Military Reconstruction a Success!

THE REBEL STATES READMITTED:

AND IN 1868 WILL VOTE

FOR PRESIDENT!

IN HIS PRIMITIVE

STATE!

THE LATEST OFFERING OF THE LAND

TO LABOR LONG MAINTAINED AND HARD.

Cart-loads of pumpkins yonder lie—

The horse is feeding in his stall,

The oats are matted and the field high

And peas and beans are heaped hard by,

As if there were some festival.

At length Old Farmer Joe sits down—

A patch across each of his knees;

He crowds his hat back on his crown,

Then clasps his hands—so hard and brown—

And, like a farmer, takes his ease.

"How fast the years do go!" says he;

"It seems, in fact, but yesterday,

That in this very barn we three—

David, Ezekiel, and me—

Pitched in the summer loads of hay!

David—he sells in his clipper now;

Ezekiel died in Mexico—

Some one must stay and ride to plow,

Get up the horse and milk the cow—

And who, of course, but little Joe.

I might have been—I can't tell what!

Who knows about it till he tries?

I might have settled in some spot,

Where money is more easy got;

Perhaps beneath Pacific skies.

I might have preached like Parson Jones;

Or got a living at the law;

I might have gone to Congress, sure;

I might have kept a Water Cure;

I might have gone and been—oh, psaw!

Far better is it 'tis;

What future waits him, no man knows;

What he has got, that sure is his;

It makes no odds if stocks have risen,

Or politicians come to blows!

Content is rich, and somethin' more—

I think I have heard somebody say;

If it rains, it's apt to pour;

And I am rich on the barn floor,

Where all is mine that I can raise.

I've plowed and mowed this dear old farm,

'Tis not a rest but what I know;

I've kept the old folks snug and warm—

And lived without a twinge of harm—

I don't care how the storm might blow.

And on this same old farm I'll stay,

And raise my cattle and my corn;

Here shall these hairs turn wholly gray;

These feet shall never learn to stray;

But I will die where I was born!

And Farmer Joe pulled down his hat,

And stood up on his feet once more;

He would not argue, after that,

But like a born aristocrat,

Kept on his walk about the floor.

GREENEY TO THE "LOYAL" LEAGUE GREETING.

—Horace Greeley has given mortal offence to the "Loyal" Leaguers of New York by going to Jefferson Davis, and has accordingly been placed "under the ban." The League held a meeting, and summoned Mr. Greeley before them to arraign him for his conduct. A letter was accordingly sent to him, citing him to appear before the august tribunal, in reply to which he threw a bombshell among them which must have proved intensely disgusting. He declined to appear in a communication of which the following is a portion:

GENTLEMEN:—I shall not attend your meeting this evening. I have an engagement out of town, and shall keep it. I do not recognize you as a capable of judging, or even fully apprehending me. You evidently regard me as a weak, sentimental, misled by a maudlin philosophy. I arraign you as narrow-minded block-heads, who would like to be useful to a great and good cause, but don't know how. Your attempt to base a great enduring party on the hate and wrath necessarily engendered by a bloody civil war, is as though you should plant a colony on an iceberg which had somehow drifted into a tropical ocean. I tell you here, that out of a life earnestly devoted to the good of human kind, your children will select my going to Richmond and signing that ball-bond as the wisest act, and will feel that it did more for freedom and humanity than all of you were competent to do, though you had lived to the age of Methuselah. I ask nothing of you, then, but that you proceed to your end by a direct,

frank, manly way. Don't slide off in a mild resolution of censure, but move the expulsion which you proposed, and which I deserve if I deserve any reproach whatever. All I care for is, that you make this a square stand up fight, and record your judgment by yeas and nays.

I care not how many vote against me; for I know that they will repent it in dust and ashes before three years have passed. Understand, once for all, that I dare you and defy you, and that I propose to fight it out on the line that I had held since the day of Lee's surrender.

COLD AND CATARRH.—"Catching cold," says

Dr. Thomas Linnan, is a common phrase for an attack of catarrh, but is a very incorrect one.

One year I suffered so severely from a series of "colds" that my attention was drawn especially to them. I was then a lecturer on medicine, and nearly every night, from five to six, during the winter months, had to turn from a warm room to go through all weathers, lectures for an hour in a theater heated by a stove and lighted

by gas, and then return again to my snugger at home. When I felt a fresh cold beginning I tried in vain to account for it, until I accidentally saw in Copland's Dictionary that the most fertile cause of a cold was coming from a moist, cold air to a hot and dry room. This at once explained to me the reason of my frequent suffering, for I had invariably gone into my hot room straight from the cold. I of course soon changed my habit; I dawdled in the hall while taking off my great coat, persimmoned the rooms which had no fire in, went up and down stairs and the like, ere I went into my study, whose temperature was also reduced. Since then I agree with a friend, who says "that a cold comes from catching hot," and I am disposed to think there is a strong analogy between a chillblain on a child's toes and a cold in a person's nose, throat and lungs. Medical Mirror.

A SHORN honeymoon is reported by a correspondent of an Irish paper. A young man, sixteen years of age, named Sutton, was sentenced to a month's imprisonment for deserting his wife.

Wool.—Several cords of wool will be taken in payment for subscriptions, if delivered soon.

Up in the Barn.

Old Farmer Joe steps through the doors

As wide to him as gates of Thebes;

And thoughtful walks about the floors

Whereon are piled his winter stores,

And counts the profits of his globs.

Ten tons of timothy up there,

And four of clover in the hay;

Red-top that's cut, well middled fair,

And bias of roots, oblong and square,

To head eke out the crops of hay.

A dozen head of cattle stand

Reflective in the leaf-strewn yard;

Taxation.

During the progress of the late war, and at a time when the struggle was for national existence, our people cheerfully submitted to the imposition of the most burdensome taxes, and paid without a murmur whatever was demanded. This was done in the spirit of patriotism, and in the full belief that those who thus contributed were aiding in sustaining and perpetuating the "best government on earth."

against a candidate flushed with military glory, is a question that will have to be satisfactorily answered previous to the nomination being made. It is possible that the democracy may yet settle down to the conviction that it is necessary to have a military chief in its standard bearer, in which event it is quite certain that General Sherman will be the man.

Indian Treaties—Swindling Systematized.

WALLA WALLA, July 10, 1867. EDITOR STATESMAN:—Agreeable to promise, I will still further ventilate the "Indian Treaty" business. You are no doubt conversant with the "legal" manner and style in which the Territory (now State) of Oregon was settled up under the Donation Act.

But you will ask, what this has to do with "Indian Treaties." I will tell you. A good many of the Indian Agencies have been supplied with "tickets" on this same Donation plan. I will ask you if you ever knew of such healthy localities as Indian Reservations? It is strange, but nevertheless true. For the last eight or ten years, there has been but a small mortality among the Indians on Reservations; the returns to the Department show, if anything, an increase, a little ahead (on Reservations, mind,) with a sad mortality among the hostiles. The reason of this prolonged life on Reservations is simply because the Agents can't spare any.

It is frequently the case, that Indian Agents have on their Reservations what may be called "sunter stores." These stores are supposed to be carried on by some party licensed by the Agent, but somehow or other, a great many Indian goods are found in them, that bear a striking resemblance to those given to the Indians by the Agent at his great "potlaches," and Indian Agents are frequently found looking anxiously after the manner and style in which these sutler do their business. If I remember right, it has only been a few years since a "special" from Washington, found the small amount of 27,000 dollars worth of annuity goods in one of these sutler stores, being sold to Indians and whites alike. The gentlemanly agent was removed, it is true, but I never learned that Uncle Sam ever got whole on this transaction, but presume the Agent did—they always do.

The County Treasurer's Office.

On the motion of James McAllister, asking an order of Court, requiring J. D. Bell, County Auditor, to turn over to the said McAllister, the assessment roll for 1867, Judge Wyché, on Monday last, rendered the following decision:

This is an application for a writ of mandamus on the County Auditor, compelling him to deliver to the petitioner, as County Treasurer, the duplicate assessment roll of the county, which the law requires the Auditor to deliver to the County Treasurer.

The facts in the case are stated in the pleadings and will not be here detailed. The various authorities cited by the counsel on both sides have been carefully examined, and without going into a detailed statement of the numerous cases of a seem generally to agree that the writ of mandamus is a high judicial writ, issuing not as a matter of right, but in the discretion of the Court, and lies only in cases where there is a clear legal right, and there is no other specific legal remedy, and where the writ is essential to prevent disorder and a failure of justice. It is issued to try a title to an office, nor does it issue to an officer in the exercise of his duty, or to determine of what there is the exercise of discretion. In this case the petitioner would be entitled to the writ, only in case his right to the office of County Treasurer is clear, because upon that right depends the duty of the Auditor to issue the roll.

If the petitioner is entitled to the writ in this case, no satisfactory reason offers why he would not be entitled to a writ on the Auditor, to compel him to issue license on the production of the proper receipts from the petitioner, and to do so permit divers other matters required of him, and to answer the County Commissioners, compelling them to recognize him as County Treasurer, and to transact their business and make their settlements with him as County Treasurer.

The determination of the question whether the petitioner or J. D. Cook is the Treasurer of the county, would determine and draw after it all other questions, and the numerous questions connected with the office, can only be properly and satisfactorily determined by the adjudication of this question.

In this case the petitioner, considering himself entitled to the office, still retains the books, papers and other things belonging to the office, while J. D. Cook is recognized as the Treasurer by the County Commissioners, and is proceeding to act as such.

From this state of things the public interests must to some extent suffer, and as there is no reason to doubt that each claimant considers himself legally entitled to the office, it would alike require an early determination of the matter. The force of the objection that the County Commissioners had no right to recognize J. D. Cook as the Treasurer is not perceived. The law requires them to transact certain matters with the Treasurer, and hence the necessity of recognizing some person as Treasurer, and as in this case there is uncertainty and doubt who is in fact the Treasurer, they necessarily to exercise their judgment and discretion in the matter, and to proceed to act on that judgment until some other competent tribunal should determine otherwise.

The boundaries of this writ are not precisely defined, and the decisions in the different courts are not always reconcilable, but after an examination of the authorities, and upon consideration, I am of the opinion that the right of the petitioner to the office of County Treasurer is not clear; that he would be entitled to this writ only in case he had a clear right to the office; that the right to the same cannot properly be determined on this application, and that either side may apply to the Court for a determination of the office of County Treasurer, may, by filing an information, have the rights of the claimants to the office of County Treasurer determined, and the question can be determined in no other proceeding, as it is here expressed or intimated to be expressed, as to the petitioner's title to the office of County Treasurer. The motion, therefore, for a peremptory writ is denied, with costs for defendant.

J. E. WYCHE, Judge.

Mix and Sharpless, for plaintiff; Lassiter and Stevens, for defendant.

The Waukegan Celebration.

DELTA, Walla Walla Co., July 6, 1867. EDITOR STATESMAN:—Herewith please find copy of regular toasts which were adopted by the people at their sentiments, at the 4th of July celebration, held at Waukegan. I have been requested to furnish you with a copy of the proceedings, therefore this is my apology for so doing. In addition, I will say that we had a pleasant and agreeable time, consisting of firing of cannon, music, prayer, oration, and a most sumptuous dinner, both for plenty and variety. The regular toasts were responded to by Messrs. Mix and Hull, and in addition to these we had "Our County, its growth and prosperity," responded to by J. A. Perkins; and "Success to America," responded to by D. Wilson.

Yours, WM. A. SMITH.

THE TOASTS.

The Day we celebrate, may each succeeding anniversary be to many times that may help to bind us to the country that gave us birth. To the memory of the heroes of the Revolution; although they sleep beneath the soil for which they fought, we will ever cherish their noble deeds in grateful remembrance. The Star Spangled Banner, the palladium of our liberties. In response to the beautiful motto before us, let us all say with one accord: "The Spirit of Washington still lives." The President of the United States and his constitutional advisers; may they ever be imbued with the spirit of Washington. To the officers in command at Fort Walla Walla, and to the gentlemen that have been so kind to procure cannon for us; we hereby tender our best wishes for their present and future welfare. To the orator and chaplain of the day; for their services we feel truly thankful, and hope they may each live to enjoy many anniversaries of this day we celebrate. To the day we celebrate; for the manner in which they have performed their duties we extend to each our sincere thanks. To our volunteer gunners; we return to them our thanks for the noble manner in which they have performed their arduous duties. To the young ladies present; may the blossom be a promise and indication of the value of the mature fruit.

THE FIRE IN PORTLAND.—The Oregonian gives particulars of the late fire which consumed the Oregon Iron Works. The loss is estimated at near $50,000. D. McCully, the President, lately loaned the Company $10,000, and required them to insure the amount, so that he avoids loss upon that amount. Stephen Coffin was two-fifths owner; the remaining owners were D. & McCully, E. N. Cooke, S. T. Church, W. S. Powell, J. W. Claxson, A. Myers, Wm. Watkins, Lair Hill, J. C. Jamison, Wm. Masters, and H. Bloomfield. The fire originated in the moulding room, probably from the flasks (cases in which moulds are made) being placed upon the lately cast iron, from which they ignited, setting the works in a blaze. There were twenty respers completed; the patents, Mr. Davis, losses $6,000. Some valuable machinery was saved, and some which was exposed to the fire escaped unharmed. There was no wind stirring, so the fire did not spread. The stockholders of the Company will soon decide if the works shall be rebuilt.

The Southern Press on the Release of Jeff. Davis.

The people of Richmond feel an elation of spirits over the release of Jeff. Davis, which finds ample vent in the following expressions of the press. The Examiner of May 16 contains the following in relation to Judge Underwood:

This creature (Underwood) solemnly went through the part of the play set down for him yesterday, with mute obedience to the will of the malignity of his heart. No man who saw him reading from his play-book when the case was given him could for a moment doubt that he was simply obeying orders, tamely following the whims of his masters. There was not one spontaneous tone in all he said, and the face of a man who had been so long in the face of fancy to find, in his downward eye and slumped shoulders, a suppressed rage at thus being forced to forego the longing of his depraved heart to conduct this case in the spirit of the disgraceful charge which, although not in his own language, expressed his own sentiment, as he opened his Court one week before. But his superiors checked him off, and saved him the only injury which could disgrace Underwood.

The other papers are more magnanimous. The Times says: The moderation of Underwood, the courtesy and forbearance of the prosecution, the admirable department of the Federal officers, the sunburst of Botsie through the dark cloud of his bitter prejudice, the radiant benevolence of Professor Greeley, and joy of all at the prisoner, were, in the noble prisoner, were, we hope, the primitive colors of the rainbow with which it has pleased God at last to span our political heavens. The prison doors have at last been thrown wide open, and no Confederate soldier or statesman, now atoned by individual sufferings for the act of a great people.

The Whig, a Radical paper, bitterly opposed to the recent inflammatory charge of the Judge, says: "In this moment of supreme pleasure, we are not willing to withhold from Judge Underwood a compliment he deserves. His part in the dramatic drama of yesterday, omitting some unnecessary flourishes over the presence and deeds of certain military gentlemen, was borne with a dignity and propriety for which the public was not prepared."

The Enquirer, still more jubilant than any, exults as follows: "Thank God the last political day for a republic of hearts and hands, among the people of the Federal States, that has yet dawned upon the country. The sun looked down in peculiar brightness, and nature wore her most approving smiles while men were bringing to a close the reign of passion and restoring the supremacy of the law."

The New Orleans Bulletin declares that the case of the Nation against Mr. Davis will go off the docket "dismissed—agreed" or one practically settled by the principles expounded by Judges Grant, Sherman and Farragut, and the condemnation of Mr. Davis is not necessary to establish the validity of that which has been decided beyond appeal by the sword, we again recognize the conquerors in having by this act recognized the logic of facts, the spirit of an enlightened and progressive civilization.

The Mobile Advertiser mentions an singular coincidence that the release of Mr. Davis took place on a memorable anniversary—the two hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the settlement of his bond, left the Court-house in Richmond, and proceeded to enter a coach, he was cheered about him and shook his hand. There is the essence of a profound allegory in this spontaneous and unpremeditated congratulation. It speaks the language of native sympathy and impulse, of affectionate memories, and of habits which have the strength of a second nature.

The case of the Nation against Mr. Davis will go off the docket "dismissed—agreed" or one practically settled by the principles expounded by Judges Grant, Sherman and Farragut, and the condemnation of Mr. Davis is not necessary to establish the validity of that which has been decided beyond appeal by the sword, we again recognize the conquerors in having by this act recognized the logic of facts, the spirit of an enlightened and progressive civilization.

The Missouri Democrat, May 15, says of the release: "This is perhaps the strongest ray of hope for a return of reason which has been exhibited since the surrender. We must not falter now in the pursuit of right and justice when the assassin of the Constitution are falling back in dismay. Day after day we see the voice of the people condemning them throughout the North, in sections which maintained them heretofore. Let us be true to ourselves; let us turn our backs to those suicidal, panic-stricken advisers who sell us to barter the last remnant of our liberties, together with honor and self-respect, for the unsubstantial and degrading alternative offered us."

WASHINGTON TERRITORY ELECTION.—Official Returns.

The returns as collated in the office of the Territorial Secretary, foot up as follows:

Table with columns: Flanders, Clark, Total. Rows include Clark, Cowlitz, Obekalls, Wakinkum, Thurston, Kamina, Walla Walla, Klitchick, Pacific, Lewis, Whatcom, Island, Clallam, Kitsap, Pierce, Jefferson, Mason, Skomahish, Stevens.

This vote shows a large increase over any vote previously cast, and goes to show that the Territory is steadily progressing.

The editor is not supposed, in any sense to be the conservator of public morals. He must float with the current, and smile alike upon all classes of people and all pursuits of life.—Ad. sec.

Brother Benson, in the above extract, exactly indicates the idea of some people hereabouts. The editor is a mere machine, to "blow hot, or blow cold," as they choose to indicate. Men who entertain these ideas are but one degree removed from idiots, and the editor who regards their whining mistakes his vocation.

Learn.—Parties lately returned from Lemhi, report the country an unmitigated humbug. Notwithstanding these adverse reports, it is still believed that Lemhi will yet prove a good mining camp.

EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to July 2. COMPILED FROM THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

FROM THE PLAINS.

St. Louis, July 1.—An Omaha special says the mountain rise is coming down the Missouri river, which is already overflowed. In many places, quantities of Government freights are exposed. Fifty Mormon Missionaries have arrived here en route for Europe. The railroad working parties are more fully protected against the Indians. Custar, at last accounts, was Republican Fork, ready to pursue the Indians should they go south.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

New York, July 1.—The statistical reports to the Agricultural Department fully confirm the previous indications of a superior wheat crop, which is now estimated at fully two hundred million bushels. The new steamer China, for the San Francisco, Japan, and China route, has sailed for Panama and San Francisco. The taxation of the city for the current year reached twenty-three million dollars.

THE TRIAL OF SURRAT.

Washington, July 1.—The trial of Surratt was resumed to day, and Wichey was again examined. He corrected a part of his testimony given at the assassination trial. This testimony was unimportant. The Surgeon of the steamer Peruvian testified that Surratt crossed the ocean in his vessel, in September, 1865. Surratt got on board the vessel at Quebec. Beverly Tucker and General Ripley, of South Carolina, had frequent conversations with the prisoner between Montreal and Quebec. Surratt expressed fear of American detectives, after having engaged passage under the name of McGarby. He had his hair dyed and otherwise disguised himself. Surratt said he had received $100,000 from the Confederate Secretary of State, and related several incidents which occurred while bearing dispatches to Richmond. The entire session was consumed in the examination of this witness.

DESTITUTION IN NORTH CAROLINA.

New York, July 1.—We have deplorable accounts of destitution in Wake county, N. C. At least 300 families are nearly destitute, some had no meal for weeks; no bread for days, no flour for months nor sugar nor coffee for years.

FOURTH OF JULY AT THE SOUTH.

The Department Commanders in the South are directed to give orders to appropriate moines for the observance of the Fourth of July.

CANADIAN CONFEDERATION CELEBRATION.

Chicago, July 1.—The inauguration of the confederation was celebrated to-day throughout Canada, by general holiday, military reviews, public meetings, banquets, illuminations, fireworks, etc.

FRAUDS AT NEW ORLEANS—INDICTMENTS.

New Orleans, July 2.—A fraudulent issue of city scrip has been discovered. The amount is unknown. No action has been taken by council, and city notes are steadily becoming uncured. The Grand Jury of the District Court found bills of indictment against Mayor May, President of the first National Bank for embezzlement of $150,000, while the sub-Treasurer and others are indicted for embezzling $100,000, deposited in the bank as Government property. They also found bills against Whiteaker for the embezzlement of $145,000 in Government funds. Six cases of yellow fever are reported.

IMPEACHMENT.

Chicago, July 2.—The Times' special says: There is proper authority for the statement that a report in favor of impeaching the President is being prepared by four members of the committee, Boutwell, Lawrence, Williams, and Thomas. Mr. Wilson, the chairman, will probably report a resolution censuring the President. The Democrats have not indicated their course of action. Probably no majority report will favor any conclusion.

MAXIMILIAN.

It has officially transpired that the French Minister informed Mr. Seward that Maximilian proposed to abdicate provided a constitutional bill is being prepared by four members of the committee, Boutwell, Lawrence, Williams, and Thomas. Mr. Wilson, the chairman, will probably report a resolution censuring the President. The Democrats have not indicated their course of action. Probably no majority report will favor any conclusion.

RECONSTRUCTION.

The New York Tribune's special says: Indications point to a substantial accord of various opinions and the probable passage of a bill remedying the defects in the reconstruction act, and placing beyond a question the power of military commanders to remove civil officers. It is believed the bill can be agreed upon by a satisfactory majority of Congress, but yet will not be opposed by the President. It is not the purpose of members favoring impeachment to push matters at the July session, but to ask for a special session in October.

THE PRESS ON THE EXECUTION OF MAXIMILIAN.

The Chicago Times' special says that Greeley, in his testimony before the Judiciary Committee, said he had no communication with any member of the Government in relation to the trial or release of Jefferson Davis, except with Speed, which was in the spring of 1866. He had no communication whatever with the President on the subject. When he went to Richmond he had no knowledge of what the Government would do.

SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

San Francisco, July 6.—The Bulletin of this evening says the movement for a convention at Sacramento, to be held on the 16th, for the purpose of substituting three or four names for those of the offensive candidates on the Union State ticket, is the subject of a general discussion. It is regarded as a legitimate effort within the organization to strengthen the party, and the only means that now remains for rescuing the incubus that depresses the Union cause in this State.

A terrible accident occurred at Fort Point, on the 4th, resulting in the immediate killing of John Patterson and Michael Condon, of Battery K, 2d regiment of Artillery. A salute was fired with one of the heavy guns, and after the explosion the dead bodies of the men were found some twenty feet from the mouth of the cannon. The verdict of the Coroner's jury relates the following facts: The deceased had both been absent from their duty at the Fort as soldiers for four days, and on their return on the morning of the 4th, they were placed under arrest and confined within the walls of the Fort; they did not pass the sentinel at the gate, and after the salute was fired their dead bodies were found, terribly mutilated, some twenty feet from the mouth of the lower tier of guns, which had been discharged. These positions are that they crawled through the embrasure, expecting to escape, and were concealed themselves before the cannon, which they thought already had been or would not again be fired, and that their death was accidental.

The Fourth at Lower Touchet.

Lower Touchet, July 6, 1867.

EDITOR STATESMAN:—You will confer a favor upon the citizens of our part of the county, by giving us space in your paper to inform the public that we had a Fourth of July which was a Fourth, and no humbug; where the people of all classes, rich and poor, young and old, could assemble without fear to celebrate the great day of American independence, without regard to political differences or selfish opinions.

At an early hour in the day, the people from all parts of the county, in wagons, carriages, and on horseback, made a general rush for the beautiful grove, at Mullan's bridge, there to enjoy each other's society and each other's hospitality.

Mr. M. Nees acted in the capacity of President, and J. M. Hedrick as Marshal of the day. By 10 o'clock, near one hundred people were present, and all marched in good order to the grove, where seats were prepared and tables spread with that which was exceedingly good to take. Our singers, which were numerous, then opened the exercises with the National Hymn, which was followed by the reading of the good old Declaration by R. F. Walker, Esq., Dr. Goodwin was then introduced, and in a very able and eloquent manner addressed us, doing honor to himself and leaving lasting impressions upon all who heard him. At the close of the Doctor's oration, the following toasts were read and responded to:

Washington.

America; may her glory never depart and be example ever be followed until the race of Kings and nobles shall be forgotten. To the brave officers and men who staked their lives and sacred honor in defence of the Red, White and Blue.

To the mothers of our country; may they so train the youth in the paths of truth and virtue, that they will never depart from the precepts instilled in infancy.

The Star Spangled Banner was then sung and the assemblage formed in line of procession and marched to an ample repast, to wit, "good grub," with which all, even the children, were delighted. At 2 o'clock, we repaired to the residence of Mr. Hart, where all who wished kept up until a late hour in the evening, when the people all went home, rejoicing in a good time. Yours, J. M. HEDRICK, M. NEES.

India Rubber Neckties.—Those of our readers who would secure this latest novelty, are referred to Mr. Wolfstein's advertisement, in another column.

Behind the Times.—The people of Portland failed to celebrate the Fourth of July. In this regard the "emporium" is decidedly behind the times.

Recovering.—Elihu Ward, the gentleman who was shot and severely injured, at the foot of the mountains, a few weeks since, is out of danger, and will have the use of his arm.

Taxes.—Read J. D. Cook's notice to taxpayers, and then save ten per cent. by promptly paying your taxes. Mr. Butler also has a notice in relation to U. S. taxes and licenses, which it will be well to heed.

Harvest.—The farmers in this Valley are busily engaged in harvesting their crop. We learn that harvest hands are very scarce, and that as a consequence high wages are offered. Good hands command from $2.50 to $3.50 per diem.

Fast Time.—Our genial friend, John Creighton, who is a whole team in himself, left Portland on Friday morning, at 5 o'clock, and arrived at Walla Walla, on Saturday afternoon, at half past 1 o'clock, having made the entire distance in 32 1/2 hours. This is what may be called fast time.

New Discovery.—We hear that paying mines have been discovered on the Columbia River, near White Bluffs. They prospect all the way from three to eight cents to the pan, but are so situated that it is difficult to get water on the claims. Parties are now on the ground, and are so confident that if they can get water they have a good thing.

Contested Election.—The case of H. M. Hodges vs. A. Seitel, involving the title to the office of Sheriff of Walla Walla county, was up before Judge Chase, on Tuesday and Wednesday last. On Wednesday, owing to the illness of the Judge, the hearing of the case was continued.

The Fourth at Frenchtown.—Our Frenchtown neighbors celebrated the Fourth in a creditable manner. The exercises included the reading of the Declaration, and an oration by Rev. C. Ellis. The address was eloquent, and gave great satisfaction to those who were in attendance.

Reveries in Princes.—Our friend Sine, in order to keep pace with the times, has reduced his charges for all descriptions of blacksmith work, horse shoeing, &c. "A penny saved is a penny earned," and on this principle it is always best to patronize those who do good and cheap work.

The Weather hereabouts, in the language of the almanac, is "changeable." One day perfectly calm, with the thermometer ranging from 95° to 100°; the next day blustering, with the temperature down to 70°. "Variety is said to be the spice of life," and on the same principle the climate of this Valley may be characterized as delightful.

Congressional.—Congress is now in session, and so we may look out for another batch of radical legislation. The two Houses met on the Fourth of July, when quorums were found to be present in each House. The President declined to send in any communication. A resolution was passed, returning the thanks of Congress to General Sheridan for his zeal in carrying out the provisions of the military reconstruction bill. The Kentucky members were refused admission to their seats, on the charge of dilatory. It is thought that but little business will be transacted beyond the passage of a supplementary reconstruction bill, the present law failing to answer radical expectations.

Cleanse the Blood. WITH correct, disorderly or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may be due to impure blood, or to some active disease, or to some inactive disease, or to some chronic disease, or to some hereditary disease. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S Sarsaparilla purges out the impurities, restores the organs of life to vigorous action, restores the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impure blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Itch, St. Anthony's Fire, Ring Worm, Cancer, or other Skin Diseases, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Leucorrhoea, also Syphilis or Venereal Disease, Rheumatism, and all other diseases which are caused by impure blood, and which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been found to be water, for they not only contain little if any Sarsaparilla, but often no curative principle whatever. Hence, the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. We call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and in some cases supply such a remedy as shall rescue the sufferer from the load of obliquity which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irretrievable by the ordinary run of the disease, and we offer them the best alternative which we can give to procure, and we have reason to believe, that it is far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayer's Cathartic is a universally known and effective remedy for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness, Dropsy, Bronchitis, Inflammation, and for the relief of Consumptive Coughs, and all other diseases of the bowels. It is a safe and pleasant medicine, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians to relieve the bowels, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is sold at wholesale by SMITH & DAVIS, Portland, and by all dealers.

Florence Mines. Mr. Leland, writing to the Lewiston Journal, from Warren's Camp, under date of June 30th, furnishes the following mining items:

"I found things flourishing in Florence. The mines on the tributaries of Summit Flat were paying largely. From all I could learn I became convinced that Florence will yield more gold this season than any season since '63.

"On Friday I visited the Florence tunnel on the Liddle & Harper vein. The tunnel has been run 250 feet, and done in a workmanlike manner. Every foot of it has been through solid granite, which required blasting. They have just come to water at the bottom of the tunnel, and small veins of quartz, which are evidently feeders to the main vein. I predict they will strike the vein within 20 feet. In fact should the dip change from 45° at the surface to about 38° at the depth of the tunnel, it will require the length of the tunnel to be about 280 feet to reach the vein. I have full confidence in the finding of this vein at this depth and within the above distance.

"I visited the new bridge near the mouth of Meadow creek on Salmon river, and found two towers resting upon stone abutments, well constructed and secured against the force of the current of the water. The span of the bridge between towers is 200 feet. All things were ready on Friday for the stretching of the wire. The proprietors informed me that the bridge would be ready for crossing within three weeks. Considerable delay had been occasioned by the high water which had made work on the towers slow.

"I went to the French creek ferry on Friday night. The water is so high, and drift running to such an extent that I could not cross the river till 10 o'clock on Saturday. I find business here just commencing for the season. Much work has been done for weeks past, but not that from which money was realized. It was labor to guard against the high water in mining claims. Last week and the week previous, considerable gold was taken out—this week much more will be taken out. The hill claims of Sanderson & Dennis, situated above the reach of high water, have yielded well for four weeks past. They, with the labor of five men, have washed and cleaned up upwards of $5,000, and have the last week's washing yet to clean up. Other claims are doing remarkably well.

"There are more men in camp than there were last year in the same month. Many are here to prospect for quartz. The ground has been so wet that but little has yet been done on the leads. One new discovery was made last week, called the Eldorado. The vein is about sixteen inches wide, and samples of the ore shown to me were rich in silver. I visited the astrata of Morton & Long today. They had another clean-up from the crushing of about two tons of the Sampson ore, which yielded nearly 18 ounces of retorted amalgam.

"The mill is simple in its construction, can reduce about one ton in 24 hours to the consistency of river sand. From the tailings left, I am quite sure not over one half of the metal of the rock was saved. They roast the ore, but use no other efforts to save the silver of the ore reduced. These men by permission have made new openings upon the Rio Joco vein, and disclosed some of the richest ore I have ever seen in this camp. They will reduce some of this ore the present week, from which are expected the best of results. At this new opening the vein is much wider and richer than found in the discovery opening. The new opening is on claim one, West from discovery stake.

"Work on the Martins vein will be commenced this week—much snow lies in the region of that vein. New openings have been made on the Washington vein, which produce good ore."

Generally Journalists.—The Denver Gazette, under the head of "Rally, Cyrians, to the Rescue," thus alludes to its neighbor, the News: "Cock in a leader yesterday says he is going to be assassinated; we hope he will make a will and leave us a lock of his beautiful hair to poison our rats with. He don't seem to like to be dogged around at night, as he used to watch with his News office pimps for us. We wonder whether he don't remember watching in a dark doorway one night for us, and when the moment came didn't do anything, cause why? he didn't like the patent of our revolver."

PERRY DAVIS' Vegetable Pain Killer, The Great Family Medicine of the Age.

Taken Internally, Cures Sudden Colds, coughs, c.c., weak stomach, general debility, nursing sore mouth, cancer, liver complaint, dyspepsia or indigestion, cramp or pain in the stomach, bowel complaint, painters colic, Asiatic cholera, diarrhoea and dysentery. Taken Externally, Cures Felons, Boils and old sores, severe burns and scalds, cuts, bruises and sprains, swelling of the joints, ringworm and tetter, broken breasts, frosted feet and chilblains, toothache, pain in the face, neuralgia and rheumatism.

THE PAIN KILLER is by universal consent all-sufficient for itself a reputation unsurpassed in the history of medicinal preparations. Its instantaneous effect in the entire eradication and extinction of pain in all its various forms incidental to the human family, and the uncollected written and verbal testimony of the masses in its favor, are its own best advertisements. The Ingredients which enter into the PAIN KILLER, being purely vegetable render it a perfectly safe and efficacious remedy internally as well as for external application, when used according to directions. The slight stain upon linen from its use in external applications, is readily removed by washing in a little alcohol.

This Medicine, justly celebrated for the cure of so many of the afflictions incident to the human family, has now been before the public over twenty years, and has found its way into almost every corner of the world; and whenever it is used, the same opinion is expressed of its real medicinal properties. In any attack where prompt action upon the system is required the PAIN KILLER is invaluable. Its almost instantaneous effect in relieving pain is truly wonderful; and when used according to directions, is true to its name.

A PAIN KILLER. It is, in truth, a Family Medicine, and should be kept in every family for immediate use. Persons traveling should always have a bottle of this remedy with them. It is not infrequently the case that persons are attacked with disease and before medical aid can be procured the patient is beyond the hope of recovery. Captains of teams should always supply themselves with a few bottles of this remedy, before leaving port, as by doing so they will be in possession of an invaluable remedy to resort to in case of accident or sudden attacks of sickness. It has been used in several cases of CHOLERA and never has failed in a single case, where it was thoroughly applied on the first appearance of the symptoms. To those who have so long used and proved the merits of our article, we will continue to use it to prepare our PAIN KILLER of the best and purest materials, and that it shall be in every way worthy of their approbation as a Family Medicine.
