Prof. Barrimore Endavors to Suicide.

A dispatch from Portland to Tuesday says that to say with regard to an ex-actor...

The fact leaked out to-day that Harry Barrimore, a comedian, who at one time played the leading role in the "Tragic Street" Company, attempted to commit suicide in his room in the Bi-city lodge-house Sunday evening...

John L. Wilson Was Done Up.

Washington's representative in congress has been a potentate figure many instances, but never more so than when he thought he was the world and the full idea thereof crossed across with the late General Spinola...

Is the placing of land notices the attention of Register Krutz is called to the circular of the general land office dated April 21, 1887, which instructs registers and receivers that in no case will they issue their selection of a survey to be governed by prejudice, favoritism or personal interest. Now, THE HERALD knows full well that Mr. Krutz has no bias for or against any colony, because he has never been a critic of official's public acts. The HERALD believes that Register Krutz is too closely identified with corporations to give full justice to the settler and it is said so. It believes that Register Krutz has no right to accept passes on common carriers, for which favors are expected in return, and it has also stated that, as an ex-constituent Register Krutz violates the instructions of his superiors and imposes a burden on the settler, which THE HERALD, in reducing the land advertising fees to half the price paid in the past, and which was endeavoring to mitigate. The columns of THE HERALD are still open to any Register Krutz for an explanation of his actions.

THE RESTRAINING ORDER GRANTED.
The Pullman College Deal to be Brought Into Court—Bonds Given and the Case Set for Trial.
Yakima is still in it, and proposes to court the shameful deal by which the agricultural college was lost to Pullman by Black, Conover & Co. Bonds were forwarded on Monday for the costs of suit, and on Wednesday the Hon. Fremont Campbell, judge of the superior court of Pierce county, granted the restraining order, and the case will come up to be heard at Tacoma on Friday, May 29th.

At the above stated two o'clock, just before the change of rail, when the doors of Pullman were closed, and their seats and bowing vello, leaving in the hands of the Pullman. From that mystic book of fate they shall find their true destiny. Not for years, but forever.

AN UNDESIRABLE CLASS.
The people of New Orleans are protesting to the general government against the admittance of Italians into the United States and urge in support of their protest that they make a most undesirable class of citizens and that ninety-four unqualified admissions have occurred in New Orleans which are traceable to those people.

The capture of the Chilian insurgent vessel Itata has become a leading topic of the hour. Much public interest is centered in the movements of the Chilian, as there is a possibility of a naval battle between her and the Commodore and Patriotic Americans are anxious to see the authority of the United States vindicated, and orders of Secretary Tracy to capture the vessel Itata issued on the high seas, and all hazards are endorsed by public sentiment.

In this case a temporary restraining order is granted to restrain the defendant, T. M. Reed, and other of the state of Washington, from issuing any order next upon the treasurer of the state of Washington, for any money, upon the order of George A. Black, S. B. Conover and Andrew H. Smith, claiming to be commissioners appointed to locate the agricultural college, school of science and experimental station of the state of Washington, or upon any other or request made by S. B. Conover, Eugene Fellows, Andrew H. Smith, J. H. Bellinger and George W. Hoppe, claiming to be recipients of the above named institution.

It would be almost impossible to entirely exclude the Italian race from the regulations regarding immigration are too lax. The ominous feature of this class of immigrants is the absence of women. Men almost always outnumber women in immigration, but in the case of the Italians the difference is so striking as to suggest that the immigrants of that nationality have no intention of remaining in the United States.

It is said that the Italian race is the most numerous of any race in the world, and that they are the most fertile. It is also said that they are the most industrious and the most energetic of any race in the world. It is also said that they are the most intelligent and the most progressive of any race in the world.

THE QUESTION OF VERACITY.
Spokane Spokesman: Re-Acting Governor Langdon and C. P. Chamberlain, of Colfax, have both made statements about what his executive excellency had to do with the location of the agricultural college. Here is what they both have to say.

SEVEN OF THE STATE IN DEBT.
Preparatory Paragraphs of a Week's Happening in the Great State of Washington.

DEATH OF COL. E. B. KINNE.
A Well Known Citizen of Yakima Falls a Victim to Consumption.

Rowland B. Kinne, re-register of the United States land office at this place, died of consumption on Monday, May 10, aged 46 years. Mr. Kinne was born in 1844. Early in life he was given a clerkship in the interior department, which he held for sixteen or eighteen years. His first came west in 1873, when he was commissioned to settle up some old donation claims. In 1880 he was associated with Luther Hazard and C. M. Holton in the appropriation of the Dalles mill-river reservation, upon which assignment he came to Yakima, having received the appointment of register of the U. S. land office, then located in Yakima City. When his term of office expired he was commissioned a special timber agent, which position he held for some time, after which he devoted himself to practice in law. On the 1st of March last he was appointed to a clerkship in the office of C. M. Bradshaw, collector of customs at Port Townsend, his health, however, being so feeble that he was unable to perform his duties, being confined to his room most of the time until his death.

THE SUMMIT MINING DISTRICT, located on the back bone of the Cascade range and about forty miles from Mount Tacoma, is attracting considerable attention from miners and prospectors. The principal vein is about fifty-five feet wide and can be traced for a distance of three and a half miles. The ore assays about fifty-four ounces of silver, 800 in gold, five per cent. copper to the ton. The next drawback to the development of this region as in other mineral districts of the state, is its almost inaccessible situation. The deposits are reached by trail from Yakima.

John Arthur has reopened the Hotel Albany at Ellensburg.
C. P. Wilcox is fencing his Koonwook land with interested friends and gathered to witness the unusual occurrence of a double wedding. The contracting parties were Frank X. Nagler and Miss Susan A. Ward, and Mrs. Walter Meyer and Jeannetta M. Ward. The grooms are members of the firm of Nagler & Faltermeyer, cigar manufacturers of Ellensburg and Yakima. The brides are the daughters of John Ward, a prominent citizen of South Butte, Montana, but who since the death of their mother have been brought up under the fostering care of the Catholic sisters of Yakima. Rev. Father Victor Garand performed the ceremony, which was impressive in the extreme. At its conclusion the invited guests adjourned to the Hotel Barhott, where thirty covers had been laid for a wedding breakfast which was the pink of culinary art. There were a dozen courses, and the health and prosperity of the brides and grooms were pledged in rare wines. Mr. Ward officiated as toast-master, his remarks were all in a happy vein, as were the responses by the guests present. In the evening the dining room of the hotel was turned into a dancing and merry party enjoyed themselves until the early morning hours. Mr. and Mrs. Nagler and Mr. and Mrs. Faltermeyer received numerous handsome wedding gifts, which attested the high favor in which they were held by their many friends.

INTERESTING FIGURES OF CITY AFFAIRS.

Reports of Various Officers—How the City Funds Have Been Disbursed—Average Daily Expenditure Passed by the Council.

The council met Monday evening with all the members present, and in accordance with the request of the mayor the reports of the various officers for the year just closed were read and referred to the proper committees.
The report of City Justice Henton showed the number of cases before him for the fiscal year ending May 15 to be 84, of which 41 paid fines, 19 were dismissed and 23 committed. The city received in fines $120.30 and paid justice fees amounting to $154.20.
Street Commissioner McCafferty's annual report showed 21 new streets have been put in, 19 street crossings and 8 alley crossings laid, B street from Front to Second opened up, the hill on West Walnut street closed down, P street opened up, 161 trees planted, 106 pot taxes worked out, 6550 feet of 8 foot walk and 492 feet of 12 foot walk laid, the cost of which amounted to $27,700.80.
Said Commissioner's annual report showed 160 graves dug from June 25, 1891, to May 15, 1911, of which 111 were in the city plot, 34 in the I. O. F. plot and 15 in the Masonic plot, and there was still due for lots $400 for digging graves $60.
City Clerk Eppa says this report is a misleading one, as the report covers all the time since the city was organized, and that of the number of graves dug 44 were to receive bodies brought from other cemeteries.
The city treasurer's report showed that from April 4, 1901, to May 15, 1911, the receipts from all sources were as follows: General fund, $28,056.71; road and bridge fund, $58,848; cemetery fund, $55; water and light fund, $117.91; total, $87,288.31. Warrants redeemed on general fund, $22,980.95; road and bridge fund, $33,960.96; cemetery fund, $52.25; park fund, $370.87; special bond, water and light fund, $1,059.24; fire apparatus fund, $49.03; total, $111,088.68, with balance on the various funds in the treasury amounting to $3,785.88.
The city treasurer's annual report showed on hand June 10, 1911, all funds, to be $4,783.58. Receipts from all sources: General fund, $36,431.49; cemetery, $558; road and bridge, $24,249.39; fire apparatus, $45.42; building, $190.91; special bond, water and light, $1,059.24; total, $48,965.34. Warrants redeemed during the year amounted to $45,169.64, leaving a balance in the treasury of $3,785.88 on the 10th of May.
City Clerk Eppa's report contained the regular trial balance and a statement of the various accounts in the city books. His office report showed receipts amounting to $4,800, of which $4,200 were for license. The warrants issued for the year ending May 15 were as follows: General fund, $12,329.52; road and bridge, $25,236.80; cemetery, $52.25; park, $370.87; building, $190.91; total, $48,965.34. The classified expenses were as follows: Roads, bridge and sidewalks, $2,529.30; police department, $28,829.30; fire department, $1,622.75; fuel, salaries and apparatus, $1,622.75; fire engine, $792; justice office, $121; election, exclusive of poll tax, $117.91; printing, $87.65; exclusive of ordinance, $322.23; surveying and engineers, $773.50; park improvements, $72.72; water, rent and fixtures, $4,211.72; light, rent and fixtures, $955.93; tools or other, $117.91; printing, including bonds, ordinances and notices, $631.35; printing ordinances in book form, $252; clerk's salary, including assessment, $1,100; insurance, $190.91; cemetery expenses, $222.50; furniture for clerk's office, $174; miscellaneous expenditures, $2,008.40.
Ordinance 167, providing for a bond sum of $50,000, by the treasurer, George C. Kink, by the way—comes to Boston with the prestige of a phenomenally successful season in New York. Last evening's advance left no manner of doubt about its success. There has not been a larger audience for a theatrical performance. Applause of the most demonstrative nature prevailed throughout the evening. Natural enough was the applause for the good, just, and stalwart every body found. There were pretty girls unnumbered to gaze upon—girls whose beauty bore rigid inspection through an open glass. Then such pretty fellows with a high crop of hair and enhanced the charms displayed and not conceal too much. The designer of these costumes was a true artist, and if not a Frenchman, he could stand up for one. The scenery is very elaborate, and as original as the most modern. The acting and surprises and bewildering beautiful transformations.
