But all in vain my knees are bent Ah me! my day of grace is spent. I see the dreaded shadow come, But know not horror of the tomb---I feel my everlasting doom.

There is a Reaper, whose name is Death, And with his sickle keen, He reaps the the bearded in a breath, And the flowers that grow between. "Shall I have nougth that is fair!" saith be, "Have nought but the bearded grain! Though the breath of those flowers is sweet to I will give them all back again."

He gazed at the flowers with tearful eyes; He kissed their drooping leaves;
He kissed their drooping leaves;
twas for the Lord of Paradise,
He bound them in his sheaves.
My Lord has need of these flowerets gay,"
The Reaper said and smiled,
Dear tokens of the rarth are they,
Where he was once a child."

They shall all bloom in fields of light, Transplanted by my care, and saints upon their garments white, These sacred blossoms wear."

And the mother gave in tears and pain,
The flowers she most did love;
She knew she should find them all again,
In the fields of light above.
O, not in cruelty, not in wrath,
The Reaper came that day;
'Twas an angel visited the green earth,
And took the flowers away.

And took the flowers away.

The Jackals and the Lion.—The so-called "Union Leagues" of New York, like jackals, emboldened by numerical streight, attacked the old lion of the Tribune, whose trail they have hitherto followed, and they expected to have a dinner party over bis acrass; but the lion had not lost bis vigor, as they supposed, and his first roar of defance frightened them all into the brush. Horace Greely has done nothing more for Davis than he would do for any other man whose long imprisonment without trial outraged his sense of right. When first it was reported that he had offered himself as bondsman for Davis, a Western editor who was much excited about it, addressed an indiguant editorial to Greeley and asked if it were possible that he (Greeley) could do such a thing. "Yes," replied Greeley, "and I would offer to bail you or any other ragabond who might be confined in prison and decide a trial under the laws of your country." The historian who relates how such men as Greeley, Ward Beecher, and Gerrit Smith, were denounced as crazy radicals yesterday, and condemned to-day for not being radical enough, will find apt comparisons in the incidents of warfare, wherein officers wo supported the courage of their troops during the heat of the battle, lost their authority in the hour of victory, and could not restrain sack and pillage. The fact is, Mr. Greeley is inclined to be friend of the negro without being an enemy of the white man. He has the good sense and magnanimity of the soldier who can make peace after the fighting is done; and instead of abusing those whom he has conquered, he prefers winning their friendship and making them his coadjutors. The distinction between Carsar and the Vandals was no less striking than that between Horace Greeley and many of the Union Leaguers of New York, who never cases crowing over victory, nor miss an opportunity to freshen the animosties of strife, and to keep alive the reseminents it engendered. Henry Ward Beecher estimates the consuments is engendered. sentments it engendered. Henry Ward E calls such creatures vermin: -S. F. Call.

How to TREAT BALKY HORSES .have balky horses, it is your fault, and not the horses' for if they do not pull true, there is some cause for it, and if you will remove the cause, the effect will cease. When your horse balks he is excited, and does not know what you want him to do. When he gets what you want him to do. When he gets a little excited stop him five or ten minutes; let him become calm; go to the balky horse, pat him and speak gently to him; and as soon as he is over his excitement, he will, in nine cases out of ten, pull at the word! Whipping and slashing and swearing only make the matter worse. After you have gentled him awhile, and his excitement has cooled down, take him by the bits; turn hin each way a few minutes as far as you can; pull out the tongue, gentle him a little, unrein him, then step before the balky horse and let the other start first; then you can take them anywhere you wish. A balky horse is always high spirited and starts and let the other start first; then you can take them snywhere you wish. A balky horse is always high spirited and starts quick; half the pull is out before the others start too. By close application to this rule, you can make any balky horse pull. If a horse has been badly spoiled, you should hitch him to the empty wagon, and pull it around a while on level ground; then put on a little load and increase it gradually, caressing as before, and in a short time you can have a good work horse.—American Grand Jury Report.

eport of the Grand Jury in the District Court of the First Judicial District of Stevens County, June Term, A. D., 1867.

A BIBULUS INNURNOD.—Some years ago, when the total abstinence excitement was at its hight, and the Maine Liquor I aw was the great social question of the day, I called, with George Kendall, of the New Orlean Picayune, at the office of the brothers Harper, then in Cliff street. George was running his new book on Mexico through their press at the time, and having been acquainted with the Brothers for many years previously, was of course on the most intimate terms with all of them.

James, the Mayor, was at that time a leading aposile in the temperance cause, and used occasionally to raily George upon what he thought to be evidence of an undue bibulous propensity. "Your face looks rather reddist this morning, George; I'm afraid you indulge."

thought to be avidence of an undue bibulous propensity. "Your face looks rather reddish this morning, George; I'm afraid you indulge." Which Keedail certainly did; but always in moderation—never to anything like excess.

After sitting a 'few moments, George said to the youngest brother, Fletcher:
"Fletcher, where's Jim? Where's the Mayor? I want to see him."
"He's in the library room," replied Fletcher, "entertaining a committee of old women from the Martha Washington Temperance Society. They hold a meeting at the Tabernacle to-morrow night, and the Mayor is going to preside."
"Goody said George; "i'll go right in and see him. Come, Clark," added Kendall, "let us see how the city's Chief Magistrate looks in council."
George rapped at the door.

George rapped at the door.

"Come in." answered the Mayor.

Kendall opened the door slowly, as if in hesitation, glanced askance at the eight or ten old women, winked knowingity at the Mayor, and then said, with an laimitable mandlin Jimmy

A LADY SPECULATOR.—A lady in the southern part of Illinois, having a few hundred dollars, concluded to try her fortune speculating in wheat. She wrote accordingly to a prominent commission house in Chicago, engaging them to act as her agents, and ordering them to invest the entire sum in that treacherous staple. In a short time, contrary to all expectation, it went up to a surprising figure, and the fair speculator sold out at a great advance. Shortly after she again telegraphied her agents to purchase a large amount, but they replied in the same manner that the market was very much depressed, and that they would not advise her to buy. For answer she repeated her order, and by the late advance in prices has been enabled to have $40,000 placed to her credit!

We clip the following items from the Post: HIGHLAND GULCH-MINES AND MINING.

At present but little is being done in the way of mining, on account of the late snow storms, which have lasted about two weeks. Previous to that time, however, we had about two weeks of moderately good weather, considering the locality, and the minors made good use of the time allotted them, as the following results will show: Hiffner & McCan, I understand from reliable authority, are taking out from $1,000 to $1,500 per day to the set of shiper (two per act has been set of shiper (two per act has larger). taking out from $1,000 to $1,500 per day to one set of sluicer (two men on the bed-rock) on the Main gulch. Green Campbell, our worthy, friend and energotic prospector, is taking it out on a large scale on Horse gulch, a tributary of Highland. The general average is from $400 to $600 per day, with four men working. Cooley & Co., on Dry gulch, an other tributary of Highland, made a run of upwards of $1000, about ten days ago, with three set ef sluices; the general average is from $600 to $800 per day. The celebrated Mansfield claim has not been opened yet this spring, but when it is we exopened yet this spring, but when it is we ex-pect to hear of runs that will surpass all oth-ers within the limits of this district. Goo ers within the limits of this district. Geo. Carmony & Co., on the lower part of the main gulch, are taking out from $100 to $200 a day to five men. Lewis & Marshal, still lower down, are washing up dirt that was drifted out last winter; the average yield is from $100 to $200 per day, four men working. With the evidence before me, then, and taking everything into consideration, I readily conclude that our camp is not only rich in its mineral resources, but also a permanent and lasting one. At some future manent and lasting one. At some future time, I will probably have something to say about quartz in this vicinity.

NUGGETS ON THE BRAIN. Nuggets have been the exciting topic o Auggets have been the exciting topic of conversation for some time past, and the man who is not the possessor of one is considered something of a "bilk," especially when in the presence of "ye ladies." The largest one found was "gobbled up" by our friend Major Packard, one of the defeated candidates at the late election, weighing $347. Another one found by Green Campbell weighed $200, and still another found bell weighed $200, and still another fou by John Harrington, weighing $289. Several more of lesser magnitude have been found, weighing from $50 to $109. We think, then, from the indications that are visible that we are undoubtedly in a country of coarse gold.

A GREAT NUISANCE.

For a long time the good people of this camp have been annoyed by a lew unruly "shoulder strikers" jumping mining claims, taking fighting interests, etc., which invariably results in the calling out of "ye honest miners" to settle the controversy.

The mill was stopped last fall, and in military terms, "dismantled," the batteries remaining in position, but spiked by the absent partners. Mr. Cope took hold of it in the face of the most discouraging circumstances; 'developed the several leads of the company to a depth of from 35 to 200 feet; employing from 30 to 40 men; spent $5,000 on machinery, tools, etc., and cleared a nice margin besides. The following names and figures indicate the leads, depth of shaft, width of pay crevice and yield per ton on the leads crushed from: Poney, 200 feet, 18 inch crevice, $40. Professor Ward's Company are pushing forward the work on their mill buildings with forty men employed. The building will be of stone, 40x70 feet, and will be ready for the 15 stamp California mill and Wheeler pans, expected here by the seventh of July. This company have a shaft on the Old Mortality, 160 feet deep, with a 24 inch any crevice. They have not yet rushed any crevice. They have not yet crushed any of the roak, but it is of the same character as the Poney, and it is believed, will yield the same. A rich strike has been made in coppu ore, near Beaver Town, on the Prickly Pea in the guich known as "Copper Gulch, Flakes of pure copper were nanned or the in the gulch known as "Copper Gulch." Flakes of pure copper were panned out in this gulch last summer, by some parties who were prospecting in the neighborhood. On their representations a stampede took place and the gulch was staked off. Two companies were organized—the "Superior" and "Copper"—for the purpose of more thoroughly testing the gulch, and more or less work has been done on it for over a year. Last Friday, the efforts of one party were crowned with complete success. They had started a tunnel into the hill, and after running it a distance of twenty-four feet, they struck into what has proven to be an almost solid lead of copper. There is apparently no quartz whatever, and the native copper is no quartz whatever, and the native copper is intermixed to a certain extent with washed gravel, the copper having the appearance of having run into the ground in a melted state and massed togother. We do not know the extent of the lead, or what its general appearance is, but will be able to lay the particulars before our readers in a few days. Sould the incredulous wish to satisfy themselfes they can do so by calling at the office of Cavanaugh & Chadwick, where specimens of the rock are on exhibition.

A BRICK AS IS A BRICK.

We saw on Tuesday last, in the assay office of Bohm and Molitor, a gold bar weighing 336 ounces, 16 grains, of the fineness 845, and valued at $5,697 61. This bar and a similar one is the property of a ranchman, and the result of the past two summers work. The miners who can show as good a return for the last two summers are few and far between.

Lamp Explosion.—A Preventive.

Lamp Explosion.—A Preventive.

It has been stated by a gentleman, who says he has kept a strict record, that since the year 1860 over 600 lives have been lost and $6,000,000 worth of property destroyed by accidents from the use of burning fluids. Whether this estimate is over or under the truth, may never be known; but quite enough is known to assure us that lamp explosions are fearful source of loss of life and property. Moreover, such accidents are becoming more frequent instead of less so. The latter fact is probably attributable to a greater extent of adulteration of petroleum burning oils than was formerly practiced. It is well known that many dealers in kerorene increase the volume of the more expensive and heavier oils, which are inexplosive, with the lighter and cheaper oils, which it is impossible to burn by themselves in ordinary kerosene lamps. When such oils are mixed, the lighter oil is nearly or ontite as easily converged into a perchainer. which it is impossible to burn on the in ordinary kerosene lamps. When such in ordinary kerosene lamps. When such oils are mixed, the lighter oil is nearly or oasily converted into an explosive oils are mixed, the lighter oil is nearly or quite as easily converted into an explosive vapor from the mixture as when it is subjected to the same degree of heat unmixed with heavy oils. It is difficult for the consumer to protect himself from such danger, our adulterations, although there are modes of detecting such mixtures easily applied in the laboratory. Kerosene should be purchased only of well known and responsible dealers, and by all means care should be taken to avoid irresponsible grocers or oil dealers, especially such as you may think dealers, especially such as you may think are sufficiently advanced in wickedness as to adulterate an article of this kind, or sell that which another has tampered with.

that which another has tampered with.

CAUSES OF EXPLOSIONS.

It is so difficult, at the present time, to obtain an inexplosive oil, that the only safe way is to use your oil at all times as though you knew it to be explosive; for by employing a little care and judgment you can use quite a dangerous oil with comparative safety. In the first place, never use a lamp for kerosene with an "air hole," after the manner of the old sperm lamps. Such lamps are especially dangerous. If you have such a lamp, have the air-hole soldered up immediately. Neither allow any opening to be left in soldering in the tuke, as is sometimes done. The tube should be put in perfectly tight. The air will pass down by the side of the wick fast enough to fill the vacuum created by the diminution of the oil vacuum created by the diminution of the on in burning.

In putting out your lamp, never turn it down suddenly—in fact, it should never be turned down at all, as we will hereafter show. By turning the wick down rapidly, you are liable to force upward a sufficient you are liable to force upward a sufficient quantity of explosive gas, which is almost always contained in the vacant part of the reservoir, to produce an explosion. Explosions most generally occur at the instant of turning down the wick to extinguish the light, or by blowing down the chimney to aid in extunguishing it—the first from the cause already given; the second from blowing the blaze down into the reservoir, which is almost always (after a lamp has been burning any length of time) filled with a gas, ready to explode with the slightest contact of flame. If it is necessary to blow at all, always blow from beneath the chimony—never into it. Never fill a kerosene Never fill a kerosene ney-never into it. Never lawp while it is burning.

A CONFESSION.—A French newspaper recently published a curious confession, which the late Eugene Sue made to one of his friends: "At the battle of Navarino, the French officers ran published a curious confession, which the late Eugene Sue made to one of his friends: "At the battle of Navarioo, the French officers ran forward on a plank thrown from one ship to another, so as to form a sort of gasgway. Mahmoud was the name of the Turkish ressel. As Aide-Major, I followed the officers with an axe in my hand. Powder and the roar of the cannon had made a madman of me. I belabored, right and left, the poor wretches who raised their hands to signify quarter. Out upon it! I gave them my axe on their heads, on their faces, on their breasts; on men standing and fighting, and on men fallen on the deck. I gave them my axe without rhyme or reason, without giving a thought to the subject, hitting right and left. I buried my axe in the dead, in the wounded, in the prisouers, in doors, in hammocke, nettings, shrouds, masts, cabin windows, in agro boy, a Maccdonian dog, a barrel of sardines. I wielded my axe with fury. I clearrored with rapture. There is not a day, there is not a night, I do not think with poignant remorse of the crimes of those two hours. I have bated war ever since the evening of that sanguinary day. The flat, tame shore of Navarino had that evening become a pandemonium from the number of corpses and limbs that bestreved it."

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1867.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION .- It will be seen from the report, that the Mayor and City-Council have taken the preliminary steps looking towards a celebration of the ever glorious Fourth. The time for preparation is rather brief, but with proper exertion, we believe that arrangements can be made for a celebration that will speak well for the patriotism of our people. We understand that the committee, consisting of Messrs. Kohlhauff, Brown, Colman, Barrett and Frank, will wait upon our citizens on tomorrow (Saturday,) and receive contributions to be expended in making the necessary preparations for the celebration. We learn that it is intended that the celebration shall include a procession, the reading of the Des claration, delivery of an oration, and a collation. A cordial invitation will be extended to our friends in the country to unite with us in honoring the natal day of American Independence. We notice that all the towns on the coast are making preparations for a glorious celebration of the Fourth, and it becomes Walla Walla not to lag behind her sister communities in this regard. Let the preparations for the celebration be as extensive as the time and circumstances will admit, and let an effort be made to secure the attendance of every man, woman and child in the Valley. Every true patriot should over the mountains. The toll charged for pas make it a point to give his aid and influence in making this the celebration of all celebrations of the glorious Fourth. Although we live on the outskirts of "Uncle Sam's preemption," and the paucity of our population debars us the privilege of participating in the National Council, still we are a part and parcel of the great brotherhood, and are heirs in expectancy of one day inheriting our share in the profits and honors of the great house of the United States. Let us bear in mind that very few of us were born. reared and reached the age of manhood on the soil we now occupy. Then, let us manis fest onr sympathy for the States and people from whom we sprung, and by our action on the coming Fourth prove to the world that we still love our old homes, though they line the Atlantic coast from Maine to Texas.

Y., on the 4th. Hiscock was Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House during the last session of the N. Y. Legis. lature, and Cole had always regarded him best friend, but in an evil hour he brought shame ard dishonor upon Cole's innocent wife and children. Another Sickles' case, to result in a verdict, "Served him right!"

Mr. R. Jacobs kindly permits us to make the following extracts from a private letter which contains much of interest in relation to the Lembi mining district. The writer, in describe ing his trip to the mines, says: "We started up the Malad, and found the road very good (but grass very poor) until we came to the Camas Prairie road, where you leave Wood river; the bed so that we had to go upon the top of the Birch creek. We lost one mule on the way, the balance of the train stood the trip very well. I write you from Lembi City. This town is situa-ted at the junction of Lembi and Salmon rivers, on the south side of the latter, is 20 miles dis-tant from old Fort Lembi, and about 125 miles from where you first strike Birch creek. The distance from Boise City, by the route we trave eled, is about 375 miles. This town bears the same relation to the mines that Boise city does to the Basin, with the exception that this is as cable wagon road made over the mountains and from what I have seen and heard, think this opinion is correct. Such being the case, Lembi city is evidently destined to become an important point; that is provided the mines amount to anything. The town is building up rapidly, the only drawback being the scarcity of building material. Several stores are already open and appear to be doing a thriving busi-ness. I have already engaged to sell out my stock of bacon at 50 cents per lb. The next day after my arrival here, I went over to Leesburg, by the way. I found a snow trail shoveled out sing over this trail was $1.50 each for animals, and fifty cents for footmen. The snow in places was from 6 to 8 feet deep, but in the Rasin is had nearly all disappeared. Leesburg is the only town in the diggings, although they call one portion of it Grantsville. The town com prises one street, about as long as Main street, Bolse City, and is built almost solid on both sides. There is scarcely a bouse in the place completed, and yet you cannot rent a building, unless it is where there is no business. Not house in five is occupied, but instead of renting the owners prefer to sell, and ask for a shell of a log house, not half finished, from three to four thousand dollars. If they rent, they ask from $250 to $300 per month for indifferent buildings. There are but few stores at Leesburg yet, the chances are that the place will be badly overdone. At present there is scarcely a dollar in money, except what is taken in by new comthe mining claims are not yet opened. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, both merchants and miners have great confidence in the future prosperity of the camp. A few more weeks will on credit. Bacon retails at from 75 to 80 cents coffee 70 cents; S. F. crushed sugar, 60 to 65 cents; shovels from $5 to $6 each. Goods of all descriptions bring fair prices, with the exception of flour, which is selling at Lembi City at $10 @ $12 per bundred, and in the mines at $15 per hundred. There is no crockery in the market at all, a man could get his own price for small invoice, but how long this will last is ard to tell. Nails are very scarce; 4's and 6's are retailing at 75 cents per lb. I presume that with the wagons I met and passed on the road, and those camped around here, there is not less than three hundred from 2 to 6 mule teams, from Salt Lake and Montana, all loaded with supplies of merchandise. There was possibly an equal number of ox-teams, similarly loaded The class of goods they bring does not inter equal number of ox-teams, similarly loaded.

Going back to the mines, my own opinion is hat they are greatly over-estimated, but still the camp will be far more than an average one. Marion Moore tells me he thinks it the best general mining camp in the country, outside of Boise. He is at the head of a company engaged in putting in a bed-rock flume. I find many old acquaintance in the mines; they all have great acquantance in the mines; they all have great confidence in the mines. But I would say to those who are doing well that they had better remain where they are until something more definite is known. I omitted in the proper place to say that liquors are bringing good prices, whiskey from $10 to $12.

THE FLOUR MARKET .- In this week's ssue we give place to a tabular statement, showing the amount of flour shipped from this Valley by river steamers. These figures show the operations of but a few weeks, and by no means indicate the amount of flour freighted from this Valley since the opening of the spring trade. Nearly all of our millers have forwarded large amounts to Roise these figures, flour can be shipped from and Blackfoot, and the mills on the Touchet have sent forward hunnreds of barrels to supply the Lewiston market. The whole amount, if the figures could be ascertained accurately, would foot up twenty thousand barrels. With this large shipment, our mills are still groaning under the weight of flour on hand, and should the demand present, we could readily spare twenty thousand barrels more, and still leave the market well supplied. As showing the extent of the wheat crop last year, we have it on the authority of a gentleman largely engaged in the milling business, that the farmers in this Valley, outside of the mill owners, now hold from eighty to one hundred the bushels of wheat, which they are keeping back in anticipation of an advance in price. The same gentleman computes that had the O. S. N. Cowpany reduced their shipping figures early in the season, Walla Wall Valley would have shipped from fifteen to twenty thousand parrels of flour to the Cali. fornia market. The reduction was certainly a God-send, and the only regret now is that HOX. ALVAN FLANDERS, Delegate to Congress it did not come sooner. "Time works won-clect, arrived at Vancouver on Tuesday last, and was greeted by the firing of cannon and other demonstrations of respect." DALLES, June 18, 1867.

I notice several teams loading up for the John Day country, in this city. The roads are reported as being in good condition, and our merchants calculate upon a healthy trade with that locality. No signs of Indians have been seen on the road for some time, from which it is fair to presume that they have gone South, and joined the bands that are constantly maand joined the bands that are constantly marauding in the Owyhee country. The recent rich discoveries on Olive Creek, together with the other rich mining districts of that country, must necessarily furnish a lively trade. Walla Walla flour and produce will also receive a heavy drainage, and your millers may rest assured that they will have a market for their surplus stock. The trade with Owyhee, by the way of Canyon City, is also in a fair way to find its depot here. I learn that arrangements are being made whereby wagons and pack trains will be placed on this route.

A California journal has a correspondent in Owyhee, who appears to have Humboldt on the brain. Not satisfied with endorsing the Hum-brain. Not satisfied with endorsing the Hum boldt route as everything desirable, he goes step further, and claims that it is the only nat ral route leading from California to the Bois and Blackfoot country. He forgets that by way of the Columbia river there are three different superior to the Humboldt route. Our Califor nia neighbors, much as they strive to wrestle our trade from us, should understand that we bear them no ill-will; if they can compete with our roads, well and good. It is beyond a doubthat with the coming season the "Shoshone' will ply between Old's Ferry and a point beyond Boise City, reducing the land travel from hundred and fifty to two hundred miles. A! ready we have a stage line to Canyon City, which makes the trip through from the Dalles in twenty hours. From that point the stage line can be extended to Old's Ferry, and thence the steamer will land passengers at Boise City in less than eight hours. These arrangement completed, the entire land travel by way of th Columbia river will be made inside of two days When the Humboldt road beats this, it will be time enough to talk about its being the only route to the mines.

NEW DISCOVERY. I was yesterday shown some very rich gold bearing quartz specimens, by a gentleman who The ore very prospected on the Wenatchee. The ore very much resembles the "Home Ticket" ledge of Owyhee, which ranks among the first in that locality. Quite an excitement in regard to the discovery is being manifested, and a number of prominent citizens are afflicted with "quartz on

THE FOURTH.

Great preparations are being made to celebrate in a becoming manner the ever glorious Fourth. At first, it was supposed that no celebration would take place, but the firemen took the mat ter in hand, and the result is that we shall have a creditable celebration.

ACCIDENT. As the Boise stage was descending the De Chutes hill, on Saturday last, on the way to the Dalles, the break gave way, causing the horses to run furiously down the hill, and upsetting the stage. The driver was thrown to the ground, and a passenger, seated inside, was seriously injured. He was brought to this place, where the Stage Company has made every provision for his comfort. SUICIDE. Lewis Ray, residing on Fifteen Mile Creek, in this county, committed suicide on Friday, the 7th, by shooting himself with a pistol: No cause assigned for the act. SALT LAKE TRADE.

There is now sejourning at the Dalles a mer chant from Salt Lake City, for the purpose of purchasing a stock of goods. In conversation with him, I learn that the impression is gaining ground at Salt Lake, that traders will find it to their advantage to ship their merchandise via, the Lolumbia river. Should this be really a fact we may calculate upon a healthy trade from that source. PRUIT.

Strawberries and cherries are now making their appearance in our market in great profufusion. Fruit of all descriptions is doing finely in the gardens. O. S. Savage, Esq., has the fines orchard at the Dalles. The trees are breaking down with fruit. Peaches particularly are doing excellent, and with another year the importation in that line will be stopped.

SENTENCED.—It is a remarkable fact that but few printers are ever to be found within the walls of a penieutiary. Occasionally one gets to Congress, or in a legislative body, and we notice that Mr. W. H. Newell, editor of the Walla Walla Stateman, has been sentenced to serve a term in the Washington Territory Council. He has our sympathies. Newell isn't, really, a bad man—like all persons be has his faults, but yet there is something in his character redeeming. We hope he may survive his time, and in the end again be of service to his readers. He closes effer the campaign with a good lecture upon the evils of seeking effice. Thinks that editors, especially, should avoid it.—Oregon City Enterprise.

Here's our band, friend Ireland. Take our vice, and never run for of newspaper is anything but pleasant, but when to touch upon the lowest depths of misery. We've tried it, and found "Jordan a hard road to travel."

LEMHI MINES.—Elsewhere we give place to an interesting letter from the Lemhi mines. Later accounts seem to indicate that the mines will not realize expectations although even the most dissatisfied admi that the diggings will pay from $6 to $8 to the hand. A few more weeks will definitely settle the character of the mines.

CONTEMPTIBLE. - The Boise Statesman publis a letter which purports to give a description of the avowed author-a young man named Tracy as an unmitigated liar. The fellow is evident ly ambitious of notoriety, and is in a fair way to receive an application of cow-hide.

Indignant .- Two negroes were bung by mob, at Wyandotte, Kansas, on the 13th. ator Wade arrived there the same day, and re-fused to address the people who participated in the outrage.

greatly exercised about Walla Walla politica.

SURBATT.—At last accounts, Surratt's trial was progressing at Wasbington. Great difficulty was experienced in securing a jury.

ERITOR STATESMAN :- Petty jealo in this country, notwithstanding the pressing times; it is to be seen in various ways. It is plainly visible in the efforts that are being made to favor some particular ferry or bridge, or som particular road leading to one or the other. A little past experience, plainly told, may not be amiss in this regard: A few years ago our citizens were told to come out to the tune of $5,000, and we were promised that we should have established (for our especial benefit, a good and everlasting road, whereby we were to reap in-calculable advantages in this locality), in the direction of the Boise Basin. Well, we did come out; a road was built which was called and known as the Linkton road. The road lasted one or two seasons and was then suffered to go nnused, and is now reckoned among the thin worked out by private enterprise. That ros eclipsed all the roads, and is now the road Much money and labor have been spent in othe directions, which is all now to no purpose. Our citizens have been called on to aid a good many enterprises. So often has this been the Mr. A. says, give me $500 and I will guarantee a good road in the direction of Blackfoot; provided you will agree to run the road hy my ferry or my bridge, as the case may be. Mr. B says, now give me $1,000, and I will guarantee a good road for 150 miles in the direction of Fort Ben-ton; a good stage road or anything else that may be desired. Mr. C comes up and says, if Walla Walla will only contribute something I will make just such a road as the country stands in need of What security have we that a road, no matter a what cost it may be made, will last one year. I have noticed that private enterprise does all work of this kind better and more satisfactorily work of this kind better and more satisfactorily for the public. Now if any man, or set of men, have a ferry or bridge they want to grow into public favor, the better way is to go to work and make a good road; that man or set of men may expect some favors at the hands of the public, whenever they show by their actions that they are deserving of patronage. We were all to be made suddenly rich when the Linkton road should have been completed. Now let me.ask, in all candor, have we not been "bilked" often enough already? Mr. So and So, sars that our salvation depends

Mr. So and So, says that our salvation depends Mr. So and So, says that our salvation depends upon some endeavors being made that will secure for us our portion of the Blackfoot trade. It is true, we need one good road in that direction; but to expect our people to be taxed to do this, is preposterous. A little well directed energy on the part of the ferrymen interested, will enhance the interests of those who show by their public acts, that they are in earnest. When the public see exhibited some signs of life, they appreciate it, and are willing to respond. A man who does not help himself, cannot and ought not to be aided by the public. Now if we are to build up all the ferries and bridges by making roads to them leading out from Walla Walla, we had better sell out; the scoper the better. Such is the opinion of A WELL WISHER.

POSTMASTER, WALLA WALLA:—A man calling bimself G. W. Bruce, but from papers found in bis possession presumed to be Geo. W. Bowers, and formerly of your place, died at my house, on the morning of the 6th of this month. He had been boarding with me and working at the carpenter's trade about two months, was taken sick with peaumonia, and died after an illness of elevan days. I wish you would cause a notice of his death to be published in your lost paper, as I am of the opinion that in 1866, he had a wife in that part of the country, and may also have had children. I come to this conclusion from finding a divorce notice, and a curl of what I think a child's hair among his papers.

THE TERRITORY OF WYOMING .- The new Territory of Wyoming is described as bounded on the west by the Rocky Mountains, orth by the Territory of Montana, east by Nebraska, and south by Colorado. The re-Nebraska, and south by Colorado. Inc re-sources of Wyoning are yet undeveloped; but enough is known of its immense deposits of gold, silver, copper and coal to warrant us in saying that within one year from this time it will possess a population equal to Montana. The veins of coal alone will sup-ply the Pacific Railroud with fuel for ages to come. These veins are already being worked in Colorado. At Bowlder City, north of Deover, there are five veins of a north of Denver, there are five veins of a superior quality of coal, the largest being fifteen and the smallest five feet thick. At the crossing of the North Platte there is a coal strata among the rocks on the north side of the river. The other precious metals will be found equally rich. This Territory is bound to be settled up with a thriving population.

Another partial clean up of the claim was had last Saturday, after a run of three days, and a trifle over $800 was gathered. The claim has not been worked before this season because water could not be ebtained. But now the aumnit Ditch, built by Mr. Channell, which tops the high divide between here and Centerville, and which courses atmost at the head of Baboon gulch, yields not only a sufficient supply for Channell's ground, but also furnishes water to a half dozen parties below, and for a mile or two along the stage road.—

Council Proceedings—June 19, 1867.
Council met pursuant to call. Present—Mayor McAuliff. Councilmen, Winesst, Reese, Kohlhauff and Brown. The Mayor stated that the object in calling a special meeting was for the purpose of makine some arrangement for the celebration of our National holiday.

On motion, Messrs. Kohlhauff and Brown wers appointed on the part of the Council to set with Messrs. Barrett, Coleman and Frank, as a special committee to raise a subscription to defray the secessary expenses for the celebration of the 4th of July, 1867.

On motion, the matter of an appropriation from the city treasury, was deferred until aux regular meeting.

TROMAS J. HOLMES IS DRAD.—At a late hope last sight the news went through the city like an electric shock, that Mayor Holmes was deal. Incredulous to the truth of a report so unlooked for, we heatened to his house and fopad blae cold and stiff in death. In the full flush of appared mature manhood, in the full flush of appared robust health, he was stricken down without a strong, by apoplexy, and without a struggle, at about 10½ relief almost without a struggle, at about 10½ of clock. On Monday he was, re-elected Mayor of clock (On Monday he was, re-elected Mayor of the city, and on the same evening he addressed his fall low-citizens in a speech marked by his fall ow-citizens in a speech marked his fall ow-citizens in a speech marked particle of field, and now he is dead.—Bortland Merald.

EASTERN MAIL CUT OFF. - From the Salt Lake BASTERN MAIL CUT OPF.—From the Salt Lake papers and by private sources, we gather sub-information as leads no to believe the Overhead mail service is cut off by the Indians now warring against the whites east of Salt Lake, all over the Plains. They have undoubtedly take full passession of the country, and will hold the road until driven off. The mail, express, take telegraph will be cut off across the conincel, and the only means of communication with the East will be by way of San Francisco and New York, per ocean stramers.—Idaho World.

Terrible Accident.—We learn that Mr. Cor. of Salem, while out riding, on Sundar, when wounted for some cause. He had his hand on the back of the horse, when the animal kicked, striking him in the jaw, breaking it in two places. His skull is reported to be fractused assessment was queekly readered, and everything done to relieve the unfortunate sufferer. No hopes are extertained for him to covery.—Portland Herald.

Citizens' Meeting.

The citizens of Walla Walla are requested to meet at the Court House, on to-merrow (Safurday) eresing, as $\frac{1}{2}$ o'clock, for the purpose of making arrangements for the celebration of the Fourth of July. A general invitation is extended.

By request of Many Citizens,

Special Syssion. — Eastern dispatches state that the President will call a special session of Congress, to convene in August. Rather doubt-

CONTESTED ELECTION.—We understand that H. M. Hodgis, late democratic candidate for Sheril, contests the election of A. Seitel, on the ground of fraud. It is alleged that a number of illegal votes were cast for Mr. Seitel, which, if deducted, will give the office to the contestant.

INFORMATION WANTED .- The mother of Philip McKernan, living at Waterloo, Jackson county Michigan, desires to hear from her son. Should this meet his eye, he is earnestly requested to write to his mother, care of John Byrns, Waterloo, Jackson county, Michigan. Idaho exchanges please copy.

Daily Record.—We have received several ion of which has just been commenced at Salem Oregon. D. W. Craig, an old typo, and a gentle-man of much experience in the newspaper busthe Record abundant success.

FLANDERS ELECTED.—The excitement is over, and we are going on in our steady way. "Tis our advice to form in a steady line, and go straight and steady to N. & E. Brown's, for they, on the look-out for the appreaching warm season selected the best and most fashionable stock in the market, and assure us that they sell at the very lowest prices.

CAMP MEETING .- A camp meeting was commenced in Stetson's grove, on the Tum-a-Lum, n vesterday, (Thursday), which was well attended. The meeting is still in progress, and is ex-pected to continue until after Sunday. Rev. I. Dillon, Rev. J. L. Reser, Rev. J. G. Deardorff, Dillon, Rev. J. Reser, Rev. J. G. Demorr, and Rev. Mr. Paul are the officiating cleryymen. Con iderable interest in the subject of religion has been awakened in this valley within the last few months, and this meeting is expected to be productive of great good.

SHOOTING AFFRAY .- On Saturday afternoon last, Mr. Elihu Ward, while on his way ome, near the foot of the mountains, got into a difficulty with a neighbor named Robert Bean, which resulted in the latter drawing a pistol and shooting Ward through his left arm, near the shoulder. The ball shattered the bones of the arm, and caused a very dang rous wound. Mr. Bean subsequently gave himself up, and after a hearing before Justice Lacy, was held to bail in the sum of $1,000, for his appearance at the next term of the District Court. The wounded can, at last accounts, was doing well, and is to a fair way to recover.

COUNTY OFFICERS.—All the newly clee

ted county officers have qualified and entered on the discharge of their duties. We give the names and offices : - Anditor, J. II Blewett; Sheriff, A. Seitel; Treasurer, J. D. Cook; Probate Judge, H. M. Chase; School Superintendent, C. Eells; Assessor, C. Ireland; Surveyor, W. L. Geston; Corener, Dr. Goolwin; County Commissioners, S. M. Wait, A. H. Reynolds, and W. T. Baines. Of these officers Messrs, Blewett, Chase, Ireland, Gaston, Goodwin and Barnes were elected on the regular democratic ticket. Mess's Cook, Eells, Wait, and Reynolds were the regular republican nominees. Mr. Sitel was an independent candidate, and received the support of disastisfied democrats and republicans, but mainly owes his dection to personal popularity.

RITZ'S NURSERY .- Those of our citizens who have the leisure, cannot better occupy an hour or two than in a visit to Ritz's Nursery and Fruit Garden. Just at this season the garden is in its glory, and will not suffer by comparison with tropical profusion. In space of ground, not to say exceeding twenty acres, we have an evidence of what can be accomplished by scientific culture. Commencing operations about four years since, on a piece of barren, desolate land, Mr. R. has now in bearing condition, some afteen hundred peach trees, and about an equal proportion of apples, pear and plum trees. The peach crop for this year he estimates at one thousand bushels, for which PORTLAND, - - - - - OREGON, there will be a ready demand. His apple and pear crop will also be very large, and from this source alone he will realise several from this source alone he will realise several thousand dollars. The peach, pear, plum and aple trees are borne down by fruit, and it becomes necessary to cut away freely in order to afford the remaining fruit an opportunity to ripen. In addition to his fruit, Mr. R. has a fine display of ornamental trees and shrubbery, the whole forming little short of a paradisc. To those who have an eye to the beautiful in nature, we advise a visit to Mr. Rirz's Nursery, satisfied that they will be amply repaid for the time thus employed.

A FRIGHTFUL WOUND.—Dr. Listar, of Albany, while assisting in the raising of a school house at that place, on Saturday last, was severely if not family injured through a mistake made by the men attending the derick. The men let the windless go, causing the derick to fall with great force. A wooden pin became disconnected, and with great velocity struck the Doctor under the chin, passing through the tongue and burying itself in the roof of the Doctor's mouth. The wound is not considered positively fatal.—Portland Herald.

On the 16th inst., by Judge Blewett, Mr. W.
MENEPEE and Miss Sarah A. Demaris, all of
