The Noble Farmer.

BY MRS. SIGOURNEY.

"Agriculture is the most healthy, the most useful, the most noble employment of man."—GROSVENOR, WASHINGTON.

And from the battle-crowd, With palms of victor crowned, Fame's chariot music on his ear, From earth's remotest bound—What ruler of a nation's lot In majesty sublime, Returns to rural haunts to watch His ripening wheat fields wave, A blessed gladness in his heart That glory never gave.

Who, mid his acres, broad and green, From conquest's power and pride, For which ambition has no end, In madness strives and died.

There was but one who lived, "North fair Virginia's sky Go find Mount Vernon's sepulcher, And heed its answering sigh."

[From the Sonora Union Democrat.] "We Acknowledge the Corn."

We are subjugated. It took four years to subjugate us. We made a strong resistance—a fish-bone having just been built and furnished with entirely new furniture, is now prepared for the accommodation of the public in a style superior to any other house in the upper country. ## Hon. Edward Bates on Martial Law.

The Hon. Edward Bates, of St. Louis, late Attorney General in the Cabinet of Mr. Lincoln, is publishing a series of communications addressed "to the people of Missouri." We find the first one in the St. Louis Democrat, the Administration organ in that State. Mr. Bates writes in a manly and patriotic style, and talks out plainly and fearlessly. He says in this connection:

"Timid friends have advised me to forbear, and urged me to not expose myself to the obloquy and persecution of an active and truly body of partisans, who have nothing to lose and everything to gain by the projected revolution. They even hinted that armed authority might be invoked to stop my pen. But I rejected that advice—surely no doubt, in kindred, and full of selfish prudence. I learned a better lesson than that in my youth, and in my age I have not departed therefrom—that is, never despair of the republic until the last possible effort in its defense has been made and failed."

In the articles that are to follow, he states he will maintain these propositions:

1. Martial law is not the governing rule over this State. It does not exist here, and all that has been done under that pretense, and contrary to the laws of the land, was and is a personal wrong, and a punishable usurpation.

2. The government of the various sections and districts of this State, by provost marshals, is an unlawful and dangerous anomaly. Provost marshals are strictly military, and incapable of civil functions. They are simply military police officers, neither more nor less.

3. The laws of the land (as found in the Constitution and statutes of the United States and of the State of Missouri) do confer upon the officers of the Government, National and State, all the powers which are necessary to the successful prosecution of the war and the peaceful rule of the country. And any attempt to substitute, in place of the laws, the will of any military officer, is not only an act of disobedience, but is also a dangerous blow struck at the Government's power for good.

4. The Convention now sitting in St. Louis is revolutionary in its origin, in its composition and character, in some of its proceedings already passed, and in others clearly indicated in the course of its action. Instead of being omnipotent, as some extremists claim, it has not a title of power granted by law. And as it has not granted powers and written limitations upon the powers assumed, it cannot have any duties, and may do at its own caprice, anything or nothing. But whatever it has done may do, can carry with it no legal obligation, until ratified by the people or acquiesced in by the State.

Mr. ex-Attorney General Bates writes thus as to Missouri, where they have had internal war, what must be the state of affairs in California and Oregon, where we have had no such thing, but where Provost Marshals and military officers ride over Governor and civil authorities without attempt at hindrance? The Government of a State at peace with all the world, is supposed to be the Chief Magistrate and sworn by his oath of office to see the laws properly and fairly enforced; but so far as our California Governor of to-day is concerned, he is merely second to Gen. McDowell, a non-resident, with no legal authority to interfere or direct our local affairs.—Cal. Express.

METALIC CURRENCY.—The New York Post

thus speaks of the ruling currency of California, which will apply with equal weight to the other Pacific States and Territories:

"But so far as the adherence to a metallic currency is voluntary on the part of the people of California, it strikes us that it is to be warmly commended. The California banks of issue are in the soil, at the gates of the State, the beds of torrents and the quartz rocks. It is natural that the people of California should prefer the nobler currency, when it is so especially their own, and it is a matter of congratulation, if the second term of Lincoln was inaugurated on the second of March 4, 1865, and was murdered April 14, 1865, less than two months after the commencement of the term of office.

Women.—Women ought to be of more importance to society than men, but who does not know that the case is exactly the reverse? How many women do we all know who shrink from society, give their whole time to family duties, bury themselves at home, and seem to be of no other use in the world than to dress their girls for parties, and keep the house in order for their beaux. Of course the children grow up with the idea that mother is of no consequence and don't know the world. They go around for their opinions and spruce all home influence.

Writing.—The following simple process will make lead pencil writing or drawing as indelible as if done with ink: Lay the writing in a shallow dish and pour skinned milk upon it. Any spots not wet with ink may have the milk placed upon them lightly with a feather. When the paper is all wet over with the milk, take it up and let the milk drain off, and whip with the feather the drops that collect on the lower edge. Dry it carefully, and it will be found to be perfectly indelible. It cannot be removed even with India rubber.

DOMESTIC RECIPES BY JOHN BILLINGS.—Tew make watermelons in the old fashioned way—cut them up by moonlight, and eat them in the next lot.

Robbers want few to be boiled whole till they are dead, pour ice cream over them, send for the doctor, eat them before going to bed, tell your friends the next day that you have been threatened with an attack of the rheumatism.

Tew cure hoarseness—plum-kills the goose. Tew cure hoarseness—bathe them in Hostetter's bitters.

In one of the Portsmouth (England) public schools, a boy who was reading the morning lesson from the New Testament, rendered one verse thus: "This is the hair comb; let us kill him!" It should have been, "This is the hair comb; let us kill him!"

A MAN was disparaging Grant, in Sherman's presence, when the latter broke out with: "It won't do, sir; it won't do—Grant is a great general! He stood by me when I was crazy and I stood by him when he was drunk, and now, sir, we stand by each other."

It is a remarkable fact that of all the advocates of dire war in the beginning of our struggle, Greeley, Beecher, Gerrit Smith, and Wendell Phillips, are pleading for a generous condonement of offenses.

Dr. Adams says the reason the world is not reformed is because every man is bent on reforming others, and never thinks of his own ways as in need of mending.

When gentleness and violence play for man's love, the mildest gamester is the readiest winner.

Pretty.—Hope is the dream of those who are awake.

ALWAYS BUSY.—That's right, my lad, you will be something yet. We never knew a smart, active, industrious lad, who did not turn out, as a man, to be something more than a busy body. Better wear out than rust out, is a good proverb, and we rejoice to see you follow it up. We would rather have you than a dozen dozy headed sleepers, inactive youths, who do nothing from morning till night but press the chairs, smoke cigars, and grunt and yawn.

A young fellow once offered to kiss a Quakeress.

"Friend," said she, "thou must not do it."

"Oh, by Jove! but I must," said the youth.

"Well, friend, as thou hast sworn, thou may do it; but thou must not make a practice of it!"

My dear Polly, I am surprised at your taste in wearing another woman's hair on your head," said Mr. Smith to his wife. "My dear Joe, I am equally astonished that you persist in wearing another sheep's wool on your back." Joe let her curls alone.

Many a husband practices a great deal of self-denial, but only on his other self.

My dear Polly, I am surprised at your taste in wearing another woman's hair on your head," said Mr. Smith to his wife. "My dear Joe, I am equally astonished that you persist in wearing another sheep's wool on your back." Joe let her curls alone.

A Glimpse at Reconstruction.—The Sacramento Union's special correspondent at Washington City, writes to that paper as follows concerning the President's efforts at "reconstruction":

Much to the chagrin of those ultralists who have considered that they had a nearer sympathy with their peculiar views in the new President than they had in Lincoln, President Johnson has practically recognized the Pierpont Government, termed by Sumner "the Common Council of Alexandria," as the only legitimate Government of Virginia. Pierpont, under the protection and with the special recognition of the National Administration, shortly goes to Richmond to assume the functions of his office at the capital of the State, lately vacated by the fugitive Extra Billy Smith. This is recognized here as being a practical demonstration of the policy which Johnson has marked out, under the advice of his Cabinet, to pursue toward the remainder of the Southern States. The Pierpont Government was based upon a moiety of the real population of the State of Virginia, but had as its foundation a majority of the loyal voters of that State, and was called into existence to protect and consolidate that loyal element, small as it was. It went Joseph M. Segar, a small pattern of a demagogue, to the Senate, and elected Francis Pierpont, a smaller demagogue than Segar, to the Governorship; but Johnson and his Cabinet, wisely overlooking all minor considerations, have determined that the loyal people of Virginia shall be assisted in their endeavor to preserve a State organization and to rehabilitate the State Government. Pierpont may be an old humpback—I think he is—and his Legislature may be literally "the Common Council of Alexandria," but so long as it bridges over the chasm which would prevail between a State of war and a Government created by a majority of all the people, Pierpont and the Government seem to deserve well at the hands of all people who are loyal to the whole Union and are not specially anxious to sacrifice temporary expediency to an immediate enfranchisement of the negro. To say that the radicals are dismayed and disgusted would but faintly convey an idea of their anger and disappointment; they had hoped that Johnson would sacrifice everything to negro suffrage, but he has signally failed to realize that expectation. Now, what Congress will do with the Senators from Arkansas, Virginia, Louisiana and Tennessee, already elected—one of the Tennessee Senators being Johnson's own son-in-law—the Representatives and Senators yet to be elected from quasi-revolutionary States, yet remains to be seen. Enough is now evident to show that the President will not essentially depart from Lincoln's example.

The same correspondent, alludes to Gen. Sherman's movements, and says of him: "He wears dreadfully about those who have been impugning his motives in making terms with Johnson, and says that he can show that he acted under specific directions from our late lamented President." Now, if Sherman can show what he says he can, it will go far to establish what is asserted over and over again by many democratic and some republican newspapers, that the late President was, on the eve of his assassination, about to issue a proclamation of full pardon to all the rebels of the South. Doubtless Sherman "could a tale unfold" if he would, that would throw some light upon the mysterious movements, now enveloped in a fog, which surrounded the President's last acts.

DEFINES ITS POSITION.—The Washington Standard, since the election, unequivocally defines its position on the negro suffrage question, and opposes it, in a two column article. In conclusion, the Standard says:

"But we believe the Union party stands upon this question precisely where we do. At any rate, we are under no obligations to that party further than principle and the well of the Nation would impel a loyal citizen to go; and we have the satisfaction of knowing that we have done more for the party in this Territory than it has ever done us."

THE WAY OF FREEDOM.—Recruiting has been stopped for some time in the North, while "mustering" very coolly states that the calling of negroes in Kentucky is still going forward! We are at a loss to determine from this, now that the rebellion is admitted by everybody, to be thoroughly-squelched, whether the enlisting of the contraband population is a military necessity, or not? If not a military necessity, then it can only be explained on the ground that the colored troops make the best soldiers, and are consequently to be preferred as regulars in the army. At all events, the mustering out of whites, and the mustering in of negroes, is very complementary to the latter and an insult to the former. The government is too honorable to adopt a thieving, bushwhacking policy, in order to get possession of the slaves in Kentucky, and enlistments would not be made on such grounds.

IMPORTANT.—A dispatch from San Francisco to the Oregonian, June 10, announces the following important news:

Major General McDowell, believing that the present state of the country, now happily settled, now admits of charges against citizens, under military arrest for disloyal practices, being disposed of by the civil, instead of the military authorities, has submitted all cases of that nature to the U. S. District Attorney, for such action as the grand jury may take thereon.

According to this, the trial and punishment of citizens by military courts is at an end on the Pacific coast, and we are to return to the way of peace, law and order. So mote it be.

A new Democratic newspaper is soon to be issued in San Francisco, called "The Examiner." It is to be issued in lieu of the Democratic Press—recently destroyed by a mob. Zach. Montgomery talks of starting his paper again, the "Occidental," provided Gen. McDowell will "permit it." But as "military authority" has been shown of its strength quite recently, by order of the President, of course McDowell's "say" in regard to the re-establishment of presses will amount to nothing.

The Walla Walla Land Case.

The following is the decision of the Secretary of the Interior in the Walla Walla City land case, in which E. H. Barron was plaintiff and the City of Walla Walla defendant. This decision sets this question forever at rest, and the city will at once make the necessary application to enter the land. The decision is directed to Mr. Joseph M. Fletcher, Register of the Land-Office at Vancouver:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, May 28, 1865.

Sir:—The Secretary of the Interior has examined the case wherein an appeal has been taken from your decision of December 24, 1863, adverse to the right of Edmund H. Barron, to enter under the pre-emption laws, the S. W. 1/4 of the S. W. 1/4 of Sec. 20, Township No. 3, N. of Range 30, E. Vancouver District, Washington Territory, and has decided to affirm your action.

It is not deemed necessary to decide whether or not a pre-emption right to the land could have a legal inception prior to the 11th of April, 1850, inasmuch as it is clear that important improvements had been made upon the subdivision and that Barron had no improvements thereon before he filed his declaratory statement.

Under these circumstances he was not authorized by law to include that tract on his pre-emption claim, though his residence had been well established upon an adjoining section.

The papers in the case are now returned. I am, sir, very respectfully, your ob't servant,
(Signed) W. T. OTIS,
Assistant Secretary.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office.

A "GENERAL" SQUEALE.—The following is the substance of a correspondence which lately passed between Generals Sherman and Halleck:

As you will be in Richmond in a few days, allow me to offer you the hospitalities of my house here, where I shall be gratified to receive you and contribute to make your sojourn here agreeable.

SHERMAN TO HALLECK.

Your professed hospitality is respectfully declined. I had hoped to pass through Richmond to the painful necessity of meeting you. Your recent advisory dispatch to the War Department is a sufficient explanation.

HALLECK TO SHERMAN.

I regret your declining my invitation and the unfriendly spirit manifested in your note. If you knew the feeling in Washington, at the War Department, in reference to your agreement with Johnson, you would appreciate the motive of my dispatch to which you refer. Permit me to assure you of my kind feeling toward you personally, and my appreciation of your services.

SHERMAN TO HALLECK.

I think I understand both the circumstances and the men sufficiently well to appreciate the motive of your dispatch. Both you and Stanton sent me warning to beware of assassins. I did not then know that the authors of the warning were themselves the assassins I had to fear.

THE ROUTE TO COEUR D'ALENE.—Mr. Chas. Wilson, in a letter to the Oregonian, says of the Coeur d'Alene mines and the route thither:

"The gold is in round particles and quite heavy. All we obtained is coarse. The bed rock is of granite. If the mines in the basin prove as extensive as I think they will, there will be employment for about 20,000 men. Besides, there is gold in different other places near by.

As regards the route by which these mines may be reached, the most practical way is by the Mullan road from Walla Walla. Parties at Lewiston are contending that it is nearer to take their route. Marking out a road with a pencil, is a different thing from traveling it after it is so made. The trail which leads to the Coeur d'Alene valley and it is out of the question to pass over that valley until September, as there are a great many sloughs in it. So much about the route."

Gen. Halleck is to supersede Gen. McDowell in command of the Pacific Military Department. A late dispatch states that Halleck's transfer was induced because he was getting the rebels into power in Virginia! From this we presume that he is transferred so that he may get the rebels into power on the Pacific coast. There must be some mistake about this transferring arrangement, or at least in the telegraph's version of it, for it seems improbable that the Union authorities at Washington would send a rebel sympathizer to command the Pacific Department. If so, it is pertinent to inquire, "Where are we drifting?"

Celebrations are to take place at a large number of the towns in Oregon and California, on the 4th of July. Quite an effort was made to get up arrangements to celebrate the day at Yreka, in the good old fashioned way, but we notice by a late number of the Union that the celebration is likely to miscarry for the reason that the Loyal Leaguers appointed leaguers all together on the Committees, and were making a strictly partisan thing of it. The Democrats very properly would have, under the circumstances, nothing to do with it, and so the affair is likely to end.

THE FOURTH AT LA GRANDE.—The people of La Grande, have made preparations to celebrate the 4th in grand style. A Procession, Oration, reading of the Declaration, dinner and toasts, is to be the order of the day, to end in the evening with fire-works and a ball. Dr. Brewell, late of Walla Walla, will deliver the oration, and B. P. Bonhaw is to read the Declaration.

AN ERROR.—A short time ago a dispatch to the Oregonian announced the death of W. T. Coleman, a prominent merchant of San Francisco. It turns out that Mr. Coleman is not dead, and that there were even no rumors to that effect in San Francisco at the date of the dispatch. A strange mistake for the telegraph to make.

THE LINKTON ROAD.—The road across the Blue mountains, known as the "Linkton Road," is now said to be in good traveling condition for pack trains. Quite a number of persons have come over the road this week from Grand Ronde valley. There is some snow yet in places on the route, which is an impediment to wagoning over it. Supplies have been sent up by the proprietor of the Summit House, for the accommodation of travelers who pass that way.

SWISS BELL RINGERS.—This celebrated troupe of musicians gave one of their pleasing entertainments at the Masonic Hall, in this place, on Thursday evening. The Hall was well filled and the audience were delighted with the performance. To-night, (Friday) the Company give another entertainment, and those who have not heard their excellent music should not fail to turn out. To-morrow, we believe, they start for the Boise country.

The grain harvest will commence some two weeks later this season than last, so we are told. A considerable quantity of hay has already been made by the farmers of the valley.

Letter from Kootenai.

WILD HORSE CREEK, KOOTENAI MINES, June 1st, 1865.

EDS. STATESMAN.—I arrived here on the 25th ultimo, and agreeably to promise I do, you a few lines. This camp at present presents a very dull appearance, which is undoubtedly caused by the famine which prevailed during the latter part of March and in the month of April. Had there been a sufficiency of provisions in camp to supply the miners until train arrived, the miners might have been at work two months ago.

The claims on the creek are not yet workable and will not be until August, consequently there are a great many idle men in town. The Commissioner, Judge O'Reilly, the Commissioner, has arrived, and entered upon the discharge of his onerous duties. Several cases of disputes about mining claims have been laid before him, and judging from the manner in which he dispatches business, he is bound to become a favorite with the miners. Having made the acquaintance of Judge O'Reilly while en route for this place, I found him as a traveler, a very agreeable and a hospitable gentleman. In his office he is courteous, patient, and never forgets that there are two sides to every case, notwithstanding his predecessor thought and acted to the contrary.

Mining claims are changing hands every day, at prices ranging from five hundred to five thousand dollars. The goods and provision market is overstocked and a very small portion that is to come has yet arrived. The duties have been increased 100 per cent over last year. The following are the rates of duties on staples: Whiskey, $1.50 per gallon and twenty per cent on cost; wholesale liquor license, $50 per quarter, and a retail license for selling liquor $125 per quarter; Tobacco, 30 cts per lb.; Flour, 30 cts per lb.; Bacon, 10 cts per lb.; Tea, 10 cts per lb.; Clothing, 15 per cent; Butter, 30 per cent; duties range from 12 1/2 to 30 per cent.

Messrs. Pendle, Dove & Co.'s large ditch will be completed this week, which will give employment to two or three hundred men more next week. There are now several companies who are taking out from one to two thousand dollars per day. Amongst the largest companies are Robt. Dove & Co., Jacob Fisher & Co., Bart & Co. and Geo. Decker.

New diggings are reported to have been struck on Elk River, some 70 or 80 miles from this place. Several persons are leaving to-day, consequently a stampede is hourly expected, and all hoping to strike a sufficient number of claims. Mr. Doodley, a Government Engineer, is surveying a trail from Fort Hope to this place, with the view of making Fort Hope the base for supplying this camp. He is expected here in two weeks, and a sufficient number of men will be put to work to open this trail with all possible dispatch.

This camp is located snug up to the Rocky Mountains. I can almost throw a stone from my house to the mountains. The large trains are coming in daily, consequently everything is low. Flour has been sold as low as $40 per 100 lbs. Beef is retailing for 25@30 cents. Yours truly, E. H. B.

California News.

San Francisco, June 15.—In accordance with the recent order of Gen. McDowell, the parties under arrest for uttering treasonable sentiments and rejoicing over the assassination of President Lincoln, were turned over to the civil authorities. The names of the parties are: John A. Bledsoe, including the Green Valley secessionists, and 29 more were brought over from Alcatraz this morning. All the parties were to-day brought before Judge Hoffman, when, upon motion of their counsel, seconded by the Attorney General, they were ordered to subscribe to the oath of allegiance and depart in peace.

The firm of Greenwood & Newbater have been indicted by the United States Grand Jury for perjury in making a false statement of the amount of their business affairs to the Internal Revenue Assessor.

The indictment charges them with swearing that their business transactions did not exceed $50,000 per annum, while it is charged that it in reality exceeded $100,000 at the time of making such statements.

A party of Mormons, consisting of nine men, twelve women and 138 children, are expected to arrive from Salt Lake, on Saturday evening, and immediately for the Sandwich Islands. They are the pioneers of the colony that Brigham Young is about establishing there.

John Perry, jr., who for years has been the leading Stock and Exchange Broker in this city, failed to-day for upwards $100,000. His failure is due to heavy losses on mining stocks and greenbacks.

San Francisco, June 16.—The balance of the secession bowlers were brought into the United States District Court and took the oath of allegiance when they were discharged.

The United States steamer outer Saguana leaves this port on Saturday next for the Gulf of Mexico, for the purpose of protecting our interests in those waters.

San Francisco, June 17th.—The agents of the Mexican Republic have placed upon the market in this State, a loan of ten million dollars. The money derived from it is to be expended in defense of Mexican nationality. The loan bears ten per cent interest, and the payment and redemption of the bonds and coupons are secured by the transfer to Samuel Brannan, as trustee of one half of the fiscal proceeds of all the revenues and duties derived from the custom-houses of Mazatlan, Guaymas, Manzanillo, and all ports in the States of Sinaloa, Sonora and Colima.

The New Yorker has made its appearance again under former name and head.

San Francisco, June 19th.—Legal Tenders, 71@72.

The steamer Sierra Nevada, from Victoria, arrived yesterday. The Victoria Colonist has been badly hoaxed with a bogus telegraph report dated Washington, June 9th, purporting that Davis and Breckinridge were tried and convicted on the 8th and sentenced to be hung on the 9th. The report stated that the criminals were brought to the foot of the gallows. The self-proclaimed originator of the hoax was a young man, between which town and Victoria a strong rivalry exists.

New Westminster, June 19.—The work of stringing the wire of the Russian Telegraph Line was commenced to-day in this city. A large force is employed and we will soon be in telegraphic communication with the mining camps of Cariboo and intermediate towns.

CAPITAL OF IDAHO.—The Idaho World, in speaking of the Capital bill, says: "If the Legislature should meet at Boise city, Lewiston will claim that the members are not at the Capital and therefore in all probability will claim that it can do nothing in the premises—not even though its first and only act were to remove the Capital to Boise city. The difficulty appears to be settled by the courts, and unless the Territory is to be involved in an inextricable web of confusion growing from bad to worse, the courts should decide the matter as speedily as possible."

Gov. Gibbs has made the following appointments in the Oregon Infantry: Col. G. B. Curry, Colonel; John M. Drake, Lieut. Colonel; W. V. Ruchler, Major; A. B. Ingram, Captain; Byron Barlow, 1st Lieutenant; Albert Applegate, 2d Lieutenant.

Also the following promotions have been made in the Cavalry: 1st Lieut. F. B. White, appointed Captain; 2d Lieut. Silas Peppon, appointed 1st Lieut.

We understand that McDaniels, of Lewiston, formerly Secretary of the Territory, has been appointed by Judge McBride, Clerk of the District Court of this district vice J. O. Bentley.—Idaho World.

BY AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY OF THE Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes bearing seven and three tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the

These Notes are issued under date June 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent. GOLD BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent. over the par value of the bonds, which makes the actual price of the 7-30 loan at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. premium, besides the exemption from STATE AND MUNICIPAL TAXATION, which is not provided for other securities. The interest is payable in currency, semi-annually, by coupon attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to:

One cent per day on a $50 note.

Less than $100,000,000 of the loan authorized by the last Congress, has been subscribed for.

This amount, at the rate at which it is being subscribed, will be subscribed for in less than four months when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be fully informed of the terms of the loan, the National Bank State Banks, and Private Banks throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will send their orders to the agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

I CERTIFY that for ten years I was afflicted with fever, sore in both my limbs, and that during that time I tried a great many physicians, none of whom could give me any relief. About a year ago I was induced to call in the Chinese Doctor "Jim," and in the short space of six weeks he effected a perfect cure. I would recommend him to all persons similarly afflicted, believing that in such diseases, at least his remedies are infallible.

MORE NEW MINES.—A report comes from the direction of Kootenai that new gold mines have been found on Elk river, a tributary of the Kootenai, which empties into the British line.

Not Hono.—The report that the darkey, named two weeks ago as engaged in the confidence and horse-stealing business, has been hanged is incorrect.

NEW ATLAS.—The Agent for Johnson's Illustrated Atlas of the World is in town, engaged in canvassing for the work.

FOR COEUR D'ALENE.—The travel to Coeur d'Alene is steadily on the increase, and the departure of small squads of miners from the city every day for the new Eldorado is no longer looked upon as anything new.

OVERLOOKING THE THING.—After the burning of Idaho City, it seems that almost every one who could command the stocks and were not engaged in other business this side of the Basin, started at once with goods and provisions for that point.

THE BALL AT THE FORT.—We were misinformed last week in regard to the invitation being general to the Ball to be given at the Fort on the 4th of July, and are requested by the managers to state that they would be pleased to entertain the public.

PROVISIONS FOR COEUR D'ALENE.—Mr. S. L. Gilbert started two wagons, loaded with provisions, for Coeur d'Alene on Thursday. The cargo consisted principally of flour, bacon and beans.

THE CONVICTS.—Sheriff Saitel still keeps the convicts at work—digging wells, ditches and at whatever else can be found for them to do.

ALARM BELL.—The firemen of Washington Engine Company have purchased, in San Francisco, an alarm-bell, weighing four hundred pounds. They expect it here in a short time.

THERE have been no arrivals here from Coeur d'Alene this week.

We observe that the Mountaineer is engaged in blowing for the Palouse Landing as the starting-point for the Coeur d'Alene mines. As it can make no possible difference to the people of the Dalles whether the travel to the new mines leaves the river at Wallula or Palouse Ferry, it is fair to presume that the editor of that paper is getting better paid from some up-river interest than he was four years ago when he so strenuously advocated that the only direct route to Salmon River was through Grand Ronde Valley!

RELEASED.—All persons arrested in California on charges of sympathizing with the assassination of President Lincoln have been discharged, on taking the oath of allegiance.

THE London Daily Telegraph prints $340,000,000, 60,000 of which it professes to print per hour.

WALDRON'S KOOTENAI EXPRESS! FROM WALLA WALLA TO SPOKANE, PEND OREILLE LAKE AND THE KOOTENAI MINES.

SPREAD OF THE MINING EXCITEMENT.—As an instance of how rapidly a mining excitement will spread, we chronicle the fact that a dozen or more Californians arrived here the fore part of this week, on their way to Coeur d'Alene.

RETURN OF PROSPECTORS.—The party who went out from this city a few weeks ago to prospect for gold on the eastern slope of the Blue mountains returned last week, reporting that they had found nothing that would pay.

REMOVAL.—Mr. Linkton has moved his saw mill up on the ridge, one mile above its recent location on Mill Creek. The new location is no farther from town than the old one.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Philip D. Moore, U. S. Collector for Washington Territory, paid our city a visit last week. Although Mr. Moore is the man through whose hands all our "cash moneys" for the income tax passes, we nevertheless came to the conclusion, after a brief acquaintance with him, that he makes an efficient officer and is, withal, a liberal and high-minded gentleman.

FOR THE MINES.—Among those who have left this city and vicinity within the week past for the Coeur d'Alene mines, are Dr. E. Sheel, Wm. Kohlhauff, A. J. Minor, Eph. Whitman, W. W. Johnson, Henry Miller, and Messrs. Hoffman, Gordon, Lewis, Ireland and Harkum.

DULL.—A San Francisco paper says business in that city is as dull as if the State were besieged and all its men and money absorbed. The Mountaineer adds that this is a fair sketch of the condition of affairs in Oregon.

MOSE DROUILLARD, of the Kootenai Express, started, with an express for Coeur d'Alene on Saturday last. He expected to make the trip there and back in ten days, and may be looked for here on Monday or Tuesday next.

FALLING.—The predictions in regard to the high water on the Columbia this season are happily not to be verified. The papers below state that the river is falling, and that it has not attained to within two feet of the high water mark of last year.

Eggs have been retailing in the city this week at fifty cents per dozen. The wholesale price ranges at forty to forty-five cents, according to the supply in the market.

RELIGIOUS.—Quarterly meeting at the M. E. Church in this city on Saturday and Sunday next. Rev. J. Flinn, Presiding Elder, will be in attendance.

CAMP-MEETING.—The United Brethren camp-meeting commenced to-day, near Mr. Page's farm, on Mill Creek, eight miles above town. The meeting will continue during next week.

CHANGE.—Mr. Wm. Stevens has fitted up the old Empire Restaurant building as a grocery and provision store, and is now offering a choice lot of these articles for sale there.

RELEASED.—All persons arrested in California on charges of sympathizing with the assassination of President Lincoln have been discharged, on taking the oath of allegiance.

THE telegraph wires are again down, consequently we have no later eastern news than was published last week.

The London Daily Telegraph prints $340,000,000, 60,000 of which it professes to print per hour.

I. O. O. F. Expressmen, No. 2, holds Regular Meetings every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, at Masonic Hall, corner of Alder and Third streets. All Brethren in good standing are invited to attend.

Fire-Proof Brick, Main street, Walla Walla, and give us a call before purchasing elsewhere. SCHWABACHER BROS. & CO. Jan. 16, 1884.

A Republican, and particular friend,—for even though his "cost of fashion" was great, we can respect a man just as much for his virtues who differs from us politically as if his sentiments were in harmony with our own,—give us the following piece of poetry for publication. But how he can admire those and still claim, under the new theory, to be "loyal," is more than we can divine. But, without imputing to him base motives or passions—for we do not think he would allow himself to be governed by either—we give place to the piece and accept the opportunity for entering our protest against this violent and proscriptive style which is being so universally adopted by the poets and political writers of the nation. It is a new style. Without argument or common-sense, it appeals to the passions and not to the reason of men. Its tendency is only to excite the animosity of those against whom it is directed, and to feed the "baser passions" of the party whom it is intended to please. Its effect is to produce, among the unreflecting, a spirit of retaliation, hatred and revenge on the one hand, and on the other to lead readers to become admirers of the profane and unjust rather than of the righteous and the just; and its final result will be the debasement of the public mind—leading on from bad to worse, until words no longer can satiate the demoralized appetite and food alone will be demanded to quench the thirst for revenge and extinguish the fires of hate created and unkindled by a set of half-crazed fanatics. We have already seen the "beginning of the end." We may add that the specimen following is milder than many of the pieces that are going the rounds of the press. Indeed, it is almost impossible for us, now-a-days, among a list of fifty exchanges, to find a piece of poetry other than the "rally 'round the flag," or "Dixie" order. Although the following is a tirade at the Abolitionists, we can not do them the credit to say, judging from the almost numberless specimens their efforts at characterizing the other parties that we have seen, that they are any milder, if even as mild in their style as the author of this:

A Dream.
I dreamed I stood outside of Hell's
Dark walls, and cries and groans, and yells,
I heard faintly from the within,
That dark abode of pain and sin,
Loud and louder on the ear,
These murmurs, wails and screams more near
To be advancing, like the roar
Of some dark storm about breaking o'er
A mighty forest, old and still,
And rushing on the vale and hill,
Curses and imprecations dire,
Terms of contempt and vengeful ire,
From myriad tongues I now and then
Each moment seeming still more near,
Toward where I stood the tumult grew,
And Hell's host came about me new,
Out rushed a being hot in haste,
By demons,imps and devils chased,
A head came near, I said, "Pray, tell,
Is a head come near, too vile for Hell?"
"And you, Gate-keeper, were beside,
If'er within those walls is seen
Another being half so mean?"
A head came near, I said, "Pray, tell,
Is a head come near, too vile for Hell?"
"Who can that wretched being be,
Whom thou hast thrust so fast to flee
From this dark den of sin and shame?"
"Tell whence he came and what's his name?"
"With gladly I'll obey thy call,
He cried "An Abolitionist!"
A sinner more than doubly damned—
Destroyer of his native land—
Who, to free the Southern slave
Dug fair Northern Freedom's grave—
A deep, dark and slimy pit,
And threw his kindred into it;
Then on their bodies heaped up high
The thousands he had caused to die!
Admitted here, with silly glee,
He'd try the Devil to appease;
On some pretense of doing good,
He soon rebelled against his brood
And led us up to a level
With that darkest fiend, the Devil!"
Then, going at the being's wish,
I said, "A wretch, thou art of wretched
Gilt! travel fast! sledge-haul far!
Thou ugly fiend! thou pious and tar!
Seek not again to enter here,
Hunt for thyself some dirtier hell,
Where thou and thine shalt only dwell!
Thou fiendish fiend! thou blackest black!
Make haste, I say! and leave no track
That may be followed to our door,
Thy footsteps hath disgraced our hall!"
Verily, it is the admission, "Come and let us reason together," were being heeded.

Poisonings in Washington.

The New York Daily News has a long article giving a list of the prominent assassinations of men in power uncounted in history. It says of a somewhat recent event in our own history:

The National Hotel poisoning at Washington, immediately previous to the inauguration of President Buchanan, in 1857, is too recent and too vividly impressed on the memory of our people to require more than brief allusion. The President escaped, owing to the circumstances that, although he roomed in the hotel, his meals were brought to him from outside. But several of his eminent political friends were terrible sufferers, and barely escaped a most agonizing death. Among these was the Hon. Robert J. Walker, who endured physical torture for months afterwards, and was brought to the brink of the grave. The total number of those who actually died from the effects of the poison was nearly one hundred, and comprised ladies and gentlemen from many different States. The number of sufferers who were finally restored, after untold misery, was five times as great. The drug used was, probably, arsenic, scattered through the salt and powdered sugar used at the table. A bitter controversy arose at the time, it being to the interest of some parties to make light of the "poison theory"; but secret papers in the Department of State, if published to the world, would set that question to rest forever. At this distance of time there are few who do not fully believe the worst; and many who read these lines may still retain the most painful assurance in their own physical systems that Lucretia Borgia had found imitators, male and female, on Pennsylvania Avenue.

The physicians of Indianapolis, says the Gazette, have at last got control of the disease known as spotted fever, which proves less fatal than when it first made its appearance in the city.

The San Jose Mercury says a little green insect, about the size of a flea, is working great injury in that county to many kinds of vegetation. They feed on the leaves of beets, cabbages, strawberries, turnips, etc., and cover rose-bushes.

In One Minute.
New York, September 9, 1864.
F. TILLMAN, Esq., 418 Battery Street,
New York, writes to Mr. McFarland:
"I have just received your advertisement in your daily paper respecting the 'security' of the 'Lillie' lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be deceived by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks after it had been locked and the combination turned on.
By one Blow of the Hammer
Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt inside, and the lock was opened in about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc. Sincerely, etc., F. TILLMAN, W. McFARLAND."

So Called "Fire Proof Safes"
On the 15th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and opening it we found that
Everything had been Destroyed.
We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed Messrs. McKee & Hardy just opening their safe, and we saw Mr. McFARLAND's (make), and its contents were found to be
In Perfect Condition.
This led us to further investigation, and we found long establishment that from the large amount of combustible matter in Messrs. McKee & Hardy's safe, such as lead, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clearing business and had but little coal collected to the same fire, tarring, however, no better than ours. Very respectfully,
W. L. HIGGINS, C. J. CHESBRO & CO.,
117 Walla Walla, W. T.
