DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

- For Presidential Electors: F. D. ARNOLD, L. H. PLATT, W. H. STEARNS, L. K. CHURCH, THOR CARROLL, J. A. MUNDAY, E. K. HANNA, W. H. BRINKER, R. J. SNIVELY, H. C. WILLISON, JOHN McREAVY, SAMUEL BASS, HARRISON CLOTHIER, R. W. STARR, J. H. MORGAN, F. S. LEWIS, J. A. BORDEN.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

- For Superior Judge: F. H. RUDKIN, For Representative: THOMAS M. YANCE, For County Commissioner: JOHN McPHER, For Auditor: JAMES R. COE, For Treasurer: WILLIAM A. COX, For Assessor: JAMES T. FOSTER, For Surveyor: SAMUEL STORROW, For Coroner: DAVID WILLIAMSON, For Justices of Peace: J. G. REDFIELD.

It is reported that the voters of Whitman county, especially in the vicinity of Pullman, are being organized to vote against Mr. Snively on account of his activity in endeavoring to prevent the steal of the agricultural college.

DEMOCRACY is winning converts all over the country and its opponents are on the run. The most recent proselytes of national reputation are Judge Gresham, R. E. Odell, of Minnesota; Judge Cooley, of Michigan, and Wayne McVeagh.

Tax first pneumatic sulky ever used in this state was brought onto the turf at W. La Walls, last week, when a Washington horse cut the record of that track down to 2:20.

The Post-Intelligencer fails to accept the unbiased reports of its local correspondent regarding political demonstrations and the political situation in Yakima, and without question it pursues the same course regarding other counties.

"BLOCKS OF FIVE" METHODS.

Seattle Telegraph: Something of a sensation has been caused in New York political circles by the publication of the following extract from Chairman Hackett's latest confidential circular.

It is not easy to explain this circular upon any other ground than that it fore-shadows a plan for wholesale bribery. Every expression in the extract quoted suggests an intention to do something dishonorable, something which will not stand investigation.

M. F. SLATTERY, the editor of a leading republican paper of Jefferson county, who was a delegate to the republican state convention, has come out squarely for Snively and the democratic ticket.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL JONES spent several days in Yakima during the past week, but had no desire to deliver an address here, although his business at present is to stump the state.

THERE was much rejoicing among republicans and people's party followers over the report that C. H. Warner had joined the latter organization.

For a governor of Mr. Ferry's physical incapacity—for which of course he is not to be blamed—and an acting governor of Langhton's character, $25,000 is an entirely too much pay for the short time Washington has been a state.

Post-Intelligencer: The time is coming, with the increase of irrigation, when a great deal more fruit and great deal better fruit will be raised and brought to market than at present.

These efforts of Washington's senators, in keeping the contract for the dry dock near Nelson Bennett, will have its effect in the present campaign.

Spokane Chronicle: T. F. Osborn is president of the Portland chamber of commerce and one of the most enterprising, active and intelligent of the business men of that city.

IRRIGATION IN EASTERN WASHINGTON.

Details Regarding the Canal Enterprises of the Columbia and Yakima Irrigating Company.

Seattle Telegraph: C. H. Leadbetter, of North Yakima, president of the company now building the irrigating canal in Yakima county, was in the city yesterday, and in the course of a conversation gave an interesting account of the progress of the enterprise.

The canal and branches have an extensive system of natural reservoirs with a capacity sufficient to irrigate 50,000 acres of land. The main canal is 40 feet wide and the depth is six feet.

Local buyers are offering 20 cents for hops. F. S. Woodard, formerly superintendent of the Electric Light and Water Company, returned from Chicago today.

MEN WHOM WE ALL KNOW.

Short Talks By a Couple of Yakima's Well Known Citizens.

William Ker on the Hop Situation and Prospects for Prices—F. B. Reed Speaks of Tacoma-Yakima Alliance.

William Ker: "It seems clear to me that there is a determined effort to keep the price of hops down, and that the brewers are getting along in the meantime with the hope that have been contracted ahead, and those raised by growers who necessities force them to sell at once."

"The English crop is short of last season's crop by about 3,000 of our bales, and the average as to quality is poor. It is also short of the average English requirements by about one-third."

"The German crop is short of last season's crop by about 17,000 bales, and is short of the average German crop by about 5,000 bales. Germany will have few, if any more hops, than she requires for her own consumption."

"Now, if England has to draw from America, let us see what she has to draw from. Conservative estimates now place the New York crop at one-fourth less than last year, and the Pacific coast crop at one-third less than last year."

Now, if England has to draw from America, let us see what she has to draw from. Conservative estimates now place the New York crop at one-fourth less than last year, and the Pacific coast crop at one-third less than last year.

When they were sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a man, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

Fred E. Reed: "Having talked with nearly every one who went on the Tacoma excursion, I find the unanimous expression that it was a success. Everybody seemed to have a good time and the ties of friendship and good feeling existing between Yakima and Tacoma were still stronger cemented."

HERALDINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Granger have taken their residence at Zillah.

Allan C. Mason, of Tacoma, was a Yakima visitor on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. L. Splawn returned from a lengthy visit to Walla Walla Monday.

Dr. Nourse's presentation of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is a deeper conception than the story itself.

Detective M. C. Sullivan was in the city on Friday last working up a clue in the Roslyn bank robbery case.

B. M. Howard is under arrest charged with robbing E. W. Dooley's saloon, at Yakima City, one night last week.

Mrs. George Donald, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Oregon for some weeks past, returned home on Tuesday.

Rev. J. T. Ebelman left for Ellensburg, Tuesday, to attend the Christian Missionary convention. He will return Saturday.

Mrs. Huntington, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Joseph Bartholet, Jr., left for her home at Burns, Or., on Wednesday last week.

Dr. Robert Nourse at Mason's opera-house, Tuesday, October 11. Tickets on sale at Janek's drug store.

Timothy Lynch shipped his hops consisting of 119 bales to Hanson & Co., of Milwaukee, on Wednesday.

Harold Preston, a prominent attorney of Seattle, arrived here Tuesday evening, accompanied by his wife and child, for a visit of a week or ten days with Col. L. S. Howlett.

Dr. Nourse's impersonation of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is wonderful. His hearers are thrilled by the sudden transformation from good to bad, and from bad to good again.

Jacob Vernier, of Archibald, Ohio, who has been in Yakima for a couple of weeks looking after his property interests, left for his home on Wednesday, traveling via Portland and Salt Lake.

James B. Gilbert, of Gray's Harbor, is in the city with the intention of locating and conducting a mortgage, loan and trust business.

Judge Carroll B. Graves was in the city Monday and Tuesday holding court. Owing to the desires of the attorneys many of the cases were continued for the term.

The sheep men report an unprecedented fall of snow in the mountains during the past ten days, and in the Cowitch pass a number of bands were stalled and were extricated and assisted to the valleys on this side only after much difficulty.

Anson Henderson, formerly of Yakima and a brother of Bogus Henderson, quarreled with Si Sutton over some frivolous matter, in a saloon near Oregon City, one night last week, and drawing a knife fatally stabbed Sutton.

In flour and wheat, during the past week, the prices dropped somewhat owing to the home market being overstocked. Yakima raised sufficient good grain this year, says a local mill man, to supply the home demand, but the shipments of wheat productions from other sections of the country have forced the prices down and local producers are the losers.

Leah Gibson, formerly of the German army, who was one of the number who made the famous African campaign, is in the city and has decided to engage in farming on a large scale in the Sunnyside section. The lieutenant comes here with letters from Minister Phelps and Henry Villard, and he is greatly impressed with what he has seen of the country and its productions.

Thirty friends gathered at the residence of O. V. Carpenter last Saturday evening on the occasion of the eighteenth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter. It was a complete surprise to the host and hostess, the former being in the city at the time and returned to find his home in the hands of his neighbors and everybody enjoying the occasion to the fullest extent with dancing and other diversions.

The hop growing industry of this section has grown to such proportions that Messrs. Horst Bros. have established an office here for the purpose of being in close connection with the producers. John A. Stone and William A. Kingsland will act as local agents, and have their office with Fechter & Ross, where they will receive daily telegraphic communications from the New York market.

R. L. McCook, of New York, is one of the Yakima visitors this week who is looking around for investments.

United States Senators Squire and Mitchell passed through Yakima, Wednesday afternoon, homeward bound.

D. E. Lash has been appointed one of the agricultural college commissioners, to succeed Geo. W. Hopp, of Sedro, who failed to qualify.

Hon. H. J. Snively will open the campaign at Roslyn. From there he will go to Spokane and other neighboring cities and then to the coast.

Rev. Russell L. Austin, of Kansas, who represents the Christian church, will begin a protracted meeting at the Cowichie schoolhouse Sunday evening.

Keith W. Dunlap returned home on Friday last from a visit to relatives in England. He came over the Canadian Pacific in order to escape the hardships of quarantine.

The city registration books will close on October 28th at 6 o'clock. Five hundred voters are already registered, being nearly 150 in excess of the number registered in any preceding year.

Lewis Clementz received the sad news, Wednesday, of the death of his father at Madrid, Spain. The letter, which bore a crest, came through the hands of New York attorneys. His father leaves a large estate which is entailed.

Dr. Robert Nourse will lecture for the benefit of the library association of this city next Tuesday evening, October 11, at Mason's opera house. It is hoped that all who are interested in the library, as well as all lovers of dramatic art, will aid by their presence in making Dr. Nourse's entertainment a success.

The Roslyn bank robbers still have their freedom, and it is said they are in the Big Coulee, making for the British line. "The Ellensburg posse will never catch them," remarked a citizen of that place today, "and if they know that they were within twenty miles of the robbers I believe they would turn around and go in the other direction." Whether this was the result of fear or favor was not stated.

Those who are trafficking in Indian whisky are getting very bold. Drunken Indians have been numerous of late and several instances are reported of Indians firing their guns to the peril and terror of those traveling along the highways.

John Foster reports that one man took a barrel of whisky in a wagon and drove on to the reservation, where he did a land office business in filling flasks. Mr. Foster says he met hundreds of frenzied savages as a result of this transaction.

Among the well known people who have been guests of the Hotel Yakima during the past few days are Harry Clark, of San Francisco and the world, who represents the Jesse Moore whistlers; William P. Bird, the auditor of the Northern Pacific; Louis Lachmann, the Puwailup representative of Horst Bros.; L. N. Rice, the well known Seattle beef baron, and Mrs. L. G. Johnson and daughter, who are here representing the state organization of the W. C. T. U.

Hon. Chas. S. Voorhes, whom the republicans delight in calling the "little willow of the Palouse," will address the people of Yakima at Mason's opera house Saturday evening. Mr. Voorhes is one of the most forcible speakers that has taken the stump in the northwest and it is hoped that republicans and members of the people's party will be present for he has facts and figures that will open the eyes of those who are politically blind.

Milburn G. Wills, who won the prize for the best of the Old Settlers' stories, has received a congratulatory letter from C. A. Snowden, editor and manager of the Tacoma Ledger, enclosing a receipt from G. G. Chandler, general agent of the Northern Pacific, showing that payment has been made for two first class tickets to the World's fair and return, and that the tickets would be forwarded to Mr. Wills upon demand.

The tolling of the bell of the Christian church on Saturday, October 1st, was the first intimation many in this community had of the death of Mrs. J. M. Stout, in fact few knew of her illness until the spirit had fled. Accompanied by her husband Mrs. Stout had been on a visit to her daughter, who resides in the Willamette valley, and had also been in attendance on the sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which was in convention at Portland. There she assisted, as a last act of benevolence and human kindness, in arranging the details so that each state jurisdiction of that organization could build homes for the widows and orphans of indigent members of the order; and there, also, the sickness was developed which resulted in dissolution on Saturday, October 1st, the day following her return home.

The deceased, Mollie Halbert Stout, was born in Woodford county, Kentucky, on May 8th, 1832. In 1849 her parents moved to Clay county, Missouri, where she was married to J. M. Stout on April 10th, 1843. Mr. and Mrs. Stout moved to California in 1874, and from there to Yakima in 1878. She leaves a stricken husband and five children, four boys and one girl, all of whom are grown. She was a devout christian; an affectionate wife and companion, a fond and devoted mother. The funeral, which was held Sunday afternoon from the Christian church, was largely attended, and the service conducted by Rev. J. T. Ebelman, was of a most touching and impressive character.

AN OVATION TO DEMOCRACY.

A Procession and Political Meeting That Carried Confusion to Opponents.

Brilliant Address By James Hamilton Lewis - Other Political News Including People's Party Rally.

Although but imperfectly announced the opening of the democratic campaign in Yakima county, on Saturday last, was, without question, the greatest and most successful political demonstration ever made in central Washington. The procession of the republicans, on the occasion of the appearance of McGraw, Price, Eddy and Corson, was recognized by all who saw it as very creditable to the party organization but it was completely eclipsed by those who carried the standard of tariff reform, and who desire a change from the corrupt methods and in the leaders who have brought the administration of our state government into common disrepute.

The Yakima band, wearing Cleveland hats, headed the procession and did their level best to furnish music for all, but so long was the line that those at the rear end failed to catch the enlivening strains. It was the same in respect to the cheering for Cleveland and Snively, and the huzzas passed down the procession in very much the same order that the momentum is felt in a long train of cars. Those in command endeavored to keep non-voters out and in the main the effort was successful, for a finer or more sturdy body of men it would be difficult to gather together anywhere and this fact was remarked by Col. James Hamilton Lewis, who reviewed the procession from the balcony of the Hotel Yakima, and who found it difficult to recover from his amazement at a demonstration which he maintained would be most creditable to a city several times the size of North Yakima.

Monday afternoon a Northern Pacific engineer, while running his train from Ellensburg to Yakima, discovered the body of a man in the Yakima river just below the first crossing. Coroner Clark was notified and summoning a jury composed of J. A. Taggard, C. W. Liggett, Alex. McLean, John Reed, N. W. Field and L. E. Sperry, made a visit to the scene and securing the body had it conveyed to the undertaking rooms of Lombard & Horsley, where the inquest was held the next morning at 9 o'clock. Very little evidence could be secured other than that presented by the body and an account book found on the clothes of the deceased, which indicated that the unfortunate man was H. L. Rice, of Mul-lan, Idaho. His age was somewhere between 33 and 43 years and Dr. Hill gave it as his opinion that the body had been in the water about four days. There were bruises on the face and chest which might have been made in falling or by contact with the rocks of the river bed. The man was dressed as a laborer, with two pairs of cotton pants, a black shirt and vest, and was without coat. On his vest was a Red Man's pin of gold. The memorandum book bore dates of work having been done from Pennsylvania to Prosser, the last entry having been made on September 20th. Only five cents in money was found upon the body. The jury's verdict was as follows: "At an inquest holden in North Yakima, Yakima county, Wash., on the 4th of October, on the body of a man supposed to be H. L. Rice, of Mullin, Idaho, age unknown, the jury finds that deceased came to his death by drowning, on or about the 29th day of September, A. D. 1892, in the Yakima river."

PEOPLE'S PARTY RALLY.

The announcement that there would be a people's party procession and political meeting in this city, on Tuesday evening, attracted a great many people. Representatives of the democratic and republican clubs kindly loaned the new organization their torches without even charging them 2 per cent, and the result was an imposing demonstration. A republican who counted those in the democratic procession and made the number 230, likewise counted those of the people's party and credited them with 136 men in line. It was a big turnout, and supposed to be nearly the voting strength of the party, for every section of the county contributed to lengthen the procession. The Wenas and Abnaton were well represented, and even Roslyn, Kennewick, Prosser and Bickleton contributed torch carriers. While the street parade was attractive, many of those who entered Mason's opera house with the expectation of being instructed were greatly disappointed. Mr. Young, the people's party candidate for governor, is anything but a pleasant speaker. He is irritable, has an unpleasant voice, and his delivery and inflection are painful. There was no argument to his address, his entire speech being composed of a mass of assertions, without supporting reasons, which he frequently emphasized with his favorite expression "By the Eternal." He denied the charge that he was a national banker and said that he and a few friends had organized and operated a private bank principally for their own accommodation and that he was one of the borrowers at a rate of 1 1/2 per cent. a month. This great theoretical 2-per-cent-per-annum-gubernatorial candidate seems to be following in the footsteps of a local member of the people's party who, when charged with being a money lender and extorting 2 per cent. per month, said that he was simply taking advantage of the conditions and the necessities of the people. And so it is with this man Young, while making political capital out of charging himself a ruinous rate of interest for his own money he is likewise lining his pockets by extorting a like rate of interest from those whose circumstances force them to be borrowers. Mr. Knox, of Seattle, was the next speaker. He also is a candidate for office. He is narrow between the eyes and has a great voice. THE HERALD representative did not remain to hear his speech. Young was enough.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Ex-Sheriff Brown and J. M. Ready, of Ellensburg have deserted the republican party.

One of the transparencies in the people's party procession called upon the voters to accept the ticket "a-t-a-i-t." The talk given by Young might be called the same way.

John Loudon and John O'Neal were in from the Cowiches this week, and brought encouraging news regarding the candidacy of Mr. Snively and his strength in all parties.

Hon. Charles S. Voorhes will address the people of Yakima county, Saturday evening, at Mason's opera-house. He should have an immense audience.

The Wisconsin Dairy and Food Commissioner says

In his Annual report for 1890, on page 82: "The NATIONAL DISPENSARY says of Carbonic Acid of Ammonia: 'It is irritant, and if long continued, even in doses which the stomach will tolerate, it impairs nutrition; in doses of five to ten grains it increases the fullness and force of the pulse and causes a sense of lightness in the head. It is one of our most powerful medicines and certainly should not be used in the preparation of foods.'"

THINK ON THESE THINGS!

THE MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

Invite the Careful Attention of the Insuring Public to Their New Policy Contract, Which Offer the Following Distinct Advantages, viz:

- 1st. It provides for insurance during the whole term of life.
 - 2d. It requires only twenty annual premiums, after which it is a source of income to the insured.
 - 3d. It is absolutely non-forfeitable by virtue of law and policy contract, without any notice to company, or act on the part of the policy-holder.
 - 4th. It combines the elements of a savings bank with those of life insurance, thus enabling a policy-holder to insure his life and at the same time save a part or the whole of his premiums for his own use in old age.
 - 5th. It guarantees a cash surrender value on any anniversary of the date of policy, after two annual premiums have been paid.
 - 6th. It furnishes a plain and definite contract of insurance and is within the reach of all.
 - 7th. It enables the insured to determine his rights without appeal to experts or negotiations with the company; the values for each year being clearly stated in the policy.
 - 8th. It treats all policy-holders alike; there is no preferred class.
 - 9th. Dividends will be paid in cash or in addition to the policy as the insured may desire.
 - 10th. It is applicable to every condition and circumstance in life, and there is little that is desirable in life insurance that cannot be obtained under this policy.
- Under this policy you "pay as you go," stop without loss; stop with profit, or continue with greater profit.

IF DEAD CHOLERA COMES.

What Women Might Do to Stop an Epidemic of Its Seriousness—Much Depends on Them.

If cholera gains a foothold, whether it spreads or not, will depend largely on the women—the housekeepers. A good deal has been said by the health authorities and medical journals. Every housekeeper should read as much of this as she can find. When she has read it she will find that the whole burden of the advice it gives is: Be clean, be temperate, be cool.

It is just the season for fall house-cleaning. But even if you had not planned for it, now that there is danger of cholera you ought to alter your decision. It will not hurt the house to clean it, and it will favor your escape from the dread disease should it become epidemic. Clean house if you possibly can.

The most important parts of the house to clean are not the living rooms, but the cellar and closets, wherever dirt is most likely to be found. A copious use of whitewash will be cleanly and at the same time disinfecting. Whitewash all places that are likely to be uncleanly, such as outhouses and buildings where animals are kept. A good coat all over the cellar will do no harm; indeed, if you have never done it, you will find yourself repaid by the light it will bring into those often dark places. If garbage must be kept inside at all, see that the receptacles are put out each day to be emptied. Keep the box in the cellar and provide it with a lid which can be lifted by a leather strap nailed to the top. A bucket of quicklime ought to be kept near and some shoveled on when any new refuse is put in; even if the box is kept outside this precaution may well be followed.

Dampness must be avoided as well as dirt, as it, too, is favorable to disease. For this reason, do not put down carpets too soon after cleaning. A free supply of fresh air at all times is necessary, so the arrangements for ventilation should be as good as you can make them. Especially at night is a free circulation desirable, proportioned somewhat to the number of occupants in a sleeping room. Keep stop jars closely covered and get rid of their contents early in the day. If chlorides of lime is put into them each night, no harm will be done, and much may be prevented.

The plumbing should all be in good order, and sink and closet traps not allowed to become clogged. Every day let an abundance of water run through the closets, and then put into the receiver and along its edge a disinfectant, composed of one gallon of water, four ounces of chloride of lime and one pound of sulphate of copper. The seats of closets, whether indoors or out, ought to be scrubbed every day, and then wet with this solution. The vases of outhouses must not be allowed to become more than half full. They can easily be disinfected by throwing down quantities of chloride of lime or quicklime. The former is to be kept dry in sinks, in order that it may run down the drain when water is thrown in. If there are cess-pools in yards they ought to be treated with large quantities of disinfectants, quicklime being the cheapest and one of the best.

In the matter of soiled clothing it will be safer to keep it in some place apart from the living rooms, if possible, and where there is a window. Hampers or baskets will allow more ventilation to the clothes than bags. Have the washing done as often as possible.

See that the sidewalk is kept clean and all garbage and dirt removed from gutters. Chloride of soda and the sulphates of iron and zinc prevent fermentation and putrefaction. Iodine, chlorine and carbolic acid resolve the products of decay and decomposition into harmless substances. Iodine is placed in saucers to evaporate, also one-half pound of carbolic acid mixed with ten pounds wet sand. When their odor is apparent they are efficient, but must be renewed when it is not discernible. Solutions of salt or chloride of alum or the chloride of aluminum are all inodorous, non-poisonous and very cheap disinfectants. They prevent decomposition, remove the fetor of most animal discharges, deodorize sewage, and can be used to disinfect rooms and to cleanse floors and furniture. The proportions are two and one-half ounces to a gallon of water.

The wise woman who has seen that her house and premises are in good shape for the prevention of disease will not forget that personal cleanliness is another important item, and will insist on daily baths if possible, cold being preferable to hot provided the system can stand it. She will also see that herself and her family are dressed warmly, with flannel next to the skin, that the feet are kept dry and warm, that outdoor exercise is taken regularly, that meals are served at stated hours, and that all get as much sleep as possible in dry, warm, but well ventilated rooms. A flannel bandage worn about the abdomen is great help in keeping the body at a proper temperature. She will also avoid keeping animals in the house, and will see that her children do not lie on the ground nor fall asleep in the open air after nightfall, or drink cool things when in a perspiration.

It is said that among the persons most likely to be attacked by the cholera are the filthy, the vicious, the enfeebled, the terrified and the dissipated, though no class is exempt from danger. It is as necessary to be temperate as to be clean at such a time. And so that same wise woman will give her family plain food, and not an overabundance of that. She will set it on the table as freshly cooked as possible, the hotter the better. No water except boiled water, and none on any account from a city well will she use. She will avoid every sort of fruit, whether cooked, dried or fresh, when there is danger of the scourge, and all acids. Her meats will all be fresh, salt and smoked, varieties being unwholesome at such a time. Alcoholic and acid drinks will be banished. Milk will be sterilized. The most wholesome food she can offer is fresh meat, newly cooked, oatmeal, potatoes, well baked bread and boiled milk.

Finally she will try to have each one of her household regularly employed, in order that they may not worry. It goes without saying that she herself will not worry, and will keep cheerful and cool headed even in the face of danger. And if she has done, scientifically, the best she can, the chances are that there will be no danger.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. There can be no health for either mind or body so long as the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from all impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine recruits the wasted energy, strengthens the nerves, and restores health to the debilitated system.

The many remarkable cures of catarrh effected by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is conclusive proof that this leucorrhoea and dangerous disease is one of the blood, only needing such a searching and powerful alternative to thoroughly eradicate it.

Card of Thanks.

To our many friends, the sympathizing people of North Yakima and vicinity, we take this means of extending our grateful thanks for your help and the very pronounced sympathy shown to us, and the very great respect shown for our deceased wife and mother. We feel that we can never repay you for your many kind and sympathetic acts, and words cannot express our grateful feelings and thanks to all. We say all.

Yours in true respect,
J. M. STOUT AND CHILDREN.

Most Yakima ladies realize the great benefit of irrigation, but everybody likes to know it. For proof use Victor Flour, which is now made of home grown, irrigated wheat, and cannot be beat in color and fine flavor. Every bread maker should try a sack of Victor and have proof of its excellence. Irrigation is the blessing of Yakima valley.

BIG INSURANCE POLICIES.

John Wanamaker's Heirs Will Get $1,000,000 When He Dies—Other Premiums.

The announcement that J. J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railroad Company, had paid $135,250 for a life insurance policy and an annuity of $12,500 to begin three years hence, has created considerable comment among insurance men. There is at least one man insured for as much as President Hill of the Great Northern. That man is John Wanamaker. He has paid up policies amounting to $1,000,000. The biggest premium ever paid was by Theodore A. Havemeyer and amounted to $572,000. It was paid by a single check drawn for five policies on five different lives, and the policies were different from any ever before issued. They were for $200,000 each, and were paid up. It required a great deal of calculation to fix the exact amount of the premium, for the calculation was that each policy should be valid for that amount at death, and that should any of the holders survive at the end of twenty years the policies would then become full participants in the surplus income, and would receive whatever additions should accrue to the policy after that age. The idea was to begin at $100,000 and rise to $200,000 at maturity.

How to Peel Tomatoes.

This is the way to peel tomatoes: Cover them with boiling water half a minute, then lay them in cold water until they are perfectly cold, when the skins can be slipped off without difficulty, leaving the tomatoes unbroken and firm as before they were scalded.

Two Effective Lotions.

Sponging the body with aromatic spirits restores tone wonderfully, providing it is done regularly, and often with this tone the muscles of the face resume their firmness. Cold salt water or sea water is one of the best lotions to restore firmness to the flesh, always bathing the cheeks upwards, giving massage in the same direction. A delicate domestic recipe against wrinkles is the white of two eggs beaten with twice as much rose-water, and half a teaspoonful of powdered alum, dissolved in a spoonful of rosewater, added to it. Keep this in a covered cup and apply to wrinkles on the going to bed.

THE BEST 'APERIENT'

In modern pharmacy is, undoubtedly, Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Except in extreme cases, physicians have abandoned the use of drastic purgatives, and recommend a milder, but no less effective medicine. The favorite is Ayer's Pills, the superior medicinal virtues of which have been certified to under the official seals of state chemists, as well as by hosts of eminent doctors and pharmacists. No other pill so well supplies the demand of the general public for a safe, certain, and agreeable family medicine.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever used; and in my judgment no better general remedy was

Ever Devised

I have used them in my family and caused them to be used among my friends and employees for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge many cases of the following complaints have been completely and permanently cured by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard stools. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."—J. O. Wilson, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in excellent health."—Wm. H. DeLanett, Dorset, Ontario.

"Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic I ever used in my practice."—J. T. Sparks, M. D., Yonkers, Ind.
