To the Voters of Washington Territory.

In consequence of the many false charges preferred against me by the Abolition press and the unprincipled hirings of the abolition oligarchy in the interest of Rev. J. O. Raynor, permit me to call your attention to my claims as a candidate for the Delegateship. 1st, I am the nominee of the Democratic party of the Territory, as expressed by the action of the Democratic Convention, which was held at Vancouver on the 28th and 29th ult.

2d, I stand upon the Democratic platform adopted by that Convention—which asserts the right to "freedom of the press, freedom of speech and the right of trial by jury." It condemns all usurpations of power by those in authority. It condemns the growing tendency towards the centralization of power in the General Government. It insists that the people are the Government and that the rulers are but the agents of the people.

I am charged by one E. L. Quimby, a crack-brained ignoramus, of Multnomah county Oregon, with saying that I "believed that the American people were not capable of self government;" that I "believed all power should be taken from the people and placed in the hands of the rulers." Both of these statements are wholly and entirely false. No man ever heard me make such a statement, and I know I never entertained such a sentiment. Notwithstanding I have denied this charge everywhere during the canvass, Rev. J. O. Raynor is circulating copies of the Portland Times and Oregonian through the country, charging that I have not denied it.

The views and opinions I have entertained in private life (and I have always been a Democrat) are the views and opinions which the leading lights of the democratic party have entertained since the days of Jefferson, and if elected as your Delegate I shall carry out those views, and if I firmly believe in this Union is ever restored, it will be through the influence of the Democracy, and in spite of the Abolitionists.

The contest is between the candidate of the Federal-Clique-Abolition party, Rev. J. O. Raynor, and myself, the candidate of the Democracy—whose motto is, "The Union as it was, and the Constitution as it is." The friends of Constitutional liberty need have no fears. If elected I will be faithful to this principle.

Geo. E. Cole.
THAT'S A FACT.—A venerable old man says: "Let the slanders take comfort—it is only at fruit trees that thieves throng."

The old man is right. Whoever sows thistles, thorns, briars, maple or elm trees? The more fruit the tree bears, and the richer it is, the more it is likely to attract the attention of the thief. No man that tries to do his duty to his fellow, and endeavors to live to bear the fruits of true religion in his daily conduct, can for a moment suppose that he will pass along through life without being slandered more or less. Such a man will of necessity have some enemies; and these enemies will try in every way to injure him, and among other things, they will not be slow in stirring up the polluted waters of defamation and slander. A man who has no enemies is a milk and water nothing. We would have given three figs for such a man. He who has nothing, who makes his mark in the world, who does good, will have enemies; and if he has them, he will be sure to be slandered. Let him then, be comforted in the reflection of the venerable man quoted above: "It is only at fruit trees that thieves throng."

AWKWARDNESS.—Women have a permanent advantage over men. Not only does timidity in them naturally find more graceful expression, but they can generally find something legitimate to do with their hands—some little occupation with the needle, the shuttle, or the fan—to mitigate the pains of embarrassment, from which men's hands have no safer refuge than the pocket, most other expedients proving a worse and often mischievous alternative.—And if hands are so difficult to the shy man, what can we say of legs, which, we presume, women need never think of, as an embarrassment, at all? How is he to keep them in order, so that they shall not betray the perplexity of his soul. What an infinite variety of bad tricks, with these particular members, does not the demon of sheepishness suggest to its victim in the hour of trial? What postures! What oscillations! What does not remember the curate immortalized in Shiloh, who, in the critical moment of his courtship, contrived with his own hands to tie his legs so firmly together with his pocket-handkerchief, that he could not see himself at liberty when retreat from the scene of discomfiture became essential!

Each moment makes the dearer, as the prudent husband said to the extravagant wife.

The "Colored" Policy.

We have now an authoritative declaration from the Cabinet that this war is to continue until the emancipation proclamation is enforced in its literal terms. A few days since we charged that the discussion of the effect of the proclamation upon the rebel States, should they now voluntarily resume their position in the Union, which of late had so largely occupied the columns of the New York Tribune and the attention of the radical press, was a premeditated discussion resulting by arrangement in the triumph of the radicals.

It was entered into with a view of preparing the people for such official announcements as were made in the Sumner meeting in New York on Saturday last.—Until the elections in Rhode Island and Connecticut had been carried by bribery and fraud, Secretary Chase would no more have addressed to the public such a letter as was read from him in the Sumner meeting than he would have thrust his arm into a glowing furnace. These "lections" and the discussion to which we have alluded have emboldened the administration to openly announce what they have from the first intended, but shrank from avowing until they imagined the season was ripe for its publication.

We have repeatedly asked for a construction of the emancipation edict from the administration. We have averred that so far from it being a means to an end, it was a primary object, and would be adhered to should the South indicate its willingness to return in case of its withdrawal. For this we have been denounced as traitors and rebel sympathizers in such dignified language as the Christian philanthropists of the administration party are wont to employ. What we have asserted is now boastfully proclaimed by Secretary Chase, and reiterated by the most prominent leaders in the party. In his letter to the Sumner meeting, the Secretary, in discussing the question of slavery, said:— "What matter now how it dies?—Whether as a consequence or object of the war, what matter? Is it a time to split hairs of logic? To me it seems that Providence indicates clearly enough how the end of slavery must come. It comes in rebel slave States by military order, decree or proclamation, not to be disregarded or set aside, in any event, as a nullity, but maintained and executed with perfect good faith to all enfranchised, and it will come in loyal slave States by the unconstrained action of the people and their legislators, aided freely and generously by their brethren of the free States."

Whether as a consequence or object of the war, what matter? To me it seems that Providence indicates clearly enough how the end of slavery must come. It comes in rebel slave States by military order, decree or proclamation, not to be disregarded or set aside, in any event, as a nullity, but maintained and executed with perfect good faith to all enfranchised, and it will come in loyal slave States by the unconstrained action of the people and their legislators, aided freely and generously by their brethren of the free States. I may be mistaken in this, but if I am, another better way will be revealed.

In the face of this explicit avowal from the Secretary, and of the utterances of the speakers at the Sumner meeting,—not one of whom denied, but the majority of whom applied the avowal to the present case,—we are asked to believe that the Secretary, in his declaration of the administration at Vicksburg—for the plan of that campaign can be traced to Washington. It is made when Banks has been compelled to act on the defensive, and fortify himself at New Orleans; when Rosecrans, after months of inaction, is confronted by superior forces upon the banks of the Tennessee; when we are threatened with invasion from three several points; when Hooker dare not stir from the vicinity of Washington, through fear of being crushed by Lee; when we are threatened with a war with Great Britain; and when our iron-clads had just been driven, battered and sinking, from Charleston harbor. It is made when our prospects of success have been darkened in every field, and the hopes of the Confederates strengthened by their successful maintenance of every point we have menaced or attacked. We wait with interest the next issue of the official declaration that the war is an abolition crusade.—Chicago Times.

Misrepresentation of the Union Democracy.
Much has been said by the Abolition radical press of Oregon and this Territory about the democratic party being the accession party, the Peace-on-any-terms party, Copperheads, torys, with many other epithets of the same sort. There are very few democrats in the territory, and in Thurston county particularly, but what have to acknowledge this compliment from the hands of the radicals. They arrogate to themselves all the patriotism and all the loyalty, and at the same time shamelessly proclaim that in time of war there is no constitution. This sentiment has been avowed here in Olympia, from a high stand point and to which we may have occasion to refer hereafter.

So far as the accusation goes that the democrats are for peace on any terms, it is only necessary to say, that the men who utter this foul slander do not believe it themselves. The democracy are not of the radical school for "Peace-Measures," for the reason among others that they could not trust that kind of men to make a peace.—They would be sure to do it on the most dishonorable and disastrous possible terms, and most certainly at the price of disunion. Utterly unscrupulous of all possible good as we believe to be the policy pursued by the Administration in direct hostility alike to constitutional obligations and its own declared intentions, still we can see no safety but in demanding a vigorous prosecution of the war.

No far as any democrat, or any portion of the democratic party enter their solemn protest against the war being carried on, and the country plunged into an unwholesome abyss of debt and dishonor for the sole benefit of the "everlasting nigger," we say Amen. So far as they would stand as a solid wall of opposition to every step outside of the clear requirements of the constitution, whose authority the war was declared in order to re-establish, we say Amen and Amen. But when men talk about demanding a peace because both sides are wrong, then we part company.

The rebellion was unjustifiable and wicked, therefore the Federal Government was right in endeavoring to establish its constitutional authority by force of arms, if there was no other way to regain its lost jurisdiction.

Many wise men believed, and still believe, that discreet councils would at least have retained the border States in the Union, but our rulers chose the sword, and by the sword they must now abide. Very slender as is our faith in the ability of the Administration to conduct the war to any successful conclusion, we see no path of safety or of national honor, but to hold it square to the position it has itself elected. Public opinion must plant itself squarely against every step in that path of a centralized despotism towards which the present policy is so rapidly tending. We shall lose money and suffer much in the unequal contest with power, but it may be we shall be able to preserve at least the semblance of a country for that better day when power shall revert back again to the people.

Washington Union.
Late Eastern News.

Philadelphia, June 25th.—The Enquirer has special from McClellanburg on the 24th. The town was occupied by rebel cavalry that evening.

A despatch from Frederick, Md., the 24th, says: Rhodes's division, 10,000 strong, left Hagerstown on Tuesday for Chambersburg. Johnston's rebel division, 12,000 strong, with 10 pieces of artillery, crossed at Shepherdstown on Sunday. Half of this force left Boonsboro on Tuesday, for the North, and the other half went to Williamsport. The aqueduct there has been destroyed by the rebels, and also a number of bridges. It is generally believed that the greater part of his army has crossed into Maryland since Friday, at Antietam, Shepherdstown and Williamsport.

Business is partially suspended in this city to-day, and the receipt of shipments of goods by the Potomac railroad temporarily suspended.

A telegram from Frederick, Md., on the 25th, says: There is no doubt that more than half of Lee's army is now in Maryland, advancing in three columns on Pennsylvania. Each advancing column is followed by a large body of cavalry, and also a number of bridges. It is generally believed that the greater part of his army has crossed into Maryland since Friday, at Antietam, Shepherdstown and Williamsport.

Several vessels sailed to-day in search of the pirate Tacony.

The special telegraph to the World says there are strong indications that Lee has not only achieved his grand project of passing his strength on this side of the Potomac, but is actually within a short distance of Washington, he having a considerable force from Shepherdstown and Antietam fords down the tow path of the canal, or else along the roads from Boonsboro and Middleton, to the vicinity of Poolesville, Brushville and Rockville. From these points he has direct access to the rear of Washington, and in case of a movement, destroy the railroad between the Capital and Annapolis Junction. There is cause for apprehension concerning the safety of Tyler's force, which has been holding Maryland Heights, although it is hardly possible that Tyler has been captured; yet it is possible that his communication with the army in Virginia and with the force under Gen. Schenck has been broken.

A brig arrived at Newbern from St. Croix, June 6th, and reports that on the 8th, two steamers were seen in the offing, towards St. Thomas, fighting, when one of them suddenly disappeared. It was supposed that the sunk and the other straggled off. The Vanderbilt was reported at St. Thomas on the 9th.

About 1,000 Texans made an attack on Lake Providence and were repulsed with some loss.

crowding dissatisfaction among them.—Georgia and South Carolina troops are to take their place in the State.

The women and children on Cape Hatteras banks, numbering nearly 100,000 are in a very very destitute condition, and threatened with starvation. Every man and boy there capable of bearing arms is voluntarily doing military duty. The Union fortifications in this department are being made impregnable. Gen. Foster has tendered Gen. Dix and the authorities of Washington the services of all the nine months men in his department, who are ready at a moment's notice to move.

Reports from the eastern coast show that the pirates are at work destroying all the fishing vessels they can get hold of.

CAIRO, June 26th.—The steamer Prima Donna, loaded with commissary stores, and under the convoy of a gunboat, was fired on by guerrillas from the Arkansas shore, on Sunday last. The guerrillas numbered from 200 to 300, and had six pieces of artillery. The first shot of the Prima Donna's steam pipe, rendered helpless. She was struck several times afterwards and considerably damaged. A number of persons on board were killed or wounded. The gunboat replied to the guerrillas' fire, but with what effect is not known, other than they soon got out of range.

Reports are received from Vicksburg to the effect of the 21st. There had been heavy cannonading in that direction, but result not known.

Harrisburg, June 26th.—Gov. Curtin, by authority of the War Department, will issue his proclamation to-morrow, calling out 50,000 militia to defend the State.

It is generally understood that Hooker's army is at Maryland Heights, and that he is preparing to meet Lee in person. The writer who furnishes this information, says that he thinks Lee and Longstreet were at Hagerstown on Wednesday, as an immense army was bivouacked around there.

Honolulu, June 6.—This is the month when all the missionaries meet here from the Islands to hold their yearly meeting; consequently a great many strangers are in town. The Rev. Dr. Anderson, Commissioner from the Eastern Churches, is here to attend this annual gathering. Our people think very highly of him and are paying him marked attention.

Col. Fryer, the American Commissioner, offers his furniture for sale at auction, preparatory to his departure upon the arrival of his successor, Mr. McBride, now soon expected, and of whom little good is said. Strange that the U. S. Government cannot send us a proper gentleman to represent America. It is a great mortification to Americans here not to have a suitable representative from our home Government.—Cor. S. F. Bulletin.

New York, June 25th.—The Baltimore American yesterday, says there is no doubt that Lee proposes a renewed attempt to capture Washington by the Maryland route. His advance into the Cumberland is for forage and supplies. He has no purpose of penetrating to Harrisburg.—It is also believed that Hooker will to-day have a large force in Frederick, or between the rebel army and Baltimore and Washington.

The garrison at Maryland Heights forms the right wing of Hooker's army, and is under his command.

with some of Milroy's men. Milroy is preparing to drive the rebels out. A battle is certain.—The excitement at Pittsburg is unabated. Troops are being organized rapidly.

A Harrisburg letter was received today by the Press saying that Knipe was reinforced by several regiments and ordered to repel the further advance of the rebels.

It is admitted that Hooker's army is preparing to meet Lee. Longstreet and Lee were at Hagerstown on Wednesday. An immense army was there.

Gen. Rhode's division is at Chambersburg.—The rebels captured about 4,000 horses, and are still mounting infantry.

Harrisburg, June 26.—Gen. Knipe thinks his force is sufficient to meet the rebels. He executed Cutler last night. He reports the rebels 100,000 strong.

New York, June 26.—Gov. Parker, of New Jersey, has issued a proclamation calling upon citizens to fill up the ranks of old regiments and also fill up five new regiments of infantry and two of cavalry, for the war.

Gen. Butterfield, chief of Hooker's staff, was in Baltimore last night in consultation with Selkirk.

A special dispatch to the Post says that no alarm is felt in Washington.

The gunboats Diakonstein and Corvise were seen yesterday off Nantuxet. They report the capture of the ship Isaac Webb by pirates.

The Steamer Champion, from Aspinwall has arrived.

Newbern advices of the 22d state that deserters from Wellington, N. C., say that two rebel ironclads, with five inches of iron and eighteen inches of wood, and mounting heavy guns, are about ready to make a raid on the blockading fleet; they are about the size of the first Merrimack, but very deep in the water, and can only make three or four miles per hour.

MISREPRESENTATION.—Some of the Abolitionists are busy circulating a report throughout the county that we made a statement in the STATESMAN of the 6th inst. that George E. Cole, the Democratic candidate for the Delegation, would renounce, as a candidate, the views he entertained in private life.

We emphatically pronounce this a misrepresentation. By reference to the paper of that date, it will be seen that we published an extract from the Oregonian in which that paper charged that Mr. Cole would "qualify," as a candidate, the views he was understood to entertain in private life. It will be seen, further, that we denied this charge, stating, upon the authority of Mr. Cole, that he "would not qualify," &c.—that is, that his private views are his public views. The Oregonian might have used a better word than "qualify," nevertheless it expressed just what the editor of that paper intended it should, and if any abolitionist has misunderstood our denial of the charge from a lack of knowledge of the English language, we can only regard it as unfortunate that editors, when communicating ideas, cannot at the same time endow such letters with brains. By reference to "Webster" it will be seen that he defines "qualify" as follows:

3. To abate; to soften; to diminish.

5. To modify; to restrain; to limit by exceptions, as to qualify words or expressions, &c.

RAYNOR AND HIS OFFICIALS.—In his speeches in the lower country, J. O. Raynor spoke of the Federal officials of this Territory as "honest men, for aught he knew to the contrary." In his speech in this city he stated that he had been charged with being the nominee of the Federal officials and denied the charge by denouncing some of the officials, and stating that if elected to Congress he would use his efforts to procure their removal from office. This much we had been forewarned he would do, and so stated last week. We believe, and firmly too, that he has compromised himself in this, and that knowing the unpopularity of the officials here, he only did it to secure votes,—knowing, at the same time, that the news of this position would not reach the Sound country in time to injure him among the friends of the officials there. So far as the Clique is concerned there is no doubt that he had their full consent to take the position he did here.

A METHODIST PREACHER.—We are told that one of our quondam friends is sorely hurt at our course in relation to Rev. J. O. Raynor, and asserts that we are "seeking to throw opprobrium upon the Rev. gentleman because he is a religious man and a Methodist preacher." Now, since Rev. J. O.'s nice allusion to the STATESMAN, in his speech here on the 4th, we will reserve to ourselves the right to judge of his refusal, and will say to the friend refused, that if we have any objections to J. O. on the score of religion they are of an entirely negative character. Further, we believe our respect for religion and ministers, of whatever denomination, is equal to that of most men; and we wish our friend to distinctly understand that we would not seek to "cast opprobrium upon him, J. O. Raynor or any other man" because he is a minister. But our respect for ministers is measured by the same rule that we apply to men in general—MERIT, and if their actions do not show them worthy of our esteem they must go elsewhere for "comfort." If any of them, claiming to have had an especial call from God to preach Christ and him crucified, set themselves up as moral teachers, and then turn aside from that calling to denounce their friends as enemies and traitors, and to blackguard those whom they may dislike, we cannot conceive that they are entitled to more consideration than other men on account of their calling; but, on the other hand, we believe them to be more the subjects for just condemnation; and if they so far depart, in their practice, from the principles that should govern them in their "high calling" as to descend to the level of common blackguards, they deserve only to be treated as such.

NOTICE.—Applicants for Homesteads who are too poor to pay their proportion of expenses of the Register and Receiver, incurred by visiting this place, can make their entries by paying the legal fee—$12.

The Democratic Ticket.
It having become known that one of the candidates on the "Union Ticket" has been mean enough to have counterfeited Democratic tickets printed [at the Dallas] we publish below, at the request of the candidates, a copy of the genuine Democratic Ticket, that some may be deceived by the counterfeit. The counterfeit is headed "Democratic Ticket" and has the names of the "Union" candidates upon it for the representative and county offices. The genuine ticket is as follows:

Democratic Ticket.
For Delegate to Congress,
Geo. E. Cole,
Of Walla Walla County.
For Joint Councilman,
Daniel Stewart.
For Representatives,
For Sheriff,
Geo. W. Shoemaker.
H. M. Hodgis, W. S. Gilliam, A. Seitel.
For County Auditor,
H. M. Chase, L. J. Rector.
For County Commissioner,
Thos. P. Page.
For Assessor,
Cyrus Leyde.
For Coroner,
Dr. L. Danforth.
For Justice of the Peace,
For Constable,

The Democrats, in their convention, nominated only a representative ticket, and the names appearing in connection with the county offices are those of independent candidates, and the only ones printed on the genuine Democratic Ticket.

The Democratic Platform.
Whereas, We, the Democracy of the Territory of Washington, in convention assembled, are now and ever have been, opposed to "treason, adulation and sympathizers, with foreign foes and domestic rebels, to all men and parties, who would subvert and destroy the rights of the States and the Government, or the liberties of the people either by force of arms or by acts not sanctioned by Constitutional authority; and Domagogeism.

At Vancouver, Rev. Raynor in speaking before an audience, composed largely of Catholics, referred to the Catholic church as the "good old Catholic church." A gentleman with a brogue remarked that while in the pulpit Raynor was in the habit of calling the Catholic church "the mother of harlots!" The gentleman with the brogue thought this new electioneering dodge would not go down with those who knew Raynor.

READING AND THINKING.—It is good to read, mark,—but it is better to inwardly digest. It is good to read, better to think—better to think one hour than to read ten hours without thinking. Thinking is to reading (if the book read have everything in it) what rain and sunshine are to the seed cast into the ground, the influence which maketh bear and bring forth, thirty, forty or an hundred fold. To read is to gather in the barn or store-house of the mind, to think is to cast seed corn into the ground to make it productive. To read is to collect of information; to think is to evolve power.

DRAFTING.—The Detroit Free Press, in relating the mode of making the draft in Michigan, says that nine-tenths of those drafted throughout the State are Democrats. In one town in Shiawassee county, two hundred were drafted, but one was a Republican. In Macomb county, forty-two Democrats were drafted in one town, out of fifty-five drafted, but one was a Republican.

WASHINGTON.—If George Washington were now living and a candidate for the Presidency, he could not get a vote of a single abolitionist. His nearest surviving relative is in a federal prison, and he has not a living relative or connection in sympathy with the administration.

"THAT BEATS."—In his debate with Mr. Cole, at Coppel city, on Monday last, Rev. J. O. Raynor took occasion to pitch into his friend Judge Wyche. Among other hard things, he said that Wyche, while professing to be a good Union man, was doing nothing for him, but, on the contrary, by his silence was doing him an injury. The Rev. gentleman went on to state that on leaving Vancouver, Judge Wyche told him that if he expected to be elected he had better go to Colville, as many up in that country did not know that he was a candidate. J. O. said, "when Wyche made that assertion I was thunder-struck, and had to walk away to suppress my anger." That "while professing to be a good Union man, he had been to Colville and held one term of Court, and yet they did not know that he (Raynor) was a candidate." J. O. did not say a word against the Federal Clique on the other side of the mountains, and would not perhaps have given vent to ill feeling toward Wyche had he not believed that Wyche was personally unpopular on the Coppel, in consequence of his extra-judicial proceedings in the Banton case.

Jordan Creek.—The latest intelligence from the new mines on Jordan creek is that miners are returning from that locality, reporting that there are no claims there for all of them.

HONESTY OF PRINCIPLE.—Some of the candidates here are doing everything in their power to create a split in the democratic ranks. Raynor, among the rest, takes a sordidly about the seceder candidate. Just at this time "the Dr." is their bosom companion.

WITHOUT THEIR KNOWLEDGE.—It now appears that the "Union" ticket gotten up for this county, was concocted without the knowledge or consent of most of the candidates upon the ticket. The double candidate is supposed to have been the originator of this piece of folly, and by placing others in this unsuspected and unexpected position will no doubt be rewarded accordingly.

From all sources of information received through letters and persons of both political parties from the west side of the mountains, and from what we know of this side, we can safely say, in our opinion, that Cole will get 300 majority in the Sound counties, and will get 300 majority on this side of the mountains—making 600 majority in the Territory out of a vote of about 3,000.

GIVES IT UP.—Old Henry has written a letter to a friend of his, in which he gives up the contest, saying that Cole would undoubtedly be elected, but Raynor could better afford to be defeated than he (Henry) could, and is, therefore, gratified that the Convention did not nominate him.—He estimates Cole's majority on the west side of the mountains at from 300 to 400.

THE SOUND COUNTIES.—We have received a letter from Port Townsend in which we are assured that the counties of Clallam, Jefferson, Whatcom and Snohomish (embracing the entire Sound counties north of Kitsap and King) will give Geo. E. Cole a two-thirds vote, and that they will poll about 625 votes.

THURSTON COUNTY.—We are assured, by letter, that Thurston county, which gave Wallace 123 majority, over the combined vote of Garfield and Lander two years ago, will give Geo. E. Cole 50 majority.

WHAT A REPUBLICAN SAYS.—An old resident of the Territory and a Republican, says no one expects Raynor to be elected—that Cole will be elected by at least 400 majority. He is just up from below and says Cole will certainly get 150 majority on the other side of the mountains and 250 on this side.

Two Democrats at Olympia, and other points on the Sound, are offering to bet two to one on Cole's election, and are offering even stakes on 300 majority.

1st. Light draught, arising from a 3 foot ground wheel and a light 20-inch grain wheel, opposite each other.
2d. Two ploughs of different sizes; the smaller one to give a quicker motion to the knife in mowing.
3d. A deep level platform, which is covered or uncovered bodily, and is not tilted to the cut.
4th. This machine can be raised to cut 10 or 12 inches high if necessary.
5th. Edge with which the reaper gets off the grain—same being laid out the way of the machine.
6th. Will cut 6 to 6 1/2 feet swath, and eighteen to twenty acres per day, and for the amount of fuel consumed will cut more than any other machine in use.
7th. Durability; made very strong and of good material, and does not require constant repairs.
8th. This machine has also a large supply of Extras, and is packed compactly for shipping to remote districts.
