

Salaries of State Officers.

In our judgment the members of the constitutional convention err greatly when they undertake to regulate the salaries of officials by constitutional limitations.

This was the theory of the fathers of our institutions, and with all our progress we doubt whether the men of to-day excel them in knowledge of the science of government.

Now it so happened that at the time when the constitution for Oregon was framed the territory was sparsely settled, the people generally poor, and the whole idea of a state little more than a travesty upon just conceptions of government.

This was the sugar coating to the pill, and blinded with this delusion, the constitution was adopted by the vote of the people, and thus literally Oregon was brought into the Union under cover of a fraud.

At the second state election a different class of men came into power, and from 1854 down to date, it has been the constant endeavor of Oregon politicians to thwart the provisions of the constitution.

This is the practical working of the system in Oregon, and in the light thus shed upon it, we are surprised to find the members of the convention—now in session in this city—seeking to engrave it upon the coming state of Washington.

The whole system is wrong, and proceeds upon the basis of false pretences. Let the constitution prescribe the duties of the officers, and hedge them in by all proper safeguards.

Let us follow the example of the eastern states—where an Indian is seldom seen—and have a full and thorough organization of citizens from Walla Walla county armed and endorsed by territorial authority.

Wheat Prospects.—Although the price of wheat has declined somewhat in English markets, and the moving crops look better than they did a short time ago, still the prospects for reasonable prices for our surplus crop are fair.

In matters of this kind there is no place for clap-trap humbug. The Merry Andrew is well enough in the circus, but when it comes to framing the fundamental law for a new commonwealth, the man who is privileged to partake in the great work should rise to the dignity of the occasion.

will enable it to outlive the changes of today and perpetuate itself in the distant future as the great charter of the people's rights.

Stooping to fix the pay of title-holders is beneath the dignity of a constitutional convention, and we were surprised to find honorable gentlemen lending it the force of their sanction.

Without fully commenting upon the above, we have to say that the salary system in all the States is objectionable, and we think it very doubtful policy to give this latest outgrowth of the corruption of our day a place in the organic law of the land.

EDITOR STATESMAN:—The solution of the Indian problem in Idaho, Eastern Oregon and Washington is becoming a serious matter.

EDITOR STATESMAN:—For many years in the past there has been a constant demand for protection other than that offered by the small part of the military stationed at this post.

REMEMBER.—Four years ago, Grant removed General J. C. Davis, from the command of the military department of the Columbia, because of personal pique and that General Davis was a democrat.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Twenty-First Day. FRIDAY, July 5, 1878.

Our report of last week closed with the recess taken on Friday noon. The afternoon session was devoted to a consideration of the article on judiciary, in committee of the whole, Mr. Eldridge in the chair.

Twenty-Second Day. SATURDAY, July 6, 1878.

The convention resumed consideration of the judiciary article. The article as amended in committee was reported. Among the amendments we note the following:

Strike out all after the word "state" in the 11th line of section 1, and insert the following: "But this shall not prevent the courts from being paid and punished in the courts, according to law."

On motion of Mr. Eldridge, all the amendments made in committee, as also the amendments made in convention, were adopted.

Twenty-Third Day. MONDAY, July 8, 1878.

The convention assembled at 9 a. m., Mr. President in the chair. Mr. Leland, from committee No. 3, reported a substitute for the article entitled "Judiciary."

On motion of Mr. Eldridge, all the amendments made in committee, as also the amendments made in convention, were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Eldridge, the amendments proposed by the committee of the whole to section 12 were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Eldridge, the amendments proposed by the committee of the whole, to strike out section 15 of the original article, were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Eldridge, section 15 of the article was amended by striking out the following: "Such compensation shall be ascertained by a board of commissioners of not less than three freeholders, or by a jury, when required by the owner of the property, in such manner as may be prescribed by law, and until the same shall be paid to the owner, or into court for the owner, the property shall not be disturbed, nor the property rights of the owner therein disturbed; and whenever an attempt is made to take private property for a use alleged to be public, the question whether the contemplated use is really public, shall be a judicial question, and be determined as such without regard to any legislative assertion that the use is public."

On motion of Mr. Andrews, the section was further amended by striking out the following words: "In ascertaining the value of the property taken, or the damage resulting, no deduction shall be made for benefits resulting which are enjoyed in common with the rest of the community."

The article was amended in various other respects, but without coming to a final vote, the convention took a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mr. Dennison moved the adoption of a new section that practically recognizes the right of women to hold county, legislative and judicial offices.

On motion of Mr. Larrabee, the article on judiciary was taken from the table.

The same gentleman then moved that "The legislature shall have power to vest in any county court civil jurisdiction concurrent with the civil courts in actions at law where the amount in controversy shall not exceed in value the sum of $500, and concurrent jurisdiction in all cases of misdemeanor."

On motion of Mr. Larrabee, the article on judiciary was taken from the table.

Twenty-Fifth Day. WEDNESDAY, July 10, 1878.

The convention met at 9 a. m., Mr. President in the chair.

A memorial to congress asking an appropriation to remove the obstructions in Snake river, was read and adopted.

distributed "Distribution of Powers," was placed upon its final passage. It was adopted by a unanimous vote.

On motion of Mr. Bradshaw, the article on "Amendments" was read a third time, and adopted by a unanimous vote.

On motion of Mr. O'Dell, the article on "Bibliographies," was read a third time, and adopted by a unanimous vote.

On motion of Mr. Larrabee, the article entitled "Officers," was read a third time, and passed by a unanimous vote.

On motion of Mr. Larrabee, all the articles that had finally passed were ordered printed.

On motion of Mr. O'Dell, the article entitled "Corporations," was taken from the table, read a first and second time, and referred to committee of the whole.

The chair announced Messrs. Larrabee, Eldridge, Stewart, Andrews, O'Dell and Bradshaw as committee on revision and arrangement.

On motion of Mr. Larrabee, the article entitled "State Institutions," was read a first and second time, and referred to committee of the whole.

On motion of Mr. Larrabee, the article entitled "Rights of Married Women and Exemptions," was read a first and second time, and referred to committee of the whole.

A BEAUTIFUL BOUQUET OF CHOICE FLOWERS. Mrs. M. J. McAlley, of the gift of Mrs. A. McAlley, for which she will accept our thanks. Also, a pair of unusually large and fine blackberries from the same gentleman. Such kind attentions are fully appreciated.

Mrs. J. E. Inger, wife of Hon. E. Inger, has returned from a visit to her old Indian home, and is now safe with her family and friends. She enjoyed her visit greatly, but says that the conditions would have been induced to the most desirable possession in the world.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS. A. McAlley, Esq., has upon upon table a jar of gooseberries, grown in his garden, a short distance below town, that are remarkable for size. Taking one of them at random, we found that it measured 1 1/2 inches around, and others in the jar were larger. All who have seen them pronounce them remarkable, and may find it difficult to believe that they are the genuine gooseberry.

THE INDIANS ON THE RUN. After fighting for several days in Umatilla county, the Indians finally made their escape, and are now reported to be striking for the route so successfully followed by Joseph. Gen. Howard arrived at Walla Walla, Thursday night, and at 6 A. M. early he started for the point on Snake river where it is expected the Indians will attempt to cross. The troops are making forced marches in hopes of overtaking the savages.

GRABING THE REBELS. A couple of steamboats having been placed at the disposal of the military authorities, Major Wilkinson, with small detachments of regular troops, and a couple of companies of volunteers, has been cruising up and down the river for several days, and has succeeded in landing up a number of Indian camps. He has also destroyed a large number of canoes, and otherwise disabled the savages. At last accounts, Major Wilkinson and command had started for White Bluffs, and were destroying all Indian property found along the line of the river. It is expected that this movement will end Moses, and his band upon the war path, but we hope for the best.

THE CITY DIRECTORY. Monday last, passed quietly and attracted little attention. The officers are as follows: Mayor, James McAdiff; marshal, John G. Justice; city clerk, J. W. Park; recorder, Fred Stone; 3d ward, Frank Palmer; 2d ward, K. K. Straight; 1st ward, John Taylor, Wm. Kohlhauff; 4th ward, M. F. C. Under the new charter the committee almost unanimous authority in the matter of levying taxes; and bearing in mind the fact that the public will realize how fortunate it is that a majority of the members are large taxpayers. Without being too positive, we think that our citizens have the assurance of a good city government for the coming year.

THE MAILS are interrupted by the Indian outbreak, and for several days this week there has been no connection through from the railroad. It is difficult to realize this condition of affairs. Twenty years ago Indian outbreaks were looked for, and indeed the money expended in Indian wars was what kept most of us in the country. Now, however, the condition of affairs has changed, and all the interests of the country are in favor of peace. A wild population where the great majority are devoted to rural pursuits, it can scarcely be conceived that the mails should be interrupted and business brought to a standstill by a horde of savages. Yet such is the fact, and dislike it as we may, all that remains is to grin and bear it.

HON. CHARLES L. JEWELL, late member of the state senate, is one of the sufferers by the Indian outbreak. Toward the close of last week he went out in the neighborhood of Pilot Rock to look up a large band of sheep owned by him, and whilst doing so became separated from his men. Whilst thus alone he was fired on by the Indians, and dangerously wounded. He was shot through the side and arm, the former wound being deemed the most serious. After being shot he lay for a long time unattended, and this exposure has made his condition critical. Mr. Jewell claims he knows the Indians who shot him, and says they were white men from the Umatilla reservation. It now begins to appear as though Col. Conroy's pet, although making great professions of friendship, have been in sympathy with the hostiles all the time, and that with the first opportunity they have turned their arms against the whites. Should this charge be substantiated, the public voice will at once demand their removal from the present reservation. The idea of three-handed murderers being permitted to hold the best land in the country is not to be tolerated.

OUR POPULATION. Hon. W. S. Newland, late speaker of the house, and a gentleman who is generally well posted, estimates the population of the territory at 60,000. This population is divided as follows: East of the mountains, 21,000; West of the mountains, 39,000. Total, 60,000. We have not investigated this question of population closely, but we take it that the above estimate is very nearly correct. A body of learned gentlemen is now in session carefully preparing a constitution for a new state that is to be based on this slender population. The standard of representation in congress is about 100,000 to each representative, but here we are trying up the framework of a state that is to have two senators and a voting representative in congress, and all based upon a possible population of 60,000. When Oregon was snuggled into the Union, Joe Lane by counting whites and Indians figured up a total of over 100,000. Possibly it is intended to count in the territory as a state the same way, but gentlemen who are engaged in putting up a play of the same trick that it is difficult to believe that it can be done. If Indian wars can be avoided, it is possible that in three or four years from date we may have the population to entitle us to ask for admission, but just now the movement is premature, and with all his skill we apprehend that the prime mover will find it difficult to ferry his way to a seat in the senate. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

CHIEF MOSES.—Great anxiety is felt at this moment as to the course Chief Moses will pursue, and it is feared that Major Wilkinson's wild raid up the Columbia will have the effect to drive him into hostilities. It certainly is a great misfortune that just at this time some officer of coolness and judgment cannot be dispatched to visit that great warrior and arrange with him for terms of peace. Let Moses go on the war path, and the settlers in the Palouse country, the Four Lakes, Crab creek, Spokane, and the whole vast interior, will be swept away. The latest authentic report we have from Moses represents him as peacefully inclined. A few days since Mr. Chas. McKay visited Moses with a message from Gen. Howard. The report is that after hearing the message, Moses made a three hours speech to his warriors, and then sent three of his young men to inform other tribes of the state of affairs. He told McKay that all he wanted was the same liberty enjoyed by the white man; if any member of his tribe wanted to join the church, he had no objections, but he did not want them to be compelled to; if he wanted to play cards he thinks he ought to be allowed to do so; if he wanted to do business he would do so. He says he will sell the land he is now on, but he will never be driven from it. He will meet Howard at Priest's rapids any time. He had not heard of the Bannock uprising, and he supposed the troops coming up the river were for the Bannock war, and to force him to the reservation. He is a very intelligent and very much excited until the messenger returned. Moses says Simohalla is an old fool, and he will take a rope and go down and hang him some day. Moses says that if he breaks out it will be the greatest Indian war the government has had to deal with, and he says he knows that he can do it. He says he will kill all who are captured and killed. McKay says that Moses is a very fine specimen of the aborigine. He weighs 250 pounds, and is in form as perfect as a statue. He is, to-day, the most powerful chief in the United States. He is a very fair English scholar, and dresses in European style.

JULY RACES.—We were unable to obtain a list of the horses entered and the time made in time for our issue of last week. We now give a complete list of the races:

The attendance at the races was excellent, the sport keen, and altogether the turf is looking up.
Mr. C. S. Warren, a gentleman who is spoken of in the highest terms by the Portland papers, has removed to Walla Walla, and proposes to permanently identify himself with our interests. In noticing his removal, the Telegraph has the following:
"To-morrow morning he departs for Walla Walla, where already his family is located, with the intention of making that city his permanent home. While we congratulate Walla Walla upon the valuable acquisition which she will receive to her business population in the person of Mr. Warren, we must express strong regret at losing so excellent a correspondent, and at the same time we have always found him to be, and this without any motive of flattery. We wish Mr. Warren unbounded success in his future life at Walla Walla, and trust he will find the inhabitants of that thriving city equally congenial with himself."

SHAVINGS.—We notice in the alley way running from Second to Third streets, and south of Main street, an immense accumulation of shavings, dry as tinder, and liable to catch fire at any moment. In case of new buildings, the shavings ought either to be removed or kept wet down. Neglect in this respect endangers the safety of the town. "A hint to the wise," etc.

CAUSE STATION DESTROYED.—A messenger came in yesterday afternoon with the report that the Indians had fired Cayuse station and that all the buildings were consumed.
Gov. Ferry is at Walla Walla, nominally looking after Indian affairs, but generally supposed to have an eye on the convention.

LATEST WAR NEWS.
Fight Near Pilot Rock, Oregon.
IN CAMP ON BLUE MOUNTAINS.
About 12 miles from Pilot Rock, July 8th, 1878.—2 P. M.

EDITOR STATESMAN.—We left Pilot Rock this morning and started toward Butter creek to find the hostiles who were supposed to be there, and heading for the Columbia river. Soon after leaving camp signal fires were seen on the mountains, showing that the Indians were aware of our coming. About 8 o'clock their scouts were first seen in the distance on the ridges running from the mountains, and at 9 o'clock the main body were discovered making up along the ridge toward the mountains. Orders were given to gallop, and soon the command began to exchange shots with them, gradually driving them up the ridge to two high points of the same, where they were seen gathered in large numbers. They did not stand their ground as well as the brave Nez Perces, for as the soldiers kept coming they retreated on into the timber, exchanging shots nearly all the way. In the charge several Indians were found. END OF THE PONY'S TAIL.

A Matter-of-fact Jury Decides that "Docking" is not Cruel.

The great Polo pony case drew a crowd of house. The prisoner Frazer, with his counsel, Oakley Hall, and Perry Belmont, August Belmont, Jr., G. E. Griswold and Fred Grant set behind the bar, and within the enclosure set apart for the public prosecutor were assistant district attorney Herring, Mr. Bergh and a number of the officers of the society. There were "vets" and men with horseshoe pins without number in the audience.

Mr. Hall opened the case for the defense. He held up his piece of bamboo, and said it was a slightly varnished tail, originally part of a horse, and that the prosecution was malicious. He repudiated Darwin, but wanted to know, if men had tails once, whether it was cruel to cut them off. Mr. Bergh had been twelve years president of the society, with Long Island full of docked horses, and the first prosecution was begun to convict a man of cruelty on the 17th of June, 1878. Cruelty was an inhuman and barbarous exhibition of temper. "I would never stand up here," he continued with enthusiasm, "to defend a man who was guilty of cruelty to his wife or his children, his man-servant or his maid-servant, his ox, or his ass, or his horse, or any animate being, but I am here to-day because I see this prosecution is a put-up-job, intended to strike the polo club and the rich men who are associated with it through Frazer, merely because they do not invite Mr. Bergh to their homes to dinner. [Roars of laughter, in which Mr. Bergh joined heartily.] He has done a great deal of good, for which I honor and praise him. But a man who has a hobby is apt to ride it to death." After a pan on herring and ice-bergh, Mr. Hall concluded by saying that Frazer docked the tail of "Custer's mare" with the authority of her owner and with the sanction of history.

August Belmont, Jr., was the first witness called for the defense. He testified that he was acquainted with the pony operated on by Frazer, and that it was in front of the court house for judge and jury to examine. He brought a message from Harry Oelrichs to Frazer to have the tail "docked."

"You are acquainted with the use to which the pony was put?" "I am; it was polo playing."

"What was the particular reason for removing a piece of the tail in this case?" "Because it was too long, and was an obstruction to the players, the same as the mane is an obstruction to the use of the mallet."

"Is polo played as an amusement simply?" "As an exercise."

"Was it followed by Mr. Oelrichs as an amusement simply?" "I suppose so."

"He is a member of the Polo club?" "Yes, sir."

"Describe the game." "It is simply hockey playing on horse-back."

"I would like to take advantage of the invitation," Judge Oelrichs said, "to remark, if any duties could be done, and if I got in on a docked head ticket."

"The court," Mr. Hall rejoined, "is a 'dead head' wherever it goes." Then Mr. Hall blushed, and said he meant no disrespect.

The witness continued his description of the game and the balls and mallets employed.

"This game," Mr. Herring said, "frequently results in serious injuries."

"Yes, to the players, not to the ponies." In answer to Mr. Hall, the witness said the game was originally practiced by British officers and soldiers, and was introduced into this country a few years after conquest. It was a sort of masculine croquet; he had seen ladies injured while playing croquet.

George W. Bishop, a horse-dealer, next took the witness-stand. Thirty years ago, he said, ninety per cent of horses' tails were docked; it was formerly a very barbarous operation; as performed now, he didn't think the horses felt it much; the tail when long caught in the reins, and when the horse was bad it could not be easily disengaged, even by the most skillful horseman.

"What is the proportion of bad horsemen to good ones?" Mr. Hall asked.

"About the same as in the case of lawyers," the witness retorted.

James S. Cattanchi, a veterinary surgeon, testified that "docking" improves the symmetry of the animal and increases its value. The pain depends upon the manner in which the operation is performed. He had seen horses which paid no attention to it, and others which jumped about.

FARMERS OF WALLA WALLA VALLEY

Are unanimous in their expression that the Agricultural Implements

— SOLD BY —

PAINÉ BROS.,

ARE THE PERFECTION OF MECHANICAL SKILL, AND ARE, IN ALL respects, the only articles of farm machinery adapted to the wants of this locality. For the harvest of 1878, MESSRS. PAINÉ BROS. invite the attention of farmers to

THE HARVESTER KING!

This Binder is recognized by all experienced persons as the only one yet invented free from serious defects. The Automatic Crane Binder Attachment, having been thoroughly tested, is admitted to be superior to all others in the market. A comparison will satisfy any one that the HARVESTER KING is the only one now in existence that has stood the test, and we caution farmers against purchasing any other.

The Champion Self-Raker!

Is the simplest, yet, at the same time, most durable and effective ever invented. Its merits are too well known to require any word of commendation from us. Every farmer who has used it is its friend; and to the hundreds to whom we have sold this implement, we refer, confidently believing that in every instance it will receive unqualified praise.

Buffalo Pitts "Challenger" Thresher!

This machine, containing many improvements, and manufactured expressly to meet the wants of this country, stands at the head of all other machines, and by long experience, in which its reliability has been thoroughly tested, has deservedly earned the title of

KING OF THRESHING MACHINES

An intelligent farmer, one who has any knowledge of his calling, would not think of purchasing any other. Go anywhere in the Walla Walla Valley, and ask which machine has proved the most durable, the best adapted to the climate and the work to be done, and the universal answer will be the BUFFALO PITTS CHALLENGER. This machine can be relied upon. Can we need be said of others?
