TO THE PATRONS OF THE STATESMAN. Being desirous to pay the debts against the estate of Wm. H. Newell, deceased, I respectfully ask an early settlement.

DR. HUGH J. GREEN, of Colusa, is the democratic nominee for governor of California. He will be elected.

AN exchange ventures the prediction that if Grant is elected to a third term Fred will be prince imperial of America. If this is the only hope for Fred, then his chances for being a prince are extremely blue.

SENATOR WINDOM is said to be about the only senator in congress, who has not called Conkling a liar. This makes the latter think favorably of him as a candidate for the republican nomination for president.

THAT foolish Methodist prelate, Bishop Gil Haven, is out with a discourse, letter or something, in which he endeavors to prove that Grant is a greater man than either Napoleon I or George Washington. The bishop might as well have thrown in Jesus Christ and Julius Caesar and finished up the whole business at once.

HIGH WHEAT PURCHASES.—David Bingham, of Birmingham, Ala., who astonished the market a few days ago by buying a million bushels of No. 2 wheat, repeated the transaction yesterday. The sellers in both instances were Jesse Hoyt & Co., who are credited with being partners with Keene in the great "bull" pool. The price paid is not stated.

COMPLAINS.—The Boise Statesman complains of not receiving the STATESMAN for three weeks. Bro. Goulder the fault is not with this office. When in Boise recently, we found your STATESMAN in a wrapper just as it left this office, in a store. Who left it there is something for you to discover. Think we mentioned the case to you at the time.

NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN.—Twenty-five years ago our grandfather took us to the circus for the first time. We remember vividly the joke about the butter being stronger than the jar; the old man remembered it also and quoted King Solomon. We were in hopes that it had died away and was lost in oblivion, but alas! This week the Walla Walla Dutchman, with his Folschman, resurrects the stale old thing which is worse than a bung hole.

THAT PRINTING.—The Union is still harping on the subject of printing the delinquent tax list, to which it had no right, as the STATESMAN under contract is to do that work. However, if the county treasurer pays for the printing out of his private funds, then, of course, he has a right to select any paper published in this county, but if the printing is paid for out of the county fund, then the paper under contract is entitled to it. The proposition is too plain to require further notice.

THE NEW WAR SECRETARY.—Senator Cass's (not Windom's) selection for secretary of war is said to have the approval of Gen. Sherman and other officers of the army. It is not claimed that he knows anything about military affairs, but it is stated that "he is peculiarly fitted on account of his long residence in frontier states, large public experience and pleasant personal relations with members of congress, heads of departments and army officers."

ANONYMOUS.—A communication appeared in the Walla Walla Statesman last week which could only have emanated from a lunatic or a wicked fool. It had for its object an attack on Judge Clark, of whom we made favorable mention in a recent issue. The communication is dated from Boise City July 1st, and comments on our article that appeared on the twelfth. We are ready to put up ten to one that the author is a knave and a fool, and that it never came from Boise City, but right here from Walla Walla.

REINDEER SYSTEM.—The management of Indian affairs on this coast is a scandalous chapter that needs ventilating. For the present a single incident will suffice. An agent who had just been appointed went to a citizen whom he supposed to possess some knowledge on the subject, and asked how it was that Indian agents made money. "It is easy enough," was the reply: "You take the appropriations from the government, give the Indians 10 per cent, and keep 90 per cent. yourself." The agent after a moment of profound thought—"Jim, don't you think that 10 per cent. is too much for the Indians?"

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—It is stated by the Northern Pacific railroad company, that the rapid development of Washington territory and the demand for railroad facilities have determined them to commence the construction of the road from the Columbia river eastward to Pend Oreille lake, a distance of 200 miles. They accordingly issued a circular calling for an additional $2,000,000. The entire amount having been taken by stockholders. The construction will begin as soon as the line can be located. Ten thousand tons of steel rails were purchased on July 16th, for this road.

EXCESSIVE.—At present the county pays $154 per year to the water company for the use of one hydrant at the court house, two hydrants in the jail yard, and three on the public square. Heretofore no objection was made to sprinkling in front of the offices to lay the dust and cool the atmosphere, and the three hydrants on the public square to water the trees. Now, however, a positive injunction has been laid against sprinkling the street and watering the trees, and the object for which the water was engaged having failed it is in order now to stop the payment to the water company also, as wells and pumps can be procured at a much less expense.

GENERAL WHEAT PROSPECTS.—Reports from all the great wheat growing sections, both in Europe and America, indicate that the present crop will fall very much below the average. The late heavy rains in England have destroyed a large area of grain. Reuter's telegrams from Paris and Vienna to dealers in London assert that crops are a partial failure in France and Austria. Wheat during the past week has advanced steadily in Liverpool and New York, both for cargoes afloat and for immediate shipment. We quote San Francisco $1.75 and advancing. Sacks advanced two cents on Wednesday; it would be well, therefore, for shippers to buy at once, as it is not probable that there will be any decline in the price at present.

Political Advice. The New York Herald undertakes in a long editorial to advise the republicans of Ohio how to manage the campaign in that state so as to insure success. That paper very shrewdly advises the republican party not to go before the people "advocating troops at the polls or the unlimited enlistment of state prison birds as republican canvassers in the shape of election marshals." It would be well for some would-be party leaders in this far off land to remember this. We are inclined to ask, however, how it may be, why this precious bit of instruction? Shall we undertake to answer our own query? Is it because it is wrong to have any military interference at the polls, or because other nations, informed by bitter experience, have by the most stringent laws prohibited soldiers from leaving their garrisons on election days—England for example—in order that there may be the freest, fairest possible expression of the popular will? Or is it simply because the whole ground has been thoroughly canvassed and sure defeat by an intelligent populace stare the party leaders in the face, and fear for the loss of peace and power drive them to the adoption of some other scheme better adapted to hoodwinking the people into the support of the rotten, corrupt, putrid and stinking carcass of radicalism. We are driven to the conclusion that the latter reason is the correct one. Why so? Because the party leaders both in and out of congress conspired the veto of those very measures calculated to insure fair and free elections; their voices on this position in unmistakable terms have sounded in the ears of the people and cannot soon be forgotten. They were liars then, or they are cowards and poltroons now that the issue is upon them; cowards in refusing to stand by the president, who carried out their known and expressed wishes, and poltroons for deserting him now that the strength of their position is to be tested and the correctness of their position investigated. If their views were not believed by them to be true and correct, as honest men and patriotic citizens they ought not to have assumed them; and if after mature reflection and deliberate judgment such sentiments were put forth, advocated and carried out by party power, they ought not to shirk the ordeal to which they may be subjected, not only in Ohio but throughout the nation.

The republican party cannot escape the responsibility of the extra session of congress and the consequent expense to the nation, and it was upon this very question which they now propose to ignore. Do they for a moment imagine that the intelligence of the people will permit them to escape the defense of this position? What! Ignore the soldiers at the polls? Do you suppose that any sane man has forgotten that because you refused to amend a law by which soldiers should be kept from the polls gave rise to and created the necessity for an extra session of congress? And after that session was called you strained your lungs, consciences and every power you possessed, even the veto power of the president, to prevent the passage of just such a measure, and now you propose to shirk the responsibility and consequences of your own conduct. Let no good man, no honest man, no man of intelligence, be at all surprised. Men who can steal millions, steal presidencies, and feel no qualms of conscience, indeed if such have consciences, which is mixed with profound doubt, can very easily, little joker-like, swear that they are the friends of free and fair elections, that they would die to save every right, even the minutest, to the dear people, tell them any and everything for a further lease of power, and then, with the effrontery of a pickpocket, laugh to think how glibly that same dear people give the radical party a fourth lease of power and then prepare for other infractions of law, justice and right. Prepare for other high-handed robberies and the selection of other prison birds for places of prominence in the administration of public affairs. We have confidence yet in the American people that they will hurl these sounderounds from positions they have disgraced, and consign them to that obscurity where they can with leisure meditate upon their own infamy, and feel some grim satisfaction that they have escaped penalties that ought to be meted out to every criminal.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—Following is a summary of the resolutions adopted by the democrats of Pennsylvania at their state convention held at Harrisburg on the 16th July: Fidelity to the fundamental principles of the democratic party; the just powers of the Federal Union, the rights of the states and liberties of the people are vital parts of one harmonious system, and to save each part in its whole constitutional vigor is to save the life of the nation. We maintain that the military are and ought to be subordinate to the civil authorities; deny the right of the federal administration to keep on foot at the general expense a standing army to invade states for political purposes, without regard to constitutional restrictions, to control the people at the polls, to protect and encourage fraudulent counts of votes, or to inaugurate candidates rejected by the majority. The right to a free ballot is the right preservative of all rights. Rutherford B. Hayes having been placed in power against the well known and legally expressed will of the people, is the representative of a conspiracy only, and his claim of the right to surround ballot boxes with troops and deputy marshals to intimidate electors, and his unprecedented use of the veto to maintain his unconstitutional and despotic power, are an insult and a menace to the country. The democratic party, as of old, favors a constitutional currency of gold and silver, and of paper convertible into coin; opposes the system of subsidies by the general government. The reforms and economies enforced by the democratic party since its advent to power in the lower house of congress have saved the people many millions of dollars, and we believe a like result would follow its restoration to power in Pennsylvania. The democratic party being the natural friend of the workingman, and having throughout its history stood between him and all oppressions, renews its expression of sympathy for honest labor and its promise of protection to its rights.

STRICKEN MEMPHIS.—Memphis dispatches, dated July 21st, says: Fifteen cases of yellow fever were reported to the board of health this morning. Two deaths have occurred, Dr. J. C. Harris and W. C. Copping. The exodus of citizens is in full progress. Business is almost entirely suspended, and the general outlook is anything but cheering. A dispatch from amener of the national board of health at Memphis to this city, says that since 9 o'clock yesterday morning 19 cases of yellow fever have been reported and seven deaths occurred. The fever is spreading. The Memphis and Paducah railroad ceased running trains to-day. The Ashtabula, Appeal and Ledger will, from date, issue only half sheets.

DETROIT FROD, an old knight of the reins, and one of the best men in existence, has been re-elected to be city marshal of Boise city.

THE INDIAN MARE. Last Sunday great excitement was occasioned in the city by the report that the Snake Indians had attacked the Umatilla and that they were engaged in fighting; that two companies of troops had been sent to the Umatilla agency, and a lot of Indians had been killed. There appeared to be a determined effort on the part of certain parties to make a big thing out of it, for a bulletin board with very questionable enterprise had the whole thing fearfully exaggerated. As usual there was very little truth in any of the reports. The facts are simply as follows: About a year ago during the Banmak war, Egan, the head chief of the Snake and nearly twenty of his band were treacherously killed by the Umatilla Indians in order to show the government that they meant well. This was done because they saw that it was for their safety, it being more than suspected that they had previously been altogether too friendly with the hostiles. Ever since then the Umatillas have been expecting retaliation which is the first law of nature with an Indian. Last week our dispatches announced a scare on that continent; it now appears to have been continued and finally culminated in last Sunday's excitement. A few strange Indians have been seen around the Umatilla reservation recently, and on the principal that "the thief fears every bush an officer," so these Umatillas with their past treachery fresh in their memories, naturally think these strangers are Snakes who are prowling around in order to obtain "blood for blood." Major Conroy denies having sent in the messenger who came in with the alarm. The Indians were all badly scared, and crowded up to the agency for protection. They are brave enough in the day time, but night brings its terrors and they are worse scared than any white people on a frontier settlement could be. All night long they line the bluffs over-looking the agency and load up and fire anything that will make a noise. All the braves are away so that there is nothing left but old men women and children. One strange Indian was tracked into the brush and was fired at; examination afterward discovered tracks and fresh blood as though he had been shot and wounded. The whites need be under no alarm, it is, if anything, merely a little family quarrel amongst two Indian tribes, who, if they improved each other completely off the face of the earth, would only be doing the community a service.

FIGHT BETWEEN TROOPS AND SIOUX INDIANS.—A Fort Keogh special, dated July 23d, says: An engagement took place near the mouth of Beaver creek on the 17th inst. between two companies of troops and Lieutenant Clark's Indians, of Miles' command, and 800 hostile Sioux. The troops lost four Indian scouts killed and two soldiers wounded. When Miles' main column, who was twelve miles behind, came up the Indians were pursued a distance of fifteen miles, but made their escape to Sitting Bull's camp. It is very probable that another fight has taken place before this. Bear Wolf's band of 300 lodges of Sioux on this side of the Missouri on their way to Kooch to make friends with the whites. An officer who has arrived at his headquarters here from Ft. Benton gives the particulars of Miles' start. He left Benton a week ago Monday with 800 men, leaving a cavalry at Ft. Peck and four companies at Musselshell, and started north with the rest. He should have reached a point where Sitting Bull was reported to be hunting buffalo by last week, and unless the Indians have retreated, a collision has doubtless already taken place. On the journey down the river the officer reporting learned that there was considerable activity among straggling hostiles, who were apparently rapidly joining with Sitting Bull's band.

THE MODEL.—It is very evident from the paragraphs inserted in the Canyon City Dish Rag, that the model Indian agent, Rinehart, has at length found a medium of abuse for his superiors. The old Pate, Winnemucca, comes in for his share. Rinehart has been telling the poor editor (who has come to stay) that the poor Indian has lost his little all by gambling. This information was inserted by the promise of a gift of two eggs, for which grateful thanks were duly returned. Again, he tells the Dish Rag that he doesn't care to have any Indians on the Malheur reservation. Then why did he offer Chief Natchez $100 in gold coin for a bonus and $5 per capita for every Indian he could persuade to go on this same Malheur reservation? In our possession are two documents, both signed by Rinehart, in the first he acknowledges to the Interior department that he has sold to a certain party ninety-three beef hides at 90 cents each. In reality he sold one hundred and twenty-eight, and we hold his receipt for the money for the larger number. Poor fellow! He needs an organ badly.

DEATH OF WILLIAM ALLEN, of Ohio.—The telegraph announces the death, at his home, in Chillicothe, Ohio, of the Hon. Wm. Allen, of that state. He was a statesman of national reputation. Forty years ago he stood conspicuous in congress. A first representative, and afterwards a senator, in congress, he honored his state and is a party. He was a democrat and a steadfast party champion. In 1848, upon the nomination of Gen. Cass for president, he took foremost place in the campaign as an effective speaker. The next year he retired from public life, to resume the practice of his profession—that of the law. From long retirement he was called, in 1873, by the democracy of Ohio, to the gubernatorial chair, and upon the expiration of the term he again sought the repose of private life, in which he remained. He died full of honors fairly gained, true to the teachings and practice of his long and eventful life. The democracy have, by his death, lost a veteran of noble love, the country a patriot, and his state one of her greatest sons and citizens.

THE ZULU INFLUENCE AND STRENGTH CRUMBLING.—A correspondent with Gen. Crealock telegraphs that eight chiefs with their followers have sent in an intimation that they would surrender. John Dunn, a scout, reports that one of the kraals by Lord Chelmsford's camp was the Zulu base of operations. It is supposed that the king will take inaccessible ground. It is certain that his army will refuse to follow if he attempts to do so. The Amatonga tribe are threatening the Zulus, and the king's prospects are gloomy. We have in camp 1200 Zulus surrendered. The power of the Zulus appears crumbling and submissions are made hourly.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP. An insignificant sheet, edited by an editorial mannikin, is published at Canyon City, Grant county, Oregon. The name of the poor photograph who disgraces an honorable profession by obtaining money under the poor pretense of giving a newspaper in exchange for hard cash, is Shepherd. He attempted to ring in his smutty looking sheet on us for an exchange. We were about to exchange as an act of charity in order that he should at least have one good paper to copy from, but this dilapidated specimen of editorial idocy has been amusing himself at our expense, and contrary to all the rules of the profession, was so frightened at what he had done that he tried to prevent our knowing it by not sending a copy of his abortion to us as usual. However, the Portland Bee noticed the get of the poor miserable gutter snipe of journalism, and comments thusly: "The editor of the Canyon City News tries to get off with a Cal. Paper on account of his military title. Parker was duly commissioned and served the country gallantly. In case of another war, Frank Parker would be found in the thick of the fight, while the News man would Fort up in a coyote hole down the gulch."

Who or what the brat is, who is imposing himself on Grant county, we do not know, but we do know that we have a host of friends over there who appreciate our efforts, not only in building up the country, but also in fighting for it during their need. We have always said a good word for old Grant county and its mines and are proud of the friends we have here, and some day we shall come over, and half a day get more subscribers for the Walla Walla STATESMAN than the poor leech who is at present subsisting off the people can count on his whole list. In the meantime we present our regards to Charley Miller, Sam Parrish, Robbins, Nail & Co., Bill Burham, Jim Clark, Cummings, Stewart and other old friends who will be pleased to hear of our well doing.

The Payette was named after Baptiste Payette, a trapper, and the first white man who ever saw its glorious lakes at its head.

THE CELEBRATED BAIN WAGONS.

The Leading Wagon of the United States and the Best Wagon Made.

The great and constantly increasing popularity of the Bain Wagon is due to the extra care taken in selecting material, the thorough seasoning of all the wood before using, the rigid inspection to which the work is subjected at its various stages, the employment of nothing but the best skilled free labor, (no Convict labor being used,) in discarding piece work and paying mechanics by the day, thus insuring honest work and producing a wagon which for strength, durability, and lightness of draft, is unequalled by any other wagon made. Full Round Edge Tires, projecting over the felloes and protecting them from wear, oil cups with Bass Screen Caps, and patent Skein tightners, will be on all Bain Wagons imported the coming season.

MOWERS AND REAPERS.

The Champion Combined Reaper and Mower.

The Champion Combined Reaper and Mower is the most complete harvesting machine made. Not only is it well constructed throughout, of excellent material and with every facility for cutting grain and raking grain, but it embraces every device for the convenience of the farmer. The Self-Raking apparatus is remarkably simple and not liable to get out of order. The rake delivers the grain at the side of the machine and out of the way of the team in making the next round. It is under complete control of the driver, and can be set to rake automatically, delivering a bundle at each revolution, or by means of the foot treadle, to rake at the will of the driver large or small galleys, or the rake can be held to carry a bundle around a corner, or any distance. This machine is also complete as a Dropper or as a mower. Each machine is built as a Mower, and so arranged before it leaves the factory that a Dropping Attachment or a Self-Rake Attachment can be added at any time by the farmer, and no tools are required to put on or take off these attachments, except such as are sent in the tool box with each machine. The smooth edged mowing knives and one serrated edged grain sickle are furnished with each Champion Combined Mower and Reaper.

HAINES' SINGLE GEAR HEADERS.

To the farmers who still adhere to the old and economical method of harvesting with headers, we offer the genuine Haines' Headers with single or double drags made by A. J. Hodge & Co., of Pekin, Ill., with many valuable improvements for the season of 1879, which will be found on no other headers in the market, as they are made to our order, from suggestions of some of the best farmers in the Territory, and for our exclusive sale. Farmers who want the best header made, should examine our machines before buying.

The "Tiger" Self-Discharging Sulky Hay Rake.

Awarded the First Medal of the of Highest Honor at the Centennial Exposition and Field Trial.

A perfect Self-Discharging Sulky Rake, high wheels, with hickory spokes, solid wrought iron axles, twenty steel teeth tempered in oil, dumps from both wheels, discharged by a slight pressure of the foot. Any boy or girl that can drive a horse can operate it as well as the strongest man. In simplicity, strength and durability, ease of operating or adjusting to any variety of crop or surface it is without a rival.

"Mansfield" Portable and Stationary Steam Engines.

These Engines combine lightness with simple power, and economy of fuel and water in the greatest degree, being the only Portable Engine manufactured in the United States having Steam Jacket and Balance Steam Valve. For mechanical construction, accessibility of all its parts, regularity of speed and thorough workmanship, THIS ENGINE HAS NO EQUAL IN THE WORLD.

THE NEW ECONOMIZER ENGINE.

In Agricultural Engines which require frequent removals, it becomes an object of great importance to have as little weight as possible to transport, and yet have the material of sufficient strength, and put together with skill to withstand the hardships to which they are subject, and especially the Thresher's Engine, which is probably subjected to more abuses than almost any other class of engines, as they are moved very often and over all kinds of roads. In these respects the manufacturers of this Engine have taken great pains to build an engine and boiler that will stand the test for years. We invite competition with those of other makers.
