Military Reconstruction a Success!

THE REBEL STATES READMITTED:
AND IN 1868 WILL VOTE
FOR PRESIDENT!

TO-MORROW.

The man whose eyes are darkened
By shades of silent sorrow,
Will find that rays of gladness
Will shine upon the morrow.

To-morrow is the sepulcher
Of dying griefs and fears;
To-morrow sings the requiem
To what now draws our tears.

To-morrow shows a vision
Into the perfect world;
That keeps the strong endeavor
The will—from growing cold.

To-morrow leads us farther
Upon our upward way;
To-morrow twines the garland
From flowers that bloom to-day.

To-morrow fits the laurels
More closely round the brow,
And deepens all the tribute
Of praise that greets us now.

The Past has mark'd its progress,
Its track upon the mind;
The Present leaves no moments
For casting looks behind.

But the Future is the beacon
To which our efforts tend;
Through the darkness of the Present
It lights us to the End.

To-morrow yields the harvest
That will our joys repay;
So seed of noble actions
In the furrows of to-day.

Almost hopeless,
Homeless, friendless, almost hopeless,
In the world left quite alone,
Like a nest when all the birds
From their sheltering place have flown.

Homeless, friendless, almost hopeless,
Through the glimmer of the night,
Searching for a place of comfort
Where life's burden could be light.

Homeless, friendless, almost hopeless,
Hoping, praying for the day
When the darkness and the shadows
Should forever pass away.

Homeless, friendless, almost hopeless,
Saddened heart and aching brow,
Waiting for a friendly welcome
That once breathed a loving vow.

OUR OWN GLACIERS.—Along with our other valuable property in Russian America, we get a fine lot of glaciers. Mr. Wm. P. Blake, who has seen them, makes a satisfactory report of their number and condition in Sillman's Journal for July. From his statement, it appears that the glaciers are not on the Pacific coast, south of Sitka, where the weather is too mild for their perfect development, but along the river Stickeen. This stream rises in the Blue Mountains opposite the head waters of the Mackenzie, and flows in a general southeasterly direction parallel with the coast until it breaks through the mountains east and west of the north of Sitka. When the snows are melting the Stickeen is navigable by small steamboats about one hundred and twenty five miles from its mouth; so that one can sail up the river and enjoy a full view of the glaciers. Their appearance is said to be magnificent. One fills a rocky gorge of rapid descent, stretching far back in the peaks of the Blue Mountains, and looks like an enormous cascade. In the course of ages it has cut its way through solid rocks, and is overhung by freshly broken cliffs which attest its power. Another one swoops grandly out from an opening between high mountains and ends on the river in an irregular bluff of ice about two miles long and 150 feet high. Mr. Blake made a particular examination of this glacier, and found its surface broken up into enormous blocks and ledges, or caves and pyramids with curved sides. These obstructed his progress, and could be surmounted only by ladders or by cutting steps in them. Deep crevasses are of frequent occurrence, and the sun illuminates them with the most beautiful and aquamarine tints, passing into a rich cascade. FRIDAY EVENING, September 27, 1867.

THE WALLA WALLA AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—Our readers will bear in mind that the Walla Walla Valley Agricultural Fair commences on Wednesday next, and continues four days.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—Early last spring, a young man named Albert Humphrey, started from this valley with a band of cattle, bound for the Kootenai mines.

THE MISSOULA MAIL.—On and after October 1st, the Missoula mail will be restored to the old route, with head quarters at Walla Walla.

BEAR GELCH.—Mr. Dan. Hayes, the packer, arrived at Walla Walla in the early part of the week, direct from Bear Gulch, Montana Territory.

GOOSE.—Shel. Fargo, the bumper lawyer, was a passenger by the steamer Gallatin, that left Fort Benton for St. Louis, on the 5th inst.

NATIONAL BANKS.—Eastern papers make frequent mention of the failure of National Banks. The result is that there is a general lack of confidence in the stability of these institutions.

MONTANA ELECTION.—Lise returns give J. M. Cavanaugh, democratic candidate for Congress, 700 majority.

Political Changes.

The recent ground-swell in California is regarded by close observers as the premonitory symptom of a general reaction that will sweep the radicals from power and place.

As we all know, California a few days since did what Thad. Stevens prophesied of New York and Pennsylvania, and repudiated radicalism.

THE NATIONAL BANK SWINDLE.—Of the National banks which have recently failed none have approximated in the magnitude of the swindle, that of the Unadilla National bank, New York, and this is perhaps only a premonitory symptom of the financial crash which every citizen feels, is impending over this country.

Letter from Pen d'Oreille—The New Mines.

EDITOR STATESMAN.—A letter has been received from the P. M., from a reliable gentleman, (Mr. S. L. Pope), at the diggings, dated 7th inst.

JOHN KELLY, the violinist, and former resident of Walla Walla, was married to Mrs. Becker, at Helena City, on the 5th inst.

Walla Walla Correspondence.

WALLA WALLA, September 24, 1867. EDITOR STATESMAN.—The weather for the last ten days in this precinct, has been the most delightful that could possibly have been gotten up anywhere on the coast.

WALLA WALLAINS.—Since my last, San Francisco received quite an influx of merchants, hailing from Walla Walla, among whom I notice the welcome faces of L. Brown, Esq., of the firm of Brown Bros. & Co., and E. Brown, of N. & E. Brown, both of your City.

A SQUARE FIGHT WITH A GRIZZLY.—We learn from Mr. M. R. Stubbs, Upper Ferry, Missouri river, that Ben Carpenter and Boone Filson, old and well known citizens of Beaver Creek, while out hunting on the Missouri bottom, on the 2d inst., about one and a half miles above the Upper Ferry, came suddenly in contact with a large grizzly bear.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Yesterday, two notorious women of the town, Louise Wort and Kate Koonarth chartered a two horse rig from Montee's stables, and proceeded on a break-neck ride out on the Hot Springs road.

RICH QUARTZ.—We have been shown several specimens of ore taken from the Ancher ledge, in the Banner District, which have passed through the roasting process, in order to better display their richness in silver.

San Francisco Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 12, 1867. EDITOR STATESMAN.—The Fourteenth Annual State Fair, now being held at Sacramento, may be set down as a failure.

THE OREGON.—I believe Ben. Holladay is at his old game again. Owing to a lot of freight, for which room could not be found on the Orillanum, it was thought advisable to dispatch an additional steamer.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The Walla Walla Statesman more extensively circulated in this community, than any other paper published north of Marysville. Go to a hotel, or reading room, and you will be sure to meet this dear acquaintance.

BORDER STATE UNION CONVENTION.—Baltimore, September 12.—The Border State Republican Convention assembled in Front street theater today. Delegates were present from Delaware, Tennessee, Missouri, Kentucky, District of Columbia and Maryland.

MAINE ELECTION.—Augusta, September 12.—Returns from 268 towns, cities and plantations, give Chamberlain 45,125; Pillsbury, 34,457. The same localities last year stood, Chamberlain, 54,628; Pillsbury, 31,329.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY.—We learn that a fatal shooting affray occurred at Blackfoot City on the evening of Wednesday the 4th inst.

FROM FLINT CREEK.—C. A. Bell, in from Flint Creek, reports the new town lively and progressing finely.

EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to September 16. COMPILED FROM THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—Washington, September 12.—Orders were issued to-day from the Executive Department, distributing the Amnesty proclamation to all officials.

WASHINGTON, September 14.—The President has definitely decided to suggest to the several district commanders an extension of the time for the correction of the registry lists and the registration of those who are able to produce legal proof of their qualifications.

MASSACHUSETTS POLITICS.—Worcester, September 11.—The Republican State Convention met to-day. Senator Wilson was chosen President. Governor Bullock and the rest of the State officers were re-nominated.

WISCONSIN POLITICS.—Madison, Wis., September 11.—The Democratic State Convention met to-day, and nominated J. T. Tallmadge for Governor, G. L. Parks for Lieutenant Governor, E. R. Butler for Secretary of State, S. P. Wilson for Attorney General, Peter Rapp for Treasurer, L. C. Bispep for Superintendent of Public Instruction, and R. Harvey for Bank Controller.

PROPAGATION OF HOUSE FLIES.—A correspondent of the New England Farmer gives the following on house flies: Flies are propagated in the summer in the compost heap principally—mostly in horse manure. They delight in the fresh droppings of the horse, penetrating quickly into its loose texture, and depositing a great number of eggs, which hatch in a few hours; varying according to warmth of weather, and degree of heat of compost. In from four to seven days the maggot comes to maturity, creeps to the side of the heap and takes the chrysalis form. It then appears like a small egg, and is of a dark brick color. In about two days more the perfect fly appears, working its wings a little, to get the "hang" of its new existence, and then flies directly into your house, dear inquirer, and alights on your nice food. After wiping his feet and luxuriating on your good things for a time, he goes back to the barn to increase and multiply. Having learned so much by observation, we put our knowledge to practical use by letting the horse remain in the stable in the summer about six days, presenting great attractions to the flies that escape me, and those of my neighbors. They will soon produce counts less thousands of maggots. We then heat about six pails of scalding water, and while one rakes over the heap another dashes on the water, which literally straightens them out. Pitching the scalded mass into the pig pen we permit the process to be repeated. It is not a particularly pleasant operation, but far better than to fight them after they are in the house. The women will be glad to heat the water if the men will apply it, and both will be pleased with the success of the plan, if well followed up.

INFLUENCE OF HUSBAND AND WIFE.—A London reviewer observes: Everybody who surveys social life with any power of vision perceives that marriage is too frequently the means of extinguishing the manifold capacities of a tender and elevated nature by mating it with mean or base conditions. Practically, we assume of most men and women that their lives are in their own hands, that each feature has been of their own molding and conformation, that what they actually accomplish is the satisfactory measure of all that lay in them to accomplish, and that, on the whole, if misery and incompleteness of existence overtake them, the fault is mainly their own. Practically, indeed, this may be a fair working conviction, but men who dream of an ideal justice which shall be something more than practical, know that our lives are often given into our hands soiled and broken by the recklessness of those whom we have loved most, and on whom we have staked most. Marriage offers the most effective opportunities for spoiling the life of another. Nobody can debase, harass and ruin a woman so fatally as her own husband; and nobody can do a tithe so much to chill a man's aspirations, to paralyze his energies, to draw sap from his character as his wife.

GLYCERINE AND ITS USES.—Glycerine in its pure state is a clear, colorless liquid syrup, of a sweetish taste, being the sweet principle contained in oil and fatty bodies. Although its existence has long been known to science, yet like many articles of kindred nature its value to science long remained unknown. In 1844 its value for medical purposes was first discovered, in which year it was first introduced into the London Hospital, for the diseases of the skin, deafness, and other complaints. In Russia this article is extensively used by all classes, who apply it to the face, hands and ears as a protection against intense cold, as it will not freeze at any temperature, and excludes the air without evaporation; it is also much used as an adjunct to the bath, softening the skin pleasantly, and also bears a high reputation as a lotion for the complexion. In the arts its uses are manifold; by perfumers as a preservative fluid for flowers and fresh plants; in photography to keep pictures in an unfinished state, and also in preparing the colors of organic bodies. Large quantities of this article are consumed by manufacturers of chewing tobacco, who find it valuable in maintaining the softness of their products, while imparting sweetness to the taste.

THE Milwaukee Sentinel tells the following story: "A washerwoman known as 'Old Kate,' living on the South Side, died recently of a disease which baffled the skill of every physician in the country. Her stomach seemed to be affected in a singular manner. No medicine that was administered had any effect upon her, and her malady increased with time. At last she died a most horrible death. In order to satisfy their curiosity, it was resolved among the medical men who had attended her to hold a post mortem examination of her body. Dr. Hesse opened the body when a number of large crabs, alive and active, were found disporting themselves. They were doubtless the cause of her death. She had probably drunk the eggs in water, which developing, had become crabs."

TURKISH PROVERBS.—A small stone often makes great noise. A foolish friend is, at times, a greater annoyance than a wise enemy. You'll not sweeten your mouth by saying "honey." If a man would live in peace he should be blind, deaf and dumb. Do good and throw it into the sea; if the fish know it not the Lord will. Who fears God need not fear man. If they foe be as small as a gnat, fancy him as large as an elephant. A man who weeps for every one will soon have lost his weeps. More is learned from conversation than from books. A friend is more worth than a kinsman. He rides seldom who never rides any but a borrowed horse. Trust to the whiteness of his turban who bought the soap on credit. Death is a black camel, that kneels before every man's door.

SEASONABLE HINTS.—The hints that follow are reasonable and may be true; they are at least worth trying: Oil of pennyroyal will keep mosquitoes out of a room, if scattered about even in small quantities. The great pests, roaches, are exterminated by scattering a handful of fresh cucumber parings about the house. No fly will light on the window which has been washed with water in which a little garlic has been dissolved.

G. LEE, D. M. JESSEE, W. M. SHELTON, Managers.

A new fraud is now practiced in New York.

A young man enters a bar-room and treats the crowd, drinking confusion to the excise law. He then buys a paper of tobacco of the kind which occasionally contains hundred dollar notes, and on opening it finds a greenback. This he throws down to the barkeeper, telling him to keep $10 for himself, and buys champagne for the crowd. Of course the greenback is counterfeit.

French Medical Office.

DR. JULIEN PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University of the Faculty of Medicine of the St. John Baptist College of San Francisco.

Dr. Perrault has pleasure in informing patients and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Arroyo Hall building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs, entrance on either Montgomery or Sacramento street.

Dr. Perrault's studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unsuccess, compulsory single life, etc. have their sources to be traced to the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long afterward; patients laboring under this complaint will complain of the following symptoms: "Neurotic Emotions, Pains in the Head and Head-Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Urethra on going to stool or making water, the Inability to acquire or retain knowledge, Loss of Memory, Nervous Excitement, Irritability, Catarrhs, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial taints entirely removed from the system.

Dr. Perrault's diploma is in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under our treatment we fulfill our promise. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, will turn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Ladies suffering with any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor with the assurance of relief.

Female Monthly Pills.

DR. PERRAULT is the only agent in California for Dr. Bro's Female Monthly Pills. Their immense sale has established their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other, for the relief of all the various ailments, and other obstructions in females. On the receipt of five dollars, these Pills will be sent by mail or express to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Persons at a distance can be cured at home, by addressing a letter to Dr. Perrault, corner of Sacramento and Broadway streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or 972, P. O. San Francisco, stating the name as minutely as possible, general habits of living, occupation, etc., etc.

All communications confidential. 29ly
