

Michigan has a new law providing for the instruction of all pupils in the public schools as to the effects of alcohol upon the human system.

The election on Monday was the first held in the city of "old timers" from this time on the young and new blood in the country will assert itself at election times.

A thorough study of the city charter is now in order by the newly elected city government. We especially direct their attention to Sec. 123, page 32, in that document.

One of the first acts of the new mayor will be the appointing of committees, and the question is whether he will be guided by his own good sense or be dictated to by those interested?

The great, sudden and wonderful friendly shown to the newly elected mayor by certain parties would be strange indeed were it not for the fact that he (the mayor) has the appointing of committees. Mayor McAuliff would not appoint Tom Fletcher on the committee he requested to be placed upon, hence his lile.

New York's "last society" now on their own bread at the table on a plate made of wood from the Holy Land, and with a knife purchased in Damascus, except on great occasions, when the eldest daughter, just from Vassar, makes the bread herself.

"Now, my dear," said a Hartford man this morning, "you have made the sleeves of this shirt too awful short. I never can wear it in the world." "Well I'm sorry; but can't you wear it just for one day?" "If I only had a wart on my elbow I might." "Why, what difference would that make?" "I could use it for a cuff button and be sold!" - Hartford Post.

Although Indiana will vote in November next year, this removing one distressful element from the Presidential campaign, yet she will be regarded as one of the two pivotal states, and neither party will let her go for the other party if hard work can prevent it.

Years ago many of the jails and poor houses of Ireland were abandoned on the United States. The business was then exposed, and for a time, the expiration of convicts and paupers ceased. So far as the poorhouses are concerned, we now have the old scheme revived. There should be some way of effectually suppressing this class of British exports.

The citizens of Astoria have done the right thing and, happily, at the right time. They have not waited till hoodlums yielded its natural fruit of violent crimes and when violent remedies would be required; but by a prompt action in time saved themselves the pain of great emergencies. They have proceeded with great care and every man to whom the lash has been applied has richly merited punishment. They have rid their city of a vicious element and without bloodshed or expense. - Oregonian.

According to the Berlin press, the moral situation of the German capital is deplorable. Murders, suicides, and accidents of all descriptions have pestered the great city during the month of May and the first half of June. On the 15th ult., only 81 corpses were delivered at the amphitheatres or at the morgue. Among them were two cases of infanticide, five women and three men who had poisoned themselves, three women, seven men and a boy drowned, and thirty-three persons who had lost their lives through unknown causes.

From experience, a Chicago lawyer says that no class of work pays less to counsel than theatrical cases. The litigants usually have far more of belligerency than of either the ability or disposition to meet the cost of gratifying it. "An actor of considerable distinction came to me," he relates, "and asked me to sue a manager for a breach of contract. When I mention a cash retainer, he coolly proposes that the fame which the trial would give me would be satisfactory pay. Actresses are still more slippery than actors as clients."

The forest fires, reported several days ago as raging in the neighborhood of Oak Point in Washington territory on the lower Columbia river, have devastated an extensive region and burned cord-wood and other property of great value. The principal loss consists of damage to Wheeler's logging railroad, which extends several miles back from the river. It is estimated that the various losses will amount to at least $200,000, besides the loss of standing timber, which has not been estimated. The cause of the large logging fires, says the Statesman, is as follows: "The forest fires in the Columbia and Willamette rivers will have to be put down in consequence. The fire still rages and will continue to burn the strip by night, which there is no immediate prospect of extinguishing."

There were 25,959,300 trade dollars coined in all. It is not known whether they are all in the country now or not. It 33,000,000 of them are in existence, there is not an over-estimate, there are just three millions in the job which has been put up at the east in relation to them. The effect of the popular demoralization which is now in progress in New York, Chicago and other cities, is to reduce them to bullion values, or ninety cents. The greater part of them are now perhaps in the hands of speculators and brokers at that figure. The brokers are only acting for other parties in the background. To collect these dollars now at seventy cents, in the hope of setting Congress to give 100-cent dollars for them in exchange, is perhaps too long a game.

Alas, Poor Yorick, We Know Thee Well!

Hon. Tom Fletcher, the poetic member to the council from the second ward, has taken occasion to come out in a broad-and-butter communication in the Union against the STATESMAN, N. T. Cator's name being signed in conjunction with that of the member from the committee on water supply; (we are sorry for his sake it is not something stronger). We honestly believe Cator allowed his name to be affixed, because he has use for the venerable sage from the second ward.

We have heretofore handled Tom Fletcher with soft gloves, believing him to be unworthy of more than a passing notice. He has even gone so far as to state that our reporter in attendance upon council meetings, could be bribed for fifty cents. That was passed over because, physically, he is the latter's inferior, and mentally, he is in his dotage. Tom Fletcher may mean well enough, but he is out of his time—his race is virtually run. It does not require many visits to the council before one sees what a consummate ass he makes of himself when that body is in session. He is continually raising to a question of order; introducing burlesque petitions; making absurd and nonsensical arguments; advocating and arguing a measure most strenuously, and when the eyes and noses are called, voting my. In fact he is continually laying himself open for the attacks of the local press, and we have persistently and generously overlooked his shortcomings.

Now he has suddenly taken a great interest in the welfare of General Tannatt. It is strange that neither Fletcher or the Council never heretofore discovered what a strong tie of friendship existed between them. It cannot be possible that Tom, in his dotage, desires to be placed on any particular committee in the next council!

We do not consider that in any sense we have impeached the old or present members of the city council. But we will say this much; we intend to watch that body with unrelaxing zeal and stand by the city's interests. We think our city fathers could well spend their time in devising ways and means for the proper sewerage of our already malaria-stricken city, to say nothing of putting in a cistern or two for the protection of property against fire.

You are a good man Hon. Tom Fletcher, and we hope an honest one, but we think you can find better employment than drawing the cloak of protection around our newly elected mayor. He can take care of himself, and should you or any of your colleagues in the present council advocate measures detrimental to our welfare as a city, we hope he will take care of you. We know you well, and we are aware that you are liable to fly the track.

In the above we have ignored N. T. Cator, believing that his name was attached to that winning communication for reasons best known to himself. We will state for the gentleman's benefit however, that the wire can be pulled without the manipulator being brought before the public in such a ridiculous and absurd light.

The City Election.

The election passed off very quietly; yet great interest was manifested by the advocates of the candidates for the office of Mayor and also for the City Council. For the first time in several years there were issues before the people on account of the license question. Had either of the two contestants in the 2d and 3d wards been elected on the high license ticket they would have carried the day in the next council, but as it so happened they were defeated, and the old low license will rule.

The election of General T. R. Tannatt for the office of mayor also excited the friends of both candidates. James McAuliff held this entirely honorary office for over 10 years with credit to himself and the city. Many thought that an infusion of new blood would be advantageous to its welfare, and, therefore, nominated Gen. Tannatt, on account of the mistaken idea of his influence with the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. On this ground, the STATESMAN, in Saturday's issue, took exception to him. While we are willing, at all times, to give the railroad company credit for their great work in developing the too long dormant resources of this territory, we are opposed to their officers—no matter how remotely connected—holding positions in our municipality; but at the same time we are pleased that the people have elected Gen. Tannatt, for the reason that it is a sign that they have confidence in the railroad company, and it is an endorsement of the course of this paper toward the corporations since they commenced building their roads. There is little doubt but that the newly elected will make a good mayor. We have long known that he has the material interest of the city at heart, and in the scores of times he has been noticed in these columns, he has ever been given his meed of praise. In his efforts for the advancement and welfare of Walla Walla, he will ever meet with encouragement and assistance from the STATESMAN.

Mr. Hewitt and the Presidency.

"I am not, and will not be under any circumstances, a candidate for the office." "But supposing your party should nominate you, how could you decline?" "Well, that is a difficult question to answer. I know of no such instance. Silas Wright was informed by friends at the Baltimore convention that he could be nominated for the Presidency, and he refused. He was so unwarmed to the cause that he could not honorably have allowed his name to go before the convention. If I were elected President I would go to Washington with the firm belief that I would never be allowed to serve out the term."

"Why?" "There are too many lunatics—too many Gulemans—at large. I would not go to administer the office for a party—to dispense patronage. I would be President for the whole people, and not set for their good; and that would be fatal for me. I am not a seeker after office, and never was, and do not believe in 'deals,' and never took part in any." - N. Y. Tribune

What Country will Secure the New University?

Major-Gen. A. Jenkins writes: "As one of those interested in Welsh education, I beg to inform you that a foreign Prince, the Duke of Montagu and Montferrat, 170 years ago left a sum of money for educational purposes, which has now reached £750,000. The trustees of this fund, feeling that the intentions of the donor have been too long neglected, are now most anxious to utilize it as intended, by establishing a university and academy of arts, with museum and picture gallery attached. They already possess a large collection of pictures and museums of natural history and art, with a separate fund for their maintenance, and for the erection of a building suitable to contain them. It is intended that the university shall have a large free foundation. No pecuniary assistance will be required on account of the university from the public. As yet no country has been selected in which to settle the university.

Invitations to settle it in Italy, Hungary, and in the United States have been made to the trustees, and I am informed that delegates from those countries will attend a meeting of the trustees in Exeter Hall in June next, to advocate the interests of those countries, when the question where the university is to be located will be discussed. The trustees, however, who mostly reside in England, incline to the British Isles. Wales has been suggested to them as being greatly in need of university. This suggestion has been most favorably received, and is now being considered by them; but they desire to ascertain the wishes of the Welsh on the subject, and want information as to site, as none of the trustees have any practical knowledge of Wales. - Pall Mall Gazette.

Mingling stock.

Stock, to be perfectly healthy must have an opportunity of mingling with other living things, of various kinds. The old idea of the healthy effect goats have upon stabled horses is only one phase of a great truth, that it takes the emanations of active life to perfect every other life. Cattle should be pastured near or in conjunction with hogs and horses. The action of one upon another is always beneficial; and the young, playful and sociable always make friends with each other in such a way that future inconvenience may be spared the owner. Put sheep and young cattle together and each will grow in strength one-third faster. Put horses and goats or even young cattle in the same lot and each will grow better, will feed easier and will grow with finer results. Whenever the natural instincts of domestic animals can have play they tend to domestic and general affection for all living forms. A cat is the only thing which loves no other animal; if it endures them it is a stretch of magnanimity which actually contradicts its honest nature. - National Farmer.

Walla Walla, July 12, 1883.

En. STATESMAN—Tell the farmers not to be in a hurry to sell their barley. The crop is short in the Willamette valley, and while it is looking nice in the Walla Walla valley, it will not be a heavy yield, hence the consumers must pay at least one and a fourth, or more cents per pound before another crop can be raised. I have traveled and thoroughly investigated this matter. Respectfully, A FARMER.

Valuable Invention.

Mr. John Miller, of Milton, Oregon, has just received his patent for a machine for dampening or wetting grain invented by himself. This invention we are told by those who know, will prove of incalculable value to Mr. Miller and also a great auxiliary in the flouring mills. A full and complete description of the machine can be seen at Adam Crossman's, in this city.

The Prophet Honored in His Own Country, try, even in His Own House.

The honest, simple narrative of Mrs. S. J. WATTS, who resides at No. 117 William St., Providence, R. I.: "During the past six or seven years I have been severely afflicted with kidney disease, causing intense backache, dizziness, and other serious troubles through my body and limbs, rendering me so weak and prostrate that at times it was impossible for me to do any part of my household work. I have had also a distressing of the heart, and was terrified, distressed for weeks. I was very miserable, and completely worn out and discouraged. I had no ambition to undertake to do anything, and barely sufficient strength to render me a mere existence, having failed to obtain any relief from the doctor's prescriptions. At this trying crisis a friend recommended me to obtain a bottle of Hunt's Remedy, and now I rejoice that I followed this friendly advice, for the Remedy acted like a charm in my case. After I had taken a few doses, my backache began to improve, I felt better every day. The fluttering of the heart, the intense backache, and terrible shortness of the breath speedily disappeared, my strength and ambition soon returned, and before I had taken two bottles of the Remedy I was entirely well, and able to work and iron and do my household work. Once in a while I am troubled with the headache, and as soon as I am taken I react to Hunt's Remedy, and a few doses fix me all right. I shall never be without it in the future. I have frequently recommended the Hunt's Remedy to my friends, and they have experienced relief from the first dose. I heartily recommend it to all who are afflicted with kidney disease or diseases of the Liver, Bladder, or Urinary organs. I think no family should be without it."

Acts Like a Charm.

"I used Hunt's Remedy for kidney troubles, and recommended it to others, and always found it to make a charm." JOHN CHAMBERS, 723 Carson Street, Pittsburg, Penn.

"Gratitude is the memory of the heart."

How many heart memories cluster around Hunt's Remedy in grateful households where it has wrought its magic cure!

REASON AND FACT

A CLOTHING ARGUMENT

A REVIEW OF OUR SYSTEM

WHY WE CAN SELL CHEAP.

A great many people when buying Clothing look of some very radical arguments which would materially them in making their purchases to advantage.

"Every Man that Pays Cash should Buy Where He Can Buy Cheapest."

This maxim is so well established in the public that it needs no discussion, but the question arises

Where Can You Buy Cheapest?

There are several reasons why we can sell goods cheaper than any house in this Territory. In the first place we exclusively for cash

ON A CASH BASIS

If you consider the fact a little you can readily understand why selling goods for cash enables us to sell Cheaper as low as you could buy it in America. We offer you a suit of clothes for eleven dollars cash that if we gave credit could not sell less than fifteen because when we sell cash we can replace the goods again and its better for you, for you, to sell three suits of clothes at a small profit, than one suit at a large one. If we sold goods on credit we have to make calculations on a certain amount of loss, and when a cash buyer comes along, don't you understand, would have to make up on him what we expected to lose the other. No man cares to be paying other people's debts and there is no friendship in buying goods—its business the time. We only commenced to keep clothing at months ago, and what is the reason that to-day we sell clothing than any house in the Territory? Simply because the public know that we sell everything at the lowest rate of profit.

No such assortment of those goods has ever before been shown in this city as we have now on view. We offer undershirts drawers at 50 cents each that are thought good value elsewhere at 75 cents. How does that happen? Well we sell them for cash. We offer special bargains in White and Colored Shirts, Socks, Suspenders, Collars and Cuffs, Scarfs, Gloves, Valises, Etc.

BOOTS AND SHOES!

This department is one of the special features of our establishment, and the immense extent to which this department has grown with us has not been a surprise. We say it has not been a surprise, because we knew the reason. We sell a well made, serviceable boot for Five Dollars, that six dollars everywhere else, isn't it common sense that would sell plenty of them. The price of Boots and Shoes is an important matter with the public, and if we can save man one dollar to two dollars on every pair he buys, it comes up at the end of the year. But it is cash on delivery. We do not begin to sell boots and shoes at the prices we do, it gave credit.

HATS!

Ask any man that has ever bought a hat in our establishment
