Scene in Richmond. THE EVACUATION. The outline of the scenes immediately associated with the evacuation of Richmond has been told by telegraph. Now that the stifled citizens have recovered reason and memory so well as to tell us the story, it seems the most dramatic and fearful of the war.

HOUSEHOLD LEAKS. Our readers are indebted to Mrs. Haskell's Household Encyclopedia for the following enumeration of household leaks. There are some, doubtless, who need no telling of this sort, while there are many others who will learn something by reading what follows:

Practicisms. Lawsuits—prison clothing. A snow-bail—quadrilles on ice. To cure a "felon"—hang him. Revenge a wrong by forgiving it. Good injunctions to hens—lay still. Breaches of trust—trowers on credit. The waves of the sea are a very dashing host.

Extremes—the association of goose and sage. Female suffrage is not allowed in this country, but male suffering is. To ascertain whether a boat or shoe is of the right size—measure it by the foot. Matrimony generally puts a happy couple through a course of sprouts.

Moderation is the silken string running through the pearl-chain of all virtues. Castles are defended as garisons in fortifications often are—by horn-works. Many a good man gives comfort to other hearts when his own is desolate. A man drowned in a crooked river is unquestionably in a winding-sheet of water.

When is a newspaper the sharpest? when it is filed. Jack Frost's rime is infinitely more beautiful than the rhyms of poets. A woman's tears sometimes slack from being quickened by her finger. Dogs are funny creatures. There seems to be a great deal of wagging about them. There are many sharks in the water but there are only more on dry land. The only place in which it is difficult to show bravery is in front of the enemy. From the dust on which we tread, spring the flowers we admire. A parrot sometimes learns a good many languages. "He is a polly-glot."

The human race, like an auctioneer's goods, are always "going—going—gone." Some folks shame the devil not by speaking the truth but by outlying him. Men who fight duels generally have two seconds to live after they are dead. If you wish to have the public have an inkling of everything print it. The birds are the most successful of all agriculturists; their crops never fail. The old poets rode on Pegasus; the modern ones have to go on foot. A great many persons are oil struck who fail to strike oil. It must be a slippery truth that lies at the bottom of an oil well. Insolence among men, though an unpopular currency, often has a gold basis. The most powerful of ghosts—the spirits of the times.

If a lady contracts a cold from wearing hoops, she will have the hooping-cough. Never sleep in the company of a lady; if you do you can't wink at them. An excruciating singer never gets the right pitch except when he gets pitched out of the window. When a lady is called on by a ghost she generally receives him Paris fashion—in bed. Some ladies wear rings on their fore fingers; others on their five fingers—thumbs excepted. It is well to contract debts. If they are of huge dimensions, contract them as much as possible. If a German doesn't generally see as plainly as other folks, it is because he has a thick nose before his eyes. We have it on good authority that the gentleman who was "afraid of his life," has since put an end to it. Why are the rebels like vicious school-boys? Because they dislike to be watched by monitors. A bachelor shoemaker says that an old maid is like an old boot—of no use without a fellow. Don't marry a soldier. You may fancy that it will be all love and May, but it will probably be love and March. In taking revenge, a man is but even with his enemy; in passing it over he is his superior. A man does not like to have a heavy charge leveled against him—especially if it is a gun. Love, if it has ends, will have an end; whereas that which is founded on true feeling will always continue. A young woman is very unlike a horse. She loves to say yes, when he answers "no" to everything. The whalers often take a big fish, but our forces near Wilmington lately took a Fisher. In our country, girls sack their sweethearts; but in Turkey, husbands sack their wives. We admire to see a young lady with a beautiful, genuine complexion, but a sham is a shame. When you are in danger from external enemies, look out. When the peril is from your own unbridled passions, look in. Men do not live as long as they did in the old time. The men of this age are very fast, and a fast man very soon gets out of breath. Many a military officer is so fond of fighting and making love, that he seems to be like the ancient Harmonia, the offspring of Mars and Venus. Condemn not a young woman that a man is madly in love with her. You might as well blame a crystal river that a melancholy man has drowned himself in it. If the world applauds us we must thankfully receive it as a boon; for, if even the most deserving appear to expect it as a debt, it will never be paid. If a woman would talk out of both corners of her mouth at the same time, there would be a good deal said on both sides. The ancient cooks carried their art to the most whimsical perfection. They were able to serve up a whole hog, boiled on one side and roasted on the other. A fellow was observed recently driving a "porker," holding on to his tail; and when asked what he was doing, he replied, studying geog-raphy.

JOHNSON'S VIEWS.—President Johnson, in 1862, in an address to the people of Tennessee, expressed his policy toward the people of the South in the following manner. It is fair to presume that he still holds to this policy, and that it will be the policy of his administration: To the people themselves the protection of the Government is extended. All their rights will be duly respected, and their wrongs redressed when made known. Those who through the dark and dreary night of the rebellion have manifested the allegiance to the Federal Government will be honored. The wrong and crime will be welcomed of their return. And while it may become necessary in vindicating the violated majesty of the law, and while reasserting its allegiance to the Federal Government will be honored. The wrong and crime will be welcomed of their return. And while it may become necessary in vindicating the violated majesty of the law, and while reasserting its allegiance to the Federal Government will be honored. The wrong and crime will be welcomed of their return.

THE BODY GUARD.—The days of republican simplicity at Washington are over now forever. It is felt that there it would be foolish and error to neglect the precautions that are necessary to preserve the life of the President of the United States. Mr. Lincoln had a body guard, but that was felt to be a mere form, and the body guard was notoriously inefficient. The soldier at the door of the stage box was a member of this body guard, and if he had realized his duty, the assassin would never have entered the theatre, &c. The arms of the body guard will be a short sword, something like a sabre bayonet, and two revolvers. These details, and some others have already been agreed upon.

PRESERVATIVES OF FEMALE BEAUTY.—The fair Queen of Scots bathed in wine, and the Earl of Shrewsbury while acting as her custodian, complained bitterly of the expense she entailed upon him by this luxurious custom. It was white wine the ladies then employed for the purposes of the toilette, and it was mainly used by those of a "certain age," who desired to remove their wrinkles; young beauty contented itself with a bath of milk. A wine bath was assuredly not a great smell, washing down the ensary repast with a draught of viper wine, for the preservation of her beauty? No wonder that she died in her thirty-third year, and that only a small quantity of brains" was found in her head.

AND STILL THEY GO.—Since our last, the number who have left this vicinity for the Couer d'Alene Mountains is estimated at fifty-eighty-five or ninety persons. Johnny Grapeau seems to have the "inside track" in knowledge of locality and prospects, as he was the first to disclose information to the world of the existence of these gold-fields, and has shown a disposition to keep such knowledge confined to his countrymen. We are told that nearly all the Frenchmen who were, two weeks ago, on the Salmon—men of general business as well as miners—have left there, and are now en route for the Couer d'Alene, the great center of attraction.—Rediator.

A German agriculturist says that before he plants his potatoes he washes them in chlorine water and dries them in the sun. He says that he has saved them from disease during several years. These who are fond of displaying their knowledge on subjects of which others profess to be ignorant, should be cautious; for those who have dignity and candor enough to confess their own ignorance, we may be assured, will have discrimination enough to detect the ignorance of others. THE RIGHT KIND.—A young man of our acquaintance, says the Sonoma Co. Democrat, a few days since, describing the girl he was about to take into himself, "for better or for worse," said she was "a good sensible girl, knew how to work, was not stuck up, and had never been used to being buggy rode, and jay-hawked about."

men appear at its windows and join in the throng upon the streets. The apprehensions of the people are slowly subsiding beneath the influence of a benignant and orderly military rule. The ruins on Main street, trampled upon by hundreds of pedestrians, have a less deadly air. It may take some time to convince the more aristocratic classes that a gang of fiends and cut-throats are not waiting outside of their houses. But certainly no woman has yet been insulted, no rebel has had his throat slit. There are no fights or disturbances of any sort. The busy but quiet work of the Provost Marshal's department goes on at the Capital.

Gen. Weitzel departs himself at dinner with-in in Jeff. Davis' late residence according to his breeding; Gen. Shepley issues solemn and energetic proclamations; guards and patrol-lazily through the thoroughfares; the Spottswood hotel flourishes with an overflow of guests; the Richmond Theater is open at night, and sut-ler's shops, waxing numerous, are crowded with purchasers. So far as can be seen nothing has been done to outrage, to offend, or inconvenience the ordinary pursuits and pleasures of reasonable inhabitants.

The revolution in Richmond, to be sure, is not yet over. The reaction has only just begun.—Results, good and bad, are just indicated by what is taking place. The capital of the false confederation is besieged by a piteous multitude of its victims. They gather—old and young, men, women and girls, and little children—with pleading, weary faces, with baskets and with empty hands, upon the steps and in the halls, seeking protection and food. Some go to take the oath of allegiance; some to request transportation to the North; some clinging still to a hope forlorn, and strange, to claim a passage to the burial place of hope beyond our lines.

THE EVACUATION. The outline of the scenes immediately associated with the evacuation of Richmond has been told by telegraph. Now that the stifled citizens have recovered reason and memory so well as to tell us the story, it seems the most dramatic and fearful of the war. On Saturday the city was calm and trusting; Lee, its idol, held Grand Mass at Petersburg; the daily journals came out as usual, filled with soothing accounts; that night came vague rumors of evacuation; by Sunday night the public records were burned in the streets, and the only railway left carried off the species of the banks; before daylight on Monday the explosion of bridges and half-built ships of war shook the houses; in the imperfect day, women, old men and children began to weep and surge before the guarded depot which refused to admit them; then the town fell afire; no reconstruction could pacify the incendiaries, Spring winds carried the flames from the burning boats on the canal to the great Galeo Mills, to files of massive warehouses groaning with tobacco, into the heart of the town, where stores, and vaults, and banks, and factories lined the wide, undulating streets; it filled the gray smoke with flame till the stars of the dawn shrank to pale invisibility in the advancing glare, and the crackle of hot roofs and beams, and the crash of walls and timbers, drowned the cries of the frightened and bankrupt, who beheld their fortunes wither in an hour and the inheritance of their children fall to ashes. By the red consuming light poured past the struggling Confederate soldiers, dead to the acknowledgment of private rights, and sacking shop and home with civets and rials; the suburban citizens and mental negroes adopted the example, carrying off whatever came next to their hands, and with arms full of "swag," dropping it in the highway, lured by some dearer plunder. Negroes, with baskets of stolen champagne and rare jars of tamarinds, sought their dusky quarters to swell and carouse, and whites of the middle and even of the higher class, bent themselves to theft, who, before this debased era, would have died before surrendering their sacred honor.—All was peril, and terror, and license; all who had nothing to lose were thieves; all who had anything left to lose were cowards.

The configuration swept through the densest, proudest blocks, driving off not only the resident worthy, but the resident corrupt. Where were the lewd contractors who had hoarded Confederate scrip by the basest exertions? With the fall of the Capitol their dollars dwindled in dust; four years of crime had resulted in beggary; still with grasping palms they adhered to their valueless paper, bearing it away. But of all the wretched the cyprians were the foremost.—These inhabited the dense and business part of the town, where their houses were serried and compact, and driven forth by the fire, they sought the street in their plumes and calicoes, to spend a cold and shivering bivouac in the square of the Capital. From afar the rich men of Sunday watched the flames of Monday sweeping on in terrible impetuosity, knowing that every tongue of light which leaped on high carried with it the competence they had aimed to acquire. And behind all, plunder, incendiary and straggler, came the one vague, overlapping, dreadful fear of the enemy. Would they finish what friends had commenced—the sack, the desolation the slaughter of the place? Richmond had cost them a half a million of lives, a mountain of blood and wealth, four years of deadly struggle; would they not complete its ruin?

The morning came, the Confederates were gone; cavalry in blue galloped up the streets; a brigade of white infantry filed after them, then came the detested negroes. Behold the victors, the subjugators assist to quench the flames—Richmond is captured but secured!

Richmond, unclosing itself, is emerging from its den. Its streets to-day are populous, its shutters and blinds are unclosed, its doors stand ajar, admitting the soft Spring Airs. Wo-

Why is it vulgar to send a telegram? Because it makes use of flash language. Why is a dull book like eternity? You read it to no end. Why should the ram be regarded as the principal animal of the dairy? Because he is the butter; of course he is. Why are suicides the most successful people in the world? Because they always accomplish their own ends. Why does a person that is poorly lose much of his sense of touch? Because he don't feel well. Why does a cabin think it a fine day when it rains hard? Because he considers it fare-weather. Why are people who stutter not to be relied on? Because they are always breaking their word. No LIKES, No Good.—The Marysville Express says: A Chinaman who visited the paintings of Paradise Lost, was asked how he liked it. John answered, "No like, no good lie—no Chinaman in heaven—all melican men—one nigger—no Chinaman—no good—paradise loose, much lie."

Give not thy tongue too great liberty, lest it take thee prisoner. A word unspoken is like a sword in another's hands. If thou desirest to be bald wise, be so as to hold thy tongue.

Just So.—Now that the election has passed by in this Territory, the Union papers on the Round are beginning to discuss the issues...

The negro should not be the principal recipient of the beneficent aid. If it is founded upon what may be considered general principles of philanthropy...

Some persons, through the columns of the Pacific Tribune, takes issue with the Standard on this question, and asserts that the Standard has never understood these matters from the start...

Now that our loyal contemporaries of the Sound have discovered the 'nigger in the fence,' the people of the Territory will very likely witness some racy ground and lofty tumbling in the Union party within the next few months...

It will be well for citizens desiring nomination for the next Legislature to be prepared to make two essential pledges: first, to support a change in the State Constitution...

The Marysville Express, alluding to these cardinal doctrines of the stannopure California loyalists, says: Democrats cannot support any man for the Legislature who is willing to give such a pledge...

Four Boxes.—A correspondent of the Idaho World, gives the following description of Fort Boise and its surroundings: This Fort (2) consists of a collection of one-story houses, scattered around so as to look more like a little colony or village than a structure generally known as a fort...

Not so Hot.—The weather for the past few days has been cool, and much more agreeable than when it ran the mercury away up into the nineties.

Boise Correspondence.

Idaho City, June 28th, 1895. Eds. STATESMAN:—By one of those strange fatalities occasionally attendant upon human affairs, my last communication, written May 18th, was mailed on the very afternoon preceding the disastrous fire on the evening of that day...

The day had been oppressively warm. The evening was still clear, warm, and one of the most pleasant of the season. More than usual silence had prevailed the early part of the evening. The hour of ten o'clock had arrived, and many had retired and were preparing to retire for the night...

The fire broke out at about ten o'clock, and in a few minutes it had become a full-blown fire. A look outside revealed the flames bursting serpent-tongued through the roof of a large building, in one of the most central parts of town. All the County offices were in the immediate vicinity. It became apparent at a glance that the entire square of buildings fronting on Montgomery, Wall and Main streets would go, perhaps more. Almost superhuman exertions were made to carry out furniture, libraries, merchandise, clothing and valuables, from the more exposed buildings...

Letter from the Cour d'Alene. CAMP OF TROUT CREEK, June 23rd, 1895. Eds. STATESMAN:—We are thus far on our way to the Cour d'Alene mines, and for want of any gold news I will tell you what we got here and what we know up to date...

When we left Walla Walla, we intended to travel slow, and therefore made out to Snake river in two days. The next day we went to Kestock's ranch, on the Palouse, and learned that the parties whom we had intended to overtake were going ahead, and traveling like 'hell possessed'...

The Dalles people have presented Senator NeSmith with a handsome gold-headed cane, as a token of their approval of his course as U. S. Senator. Somebody, no doubt indignant about the Senator's course in regard to the Branch-Mint matter, has it that 'NeSmith was handsomely cased while on his visit at Dalles'...

It is now understood that Messrs. Seward, Stanton and Welles have indicated their desire to be relieved of their respective portfolios of state, war and navy, on the first of July, and the end of the current fiscal year. The two former will be succeeded by Mr. Charles Francis Adams and Preston King, the latter probably by John W. Forney.

nevertheless prove a good mining region and is to be hoped that it will form an important link in the development of the immense and widely distributed mineral resources of the entire country extending from the Sticksen river in the north to Mexico on the south, and from the Cascades to the Beaver Head country.

The season is, so far, very favorable for all kinds of labor, though some two or three hot days have been experienced in which the mercury has indicated a high degree of heat for the last eighteen months. The general sanitary condition is good, notwithstanding great quantities of 'tarantula juice' absorbed by multitudes by the pouring process. The town, at present, remains very quiet, and there are few disturbances, when all 'in the rough' and just building up for the first time. On Sundays the principal streets are thronged by mid-day, and early in the afternoon squads may be seen organizing for the day's fighting arrangements.

The Circuit of Lee & Ryland, recently here, did not draw as successfully as that of Ayman & Co. last year, and is now making a tour of the 'basin.' The rival theatrical troupes of J. S. Potter and Lewis & Getzler, are intending to play season engagements in this city for the next two months, and are likely to each interfere considerably with the profits of the other. A fine new Hall and stage is nearly completed for the exclusive use of the latter.

The Dalles Mountaineer says the Grand Jury of Wasco county has indicted somewhere in the neighborhood of one thousand persons, for violations of what it terms the "coarse haired Deady's" Sunday law, and "curses not loud but deep," were being uttered against the originators of the law and all concerned in its enforcement.

There were thirty-eight accessions to the church at the camp-meeting on Mill Creek, two weeks ago. TRAINS of immigrants, who have crossed the plains this season, are now arriving at Boise City almost every day.

WM. A. MIX, of this city was seriously injured last week by a fall from the stage, on the road between Boise City and Idaho City. The reward of $100,000 offered for the arrest of Jeff Davis, is by order of the War Department to be divided among the soldiers who captured him. They will probably receive $500 apiece.

Stone buildings are being erected at Dalles, in place of those recently destroyed there by fire. MARRIED: BAKER-KINYON.—At the residence of Mr. J. Dray, on the 4th inst., by Rev. C. Ellis, Mr. Willam Baker and Miss Elizabeth J. Kinyon.

stream as large as Mill Creek flowing through it. This is the Little Basin, and we find the color of gold on a surface prospect. Here we divide the party, and send about twenty-six men ahead to cut a trail. We have to make a trail for about thirty miles, and at a halting place last night, we established the rate of toll at one dollar per head for all animals which pass over the trail. Tom Page is toll keeper, and has twenty-five men for assistants. We think that we can thus get over on the trail.

As for the gold mines, we find that we are out simply as prospectors. Wilson declares that they have never yet found the color in the basin to which we are going, although, he is confident that we will find good diggings there; but this, so far, is all supposition. We are to go there, anyway, and see for ourselves. The portion of the party who remain here, herding horses &c., will prospect this basin and see what we can find. As yet we have found nothing, and live in hopes. As soon as we arrive in the basin I will drop you another serial, to post you as to the condition of the last excitement. Yours truly, W. W. JUNOSS.

The New School House.—By actual calculation, it is ascertained that the parents of children in Walla Walla, have paid out $1000 in gold coin during the last three months for the education of their children. During September, October and November, the same parents will spend $1600 for the same purpose. This sum, added to the amount now in the hands of the District Clerk, would build a Public School House which would be an ornament to the City. When the house is once built and furnished, the amount of money annually falling due the district will sustain a first class public school with two competent teachers, for six months. Then the school might be continued for the rest of the year at half the expense now incurred.

The coming Fall the district will receive about $1400 for school purposes, which will be absolutely wasted unless the expense of rent be curtailed by building a commodious school house.

To consider these matters, a School Meeting has been called at the Court House on Monday next at 4 o'clock, P. M. Let every parent who feels an interest in the economical and systematic education of his children, attend.

Next Year's Crop.—Some of our enterprising farmers, after experimenting for a few years in wheat growing in this valley, have come to the conclusion that the safest and best plan to insure a good wheat crop, is to sow in the month of June. The wheat sowed last month, we are informed, now looks well and promises an abundant yield a year hence. When sown early in June gets a good start before the dry summer weather comes on, and is not injured by long continued drought, and besides, it takes deeper root and is not so apt to "winter kill" as the wheat put in during the fall months. The crops sowed last year in June, are the best that will be harvested this season, so we are reliably informed. In view of these facts, it will hereafter be to the interests of our farming population to put in, if possible, this grain in June. It is safe for farmers to be guided by the light of experience, and experience has taught some of our thrifty well-to-do agriculturists to sow as indicated, to insure good crops.

The Dalles Mountaineer says the Grand Jury of Wasco county has indicted somewhere in the neighborhood of one thousand persons, for violations of what it terms the "coarse haired Deady's" Sunday law, and "curses not loud but deep," were being uttered against the originators of the law and all concerned in its enforcement. Growing out of the general indignation, a meeting was held at which it was determined to test the law in every stage and demand jury trials in each and every instance.

INDIAN TROUBLES.—The Indians seem to have commenced hostilities all over the country to the eastward. At one of the stations on the overland stage line they recently killed all the outposts, and the route is by no means safe to travel now. Troops are being sent from all directions to quell them. The Indians have of late been committing all kinds of depredations in the vicinity of Auburn, Oregon, and in response to a petition from the citizens of that place, Col. Maury has sent Capt. Matthews Company of the Oregon Cavalry there for their protection.

Schuyler Colfax, says an Oregon exchange, wrote from Salt Lake, that he expects to be in Oregon about the close of July, and that his plan of travel includes a trip up the Columbia as far as Walla, and thence by stage to the Boise Basin. The distinguished Speaker of the House of Representatives will, according to this programme, "take in" Walla Walla on the round trip.

The people of Dalles, as well as the inhabitants of the towns below, are complaining of the prevalence of unusually dull times. This, the Mountaineer thinks is mainly attributable to a considerable portion of the California trade and travel diverging from the usual route and going to Owyhee and Boise mines via the Chico trail.

The Dalles people have presented Senator NeSmith with a handsome gold-headed cane, as a token of their approval of his course as U. S. Senator. Somebody, no doubt indignant about the Senator's course in regard to the Branch-Mint matter, has it that 'NeSmith was handsomely cased while on his visit at Dalles'...

A chunk of gold worth $500 is reported to have been recently taken out of the White Bull quartz lode, in the Santiam mines. This is a "bolty" strike for the stockholders, as 'feet' have advanced amazingly in price since the specimen was found.

GARIBDI CHANGES.—The New York World says: It is now understood that Messrs. Seward, Stanton and Welles have indicated their desire to be relieved of their respective portfolios of state, war and navy, on the first of July, and the end of the current fiscal year. The two former will be succeeded by Mr. Charles Francis Adams and Preston King, the latter probably by John W. Forney.

No EASTERN NEWS.—The Overland telegraph line east of Salt Lake has been out of working order for the past ten days, hence we have no Eastern news. Indian depredations along the route have prevented keeping the line in order. An operator and some assistants were killed by Indians beyond Salt Lake last week while out repairing the line.

By order of the War Department there will be 20,000 U. S. bounties paid for enlistments in the military service of the United States.

PROPOSED ALLIANCE AGAINST THE UNITED STATES.

The London Morning Advertiser, of the 21st of April, contains the following, but no other paper has the "news": On the receipt of the news of the fall of Richmond, Louis Napoleon proposed to Lord Cowley that England and France should, by a treaty offensive and defensive, make common cause against the United States; that "in event of Canada being attacked by them, France should assist England with all her land and sea forces," and that in the event of the United States "openly or covertly attacking the Emperor Maximilian, or in any wise endangering his throne," England should, in conjunction with France, "defend and support Maximilian in the same manner and on the same conditions as they sustained the Sultan of Turkey against the aggression of Russia." We do not know how this very cool overture has been received by our Government, but we know what its emphatic answer ought to be. On the reassembling of Parliament, this important subject is sure to receive immediate attention, and the idea denounced in the strongest language, which Parliamentary notions of propriety will allow. Still more repulsive will be the indignation of the country at the proposal, for the whole nation smarts at the remembrance of the manner in which Louis Napoleon treated our unfortunate alliance with him in the case of the Crimean war. We are glad to see the indignation of the country at the proposal, for the whole nation smarts at the remembrance of the manner in which Louis Napoleon treated our unfortunate alliance with him in the case of the Crimean war.

MONSIEUR MURDER.—About 12 o'clock, yesterday, after the dispatches, which appear elsewhere, came over the line, the wires were cut near Sweetwater Station. The operator, a Frenchman, was killed, and the wires were cut by his comrades went out to mend the line. As they got it ready for operating, and on their way to the station, some Indians sprang up and fired killing the operator and wounding his companion badly. It is difficult to tell whether we shall receive the rest of those dispatches which commenced to come here yesterday morning.—Union Vindicator.

IMMIGRATION COMING.—We have received the following dispatch from Julesburg: Julesburg, June 24th. There is an immense immigration passing west; over four thousand wagons have passed in the last twenty days. Great many women and children. General Connor, staff and Headquarters, started this morning for Fort Laramie. All quiet along the road.—R.

TROOPS ON THE PLAINS.—The plains about Julesburg are dotted with the tents and trains of Gen. Connor's Indian expedition. Troops and trains are crossing the Platte river in the ferry-boat. Part of the command and the General are on the way to Laramie. The troops of the expedition will start for Laramie on route for Powder River, in four or five days. Troops and supplies are arriving daily from the Missouri river, and are being pushed forward to the mouth of the river, on the mail route, as speedily possible. A sufficient number of troops will be left for the protection of the mail route during Gen. Connor's absence. Three steamers arrived at Omaha today, with one thousand cavalry; for one of his columns, which will join him at or near Powder river.—R.

"Honor to Whom Honor is Due." Eds. STATESMAN:—Permit me, through the columns of your paper, to return words of commendation to the citizens of this valley and vicinity my sincere thanks for the good decorum observed during my camp-meeting. Likewise, for the liberal contribution for the support of the Gospel, taken up in connection with this meeting, amounting to over fifty dollars. May God bless the kind and generous people of this country. G. W. ANAZA.

Congressman Rogers, of New Jersey, who has the misfortune to resemble a published photograph of Booth, was arrested at Camden and Amboy train, hustled about in a most unceremonious manner, and detained for two hours until his identity could be proven.

New York is the largest market for sole leather in the world, more being bought and sold in that city than in Liverpool London and Paris combined.

The Idaho World of July 1st, says "quite a number of our people have recently left for the Cour d'Alene country, though nothing definitely has been heard from the returned miners."

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent. including gold interest from November, which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. per annum, besides its EXEMPTION FROM STATE AND MUNICIPAL TAXATION, which adds FROM ONE TO THREE PER CENT. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable in currency, semi-annually, by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker. The interest amounts to: One cent per day on a $50 note. FROM COEUR D'ALENE.—The news from Coeur d'Alene this week is corroborative, in the main, of that published in our last, and sums up that if there are mines in that country they are yet undiscovered.

MORE NEWS FROM COEUR D'ALENE.—Mr. Henri M. Chase returned yesterday from the Coeur d'Alene. He went as far as the first "basin" described by Wilson and says that the country, so far as Wilson's report of it is concerned, is a "bumbug."

AT HIS OLD BUSINESS.—Mr. Hill Beachey, of course, has turned up—right side up, we are told—at Boise City, and become "mine host" of the Overland House at that place.

THE CELEBRATION at Waitsburg passed off to the full satisfaction of all in attendance. The oration of Mr. Langford was entertaining, and the other ceremonies were conducted creditably.

FROM KOOTENAI.—Mr. Waldron arrived here with his express on Thursday evening, seven days from Fisherville. A letter from our correspondent there, "P. H. B.," contains the following items of interest:

THE ALARM BELL.—The firemen of Washington Engine Company received their alarm bell on Monday last and put it up on a tower at their Engine House.

WALDRON'S EXPRESS for the Kootenai mines will leave tomorrow afternoon. Mr. W. has established his office at Wells, Fargo & Co's, where Mr. Condon will act as agent.

QUARTERMASTER Johnson advertises today for proposals for supplying the Garrison at Fort Walla Walla with fresh beef for one year from the 1st of October next; also, for proposals to do the Government freighting for one year from the 1st of September.

FAILURE.—The effort to take the steamer Col. Wright up Snake river, with the view to place her on that river for navigation purposes along the mouth Barst river, has resulted in failure and the boat has gone down the river.

Mr. Beachey, has drawn off his stages from the Chico route to Boise, on account of the hostility of the Indians along the road and will probably not put them on again soon.

THE people of Boise valley are talking of organizing a vigilance committee to rid that valley of a band of horse thieves who have centered there. The Idaho Statesman says the thieves have reduced their business to a "science."

BEATS US.—The Reese River Revolt

Quoted from the Enterprise of Virginia City, Nevada, the following: Yesterday was about as disagreeable a day in our city as it has ever been our melancholy fate to experience.

They seem to have a great deal of weather there. We have prided ourselves on our dust heretofore, but we give in. We have one or two little settlements that now and then get a "spanker" that twists roofs off and chokes oxen.

A True Wife.
She is not true wife who sustains not her husband in the day of calamity; who is not, when the world's great wrongs makes the heart chill with anguish, his guardian angel, growing brighter and more beautiful as misfortunes crowd along his path. Thus is the time for the trial of her gentleness; then is the time for testing whether the sweetness of her temper beams only with a transient light, or like the steady glow of the morning star, shines just as brightly under the clouds. Has she then smiles just as charming? Does she say "affliction cannot touch our parity, and should not quench our love?" Does she try by happy little inventions to lift from his sensitive spirit the burden of thought?

There are wives—nay, there are beings, who, in dark hours, fall to repining and upbraiding, thus adding to outside anxiety the harrowing scenes of domestic strife, as if all the blame in the world would make one hair white or black, or change the decree gone immutably forth. Such know not that our darkness is heaven's light; our trials put steps in the golden ladder, by which, if we rightly ascend, we may at last gain that eternal light, and bathe forever in its fulness and beauty.

"Is that all?" and the gentle face of the wife beamed with joy. Her husband had been on the verge of distraction—all his earthly possessions were gone, and he feared the result of her knowledge, she had been so tenderly cared for all her life. But, says Irving's beautiful story, "a friend advised him not to give sleep to his eyes, nor slumber to his eyelids until he had unfolded her all his hapless case.

And that was her answer, with the smile of an angel—Is that all? I feared by your sadness it was worse. Let these beautiful things be taken—all this splendor, let it go, I care not for it—I only care for my husband's love and confidence. You shall forget, in my affection, that you were ever in prosperity. Only still love me, and I will aid you to bear these little reverses with cheerfulness."

Still love her! ay, like her to the very angels, for such a woman is a living revelation of heaven.—Mrs. DENNISON.

INTELLECTUAL women are seldom beautiful: the formation of their features, particularly their foreheads, being more or less masculine. Miss Landon was rather pretty and feminine in the face; but Miss Sedgwick, Miss Parson, Miss Leslie, and the celebrated late Anna Maria and Jane Porter, the contrary. One of the Misses Porter had a forehead as high as that of an intellectual man. We never knew a talented man who was admired for his beauty. Pope was awful ugly; Dr. Johnson was no better; and Mirabeau was the ugliest man in France, and yet he was the greatest favorite with the ladies. Women more frequently prize men for the sterling qualities of the mind than men do women. Dr. Johnson chose a woman who had scarcely an idea above an oyster, and he thought her the loveliest creature in existence, judging from the inscription he left on her tomb.

CHINESE REASONING.—The San Francisco Bulletin, in an account of the school in that city, says, at first the pupils could not be brought to pay any attention to geography. They said: "We believe the earth is level; but suppose it is round, what difference does it make to us? We won't make any more money whether it is round or square." This indifference as to whether they make money "on the square" or not, shows a low state of morality among the Chinese.

As this is the season when people are apt to be troubled with the sudden depressions of the colic sun liddix, attended with sensations of giddiness in the region of the cerebro canibus, we particularly recommend the following remedy to be taken every once in a while:

THE VICEROY OF EGYPT some months ago shut himself up in the fort at the mouth of the Nile, with his mother, his eldest daughter, a portion of his harem and his astrologers. The latter, by a series of observations, were to consult the stars in order to know whether it was proper that the Viceroy should undertake the journey to Europe, which he has so long contemplated. If the reply was made favorable, Ismail Pacha was to have set out about the middle of May on a visit to France and England.

THE STANDARD OF JUDGMENT.—Judge a man by his actions; a poet by his eye; a lawyer by his ear; a person by his speech; a musician by his ear; an editor by his indifference; a player by his strut; a student by his self-importance; a fanatic by his long-faced un-socialness; an American by his restlessness; a Frenchman by his 'giddy'; an Irishman by his swagger; an Englishman by his rotundity; a Scotchman by his shrug; a justice by his frown; a great man by his modesty; a tailor by his agility; and woman by her neatness.

A FELLOW was doubting whether or not he should volunteer to fight. One of the flags waving before his eyes bearing the inscription "Victory or Death," somewhat troubled and discouraged him. "Victory is a very good thing," said he; "but why make it 'Victory or Death?' Just put it 'Victory or Crippled,' and I'll go that."

TO SMILE at the jest which plants a thorn in another's breast is to become a principal in the mischief. How few there are who abstain from such smiling.
