Auld Sandy's Wish.

Let me enter the cut where I happiness know,
That flowed from affection's pure stream;
Let me grasp the hand of a friend that is true,
Who forgets not I ever have been.

The village, the kirk, the school on the green;
By the burnie where all I use play my part;
Again, let me gaze on the dear beloved scene,
Which never from memory can fade.

For years I have known a wanderer's lot,— Pursuing fame, pleasure and gain;
Yet, amidst all excesses, I've never forgot
My home, or the billowy main.

The spring-tide of life now ceases to flow;
My dark eyes bedimmed, have grown gray;
My eyes are bedimmed, care's wrinkled my brow;
My eyes are bedimmed, care's wrinkled my brow;

Yet still, ere I sail for Eternity's shore,
One fond wish my heart contains—
To revisit the home of my kindred once more—
Bid farewell to all that remains.

Home Example.
The virtues that nations exalt and adore,
Which the world's great heroes have held in high
And there, like a lullaby, sing to the morn,
The sweet cheer, Love, has its birth;
Domestic virtues, our destiny weave,
And the world's future workers each impress receive,
As true as the wax to the seal.

End of a Good Life.
So live, that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan that moves
To that mysterious realm where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not like the quarry slave, at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained & soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
In like procession, hushed with benediction.
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Speech of Hon. S. S. Cox.
The constituents of Hon. S. S. Cox of Ohio gave him a reception on his return from Congress a few weeks ago at Columbus, and he made a speech on the occasion, the following synopsis of which is taken from the Columbus
Statesman, of July 29th:

Mr. Cox said that in the warm welcome he had met with he had more than a compensation for all the taunts and insults which he had received in his absence. When his name was announced for Speaker in Congress, the gallery—made up of shoddy and shoddy men—had not only ridiculed the name, but had hissed it, as better men before had been hissed. But he could rejoice in all such contumely, for he remembered that he represented the worthy people of a Democratic country, which had over-dosed him with six years of trial, by nearly 2,400 majority; that he hailed from a city which in casting 3,724 votes gave him nearly two-thirds of them; and that he was endorsed by such friends as no surrogates could represent.

an article made in Columbus. Like most other articles, steel is prohibited by the tariff. No foreign steel can come in with such a duty. Peis, your Columbus manufacturers of planter's cannot afford to make them at such prices. Pe-

INDEPENDENCE.—The Idaho Statesman, after copying a line or two from an editorial which appeared in our paper two weeks ago, sneeringly insinuates that we are not publishing an Independent paper. Because the extracted lines were not, perhaps, in "consonance" with the views of the Administration party, the editor of the Idaho paper imagines, therefore, that our paper is not "Independent!"

Fort Benton, which during the past thirty years has been owned and occupied by the American Fur Company, as a trading post with the Indians, has of late materially changed its character of business. Since the discovery and development of gold mines on the headwaters of the Missouri, and the consequent immigration from the States every summer, to points on the river, Benton does a heavy trade with those outfitting for the mines, supplying them with riding and pack animals, mining goods, etc., while the trade with the Indians is not so distinct as in years past.

Banditti of Sioux Indians during the past summer made incursions into the Crow country; some 1,200 of them passed the winter of 1863-4, around Fort Union, making it dangerous for the employees; they even ventured as high up as Milk river. General Sully, U. S. Army, commanding the Military Expedition against the Sioux, had converted the trading post of Fort Union into a general headquarters for a portion of his command. He also intended to fortify the posts of Forts Charles, McKenzie and Benton with soldiers.

Colonel Andrew Dawson, a Scotchman, and stockholder in the A. F. Co., who has been in charge of Benton for several years past, went down in the steamer to St. Louis, on his way to his home amid the "highlands" of Scotland. Mr. G. Steele, formerly Clerk, had gone into business for himself—leaving Mr. H. Carroll head man of the concern. "Old Meldrum," who has been a trader for the Company for forty years, among the Crows, and who boasts of having had some 100 wives among that nation, was stationed at one of the forts below Benton.

The mines in the Beaver Head country were fully developed in the year 1863. Business was lively in Virginia City; there was much inter-communication between the mines and Salt Lake City; stages and express running regularly. The Banneek and Virginia City camps are the two principal mining sections. The mines are being pretty steadily worked. In the first named camp there are about 1,600 men at work, making from $5 to $14 per day; in the latter there are some 2,000 miners, and these diggings are said to be very rich—covering an area of some 25 miles. Companies were paying hands from $3 to $5 per day. Small parties were also doing well on the Prickly Pear, Silver, Gold and Boulder creeks. These points are near the western base of the Columbia and Missouri waters, and near the wagon road to Fort Benton. Specimens of silver and gold-bearing quartz had been found, and it was believed that future investigations would discover rich veins in the Deer Lodge Basin. There are several gentlemen in that country—men possessing large capital, who stand ready to introduce quartz mills, should it be found to pay.

The people of Virginia City were anxiously expecting the arrival of the officers appointed for the organization of the Territory of Montana. Governor Sidney Edgerton was the only officer who had arrived, up to Sept. 1st, though the others were looked for daily. Gov. Edgerton is from Ohio, and was formerly Chief Justice of Idaho Territory. Politics were waxing warm—second to the mines in importance. Candidates for the honor of the First Delegate from the Territory were as thick as autumn leaves—Mr. T. Sanders, quite a young and able lawyer, was prominent among the Republicans for the nomination. The Hon. James Tufts, (elected to the Idaho Legislature in 1863, and who was Speaker of the House,) had returned to Virginia City and was spoken of in connection with the Delegateship. He claims to be Union, but has "democratic sympathies," and is very popular. He is also, a lawyer.

Several pack trains were met on the road, on their way to the Beaver Head mines, from Lewiston, Walla Walla and other points. Several parties were about to start for Walla Walla on business, and then return to the mines.

Maine and Vermont have, as usual, gone Republican. But why should they not give Republican majorities? It is to the interest of the New England States to support the measures of the Administration party. They are making money out of the war. Their manufactures are now in a more prosperous condition than ever before. The wealth of the country is steadily accumulating in the hands of New England capitalists. But while New England accumulates wealth from the operations of the war, other sections accumulate poverty. Consequently, New England supports the war and is enthusiastically in favor of the Administration, because it brings money into her coffers. The Middle and Western States, though strongly Union, would like to close up the war on the basis of the Constitution and the Union, as soon as possible, as well from patriotic as prudential motives; and hence the latter States are rapidly growing Democratic. But New England does not rush her citizens into the federal army so enthusiastically. And that is what tests her patriotism. She desires the war to continue, for its continuance adds to her wealth, but she would like the other States to do all the fighting. Her white citizens are loth to go into the army and so she resorts to the expedient of measurably filling her quotas with colored troops—hypocritically insisting that they make the best of soldiers.

A RICH POCKET.—A party of men working on the Hills and Knight quartz ledge at Eagle Creek, came upon a "pocket," one day last week, from which they took two thousand dollars.

Kootenai Correspondence.

FISHERVILLE, Sept. 24th, 1864.

EDS. STATESMAN.—We live in FISHERVILLE, so called, I suppose, from the fact that there are so many men here fishing for claims and getting none. The town is, as usual, of one street, with log houses, built for use and not for ornament, although one edifice, the hotel, is an elegant house for this part of the country. The dozen or so stores which are here are tolerably well supplied with assortments of miners' necessities—Gun boots, and picks and shovels abundant, while of other articles there is a sufficiency. Prices are very reasonable; for, as the place is full of goods, there is not much buying at wholesale by the merchants, and packers who come in sell out at a moderate freight and leave. Meats at the hotels are $1.50. Bacon is worth 10c., flour 30c., sugar 50c@60c. Potatoes, 15 to 25c., onions 30c@45c., butter $1.60, beef 25c@30c. per pound.

The mining ground extends for about five miles along Wild Horse creek, commencing about two miles above its mouth. The gold is very richly distributed in this district, and the diggings are undoubtedly rich. Last week one company cleaned up 100 ounces one day, and 80 ounces the next. On the 37th ult. one lump was picked up weighing 37 ounces. It measured four feet in length, three inches wide and from a quarter to a half inch thick. Value, $656. I judge that the claims now being worked, average about $25 per day to the hand, with 500 men at work. Some claims, paying much more than this, are being worked, and are very rich. The claims, however, are widely and thinly scattered throughout the whole length. Back of this bench rises a hill about ninety feet high which prospects well; but as there is no water on it, it is not yet worked, although the hill is about three miles wide and the first bench is now worked by a ditch, about three miles long, carrying about 400 inches of water. This is owned by a company, who use nearly all the water themselves, and consider the water their property, and do not think it right to let others use it, and at four hours, whenever they can. They have surveyed a ditch, to bring in water some 60 or 70 feet above the present one. This ditch will be about four miles long, and will enable the men to work the hill claims. It will not be finished this fall, I think, for they only offer seven dollars a rod for making it, and men think that is too cheap.

Wages are from six to seven dollars a day, but the "outsiders" stand not much show at that, unless they are acquainted with the miners at work. The camp seems as though every one is at work to get all that he can and keep all the money he can get. The big claims, however, have been thoroughly prospected. An excitement has been raised here about the Cœur d'Alene mountains, but nothing has yet been found there, so far as the Cœur d'Alene mountains are concerned. I think that region, however, is a better looking country for gold than this. Here the formation is slate, with granite, and some felspar and a few quartz ledges striking out, and here, limestone, slate and quartz are abundant. Ledges of felspar crop out on the mountain sides, granite boulders are scattered around "loose," and in addition to all that, gold is found here, and the mountain valleys have never yet been visited, and the prospects have stayed in them this summer.

The CONFEDERATE LOAN PROSPECTORS have been running around the country in this vicinity all summer and as yet have found nothing outside. The St. Mary's river, Finlay creek, the Upper Columbia and the other streams have been thoroughly prospected. An excitement has been raised here about the Cœur d'Alene mountains, but nothing has yet been found there, so far as the Cœur d'Alene mountains are concerned. THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT has, as usual, sent a Commissioner to measure out the mining ground, tax overbonds, and show the authority of Her Majesty, in latitude and longitude. Before the survey was completed, the body who did not have ground expected to get some slices off of the rich claims already at work, and waited in anxious expectation his arrival. The survey was completed, and the Commissioner was judge and jury; lawyers were so where, and arguments were useless against evidence where the testimony was limited to the extent of the conscience of the witness, without regard to truth. The big claim-holders played the outsiders out, selling out a part of the rich land to their friends, with understandings between themselves, so they say; and after the law-suits were settled, and claims surveyed off, then outsiders left in disgust to dig for diggings in the country where the American eagle reigns supreme. The next thing was taxes, which, as customs, rather exceed the interest on the claims, and are a great deal more than the tax on the claims. The interest on the claims had been on hand, Sunday last, would have been lively. We had a few rows and several arrests were made, but the parties were let go again on condition of good behavior.

LAST NIGHT was the time of greatest excitement, however, for the irrepressible Cuddy got started in a little private "muss," wherein, to show his wealth, he boasted of how much gold he had excavated, and of the size of the claims he owned. But afterwards, some one rushed into his cabin, told the man he (Cuddy) had employed there, which story so affected the man, that he jumped out of the window, and was killed on the spot. The catastrophe, whereupon the "confidence man" went into the cabin, thus deserted, and walked off with about seven thousand dollars of Cuddy's boasted golden wealth.

WE are now in expectation of something new turning up, daily. Yours truly, W. W. JOHNSON.

That Enrollment.

EDS. STATESMAN.—I have heard it stated publicly on the street that the enrolling officer for this county has obtained over two hundred names of persons subject to the draft, and that many persons have been enrolled who are not residents of this county. Further, that some of the "boys" boast that they have been enrolled without a check of the evidence in the hands of a draft, the county will have to fill its quota according to the enumeration of the enrolling officer. The town and county is at present full of persons who are temporarily sojourning here, and they would not be enrolled as residents of this county. Six months hence, they will be scattered throughout the mining regions, and then if a draft should be made the few remaining ones will have to fill the quota as if they were all here to take their chances. The vote of the county this year was only 620, and of this number there must be a considerable portion who are exempt by being over age. Those who come under the age of voters will probably not be enrolled, and hence the quota will be small, needs little attention; for one, I do not wish to be compelled to answer for more than my own name in case of a draft. If there are nine hundred on the list there are probably two or three hundred more than should be there. Will the enrolling officer enlighten the public in regard to this matter?

NOT DISCONTINUED.—Mr. McCrary, Postmaster at Auburn contradicts the statement published in the dispatches a short time ago that the post office at that place had been discontinued.

Eastern News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10th.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10th.—A dispatch from headquarters Army Potomac says contrabands report that trains are running on Weldon Railroad as far as Stony Creek, where supplies were loaded on wagons and hauled to Petersburg. Divided Court House. Between five and six hundred wagons are constantly engaged in this business. Confederate officers are taking all the grain to feed their animals, leaving none for the farmers to sow next season.

A dispatch of the 8th says the rebels are reported as massing on our left with the intention of penetrating our lines, but have evidently given up the enterprise for a day or two. Strict orders have been issued against intercourse between pickets.

A report reached Gen. Starkweather's headquarters that the rebel Gen. Dick Taylor had crossed the Mississippi and was concentrating with Forrest for the purpose of invading West Tennessee.

A scout has just arrived from Savannah, Tenn., says all the males between the ages of 15 and 45 have been conscripted in the State of Mississippi. The Herald's special from Letortova, Va., 10th says: The enemy attacked one brigade of Averill's division this morning shortly after 8 o'clock this morning at Darkville, on the Winchester Pike, south of Martinsburg, with Johnson's, McCook's and McLaughlin's brigades of cavalry and Pleasant's division of infantry. Early leading the attack in person. The enemy's cavalry were thoroughly beaten, driven in three successive charges, under the artillery fire, upon and through the infantry line. The rebel infantry were then brought forward to the attack, whereupon a brigade returned, having nearly expended their ammunition. They fell back slowly before our advance. The rebel infantry were unable to reach the Cavalry, their mounts were then brought forward to the attack, but did not venture to attack Schoonmaker in a position he had assumed. From prisoner taken we learn information of the highest importance. The enemy's loss much greater than ours. Early led a march on Sheridan's lines, and didn't expect in the outset of his operations disaster by Averill's activity.

The Herald's 9th corps correspondent on the 10th says: It is a gratifying sight to witness the wonderful change effected in our army within a few weeks, from large and frequent reinforcement. Our skeleton regiments are filling out in the first stages of the campaign. The brigades begin to show an unusual numerical force, while the divisions are becoming something like appropriate commands for general officers. All the troops are in a decided improvement in the spirits, and health generally of the troops.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—An Indianapolis dispatch announces the capture of Quantrell, the Missouri guerrilla. He was recognized on the street by a refugee.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Commercial special says the contractors are clamorous for their pay, but the Treasurer is withholding all payments in order to pay the soldiers.

Washington Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12th.

A Washington dispatch of the 12th says the draft has been ordered to commence in Ohio and other States where the quotas have not been filled by the 10th.

PARKE BENJAMIN died in this city last night, aged 54.

THE CHARLESTON COURIER of the 3d has strong articles against cessation of hostilities, in which it says the North is much in need of men to strengthen its armies and the war power; yet the same issue contains an article which closes as follows: War contains in itself every woe and calamity that mortals can undergo. With it comes bereavement and poverty, disease, death, rapine, devastation, extortion, murder and crimes of every description, it is woe in every shape and size. May the God of peace speedily lift up the light of his countenance upon us and grant us peace.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Washington Union of the 10th, says Greeley has again entered into correspondence with Sanders, assuring him that Commissioners will be quickly sent, if desired by the Union to Richmond to negotiate for peace without conditions precedent.

THE RICHMOND ENQUIRER of the 8th has a marked editorial in which it looks for peace—a lasting peace—on Calhoun's doctrine, that the executive department of the Federal Government should resolve in two parts instead of one. The Tribune's special Washington correspondent says, Col. Dana, of the 14th Pennsylvania, has just returned from under fire at Charleston. He reports that Sumter is rapidly settling and it is believed that in a very short time the water will enter the lower embrasures. The fact that this fortification was erected upon quite a thin point of land is well known to our engineers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—There is a majority of 7,177 for the Union party in 51 towns; a gain of 684 over last year. 95 towns give a Congressional Union majority of 9,168. This vote includes a little over four-tenths of the State. The Congressional Union majority is from 19,000 to 20,000. The Counties are all undoubtedly Republican. Senators, county officers and representatives stand about the same as last year. 174 Union to 25 opposition to the amendment to the Constitution permitting soldiers to vote will be carried almost unanimously.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 13.—Returns from 182 towns puts Smith's majority at 15,948. Returns from 230 towns show the election to be 251 Union and 20 Democrats in the House of Representatives and the Senate is unanimously Union.

GOOD DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONEERS.—The Republican journals are all doing good service, in an electioneering way for McClellan. By seeking to injure him in the eyes of peace men—proclaiming that they can't see how such can vote for him, and asserting (falsely) that his principles are just the kind they themselves have been contending for—they are only furnishing the thousands of Democrats who have been acting with their party a pretext upon which to return to their "first love." Just as Lincoln's acts have been the very kind desired by Jeff. Davis and the leaders of the rebellion for dividing the North and uniting the South, so now, his party leaders are doing all that Democrats could wish to unite the Democratic party and divide their own. A few months ago McClellan was, in their eyes, an "arch traitor," and "opposed to the success of the war," but now, just to split the peace party, they see in him a man who will prosecute it vigorously and regardless of all platforms and professions. If we had dictated a policy for them to pursue to insure a Democratic triumph, we could not have thought of a better one than the plan they have adopted; not that we think those who are leaving their party are doing so from a misunderstanding of McClellan's principles and platform, but because it furnishes them, as above stated, a "pretext," or apology, for leaving the party into which, from mistaken notions of duty, they have been duped. Vice a Republican-Democratic electioneers.

FROM THE PEN D'OREILLE.—Mr. Richards, an old miner, returned this week from what is called the "Simeakeeten," at the crossing of the Pen d'Oreille River. Numbers of miners bound for the New El Dorado—Kootenai—continued to pass the El Dorado a point. He met several pack-trains this side of the Spokane, going to Kootenai. The Ferry (Simeakeeten), is about 50 miles from Antoine Plante's, making it 200 miles from Walla Walla. Mr. W. Hines keeps a store at the ferry, and a party of men from the lower Pen d'Oreille were at his store last week, to purchase provisions. It was supposed they had struck paying mines above the mouth of the river, but they declined to give any information as to what they were doing.

Gen. Grant's Politics.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12th.

Gen. Grant never was a strictly party man. This is not so. Gen. Grant has always been a firm Democrat. In 1856 he was an out and out Old Hunter Democrat, and an ardent abolitionist. He voted for Buchanan for President. He was a member of the National Democratic Convention which nominated Buchanan and voted every time for the hardshell delegation from New York. And those who are intimate with Gen. Grant and his views now assure us that he hates abolitionism as intensely as ever.—Jolt (Ill.) Signal.

Gen. Grant has voted but twice. He was a citizen of Missouri, and voted for Claib Jackson, for Governor. He voted for Buchanan for President. He moved from Missouri to Galena, Illinois. He was enthusiastic Douglas man and expected to vote for him, but when the election came off he had not been in the State a year, and thus lost his vote. That the "loyal" abolitionism as intensely as ever! It is undoubtedly true, and it is not impossible that he may yet be the means of giving the object of his life its eternal death blow.—Quincy (Ill.) Herald.

FOR McCLELLAN.—Judge Himeson, of the Dalles has been paying our city a visit this week. The Judge has for the past two years been acting with the so-called Union party, but now he has turned his attention to vote for McClellan and Pendleton.

This is Love. To sigh for hours at beauty's feet. To start when rival steps are near. With ardent warmth her glance to meet. And pour soft flatteries in her ear. To kneel, till won by fancy forms. And brighter eyes, and then forsake. And while new hopes, new fancy warms. To leave her trusting heart to break. This passion haunts our earthly span. This is the wavering love of man. To seek one form in all our days. To court no gaze, no vow beside. To hold through life a holy truth. Which firmest proves the wisest tied. And like the diamond's sparkling light. Can balls and palaces illumine. Yet shines more cheering and more bright. In scenes of darkness and of gloom. This faith descends from realms above. This, this is woman's changeless love.

Hail to Cold Water. All hail to pure cold water. That bright, rich gem from Heaven! And praise to the Creator. For such a blessing given! And since it comes in fallow. We'll prize it yet the more. For life and health and gladness. It spreads the wide earth o'er.

"SONNY, do you love me any?" "O! don't I, though!" "What for?" "Cause you always bring me candy when you come to see sissy Jane. Give me some more." And what does Jane like me for? "O, 'cause you take her to concerts and give her so many nice things. She says so long as you are fool enough to fetch her shawls and bonnets, she won't sack you, no how—now give me some candy!" "Here, take it you little fool you!" Exit Sissy Jane, blushing, and Gustavus a cussin'!

TO PERSONS OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.—Those who have tried in vain to get into business may be pleased to learn that there is a whole class of people in Paris, who make a living by just throwing themselves under the wheels of omnibuses! There is one old gentleman near the Palais Royal, who has made within the past five years, over $2,000 on broken legs alone.

A woman residing near Terre Haute put out the eyes of her son to save him from the draft. She was the mother of seven sons, one of whom had died in the army, and another had suffered the amputation of his leg. To save her eldest son from the draft, she held a burning coal close to his right eye, while he slept on a lounge, and the optic nerve was destroyed without more than momentary pain. He has since become entirely blind. The mother is supposed to be partially deranged.

A NOAD TO THE "WALLMATE." Green be thy waters—green as bottled grass. Behold them stretched that! Fine salmon and rock bass, Is chiefly ketches that.

Onst the red Injuna that took their delights, Faint, fit and bled; Now the inhabitants is mostly whites; With nary red!

WHAT SUCCEEDING MEANS.—Bishop Bloomfield once asked a school girl, "What do you mean by succoring your father and mother?" "Giving on 'em milk!" was the reply.

A LITTLE BOY, after listening to a sermon on the necessity of being born again, returned home much affected, and said to his mother: "I don't like that sermon; and now, I don't want to be born again, for who knows but I might then be a gal!"

The Marysville Express says, William Hall, editor of the Merced Democrat, has been released from the battle at Alcatraz, after having subscribed to the oath of allegiance, and given bonds in the sum of $3,000 for his "good and loyal" behavior hereafter.

IT WAS DOW, JR.—sacred be his memory—who said that "Life is a country dance; down outside and back; tread on the corners of your neighbor; poke your nose everywhere; all hands around; right and left. Bob your count; the figure is ended. Time hangs up the fiddle, and death puts out the light."

FORCED TO RESIGN.—In obedience to the demand of the inhabitants of Nevada Territory, Lincoln's Supreme Justice has been obliged to resign their places on the Bench.

The Shelby who, with head erect, with honest people mingle, should cease to have his fellowmen, and go to shaving shingles. The lawyer would be better off, his conscience far less pliant, who owned a little farm in fee, and made that farm his client.

The minister, whose sage advice, a useful moral teacher, should mind and soul, as well as prey, and practice what he preaches.

FEMALE PHILOSOPHER.—An old woman in Kentucky crossed a bridge that was marked as "dangerous," with seeing the sign. On being informed of the fact on the other side of the river, she turned about and immediately recrossed.

A WIDOW, occupying a large house in a fashionable part of London, sent for a wealthy solicitor to make her will, by which she disposed of between fifty and thirty thousand pounds. He proposed soon after, was accepted, and found himself the happy husband of a penniless adventuress.

DESERT OF SAHARA.—Perhaps no more hopeless enterprise could be undertaken than to reclaim the great African desert of Sahara, where no rain ever falls, and there are but occasional caravans that traverse it. Modern science, however, laughs at seeming impossibilities.—Skillful engineers in the French army in Algiers propose to sink Artesian Wells at different points with strong confidence that this water could be reached and forced to the surface. In 1860, five Artesian wells had been opened, around which, as vegetation thrives luxuriantly, 30,000 palm trees and 1,000 fruit-trees were planted, and two thriving villages established. At the depth of a little over 500 feet, an under ground river or lake was struck, and from two of them live fish have been thrown up, showing that there was a large body of water underneath. The French Government by this means hope to make the route across the desert to Timbuctoo fertile and fit for travelers, and thus bring the whole overland travel and commerce through Algeria, which will be one of the greatest feats of modern scientific enterprise.

THE FRIENDS OF THE NEGRO.—The extract copied below is from Parson Brownlow's paper: "We have never differed with the South upon the abstract question of slavery, and do not now differ; and we are free to say, that the condition of the slaves when liberated, if left in the South, will be worse than it has been during their servitude. And we are for emancipating every negro in the South notwithstanding all this. For taking this ground we have controlling reasons. First, it will be the severest punishment of Southern rebels that can be inflicted, and next, it will be the very best means of 'extinguishing the negro race,' as the removal and civilization of the Indian tribes have tended to extinguish them."

Of San Francisco.
BADGER & LINDENBERGER,
Nos. 411, 413 and 415 Battery st. or Merchant, San Francisco.
Entire New and Fresh Stock.

WE would call the attention of COUNTRY MERCHANTS to our usually large stock of Goods. Our stock comprises every article in the Clothing and furnishing line. We have constantly on hand the largest stock and greatest variety of Cassimere and Wool HATS of any House in San Francisco, and our prices for these goods are less than those of any house, as we receive them direct from the manufacturer's consignment. Our stock of Fall and Winter Goods is particularly attractive and the great feature to the country merchant is the unusually low prices.

Less than the Cost of Importation!
We also keep the STAPLE ARTICLES in the Dry Goods line, which Goods we have purchased in this market under the hammer, and are offering them at New York cost, and less.

We publish this card in order that we may make new acquaintances, and induce those who have not heretofore purchased of us to call and examine our stock.

Good Articles and Low Prices
Are the great inducements to all who purchase to sell again. Merchants who buy of us can make a good profit, and sell to their customers at a low figure. We remain, respectfully,
Your obedient servants,

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS JUST COMPLETED his new Swing Ferry across Snake river at the Mouth of the Fatoune, on the most direct and easily accessible WAGON ROAD from Walla Walla to the Kootenai, Columbia River or Beaver Head Mines, or to Fort Benton or other points.
No pains or expense have been spared to make this ferry a safe, expeditious and convenient crossing for animals or vehicles of any description—superior to any ferry on the river, and not surpassed by any of the kind on the coast—capable of crossing one hundred animals per hour.
Parties traveling to Kootenai will find this much the shortest route, and an excellent road, with plenty of grass and good water, and good camping places at short intervals.
The following is a table of distances from Walla Walla to the Ferry:
From Walla Walla to..... 7 miles
" Touchet River to..... 13 "
" Spring to..... 20 "
