A VISIT TO NAZARETH.

NAZARETH, March 12, 1868.

APPEARANCE OF THE TOWN.

The scenery around the town of Nazareth is very much like that to be found in Vermont—rounded hills, narrow valleys, limestone rocks, sunny slopes, patches of green fields and verdant pastures.

THE FOUNTAIN.

The fountain is the only public resort of the town. Here the women and girls fill their water jars, chat together, talk over the news, balance the jars upon the crown of the head, and walk back to their homes.

VIEW BY MOONLIGHT.

It is evening, and the sights and sounds of the day are fading on the eye and ear. The moon is approaching a full and throws a flood of light upon the hills.

A FAITHFUL WIFE.

Mr. Pilkerson, a small farmer in Pennsylvania, was drafted into the army. His wife, though possessed of but a small stock of general information, was one of the best of conjugal partners, and was much troubled at the thought of parting with her husband.

THE PARENTS OF JESUS.

Among the inhabitants we see the carpenter Joseph, using the ax, the saw, the plane and chisel, laying wooden beams for the roofs of houses, making tables and stools; and among the maidens who fill their jars at the fountain is one named Mary, betrothed to the carpenter.

JESUS AS A CHILD.

But not as the place of the Annunciation, not as the home of Mary, do we think of Nazareth, but as the childhood and manhood home of Jesus Christ. We think of Him as lying in Mary's arms, a child of adorable beauty.

HIS BOYHOOD.

We see Him when twelve years old going with His parents, their neighbors and companions from surrounding villages to Jerusalem, in the month of March, to keep the great National Festival—the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving Day in one—commemorative of the deliverance of the nation from slavery.

A MECHANIC.

He becomes a mechanic who may read these lines laboring—working from morning till night—lying down weary when the work of the day was done.

THE FOUNDER OF A KINGDOM.

He purposes to found an empire! He is not learned, but He goes to become a teacher. He walks up the path which leads across the ridge East of us, bent on such an undertaking.

PRAYERS.

There is a rule at Oberlin College that no student shall board at any house where prayers are not regularly said each day.

NEW STYLE OF PULPIT.

A new style of pulpit is coming into fashion, which dispenses with the ancient barricade in front of the preacher, and substitutes on an open platform a small desk, supported on a slender stem, like a flower on its stalk.

GALENA, the home of Grant, answered the voice of Oregon by electing the whole democratic ticket, by three hundred majority.

A GENUINE wit thinks that Stanton's name is Edward McCluge Stanton, because he "stuck" as long as he could.

MISS FLUTTER, after teasing her father for a "waterfall," received two dams.

Distance Between Corn Hills.

The distance at which corn hills or rows may be planted, depends on the strength of the land, the variety of corn, and the implements used in its culture.

By multiplying the above numbers by the number of stalks in the hill, and allowing the usual number of ears to the bushel of corn, the relative yield is easily calculated.

In drills, the number of stalks that can be raised in an acre of rich land is enormous, and in the language of the late Judge Buell, "explains the manner in which large crops of this grain have been obtained."

An acre in drills at three feet, plants at six inches apart in drills, gives 29,040 stalks, and a yield of 113 bushels and 14 quarts, counting only one ear to a stalk, and a gill of shelled corn to an ear.

Judge Buell states that he has tried this latter mode. "The ground was highly manured, the crop twice cleaned, and the entire acre gathered and weighed accurately the same day.

Of course, such immense crops could only be raised on the very richest soil, and with much and careful labor and good management.

The Rev. Mr. Punshon, being requested to address the Methodist Conference at one of their recent sittings, said: "Speech is silver, silence is golden, says the proverb. I do not happen to have any small change about me this morning. Will you accept the gold?"

The Emperor Napoleon, though apparently in tolerable health, is said to be really far from well, being aware that he is afflicted with Bright's disease, or albuminuria, and that a cold or a fever might at any moment remove him.

MISS KATE RANDOLPH remarks that "even the calm and well-balanced mind recoils at the dreadful thought of the immense number of single ladies who are to adorn the present century in the old Bay State."

A witness spoke of a particular person as having seen him "partially clad." "Was he not quite nude?" asked the examining counsel. "No," replied the witness, "he wore a pair of spectacles."

A man in Boston has recently erected a monument to the virtues of his departed wife, while a gentleman in Chicago has erected a monument to the departed virtues of his wife.

National Democratic Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT, HORATIO SEYMOUR, of New York. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, FRANK P. BLAIR, of Missouri.

THE OLD LOVE.—A man and woman were recently married at New Orleans who had been divorced twenty years ago.

NOT ON IT.—Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, are in the habit of sending us advertisements, to be paid for in books. We don't do that kind of business.

THE RICHMOND ENQUIRER denounces the La Crosse Democrat as in the pay of the radicals, and recommends Southerners to withdraw their subscriptions.

THE NATIONAL GAME.—New England is again excited over match games that are being played between rival base ball clubs. Thousands of persons turn out to witness the games.

THE "Sentinel on the Border," a paper of the Brick Pomeroy style, published at Louisville, Kentucky, has given up the ghost. Such papers only serve to injure a good cause.

BEN. DITTES, one of the founders of the Montana Post, and latterly its sole proprietor, has sold the paper to the Union Central Committee of the Territory. The Post, outside of its politics, is an excellent paper.

WHAT IT COST.—The Government has expended fifteen hundred million dollars in forcing negro suffrage upon the Southern States. The whole of this enormous sum comes out of the pockets of the Northern taxpayers.

DR. JOHN BULL, of Louisville, Kentucky, of Sarsaparilla fame, had an income last year of over $100,000, the largest by far of any in that city—knowing ones declare, it results from liberal advertising, and placing yourself and business before the public.

REPUTATE HIM.—A gentleman who is thoroughly posted, informs us that not a single Jew in San Francisco will vote for U. S. Grant. His order excluding the Jews as a class, has arrayed that whole people with all their vast wealth against him.

MORE HEROES.—The fashionable hotels in the Northern States advertise that guests with children will not be received. Criminal abortions, infanticide and other similar horrible crimes are rife there already, and such bids as that will cause their greater spread.

NAVIGATION OF THE MISSOURI.—The steamer Deer Lodge has made her second trip from St. Louis to Fort Benton, and is expected to make her third trip before the close of the season. This is something new in the history of the navigation of the Upper Missouri.

JUDGE BELL, of Texas, a leading and eminent citizen, who at one time held a seat on the supreme bench of that State, was recently a candidate for the chairmanship of the Union League, at Austin, and was defeated by a negro. Other things being even, the radicals give the darkey the preference.

THE NOMINATIONS.—Our old friend, Sam. Linton, writes from San Francisco, that the nominations of Seymour and Blair are well received, and that the ratification meetings have been the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the State. California is good for fifteen thousand majority for Seymour and the Union.

PLANTING TREES.—Wisconsin has a law which we would like to see applied to Walla Walla Valley. It provides that if a farmer plants a row of trees along the road, he is exempt from working on the road, and any one who hurts a tree is fined $5. Besides this the State Horticultural Society offers a premium of $100 for the best ten acres of forest trees, and $50 for the second best.

We learn from a letter from Washington, dated July 13th, that B. F. Dennison had been confirmed as one of the Judges of this Territory. Judge Hewitt was then at the Capitol, but would leave that week for the Pacific coast. The letter does not state what the Chief Justice had accomplished by his mission, but we are left to infer that even radical Congressmen paid no attention to his driveling.

DOG LAW.—On reference to the printed volume of the statutes we find that the dog law passed at the last session of the Legislature is made to apply to Walla Walla county. This is a mistake. In the Council the bill was amended so as to exempt this county from the operation of the law, and the amendment was concurred in by the House. The mistake most likely occurred in enrolling the bill.

THE IMPEACHMENT FAILURE.—Thad Stevens, and men of his ilk, charge that impeachment failed through the influence of the "whiskey ring." Wendell Phillips, the boldest man in the pack, goes a step further, and charges that Masonry contributed to the result. He says: "It is no longer worth while to spend much time in discussing why every one of his vices marshaled a cohort in his defence. And we have no doubt if the whole truth is ever known, that we shall see Free Masonry acting as quartermaster in that camp and chief justice in that council chamber."

Editorial Paragraphs.

LIGHT TIMBER.—The radical papers are filled with laudations of Colfax, who is represented to be the embodiment of human wisdom. In radical parlance, he is a great orator, a great statesman, and excels in each and every walk of life. This "story may do for the marines, but old sailors won't believe it." Those who know Colfax, will bear witness that he is a clever gentleman, of mediocre abilities. For a five minutes speech, he will do very well, but when it comes to discussing great questions, involving the theory of government, he is as dumb as an owl. He has a ready tact which enables him to get along in the Speaker's chair to the satisfaction of members, but this tact is not to be mistaken for ability. The readiness with which he decides questions as they come up, has led many persons to suppose that the Speaker is a perfect encyclopaedia of parliamentary decisions. In all this he only resembles the jackdaw who struts in borrowed plumage. All these decisions and the authorities for them are prepared by the "prompter," who is ever at his elbow, and whose duty it is to keep the run of the business. Colfax will interrupt a pleasant chat with a member, and look up and decide a "question of order," without a moment's hesitation. All this gives the stranger who for the first time makes his appearance in the House, the impression of quickness and ability on the part of the Speaker, but those who are posted, understand that he is only repeating the words as they are placed in his mouth by the pale young man who stands immediately in the rear of the Speaker's chair. The idea of Colfax being a great man, has never occurred to those who have served with him in Congress, and with those who are familiar with Washington life, only occasions a smile. The Chicago Convention, in placing Colfax on the ticket, had an eye to the fitness of things. With a light man at the head of the column, consistency required that the tail be made up of even lighter material. Had a great statesman like Trumbull been placed after Grant, the whole country would at once have characterized it as a kangaroo arrangement—all the weight in the rear—but as it is, the sense of propriety is not shocked, and whilst the country recognizes that the head of the ticket is light, it is with equal unanimity conceded that the tail is still lighter. A party, however, that worship Best Butler as the embodiment of statesmanship, may be pardoned for making a great man out of Colfax.

CARPET-BAG POLITICIANS.—The people of the Pacific coast have long been familiar with the class of men known as "carpet bag politicians." California has been cursed with them, and even Oregon and Washington Territory have not altogether escaped their visitation. These "carpet baggers" are men who expect to live by office, and who, as soon as they are played out in one locality, gather up their spare shirt and fine tooth comb, and strike for some new place where their "claims" will be appreciated. These men, although they expect to live by the public, never invest a dime in any public enterprise, and their names are never found on the tax lists. Thus much by way of preface to saying that under radical domination the "carpet baggers" have found their way to the South, and are worming their way into the offices, to the exclusion of the old citizens. South Carolina appears to have been inundated with this class of adventurers, in illustration of which we have the fact that of the newly elected State officers, the Governor, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney General, and Superintendent of Education are none of them tax-payers. Just think of the condition of affairs in which all the high offices of the State are in the hands of men who have no permanent interests in the country. This is what the radicals call reconstruction!

THE ANNEXATION OF NORTHERN IDAHO.—Congress is about to adjourn without taking any action on the proposed annexation of Northern Idaho. It will be recollected that the Legislative Assembly, in the early part of the session, last winter, passed a memorial in favor of the measure, but up to this time, as far as we are informed, our Delegate has failed to take any action in the matter. When the canvass was made for Delegate, it was urged in this county by the friends of Mr. Flanders, that if he was elected he would favor annexation as a local measure, whilst Mr. Clark, in the interest of the Sound, would oppose it. This was the argument used, and we have no doubt that it served to influence many votes. These statements, too, were made on the authority of Mr. Flanders, and we refer to them now for the purpose of showing that he is in the position of opposing a measure that he had pledged himself to the people to favor. In public affairs, at least, it is desirable that good faith should be maintained.

THE WAY IT COUNTS UP.—A calculation has been made which shows that the interest on the public debt is about $37,000,000 per quarter, or $150,000,000 per annum in gold, which being reduced to the currency of the people makes $210,000,000. Now add to this $300,000,000 more for the ordinary and extraordinary expenses of a corrupt and profit gate radical revolutionary administration, and you have a tolerable idea of the burthens of the people. This $500,000,000 being divided makes $40,000,000 per month, $10,000,000 per week, $1,400,000 per day, $60,000 per hour, and $1,000 per minute.

Direct Trade with New York.

Mr. A. S. Mercer has paid us a visit with a view of seeing what encouragement he could receive for the shipment of grain direct from this Valley, via Portland, to New York. Mr. M. is engaged, in connection with the firm of "Mercer, Brookway & Baker," New York, in opening a direct trade between Portland and New York. The Company have a line of clipper barques, and one of the vessels, the Sally Brown, is now some 80 days out from New York, and another, the Osmyn, will leave New York in a few days. Mr. M. informs us that the average difference in the price of wheat between Portland and San Francisco for the last three years is 35 cents per bushel, and that the saving of shipping direct to New York from Portland will be about 34 cents per bushel. The cost of transportation from Portland to New York will be only some $19 per ton in currency. Mr. M. is just from the East and has passed through most of the wheat States, and gives it as his opinion, that wheat can be shipped from Walla Walla to New York, and a dollar a bushel received in New York over all freights and charges. He says he is satisfied that wheat will not be less than $1.75 per bushel in New York, and will probably range higher. In Mr. M.'s opinion, the Pacific coast will be able to compete successfully with the Western wheat States in supplying the Eastern market, and in proof of the fact, he states that it costs considerably less to ship flour and wheat from Portland to New York, than from St. Louis. One of the difficulties Mr. M. encountered in making definite contracts with our merchants for the delivery of grain, was the uncertainty of our business men being able to deliver grain at the river—by teams—in any considerable quantity and on living terms. This is another instance of the need of the early construction of the railroad from this place to Walla Walla. We regard the enterprise inaugurated by Mr. M. as a very important one to the prosperity of Oregon and this Territory and wish it every success. In this connection, we might suggest that if some leading and responsible firm in Portland was connected with the enterprise, it would help it with the public.

REMARKABLE MURDER.—Massachusetts papers have an account of a remarkable murder which was recently perpetrated in the town of Kingston. In some of the particulars it bears a resemblance to the celebrated Webster-Parkman case. The murdered man was Cornelius Holmes, and his murderer is named Andrews, who at the time of the commission of the crime, was a deacon in the church and occupied a high position in society. Holmes, too, was a man of wealth and occupied an influential position. On the evening of the murder Andrews had made an appointment for a religious meeting at his own house, and it was his absence from this meeting that at first tended to fasten suspicion upon him. The murder was characterized by unusual brutality, the head of the murdered man being beat to a jelly. It was as if a man had been killing a rattlesnake, and to make sure had stoned its head until it was thoroughly smashed into the earth. Four places where the ground was stained with blood showed the scene of successive stages of crime. The murdered man, though not of wholly strong mind, was physically powerful, and evidently made a desperate struggle for his life. The object of the crime was to secure $12,000, which was to come to Andrews on the death of Holmes. The deacon has made a full confession of his guilt.

THE TELEGRAPH.—The Oregonian urges the people of Portland to assist in the construction of a telegraph line to the Boise Basin. We have already referred to the shortsightedness of Portland capitalists in this connection, and trust that the rebuke from their home organ will have the effect of bringing them to a realizing sense of their situation. If Portland fails to furnish a telegraphic connection, San Francisco will supply the deficiency, and when this is done the business interests of Portland are sure to suffer. Walla Walla, as well as other towns on the line of the proposed telegraph are willing and ready to contribute, and it now remains for the "emporium" to decide whether the telegraph shall be built.

IMPEACHMENT.—An exchange says there were seven impeachment managers and there are seven recalcitrant radical Senators, which it accounts for by saying that each manager disgusted one decent Senator. The wonder with us is, that Best Butler did not disgust a greater number of radical Senators. Sherman, of Ohio, we had always regarded as rather a decent sort of a man, but after swallowing Butler, we must give him over as lost.

Colville Correspondence. FORT COLVILLE, W. T., July 20, 1866. EDITOR STATESMAN.—I presume an occasional item from Colville would not be amiss. Business is very dull, and but a faint hope of a change soon for the better. The farmers, who are the bone and sinew of the valley, are completely discouraged. The steamer "49" is supposed to be laying up at the head of the upper Arrow Lake, unable to proceed further on account of high water. It was reported that some accident had befallen her, as one of the beef cattle, shipped by McGilgerton, was picked up at Kettle Falls, on the Columbia, by the Indians, drowned, though it may have jumped or fallen overboard. The trail is finished here to the Big Eddy of the Pen d'Oreille, so that parties wishing to prospect the region of country gold bearing country, can get through with animals now without any difficulty. The country abounds in quartz, and I have no doubt that some lucky hombrs will strike it ere long.

HORATIO SEYMOUR.

The S. F. Bulletin, which supports Grant, in commenting on the nomination of Seymour, says: Seymour will be acceptable to every democrat who was resolved to act with the party at all, and is undoubtedly the most able man of all whose names were presented to the Convention. It is certain that he can concentrate a heavier party vote than Pendleton, whose loose financial notions would have repelled many at the West and South. There were just two courses open for the democracy—one was to plant themselves in advanced ground under the lead of a republican like Chase, or a Union soldier like Hancock, and make an effort to divide the liberal sentiment of the country; the other was to adhere to the old denunciation of everything republican, whether an accomplished fact or not, nominate an out-and-out democrat, who was recognized as an opponent of the war, and appeal to party traditions and prejudices. The latter course has been chosen, and the immediate result is before us. With such a platform and candidate as have been presented, the contest will be more sharp and bitter than if a more liberal choice had been made, and there will be a stronger disposition on both sides to revive the memories and passions of the war. Horatio Seymour was born in Onondaga county, N. Y., about 57 years ago, though most of his life he has been a citizen of Oneida county. His father was a friend of DeWitt Clinton, and one of the builders of the Erie Canal, and left him a competence. He was educated at West Point, but had no taste for a military career, and never entered the service. He studied law and was admitted to practice, but although he showed great capacity in the profession, his feeble health induced him to live a rather quiet, retired life, and even to embark in agricultural pursuits. Although he always took great interest in politics, and was influential and popular as a democratic partisan, he has never been very anxious for office. Before his first election as Governor of New York, in 1852, he had been several terms a member of the Legislature and once Speaker of the Assembly. In 1850 he was beaten for the Governorship by Washington Hunt; and after his term in 1852, he was beaten by Clark on account of his veto of the Maine Liquor Law. In 1862, he was elected Governor a second time, and was renominated for that place, but beaten by Gov. Fenton. He is a man of splendid presence, of magnetic manners, and absolute purity of character, which traits, combined with his disinterestedness as a partisan, give him great popularity and influence, and will make him the most formidable competitor of Grant that could have been nominated for the great State of New York. The objections to Seymour will be purely political. At the inception of the rebellion he opposed the idea of attempting to save the Union by force, and justified to some extent the action of the South. His Tweedle Hall speech, delivered in January, 1861, expressed his idea fully on this point, and had considerable influence at the time, both in strengthening the Northern democracy against the presumed republican policy and encouraging the secession leaders at Washington and in the South.

BROKE JAIL.—Sullivan, Bagg and Mullan, under sentence of death and confined in the jail of this county, escaped last night, under circumstances that challenge the annals of crime for cool daring and mastery strategy. The prisoners were not ironed, and of course were thereby facilitated in carrying out their plan of escape. By some auspicious opportunity, they succeeded in placing in a cell the jailer and deputy sheriff, in the afternoon. At a later hour two citizens, Messrs. Harris and Howard Zenor, formerly guards there, visited the jail, on entering which, they were met by the prisoners, all of whom were armed with pistols, and ordered to enter the cell; this, of course they must do. At a still later hour (about sundown) two other citizens, Messrs. Hardenbrook and Carton, visited the jail, and, on entering a second apartment, were met by the prisoners, who presented their pistols, commanding the gentlemen named to enter the cell in which the others, with a prisoner who made no attempt to escape, were. This they did, and all being safely locked up, they were helped to water by the prisoners, who conversed with them freely, no doubt anxiously waiting for the shades of night before leaving the building. They did leave however, unobserved by any person. The parties named occupied their place all night and might be doing so yet were it not for the presence of a man at work a short distance called, and thereby effected their release. That assistance was given from the outside is beyond a doubt, and the jail being situated a considerable distance from the more populous part of the town, no assistance could be obtained by calling or otherwise. These, we believe, are the facts as we have heard them, and no doubt are correct in the main. That they are gone is too true; that they will be captured is, we fear, not true.—Deer Lodge Independent.

THE NEW DIGGINGS.—This term includes a number of different gulches, such as Rolling, Reservoir, Jeff Davis, Shasta and Willow Creek, all of which promise rich results. My first introduction in this camp created anything but a favorable impression; but after becoming acquainted with the mines and the nature of the diggings, I am compelled to pronounce it a good mining camp. It is true, that as yet there has been very little or no mining done in the camp, save general prospecting, owing to the scarcity of water. But from the general prospects of the ground, it will certainly yield from five to twenty dollars to the hand a day. The flume which is now under construction, when completed, will supply a large portion of his camp. The general opinion is that it will be completed at an early day next spring, when rich results may be expected.—Grand Ronde Sentinel.

DIED. On Sunday, July 19th, HANNAH ANNA, wife of J. P. Goodhue, aged 33 years and 4 months. [Massachusetts papers please copy.] At Fort Colville, W. T., July 19, 1866, GEORGE A. PAUL, Special Indian Agent, aged 36 years. Mr. Paul has been in the service of the Indian Department since 1856, and was a faithful, upright, honest, conscientious officer, and a good citizen, whose death will be universally regretted.

CITY SCRIP—For sale in sums to suit. Apply to the editor.

We are indebted to Messrs. Lamson and Painter for the table of "Income Returns."

DESIRABLE RESIDENCE.—Persons wishing to secure a most desirable residence, are referred to Mr. H. P. Isaacs' notice, in another column.

OMISSION.—In our notice of the installation of city officials we strangely omitted all reference to the City Treasurer, H. M. Chase, who was elected without opposition and received a very flattering vote.

TRAVELERS passing through the Dalles will always find the comforts of home at the Empire Hotel. Mr. Smith has just had his premises renovated and refitted throughout and is now provided with every convenience for the accommodation of the public.

HANDSOME QUARTZ.—Mr. F. Jones, of Walla Walla, has left with us several specimens of gold bearing quartz, taken from a ledge which he discovered on Burnt river, a short time since. The specimens are quite rich and would seem to indicate an important discovery.

ROSS BROWNE'S REPORT.—We are indebted to Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, for a copy of J. Ross Browne's report on the mines and mining interests of the Pacific coast. The book contains much valuable information and should be in the hands of every practical miner.

STILL MARCHING ON.—A correspondent orders the Statesman to be sent to his address at Nyack, New York. He says, he is "impressed with the idea that your (our) paper is the best for local news." Those who read the Eastern papers are aware that nearly all the Washington Territory news is taken from our columns.

FOR THE WARM SPRINGS.—Mr. J. F. Abbott has put on a line of stages to the Warm Springs, leaving Walla Walla every Thursday and returning on Saturday. The Springs are now in charge of the Meacham Brothers, and what with bathing, fishing, and the beautiful mountain scenery, no more pleasant retreat can be imagined.

THE WHEAT CROP.—We see it estimated that the Willamette Valley will have a surplus of five million bushels of wheat for shipment abroad. To this must be added some four hundred thousand bushels which Walla Walla Valley will give to the markets of the world. The Pacific States and Territories, from being almost exclusively mining communities, are fast taking rank among the great grain producing districts of the country.

THE WHISKEY TAX.—A special dispatch from Commissioner Rollins states that the law reducing the tax on whiskey went into effect on the 20th July. The commissions of inspectors expired on the 20th. Our own manufacturers are already selling at the reduced rate, and we now quote a prime article of Walla Walla whiskey at $1 per gallon. This reduction operates greatly in favor of the domestic manufacturers who have heretofore been at the mercy of the Eastern "whiskey rings."

HANDSOME PRESENT.—Our old and esteemed friend, L. Brown, of the firm of Brown, Bros. & Co., signalled his departure from Walla Walla by presenting the editor with a pair of blankets of the finest texture. These blankets were manufactured at the Oregon City Woolen Mills, and for fineness of texture and beauty of finish cannot be surpassed. The Oregon City Mills are now turning out large quantities of cloths, easimers, blankets, flannels, &c., which are not to be surpassed by the finest imported goods.

THE GRAIN MARKET.—A private letter from San Francisco, says that the price of grain has kept up better than was expected. This is owing to the demand for shipment to the Australian market. The new wheat was beginning to come in freely, and it was doubtful whether the ruling rates could be maintained. Wheat is quoted at $1.80 @ $1.90 per 100 lbs. California operators are calculating upon a large demand for shipment to China and the different Asiatic ports, which may serve to drain the country of the immense surplus stock of breadstuffs.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT.—The town of Walla Walla has been divided into two school districts. The new district will be known as No. 24, and embraces all that part of the town below the line of Third street. This division was rendered necessary by the number of children—some four hundred—living within the boundaries of the old district. A meeting will be held at the Court House, on to-morrow (Saturday) evening, at 7 o'clock, at which the new district will be organized by the election of three directors and a clerk. A full attendance of the friends of education is desired.

UNMATTED COUNTY SEAT.—A mass meeting of the citizens of Unmatta county will be held at Swift's Station, on to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, for the purpose of taking into consideration the re-location of the county seat. Messrs. Pitteroff and Gehr are soliciting funds for the erection of a good brick court house at the new county seat. The cost of the building will be ten or fifteen thousand dollars, the most of which will be raised by private contribution. The subscriptions thus far foot up over $2000. The great majority of the citizens live at the upper end of the county and hence this movement for relocating the county seat.

THE RAILROAD.—As a matter of local and even general interest, we state that the arrangements are such that the gentlemen having in charge the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad enterprise are in a position to go on with their work immediately on the receipt of the charter, for which application was made several months since. We are further authorized to state, that the O. S. N. Company is ready at any moment to lend assistance in building the road, and thus assure the success of a project in which the people of this Valley are so largely interested. All that we are waiting for is the favorable action of Congress on the bill authorizing Walla Walla county to guarantee the interest on the bonds of the Railroad Company. From our knowledge—gained by personal observation—of the disposition of leading members of Congress toward this coast we are satisfied that the bill in question, with proper exertion, might have been passed within a fortnight after its introduction. Why our Delegates has failed us in this matter is a question that possibly can be explained.

LATEST EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to July 25th.

[COMPILED FROM THE OBSESSIONAL.] CONGRESSIONAL.

Washington, July 23.—In the Senate Wilson introduced a bill for a more efficient provisional government in Mississippi.

The bill to facilitate the establishing of lines of steamships from New York to Europe, was considered and amended by providing that the subsidy paid by the postal department shall not exceed $600,000 annually, and then passed.

The Senate then took up the bill to protect the rights of American citizens abroad. Buckalew's amendment, offered yesterday, was adopted—27 to 21. This amendment strikes out the third section and adds to the second, that it shall be the duty of the President to exercise all his authority under the Constitution and laws for the protection of American citizens abroad, and report to Congress from time to time any case in which justice is denied to citizens of the United States.

Howard offered an amendment, which was adopted, that the President may suspend diplomatic intercourse with Governments doing injustice to American citizens abroad.

In the House Garfield replied to some remarks of Stevens yesterday. He said Stevens had agreed at the time the bill was being discussed in the House, that the five-twentieths were payable in coin. Stevens reported, and said there was not a word of truth in the assertion.

The Senate concurred in a resolution for adjourning from Monday next to the 3d Monday in September, was discussed at length, the debate involving topics connected with the Presidential election, impeachment, the funding bill, tax bill and other measures. Finally the previous question was seconded and the resolution adopted by 85 to 69.

In the Missouri contested election case, Pile, the sitting member, was declared entitled to his seat. In the Utah contested election case, it was unanimously decided against McGrorty.

Washington, July 24.—In the Senate, Wilson introduced a joint resolution, which passed, vacating all civil offices under the provisional governments of Virginia and Texas, held by persons who cannot take the test oath, and directing the commanding Generals to fill their places with persons who can.

Banks, from the Committee on Conference on the Alaska bill, made a report to the House. The section declaring the right of the House to intervene in treaties, was struck out and the following clause substituted: "Whereas, the said stipulations cannot be carried into effect except by legislation, to which the consent of both houses is necessary."

Paine moved to table the report. Lost—36 to 80. After a noisy and excited discussion the report was agreed to—91 to 50. A motion to reconsider the vote on taking a recess was laid on the table—76 to 71. This makes the action of the House yesterday final.

Boutwell introduced a bill to provide more speed in the organization of the States of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas. The bill gives the Constitutional Conventions in these States additional powers, and requires provisional governments to enforce the ordinances of these conventions until dissolved by Congress. It provides for the reassembling of conventions in Mississippi and Virginia. The bill finally passed.

The Speaker expressed a hope that members would attend throughout the session to-morrow in order that there might be a quorum to act upon the report of the Conference Committee on the funding bill.

Washington News.

Chicago, July 23.—Specials say the Senators and Representatives from the Southern States had a meeting last night to consider the subject of adjournment and other matters affecting the South. It was finally agreed to be inexpedient and unsafe to adjourn Congress at present, especially before the bill for the reduction of the army becomes a law, with the privilege of arming negro militia included.

A sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee has been appointed to investigate charges against Judge Busted with a view to his impeachment. It is believed that as the Senate is now constituted these can be put through in two weeks, but this trial is not likely to be inaugurated.

Washington, July 23.—The President today signed the tax bill accompanied by his protest, which was filed with the bill at the State Department.

The Reconstruction Committee today added Virginia and Mississippi to the bill providing for a provisional government for Texas.

Wilson's bill, introduced to-day, vacates all offices in the provisional government of Mississippi; provides that persons who received the highest number of votes at the recent election for the ratification of the Constitution, shall enter upon their offices, but if these cannot take the test oath, the duties of office shall devolve on persons receiving the next highest number of votes; and that it shall be the duty of the military commander immediately to enforce the provisions of this act.

LABOR STRIKES IN PENNSYLVANIA. Scranton, Pa., July 22.—About two hundred strikers, armed with clubs, paraded the streets of Wilkesbarre on Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, visited the mines and shops about Wilkesbarre, forcing the men to quit work. On Tuesday afternoon they marched to Pittston, stopping the works there and along the way. They have prevented the trains from running on the Pennsylvania Coal Co.'s railroad. It is reported that they don't generally violate the peace or excite much alarm. Accessions have made them five hundred strong. They march in two bodies which will form a junction at this city to-day. It has been decided not to resist them so long as they do not commit outrages.

HEAVY RAIN IN BALTIMORE. Baltimore, July 24.—A tremendous rain has been falling since this morning. A portion of the city is entirely flooded. The Maryland Institute is surrounded by a sheet of rushing water. The water is carrying hogheads, bales of hay, etc., with it. The first floor of the stores on Frederick and Harrison streets are under water, and merchants are compelled to remove their goods to the upper stories. The river has been rising at the rate of two inches per minute since one o'clock. Several streets have been converted into rushing torrents. A city passenger car was swept from the track on Guy street down to Harrison with a number of passengers. The wildest rumors have prevailed in regard to the number drowned. Some estimate the number at seven, while others say all but one were saved. It is impossible now to get the facts. A number of dray horses and some drivers are reported drowned. There is no communication between the eastern and western portions of the city. The flood is sweeping everything before it. There is no communication south by telegraph, all the lines being down. No such flood was ever known here.

Baltimore, July 25.—The flood subsided shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday as rapidly as it came. The damages cannot be closely approximated. They are estimated at not less than three millions. A number of buildings were undermined and damaged and some were partially swept away. The gas works supplying a large portion of the city were submerged. The loss of life has not been ascertained. It is believed that only a few have been drowned. The trains are running to Washington, but the Northern Central Railroad is badly damaged. Trains have not been run for several days. A telegram from Ellicott's Mills reports that the Granite Mills were swept away and sixty persons drowned. Dr. Owen's entire family, except himself, were drowned.

THE STORM AT NEW YORK. New York, July 25.—There was a tremendous rain here last night. The cellars along the river are flooded. Considerable damage has been done to merchandise.

NEW TYPE OF CATTLE DISEASE. Chicago, July 25.—A new type of cattle disease has broken out in Paris, Illinois. Almost every case proved fatal. Forty or fifty milk cows and steers have already died. Some think it was brought here by Texas stock.

GEORGIA POLITICS. Atlanta, (Ga.), July 25.—The House has passed resolutions 117 to 20, earnestly requesting Congress to remove from every citizen of Georgia, irrespective of party association, disabilities imposed by the 3d section of the 14th amendment. Governor Bullock sent a message to both Houses, congratulating the people on the establishment of civil government and approving the removal of political disabilities as fast as justifiable.

COL. RUCKEL'S QUARTZ MINE AND MILL.—A correspondent of the Sentinel furnishes the following sketch of Col. Ruckel's quartz mine and mill: "The whole country of Baker seems to be dotted over with quartz ledges, but as yet there is very little or no interest manifested or displayed in the development of the numerous ledges. One ledge however, which is located about eight miles south-east of Baker City, has been worked for a number of years with great success. Tunnels, shafts, and excavations have been made in the bowels of mother earth, to such an extent in this ledge that would be creditable to the older quartz mining districts, such as Colorado, Nevada or California. Among the numerous ledges which I have examined from time to time there is none, I must admit, with a more well defined crevice, which averages from one to seven feet. The majority of the rock of this ledge is completely spotted with free gold and discernible to the naked eye, and no doubt will produce millions of dollars for a number of years. The quality of the gold stands paramount to any other in the county, and is of a fine, bright yellow to the ounce. This ledge has been completely carried on for the last ten years under the supervision of J. B. Griffin, who is both a chemist and a master miner; courteous, energetic and persevering, or in other words, "the right man, in the right place." The mill where the quartz is crushed is located at Baker City, the superintendent of which is Capt. Coffin, an old and expert miner, with a thorough knowledge of a quartz mill. The sole owner and proprietor of this mill is Col. J. S. Ruckel, a gentleman and a scholar, possessing all the necessary qualifications to extract the precious metal out of the secret resources of the earth. There is undoubtedly a vast amount of quartz in this ledge, and it is to be found in the State of Oregon. No obstacle or impediment, however strong, but what is bound to yield to his iron will; whenever he undertakes and determines to do a thing, no matter whether it is a matter of business or employment to a number of men. The country in which he operates cannot help but derive a large benefit from him."

SIXTH INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION.

OF THE MECHANICAL INSTITUTE, SAN FRANCISCO.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MECHANICAL INSTITUTE HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that the Sixth Industrial Exhibition of that Association will be held some time in August next, in a building to be erected for the purpose in Union Square in this city. Every preparatory measure has been taken to accommodate exhibitors and visitors with a view to make the Exhibition profitable, instructive and pleasant to all parties.

During the three years which have intervened since the holding of the last Exhibition in this city, the manufacturing, mechanical, scientific, useful and ornamental arts have made unprecedented progress on this coast, and it is believed that the proposed Exhibition will exceed any other in value that has ever been held on the shores of the Pacific. The plan of building to be erected, which has been adopted by the Board of Directors, it is believed will prove to be the best adapted, both for display and convenience of the public, of any building ever erected in the State. The building will be perfectly water-tight, being covered with a single roof, so that no damage from the elements can be anticipated. All parties who are interested in any of the branches of Manufacture, Mechanics, or the Arts and Sciences are invited to exhibit in the proposed Exhibition, and to share the publicity and consequent profit which always attends such enterprises. Suitable premiums will be offered, and the specific date of opening the Exhibition will be published at some future time. By order of the Board of Directors. 24-3m HOBACE D. DUNN, Cor. Secretary.
