Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the rights of NEW SECTION. citizens to observe the actions of their public officials and to have timely access to public records are the underpinnings of democracy and are essential for meaningful citizen participation in the democratic process. All too often, however, violations of the requirements of the public records act and the open public meetings act by public officials and agencies result in citizens being denied this important information and materials to which they are legally entitled. Such violations are often the result of inadvertent error or a lack of knowledge on the part of officials and agencies regarding their legal duties to the Also, whether due to error public pursuant to these acts. ignorance, violations of the public records act and open public meetings act are very costly for state and local governments, both in

- terms of litigation expenses and administrative costs. The legislature also finds that the implementation of simple, cost-effective training programs will greatly increase the likelihood that public officials and agencies will better serve the public by improving citizen access to public records and encouraging public participation in governmental
- 6 deliberations. Such improvements in public service will, in turn,
- 7 enhance the public's trust in its government and result in significant
- 8 cost savings by reducing the number of violations of the public records
- 9 act and open public meetings act.
