THE END OF THE RAINBOW.

"Come, Nelly," I cried on a soft Summer day,
When the subseams were chasing the rainbow
away;
"The rainbow has lit on yon hill, and you know
There are bags full of gold at the end of the bow."
We were young, thoughtless children, sweet
Nelly and I,
And we thought the hill top was close to the sky;
We thought too, (our brothers had said it was so).
We should find heaps of gold at the end of the bow.

So onward we trudged over meadow and green,
Where violets modest and daisies were seen;
Nor paused till we stood in the valley below,
And gazed all around for the end of the bow.
"Not here," I said sadly; but Nelly replied—
"It is hid, in the moss, by the waterfall's side;
Run fast; if you move o'er the pebbles so slow,
I'm sure I'll be first at the end of the bow."

We found not the treasure we searched for till night;
But Nelly, the sweet fragile blossom was right;
From the valley of tears she was first called to go.
To the spot where is resting the end of the bow.

From Montana.

We are permitted to make the following extract from a letter received by Mr. Charles Bertram from a Walla Walla prospector, who has evidently seen a large portion of the mines in Montana:

"The country is overdone in everything, and has not only been greatly over-estimated, but people have grossly and wilfully lied, and, in fact, there seems to be a strong rivalry between the papers here as to which can publish the greatest amount of impudent, humbugging falsehoods. There are a few rich claims in this country, but they are monopolized by a few persons, to the exclusion of many others."

Now, let us take Professor Matthews' error and make a flying trip to the mines. Starting from the center of the town, (this is not a city, though we have a New York, Brooklyn, and other cities here) we proceed down Last Chance Gulch, which is a continuation of Grizzly Gulch, commencing at the point where Grizzly leaves the mountains and debouches into a sort of table flat, which gradually descends for about two miles to the valley of the Prickly Pear, Ten Mile, Seven Mile and other creeks. This (Last Chance) gulch, as a whole, has produced as much gold and paid as regularly as any in the Territory, except, perhaps, Alder, near Virginia City, and is still paying good wages, though nearly worked out. The claims extend from the Missouri river, holding a least thirty or four miles of country, a considerable portion of which, it is claimed, will pay when plenty of water can be had, which will be the case by the 1st of September, as a company of Californians, headed by Capt. Blaised, has taken the matter in hand.

From here we go to Oregon and New York Gulches, which have been opened this season and are paying good wages. The California element of the mining population is restless and chafing under the wholesale hogghishness, and lately the brother of Dennis Sheehy was killed in a shooting affair growing out of jumping a claim, and the presumption is that there will be more trouble, though a case is now pending in court by which the legality of their mining will be tested. This is doubtless the worst element in the Territory, but it is worked by hydraulic power, and but little of the gold which is taken out passes into circulation.

The Stou-Sun Dance.

Major General Curtis writes to his wife from Fort Nully, the following account of one of the horrible demonstrations of the Sioux Indians, which he witnessed recently near the Fort:

The whole of the three thousand Sioux camped about us gave me early information of their design to have their annual sun dance at this time and place, the season of the year, the trees in full leaf, having now arrived; and they wish to have Col. Reno, the commander of the soldiers, that however boisterous their demonstrations might be, they would be peaceable and of a pious character. On yesterday, June 1, the dancing was delayed at intervals, to allow tortures to be inflicted. Two or three men stood over the devotee with needle and knife, very close performing penance according to the custom of all these ceremonial rites, as follows: First, they cut the arms in several places by striking an awl in the skin, raising it and cutting out about half an inch. This is done on both arms, and sometimes on the breast and back. Then wooden sautons (sticks about the thickness of a common lead pencil) are inserted through a hole in the flesh and flesh, and the cords of ropes are attached to these sticks, by means of which the pole at the other end, the victim pulling on the ropes till the sautons sticks tear out the flesh and skin. I saw one with two sautons attached to his breast, pulling till it seemed to draw the skin three inches, and finally required near a pound of force to tear out the sauton. One painted black, had four ropes attached to his chest, the pulling out is done in the same way, but carried on in the time of the music by jerk, jerk, and the eye, head, and front all facing the sun in the form of supplication. One had four sautons attached to four dry buffalo horns instead of the usual ropes, and suspended to his flesh by ropes that were cut and placed some three feet off the ground. He danced to tear them out, but they would not break the skin. One came off the stick accidentally, but it was again fastened. Finally these heavy weights (each at least twenty-five pounds weight), not tearing out by their own weight or motion the devotee gave a command to a horse to take hold of the rope and tear out the sauton. While these men were being tortured, their female relations came in and had pieces cut out of their arms, to show their appreciation and valor and devotion to their kinsman. Still, as the victim could be prepared, the music, the women and the dancing ceased, and the victims' bodies now mingled with the blood, and paint and sautons. There being several steamboats and many soldiers here, a great crowd of spectators rather embarrassed the performers, so they concluded the performance at 12 o'clock, having only danced twenty-four hours instead of forty-eight, as they usually do. All the devotees gave away all their possessions and other valuables to their friends, but they were carefully dressed by attendant medicine-men, and set down to an abundant feast of dog soup and buffalo meat.

It ended this most barbarous and painful exhibition of savage idolatry. The picture is still deeply impressed on my senses, and I cannot give half the terror of the scene either by pen or pencil.

A Bible-Curse in the Police Court.

Yesterday morning a strange fish turned up in the calaboose, and when the prisoners were introduced to Judge Rix he took his seat in the prisoners' corner and looked the personification of an outraged individual. A tear occasionally glistened in his cold gray eye as he listened to the narrative of crime that has become household words to those whose duty calls them to the calaboose and Police Court. He was dressed in a suit that had probably once been black but with the accumulation of dust and wear had changed to a dull leaden hue. The features of the individual were large and prominent, his Grecian nose indicated his character, perhaps, as plainly as if it had been written in black and white upon his broad forehead, from which the hairs were brushed back over the cranium. Finally the case of Ezekiel Kimball was called. When the name was uttered our friend arose, and exclaimed, "Lord, for I am in distress; my bowels are troubled; my heart is turned within me for I have grievously rebelled. They have heard me; I sigh; there is none to comfort me; all mine enemies have heard of my troubles; they are glad that thou hast done it."

"You are charged with assault and battery on your wife, Susan Kimball; are you guilty or not guilty?"

"A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth and a word spoken in season, how good it is!"

"Are you guilty?" inquires the Bailiff.

"As a madman who casteth firebrands, arrows and death."

"He says, your Honor, that he is crazy, but I don't believe him."

"A lying tongue hateth those who are afflicted by it; and adorning mouth worketh ruin."

"He says I lie; I may have been mistaken when I reported his plea, but I did not do so intentionally."

"A fool that speaketh is his destruction, and his lips are the smoke of his sin; and he shall be taken for his witness," said his honor, and a small timid-looking little bodie took the stand, and was sworn, when the prisoner broke out with:

"It is better to dwell in the corner of the house-top, than with a brawling woman and in a wide house."

The woman proceeded, and narrated how the accused had slapped and punched her, and was declaring that it was not his first offence, when she was interrupted by the prisoner, who declared that:

"A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape. She became the least bit excited, and retorted:

"Excellent speech becometh not a fool, much less do lying lips become a Prince."

The Court stopped the colloquy by ordering the prisoner to appear for sentence, who, when he heard the order, fell from the lips of the magistrate, exclaimed:

"Judgments are reserved for scorpions, and stripes for the backs of fools."

The bailiff ordered him to go below, and as he disappeared down the steps leading to the calaboose, he uttered:

"Who is able to stand before envy?"—San Francisco Call.

Wheat Crop.

The San Francisco Bulletin gathers the following information in relation to the wheat crop in the East.

The last steamer mail brought its additional news respecting the crops in the Atlantic States. From the accounts we gather the following in regard to the wheat crop. The recent warm weather and frequent showers in New York had been of great value to the crops, and the yield of wheat was expected to be as large as for the previous year, while the other crops were still better. Late advice from Ohio represent the spring crop good. The yield of winter wheat will be much larger than was anticipated in May. Farm help was plentiful and wages moderate. Full granaries were expected in Ohio this fall. Late sown wheat had been affected by the weevil, but not seriously. The reports from Indiana are conflicting. Correspondents in White county write that the crop there is almost a failure. A great portion had been water-killed, and the yellow weevil were destroying the remainder. One gentleman found 17 of these in a single grain. Reports of a similar nature had been received from La Grange, Tipton and Howard counties. On the other hand, some reports from Indiana are that the wheat has come out wonderfully under the late favorable weather, and the yield will be much better than was anticipated a few weeks ago. In some localities in the Southern part of the State the harvest had already commenced. The crop of hay and oats in these localities will be a very large one. Some varied accounts have also been received from Michigan, where the wheat crop in St. Clair county was unusually fine, and thought to be larger than in any other county in the State. In Madison county the yield will be 25 bushels to the acre. Harvesting had been commenced in Clinton county under favorable auspices. In green county the crop was a very good one. In Wayne county the yield was thought to be larger than in any other county in the State. In Madison county the yield will be 25 bushels to the acre. In some localities in the Southern part of the State the harvest had already commenced. The crop of hay and oats in these localities will be a very large one. Some varied accounts have also been received from Michigan, where the wheat crop in St. Clair county was unusually fine, and thought to be larger than in any other county in the State. In Madison county the yield will be 25 bushels to the acre. Harvesting had been commenced in Clinton county under favorable auspices. In green county the crop was a very good one. In Wayne county the yield was thought to be larger than in any other county in the State.

Wheat Crop.

The San Francisco Bulletin gathers the following information in relation to the wheat crop in the East.

The last steamer mail brought its additional news respecting the crops in the Atlantic States. From the accounts we gather the following in regard to the wheat crop. The recent warm weather and frequent showers in New York had been of great value to the crops, and the yield of wheat was expected to be as large as for the previous year, while the other crops were still better. Late advice from Ohio represent the spring crop good. The yield of winter wheat will be much larger than was anticipated in May. Farm help was plentiful and wages moderate. Full granaries were expected in Ohio this fall. Late sown wheat had been affected by the weevil, but not seriously. The reports from Indiana are conflicting. Correspondents in White county write that the crop there is almost a failure. A great portion had been water-killed, and the yellow weevil were destroying the remainder. One gentleman found 17 of these in a single grain. Reports of a similar nature had been received from La Grange, Tipton and Howard counties. On the other hand, some reports from Indiana are that the wheat has come out wonderfully under the late favorable weather, and the yield will be much better than was anticipated a few weeks ago. In some localities in the Southern part of the State the harvest had already commenced. The crop of hay and oats in these localities will be a very large one. Some varied accounts have also been received from Michigan, where the wheat crop in St. Clair county was unusually fine, and thought to be larger than in any other county in the State. The Late Gen. Scott.

ED. STATESMAN:—I am somewhat adrift in regard to the history, or rather the private life, of the late Gen. Scott, and I have not as yet found any one who can enlighten me, so I propose to put the question direct to an editor, and if he can't give the information, set the ball in motion and bring out the facts for the benefit of community. The questions have been asked me several times, and I cannot answer them.

The query is, Was General Scott ever married? If so, when, and to whom? Did he have any children? If so, how many? and who was his family at the time of his death?

These may seem strange questions to ask about so prominent a character in our nation's history as General Scott, but I confess I cannot answer them, and I doubt if one-sixth of the people of the United States can.

In reading the account of Gen. Scott's sickness, death and burial, all portrayed in pictures, in Harper's Weekly, of New York, it would seem to a stranger that General Scott, after serving the United States for sixty years, and gaining the highest point of fame as a soldier, actually died amidst, and was buried by, comparative strangers. We hear of no wife, daughter, son, nephew or cousin, to sobble his declining years to the grave. No one to receive his dying request save his hostler—his last words, uttered in a private room at a hotel, and these words, "Take good care of the horse, Charley!" can you point me to another such death and burial in all our history of so celebrated a man, up to the time of his death, as that of Gen. Winfield Scott?

Gen. Scott was married. When, or to whom, we cannot answer. His wife separated from him several years ago and went to Paris, where she died about three years ago. Whether he had more than one child we do not know. He had one daughter, who is now the wife of a naval officer in New York, and who visited him a few days previous to his death and left him under the impression that he was recovering. Gen. Scott was a man of irascible temper, which had the effect to estrange his immediate relatives from him, and his domestic relations are supposed to have been far from pleasant.

THE WIND RIVER MOUNTAIN PROSPECTORS.—We glean from the Montana Gazette some interesting items in regard to the Wind River Mountains and Capt. Jeff. Standerfer's exploring party. The Gazette says Mr. Standerfer heads a party of about one hundred men, who were to have left some time since for the Wind River country. The exploration of that country has been heretofore prevented by the hostility of the Indians who have invariably compelled prospecting parties attempting to penetrate those mountains to beat hasty retreats, and in some instances killed the prospectors. Various reports, apparently well authenticated, are in circulation in reference to the existence of rich gold deposits in that section; but Capt. Standerfer's confidence is mainly based upon the statements of three acquaintances of his, who prospect there last fall. They report having found diggings of extraordinary richness in various places. In one place they obtained from one to five dollars to the pan, coarse gold. In another the gold was fine, and prospected from three to fifty cents to the pan, through gravel twenty feet in depth. A deputation of Crow Indians, after a few days operations, waited upon them, and, seizing all their horses, and nearly all their provisions and blankets, told them if they would dig no more holes and kill no more buffaloes they could leave the country without further molestation. It is needless to say that they got away as fast as possible.

If indications have not yet ceased to have weight with the gold-hunter, every encouragement is offered by the physical character of the Wind River range. Nowhere has volcanic convulsion left more prominent marks. On every side, it is said, irregular, charred, and fire-drenched crags look down upon chasms which are strewn with washed boulders of quartz and granite. Lying to the right of all the lines of travel between Utah and Montana, and of the old Oregon emigrant road, their position is isolated. This, coupled with the unfringedness of the fierce tribes inhabiting them, accounts for but few white men ever venturing into the Wind River solitudes.

THE DIFFERENCE.—A business friend gives us the difference in the prices of freight between New York and Portland and Portland and Walla Walla. He received this week, by W. F. & Co's express, a small box of goods, direct from New York. The box was landed in Portland for $18.25, and the charges from Portland to Walla Walla were $17.00! With only a difference in distance of between six and seven thousand miles being nearly equal, who, after reading this, will beater have the temerity to assert that "the Columbia river route" will not compete?

STROPPED MURDER.—The body of a man, supposed to have been murdered, was found on the Blue mountains, between Meacham's and the Umattila Landing, on Tuesday morning. The body was recognized as that of a man who had stopped at Meacham's hotel on Monday night, and left on the following morning in company with another man, on foot, to go to Umattila. The traveling companion was arrested at Umattila, on suspicion, and an investigation of the case was to have been had on Thursday. We have not learned the names of the parties.

A MISS.—Our former acquaintance and long time favorite, Mrs. Julia Dean Hayes, is filling a theatrical engagement at Helena City, where she is announced on the bills as Miss Julia Dean. We have heard of strange changes in our day, but this transforming a Mrs. into a Miss is certainly an astounding feat. Will our Helena exchanges tell us how the thing was did?

THE TRUE RING.—The Oregon Statesman, heretofore a little shaky, now comes out boldly for Johnson and the Union. We congratulate our contemporary on his noble stand, and suggest that it cry aloud and spare not the political fanatics who on this coast are endeavoring to sow the seeds of a second rebellion.

A STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN.—We have it on good authority that at the late election in Idaho P. J. Malone voted the straight republican ticket. We should like to know what terrible crime the republicans have committed that the party should be thus afflicted?

SHAMEFUL.—Little Pitcock, the Tom Thumb of the Oregon press, after having stolen the Oregonian from his early benefactor, Thos. J. Dryer, now allows the kind-hearted old man to piece in penny.

Letter from Mt. Hood.

SUMMIT OF Mt. Hood, Aug. 29, 1866. ED. STATESMAN:—We are now sitting upon the summit of Mount Hood. We have found the ascent difficult and hazardous. This is the third time I have ascended the mountain, but I never before had the difficulty that we have experienced this time. Our party consists of Prof. A. Wood, G. H. Atkinson, D. D. G. H. Atkinson, Jr., J. E. Higgins, D. D. Clark, and the writer.

Government Prairie we found to be 4000 feet high. Highest point where trees grow, 9400 feet; highest point of vegetation, 11,000 feet; height of the mountain, 17,600 feet. These measurements we think are accurate, as we used great care in taking them. We have a barometer with us, but have taken our measurements principally with the thermometer and boiling water.

The mountain has changed materially on the south side, since I last ascended it, eight years ago. One large ridge that we then crossed has been broken and carried down by the glaciers and avalanches. Smoke and steam are still issuing from the mountain.

Prof. Wood finds the flora of the mountain to be very interesting, containing over thirty species peculiar to the mountain, many of which are undoubtedly new. Interesting geological examinations were made by the party.

Letter from Kootenai. WILD HORSE CREEK, Aug. 14, 1866. ED. STATESMAN:—We are all "O. K." up here and doing pretty well. But the fact is, we want over one hundred thousand pounds of "grab" for winter, as there will be about 400 persons here, including Chinamen.

The Big Shaft will be in operation again in ten days. The result I will inform you of. The Rees Tunnel Co. are doing well. Griffith & Buckley sold for five thousand dollars; Dorr claim, $8,000; Kerby claim, $4,000. Finley creek is attracting attention. Some men are working there, and good prospects are obtained.

A creek named Skookum, on which gold has been found, is now being thoroughly prospected. Judge O'Reilly visited this place and yesterday returned to Big Bend. The road from Fort Shepherd is open for packing. Everything here bids fair for this country being the best mining camp north of the line.

Fisher, formerly of this place, is prospecting on the Boundary pass, with a company, so Linklater, of the Hudson Bay Co., informs us. Report speaks of good diggings there, but we have no confirmation yet. Yours, S. T.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. H. A. Livingston, of Coppel, was killed on Friday last at Mr. McGhee's place, in the following manner: The farmers of the neighborhood, on account of the scarcity of hands, were exchanging work, and Mr. Livingston was helping Mr. McGhee thrash his grain. It appears that Mr. Livingston, in order to get up on to a load of grain, stepped upon the apron of the thrashing machine, and while there the team drawing the load became fractious and he stepped backwards, and as he did so he stepped upon a bunch of straw which was caught in the cylinder of the machine, which was in motion, and his leg was rapidly drawn in and ground to atoms as far up as the trunk of his body, before the machinery could be stopped. Medical aid was at once sent for, but before it arrived Mr. Livingston had breathed his last—living about three hours after the accident. But his case was beyond the reach of human aid, his leg being literally torn out up to the hip joint, and his insides exposed. He bore his misfortune patiently and uncomplainingly, seemingly experiencing but little pain up to the moment of his death. By the death of Mr. Livingston Walla Walla county has lost one of her best citizens. He was universally esteemed, and last June was elected a member of the Board of County Commissioners, a position which he bore fair to fill with honor to himself and benefit to the county. He leaves a widow and five small children, to whom the sympathies of the entire community will be extended in their great bereavement.

Since the above was in type we have received the following, from Rev. J. W. McGhee, which gives a fuller account of the sad occurrence: "H. A. Livingston was born on the 9th of October, 1823, and came to his death by a most horrible and distressing accident on the 24th of August, 1866, under the following circumstances: While assisting to pitch grain from a wagon to a thrashing machine on the farm of J. W. McGhee, on Coppel, he stepped off the wagon, from which the load had been pitched, onto the apron of the machine, to let another team come up to the machine to unload. The mules attached to the wagon became a little shy, and he thought they were afraid of him and stepped back so as to be a little more out of their way, forgetful of the danger of going into the cylinder, and unfortunately got his left foot and leg into the machine, which had been slackened in its motion and was running empty. From his ankle to his knee the flesh and bones were literally torn to atoms. His toes and the bottom of his foot were but little injured. His thigh was horribly mangled and the thigh bone broken about the center and the lower piece torn out. His hip bone was crushed to pieces; a severe wound inflicted in the abdomen and his left side and back badly bruised. He lived about three hours, under the most excruciating pain and torture. This sad calamity has thrown a gloom over the whole community and brought sadness and mourning to his family, relatives and friends, and should be a warning to all persons engaged about thrashing machines to use extreme caution, for Mr. Livingston was noted for his care about getting into danger and was one of our most estimable and best citizens. May the Lord bear his dying prayer for his wife and children, which was, "Lord, have mercy on my poor wife and little children."

J. W. McGHEE.

EASTERN NEWS.—The news from the East during the past week is unimportant. The European war appears to have been brought to a close, with Prussia entirely in the ascendant; all her proposed terms, including payment for the expenses of the war, having been complied with.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

WALLA WALLA, August 17, 1866. Council met at the usual hour. Mr. Stine in the Chair. Present, Councilmen McKee and Winsett. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Ordinance No. 28, in relation to grading Main street, passed first and second readings. The following bills were presented and placed in the hands of the Finance Committee: W. H. Newell, printing, $21, coin. Mr. A. J. Miner's bill for loss on City Warrent No. 42 for $11.31 was, on motion, laid on the table.

The Committee to whom had been referred the bills of Lester & Langford and Wm. Phillips asked for further time, which, on motion, was granted. On motion of Mr. Winsett, all the money in the Cemetery Fund, amounting to one hundred and sixty dollars in coin, was transferred to the general fund of the city.

On motion, the Council adjourned. I. L. ROBERTS, City Clerk.

SPECIAL MEETING. August 30, 1866.—Council met at the appointed hour; President in the Chair. Present, Messrs. McKee, Baggs and Winsett. Ordinance No. 28, to amend an ordinance in relation to the grading of Main street, was read the third time and, with a few amendments, passed. No further business appearing, on motion, the Council adjourned. I. L. ROBERTS, Clerk.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first number of a new paper, called the Rocky Mountain Gazette, published at Helena, M. T., by Messrs. Wilkinson, Maguire & Ronan. The paper is Union in politics, supporting the policy of President Johnson, and is ably edited and neatly printed. Mr. Maguire, one of the publishers, is a printer well known on the Pacific as having been connected with more papers, as editor or publisher, than perhaps any other man on the coast. The people of Helena are evidently a reading community, as the Gazette makes the third paper for that mountain-locked town.

MONTANA FLOUR MARKET.—The Helena Gazette of August 14th, gives the following quotations: St. Louis, $100-lb sack, $17@18; Salt Lake $12@13 50; other brands, $12@13.

ITEMS OF NEWS FROM MONTANA.

NEW GOLD DISCOVERIES.—MULLAN ROAD TRAVELED BY WAGONS—MISSOULA CITY—AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS.

We were visited by Mr. Nimrod Poston, Esq., of Missoula City, Hell Gate Range, last Tuesday. We are indebted to the Squire for the following facts concerning the Hell Gate section:

Diggings have been discovered near the head of the Bitter Root river, on a stream called Rock Hole creek, distant from Missoula City some sixty miles, and from Fort Owen about thirty.

Squire Poston also reports several discoveries on, or near, the head-waters of the Clearwater. The discoverers had visited Missoula City, and obtained rockers.

White merchants of Montana, Oregon and Washington Territory, are speculating upon, and discussing the propriety of removing the fallen timber from the Mullan wagonroad, and re-bridging the streams, it seems the necessities of the case have attained the desired end.

The new grist-mill of Worden & Co., at Missoula City, will be in operation in about two months. Under the skillful management of Mr. Newell, one of the best millwrights of the West, assisted by our friend Philip Shenan, and Mr. William Rupp, this establishment will, we are confident, turn off a prime article of flour, and be unsurpassed by any mill in the mountains.

The Hell Gate farmers have enjoyed immunity, this year from the grass-hopper plague, and crops were never more promising. On this point, Squire Poston's language is, that "he has lived in three States and Territories, and never saw more promising crops anywhere."

DEEP DIGGINGS.—Probably the richest mining claim in Idaho is situated at the head of Blue Gulch, and is owned by Albert Young, J. Colebaker and others. It consists of twelve hundred feet in length by from forty to fifty feet in width, and is from twenty-two to thirty feet in depth—a washed gravel to the bedrock.

MAYFLOWER.—Robert Trimble and others are prospecting this ledge, and have found rock that yields, by assay of McDonald & Co., Silver, per ton, $3,116.65; gold, per ton, $797.24—total, per ton, $3,913.89.

CONSIDERABLE prospecting is now being done at different points on Florida Mountain, and scarcely a day passes that some new discovery is not announced. But the formation—being a mixture of porphyry and talc—is of such a character as to render discoveries very uncertain until after a considerable amount of work is done and the ledges are well opened.

INDIANS.—We have rung pretty much all the changes on these professional and natural thieves and murderers, as well as what should be done with them. They are prowling round in small gangs—whether to examine the situation with a view to a heavy attack or to indulge their predatory and murderous inclinations, we are unable to correctly presage; but one thing is certain, that life is unsafe in any direction.

INDIAN CREEK DIGGINGS.—These diggings, which have never received the attention merited by their extent and richness, are now beginning to make their importance felt and acknowledged.

REDINGTON & CO'S ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER.

THIS VALUABLE PREPARATION, containing in a highly concentrated form all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes. It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, &c.

STOP THAT COUGHING. COME OF YOU CAN'T, AND WE PITY YOU. You have tried every remedy but the ONE defined by its intrinsic merit to expel all malarious preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after its many experiments you have made of frisky compounds based on the public as a certain cure; but

NEWELL'S Pulmonary Syrup. It is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by the surprising curative powers of NEWELL'S Pulmonary Syrup. has cured thousands and it will cure YOU if you try it. This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste; soothing, healing and strengthening in its effect; entirely free from all poisonous or deleterious drugs; perfectly harmless under all circumstances.
