JUST AS IT HAPPENED.

Tom Terrell, sit down if you please:

I bid you 'danc' Nety Deane.

You've done all evening with her.

I was the smiling and blushing.

Why, I'm all right, my dear, and such.

And I know quite well what they mean:

No woman can fool me—much.

"An angel?" Of course she's an angel:

I've seen her and heard her sing:

But me, don't worry 'till you're dead:

At beauty and music and love,

Am all just the same stuff.

If a woman ever says to me, "my dear,"

I'm just a fool, my dear.

And this "angel," Nety Deane

First.—We have just learned from a private letter that one of the officers here at the Clear Lake post was out on five by some person unknown. While the building was burning a large rack of hay was fired. Building was saved but hay destroyed.

Personal.—Mr. Richard Kelling returned from California on Tuesday night, looking all the better for his trip. Charlie Davis is looking very unwell owing to a sudden attack caused by taking cold. The weather is now likely to become colder at any time, therefore be careful of your health.

Big Trap.—An enormous set trap has been brought up from Portland for the special benefit of Uva Major, Esq., who has been residing on the farm of the land and Tom Page's cow on Government mountain. It is to be hoped that the gentleman will "put his foot in it."

Abortion.—We were informed last Saturday last that Mr. T. O'Brien had contracted for the building of an addition to his hotel. The specifications call for 60 rooms, with all modern arrangements, to be given promise of being the finest hotel par excellence in Walla Walla territory. Success to the enterprise.

Silver Wedding.—We have received an invitation to the silver wedding of our old friend Major George Manning, of Lewiston. With regards that we are unable to attend, we wish our friend "many happy returns," and we faithfully promise to attend their golden wedding.

Important Discovery.—As the railroad was progressing near the Touchet in a deep cut of about 15 feet in width, it was discovered. It is on the farm of J. S. Brown, 18 miles from Quincy. Mr. Fred Stone promises it to be a fine variety of coal, it looks like lignite. We understand that the owner of the land has been offered $8000 for the coal vein.

Narrow Escape.—This morning while police officer Hopper's little dog and some other were playing near the creek he accidentally fell in and the dog being unable to assist him got the alarm, and Mr. Baird came to the scene just in time, as the youngster had ceased struggling and was lying face downward in the water. In two minutes more he would have been past all assistance.

For Abutment General.—Frank Guttenberg, the democratic candidate for abutment general in Seattle, and is a gentleman eminently fitted for the position. He is an old resident of twenty-seven years standing and experience, and has had a long and responsible position in territorial affairs. He is a man of broad and liberal views, and will study early the sound economy. We cordially commend him to the democratic cast of the masses.

A Trio.—Saturday night the soap manipulator and the corn extractor took stations on Main street and began plying the dark secrets of their trade, and soon the two began laughing each other and prancing their legs in the air, to the great amusement of the on-lookers. It is said that the soap manipulator, evidently thinking he had found a couple of scoundrels from the same trunk, found his legs and arms at the end of each speech came with his canary bird which flew away, etc.

Depravity in Large Doses.—Some pessimistic wretch with malice aforethought has lifted the tongue of John Stubbins' cow with a knife Monday. John has had his chickens stolen, his dogs poisoned and it now looks as though they were after the cow. How a human being with the first principles of manliness can seek revenge so far from the territory is more than we can account for. A reward of $25 is offered to any one who will furnish a clew that will lead to the detection of the fellow.

A Visitor.—Mr. O. S. Savage, one of the first pioneers of this upper country, is passing our city a visit and is in a state of paying astonishment at the growth of our city, which he has never before seen. Mr. Savage is a honored citizen of the Dalles and is so highly appreciated for his honor and integrity that he has been continually elected to important offices. He is a native of the county of Waco, Texas, having been received to the office he had previously filled with credit to Lincoln and his constituents.

Called.—We received a very pleasant call last Saturday from T. T. Swanwick, Esq., a brother journalist from the Astoria Commercial and the Walla Walla News. He has just visited the upper country and his surprise at the size of our city and the rapidity of its growth is beyond all expression. We give him as authority for the statement that there are a larger number of teams to be seen on Main street in this city in one day than can be seen at Victoria, B. C., in six months.

Will Be Here.—Judge Lewis, of Seattle, will be in our city about the 20th of October next. He will shortly leave here for a professional trip to take the grand jury. Judge Lewis has what we consider by far the finest horse in the territory, and there are few even in Portland equal to it. The animal is a magnificent specimen of the breed, and is unequalled in all the grand and noble sublime scenery around that portion of the Sound. Judge Lewis has his many friends in this city, and we have no doubt that he will be pleased to know that he is enjoying the recompense established by an industrious and honorable career.

Attended Meeting.—Sunday night at Walla Walla, proprietor of the Chinese laundry, on Second between Main and Alder streets, stepped outside of his house he was struck by some hoodlum, who had been just back from the post office. The assailant was armed with a pistol, and the victim was struck in the head, and was lying from 4 to 5 inches thick and 3 to 4 feet in length. The face of the blow was received on the jaw, and a fatal wound was made, which was attended by a knot, was made over the eye and forehead. A clew to the would-be assassin has been found, and we expect to hear of the arrest soon. Should the culprit be caught, he will receive the full benefit of the laws, and especially so should the unfortunate celestial die.

Watershed Rebuilding.—That energetic citizen W. N. Smith informs that great preparations are being made to rebuild our charming little neighboring town without loss of time. The idea and course our friends have marked out for themselves is exceedingly good. They intend to build permanent brick next spring of brick, but in the meantime will erect temporary wooden structures and as well as possible until they can be better. In the spring the railroad will be finished when lime, sand, bricks and other building material will be furnished at a much lower rate than at present. We are glad to note this sign of energy and enterprise for Walla Walla is too prettily situated and in too good a natural position to be allowed to slip out of our hands. We have no doubt that in all right all her citizens ask to be let alone and allowed to carve out their own fate.

About to Leave.—Our citizens will learn with great regret that Gen. Fensholt, commanding floor at Fort Walla Walla, will shortly leave us for an indefinite period. We have to do with the regret will be equally shared by him and his family. Gen. Fensholt has been here for the best of everything, and his power to make everything agreeable to our citizens. We never could grant a request he did with a feeling of pleasure, and his assiduous cheerfulness and attention made him popular with all classes of the community. He has discharged his duties with an open and honest hand, and where ever he has been he has left the best wishes of our people along with him. For our self we would like to see him for his universal friendliness and for the encouragement and advice he gave us when we first entered the normal school.

A Boomerang.

The recent attempt of the Union to make capital for the republic in the hands of a man who has been the present incumbent, James F. Smith, is a most curious and interesting case. It is a very small and unimportant affair, which, with the knowledge of the citizen-candidate, is a most curious and interesting case. It is a very small and unimportant affair, which, with the knowledge of the citizen-candidate, is a most curious and interesting case.

The Fair.—The 105th anniversary of the founding of this city was celebrated on the 21st of September. The occasion was marked by a grand display of fireworks, and a large number of people gathered to witness the celebration. The fair was a great success, and the citizens were highly pleased with the results.

They are Bound over to await the action of the grand jury. The case is being handled with the utmost care, and the authorities are determined to see that justice is done. The grand jury will meet on the 10th of October to hear the case.

The President Coming.—The Oregon Navigation Company have declared their regular two per cent quarterly dividend, also a very liberal dividend of ten per cent upon the existing stock. This is a most generous offer, and the shareholders are highly pleased with the results.

The O. R. & N. Co.—The Oregon Navigation Company have declared their regular two per cent quarterly dividend, also a very liberal dividend of ten per cent upon the existing stock. This is a most generous offer, and the shareholders are highly pleased with the results.

Fire at Boise City.—On Wednesday morning last a fire broke out on Main street, Boise City, but the fire engine arrived in time to extinguish it. The damage was not great, and the fire was quickly put out.

The man and a dilemma of the date of John Pettigrew, the farmer who died in this city on Monday last, caused a sensation of some kind, and an investigation which culminated last night in a verdict by the coroner's jury, returned to try the case against the man who was charged with the crime.

From the Daily Statesman.
The first snow of the season fell on Mt. Washington Friday morning, Sept. 24th. The N. Y. Evening Post, financial section, says: "Leading Californians are becoming the opinion that there is no possibility of floating new mining enterprises of magnitude in this city, they have abandoned the old and gone westward."

The bark Legal Tender has arrived from the Arctic region. She brings no news of the Jennette or the missing whalers and confirms previous reports of the severity of the season in the North and the probability of the loss of the whalers.

The pickets at Corning were fired upon by strikers last Friday and returned the fire, but as far as Corning was concerned, most of the miners living at Corning would return to work at the sliding scale but for fear of vengeance from their associates in the Miners Association.

A dispatch from Boise City Sept. 24 says six convicts at work in a coal mine near the jail, overpowered the guard, obtained arms and fled. The guards and soldiers pursued and a running fight followed. The world would be shortly deluged again. The town of Tiro is named for the mine. The mine is 62 feet below ground and property and business. The river is three miles wide; one woman was drowned.

In reply to Cooke of Cincinnati asking for an authoritative declaration with reference to the religious, Gen. Hancock writes:
GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, Sept. 23.
To Cooke, Esq.—DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 20th is received. I regret that you are disturbed about the "rebel" and "southern" claims. People cannot be misled by it, to suppose that the "rebel claims" or claims in the interest of persons who were in the rebellion, can in any way or in any degree be countenanced. The impatience of distinguishing such to be made against Democrats even when they were in arms defending the country. So far as it touches me I denounce the government that can never pay a debt that is a portion of the reward of any sort for waging war against its own existence nor could it be induced to approve or encourage payment of such debt, pension or reward. Nobody expects or wants such unnatural an action. To propose it would mean the intelligence and honor of our people. When rebellion was crushed, so was the heresy of secession forever. It is a thing of the dead past. We move forward, not backward. If we were possible, I would vote for all legislation which might come before me, providing for consideration or payment of claims of any kind, for losses or damages by persons who were in the rebellion, whether paid or not. In relation to Union war claims, the government's obligations to its defenders are sacred. They are lasting and sacred. The public funds of civilized nations do not in general recognize claims for injuries to property sustained by operations of war; nevertheless the government has treated with great indulgence claims for losses and damages suffered by Union men from the military operations of the war of the Union, and has facilities were closed more than fifteen years ago. Claims of that nature now mostly in the hands of brokers or persons other than the original sufferers are becoming stale and in my judgment might fairly be considered and barred by the lapse of time and if heretofore entertained at all should be subjected to the strictest scrutiny.

W. S. HANCOCK.
The great democratic mass meeting held in New York a week ago last Friday night was perhaps the most imposing political demonstration that has ever taken place in this city. Union square and adjoining streets and avenues were literally filled with people, and all about was brilliantly illuminated. The principal meeting was in Tammany Hall, which was packed with the most enthusiastic audience. John Kelly called the meeting, and was greeted with uproarious applause. He introduced Daniel Dougherty of Philadelphia, who made an eloquent opening address. Irving Hall was not less crowded than Tammany Hall, and enthusiasm just as wild. John McLean presided and read the following dispatch from Plained Maine: "Thanks for invitation to be present at your ratification meeting over the victory of our plain people who believe our government will be a great benefit to our country. It should confine itself to equal protection, equal benefits, equal privileges, and as Heaven showers its blessings alike on us—high and low, rich and poor, to the end that may ever rest in the interest of all. Our victory will not be counted out." Resolutions were read and adopted, and letters of regret because of absence of writers were announced from Gen. Hancock, from ex-Gov. Hendrick, from Senator Hill, from Georgia, from David Davis, and from S. J. Tilden. The senator Bayard was then presented. The vote was read and was received with long and continued applause and waving of hats and handkerchiefs. He made a long speech, discussing many questions which enter into the presidential contest. He said that time has changed the population of the south, as well of the north—a new generation of men and women who could have little to say or do in relation to the war of 1861, now occupies and controls the country. Of the charges that in the event of the democratic success the war debts of the south, loss of slaves, and claims for other losses growing out of the war, and pensions for their wounded would be paid out of the United States treasury, Bayard said that the best reply to these wild, malicious and foolish assertions is that no payments would be impossible; that the good sense or honesty of that man is seriously to be impugned who does not read in the plain mandate of the fourteenth amendment the absolute illegality and nullity set upon all such claims, and that the same would be for a number of years. In Washington I am learned where the real beneficiaries of the claims paid by congress in the past years of the class "Southern claims," and in almost every instance a great part of the money flowed into the pockets of northern and very loyal assignees who had bought up these claims for a song from their impetuous southern owners. A great gathering of republicans, ladies and gentlemen, last week there were lawyers, bankers and statesmen, who had more money in their pockets from southern claims allowed by republican commissioners and republican courts, than the poor south received since the war. It is not to receive from now until the day of judgment.

VALLEJO NEWS.—Day before yesterday the Gaiety Theatre was purchased from Charles Ross and George Flinnery by a noted group of dancers, who answers to the name of May Summers, a name which suggests the idea that she has passed the spring time of life. The Gaiety Theatre was built last year by Geo. Flinnery and Jim Egan, and has since its opening been a continual burden upon the proprietors and a source of loss to them. It is not only cleaned from all its cash but also the same game with the fortune of his more wealthy partner Flinnery. The first performance consisting of literary and general variety business, under new management, was given last night to a fair sized audience. After the bill had been rendered the Lorraine party gave notice that they could not perform under the present management, making in not very complimentary terms of the "dirtiest May, the undevoted queen."

RECEIPT OF NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—During the seven months ending July 31, 1880, the gross receipts of the Northern Pacific railroad, on 675 miles of track amounted to $1,165,273. In the same month of 1879, the company, on 644 miles of road, took in $901,566. A gain of $243,713 in so short a time, with only 31 miles more of road, must be highly gratifying to the company.

The Walla Walla and Seattle Railroad is a thing of the near future.

Foreign Telegraphic News.
From the Daily Statesman.
Montenegrins commenced marching to Dulcigno on Wednesday.
The report that the Albanians deposed the garrison of Dulcigno on the 17th inst. is confirmed.
The Porte will issue a new note protesting against the naval demonstration. Again declaring its exercise of armed pressure contrary to the rights of the Sultan.
In accordance with the decision taken at the Council of Admirals the 24th, Admiral Seymour has sailed for Cattaro where he will proceed to Cattaro for the purpose of ascertaining personally the position of Montenegro and arranging for future action with regard to the occupation of Dulcigno.
A dispatch from Chetting of the 24th says Admiral Seymour has arrived here. The Commander in Chief of the Montenegrin force which is to operate against Dulcigno has arrived at Suttaria to hold a conference with Admiral Seymour.
Peruvians are actively engaged in drilling and organizing their army for the protection of Lima and in fortifying the city. Even the Chinese are joining in the universal enthusiasm and the nucleus of a colonial guard has already been formed of six of the richest Chinamen, and a corps of some 10,000 men of the best Chinese offered. The mission of the Christian Americans Minister to Peru to the South turns out not to be one of peace, but for the purpose of presenting certain claims to Chile for damage caused to American property during the war at Valparaiso.

THAT TOUCHET COAL.—On Tuesday we received a specimen of the coal recently discovered on the Touchet, and according to our custom tested it in a common clay pipe. The coal was pounded up fine, placed in the bowl, covered it up tightly with putty and a cover of some kind, and continued burning fully eight minutes, and all this from less than half an ounce of coal. If this vein is only one-half the thickness it is represented to be, the most valuable property in Walla Walla county to-day. We would suggest that a few loads of the article be immediately brought to town, as it would command a ready sale at high figures. Our citizens cannot stand the extremely high prices which inferior coal would be sold at much longer, and with one accord would give preference to the coal merchant. The first ton brought to the STATESMAN office will fetch a $20 gold piece, and the sooner it is brought the better we shall be pleased.

A GROWING EVIL.—Whatever may be the qualifications of the numerous "drifters" who now infest our city, check and brazen impudence cannot be said to be absent in their ethics. They have literally no hesitation in striking our citizens for various sins and for different purposes, and they gauge their demands for the same according to those they approach. For example, a poor newspaper reporter is only asked for 50 cents, while his Honor, the Mayor, is assessed at $2 and street commissioners at $100. A gentleman who is asked for 50 cents, while his Honor, the Mayor, is assessed at $2 and street commissioners at $100.
